MEDICAL.

Jayne's Expectorant.

Salem, Columbiana co., O., Apr. 24, 1841.

DR. D. JAYNE: Dear Sir—I feel bound to you and the afflicted public, to avail myself of the opportunity of giving publicly to the extraordinary effects of your Expectorant in my family. Having been afflicted for several years with a severe cough, hectic fever and its concomitant diseases, and seemed only doomed to linger out a miserable existence, until the fall of 1839, when, being more severely attacked, and having resorted to all my former remedies, and the prescriptions of the most eminent physicians, without any permanent benefit without deriving any benefit, or the consolation of surviving but a few days or weeks at farthest—when the last gleam of hope was about to expire, I recommended to me your Expectorant, and blessed by that being who does all things in the use of the means—and contrary to the expectations of my physicians, I was in a few days enabled to rise from my bed, and was enabled by the use of a bottle, to attend to my business, enjoying since better health than I had for many years previous.

Respectfully yours, &c. JAS. W. FAGILL.

B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE.

A FEW weeks since, one young children, aged about 4 years, was attacked with Worms. After taking a few doses of Fahnestock's Vermifuge we noticed the disease increased so alarmingly that I feared death would be the result. Having heard of the good effects of Fahnestock's Vermifuge we procured a bottle of the medicine, and by persuasion, and thinking my child might have worms, from some of the symptoms, I gave it one and a half teaspoonfuls of the Vermifuge, and to my great astonishment Nothing Worm-like was discharged between 250 and 260 large worms. Its health was soon restored, and it is now remarkably well. Previous to taking the Vermifuge, the worms would occasionally rise in its throat, and I often feared it would die from strangulation. M'CONNELSVILLE, OHIO, July 9, 1842.

This is to certify that my little daughter was afflicted with worms, and that I tried several remedies, so called, without any apparent effect. Jayne's Expectorant.

DR. D. JAYNE: Dear Sir—I feel bound to you and the afflicted public, to avail myself of the opportunity of giving publicly to the extraordinary effects of your Expectorant in my family. Having been afflicted for several years with a severe cough, hectic fever and its concomitant diseases, and seemed only doomed to linger out a miserable existence, until the fall of 1839, when, being more severely attacked, and having resorted to all my former remedies, and the prescriptions of the most eminent physicians, without any permanent benefit without deriving any benefit, or the consolation of surviving but a few days or weeks at farthest—when the last gleam of hope was about to expire, I recommended to me your Expectorant, and blessed by that being who does all things in the use of the means—and contrary to the expectations of my physicians, I was in a few days enabled to rise from my bed, and was enabled by the use of a bottle, to attend to my business, enjoying since better health than I had for many years previous.
