Discovery of Common-Drunkard in a Gambling House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Reports from various points on the Virginia side of the Potomac represent all quiet there during last night and this morning. One scouting party, yesterday, burned up the ground at Alexandria found six brass cannon, a short distance from the railroad station. They were sent to Fort Ellsworth.

The proprietor of a rice house was arrested yesterday, it being reported that a gentleman in the navy, who is detained there in custody, had been patronizing the establishment by large ventures of money. The various other gambling houses were closed last night at an early hour, probably from a fear that their business would also be interrupted or suspended by the government authorities.

Latest from Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, Sept. 8.—VIA BALTIMORE.—The United States frigate Roanoke, Commodore Paulding, has returned from the blockade of Charleston harbor, having been relieved by the Wabash. She brings no intelligence of importance. The steamer Quaker City is loading for a cruise.

The rebel steamer Yorktown is now about a dozen miles above Newport News, awaiting an opportunity to run the blockade. She has long been preparing at Richmond, and it is said carries a heavy armament.

The George Peabody is hourly expected from Hatteras Inlet. The steamer Harriet Lane saved the best gun which was thrown overboard while ashore at the Inlet. The United States steamers Minnesota and Pocahontas are expected to arrive here to-morrow.
