...NDENCE.

...AR BUDDS FERRY, }
...ecember 27th 1861. }

...Christmas has passed and I ... to relate to you the style in ...ged affairs. The first intimation we ... approaching holidays, was the receipt of a billet doux, which, upon being opened ...isclosed the following:

CAMP FARNUM, }
Dec. 24, 1861. }

MR. ——, You are respectfully requested to attend the inauguration entertainment of the "Friend Dramatic Association," to be given on this, Thursday evening, December 24th, 1861.

M. C. DALEY, President.

C. M. CALVIN, Secretary.

And you may rest assured that we embraced this fine opportunity for a little recreation. The "Company" had secured for the occasion, the large tenantable shed as a chapel, and having erected a stage, drops &c, as perfect as our isolation would permit. All was in readiness at the appointed hour and the evening entertainment proceeded according to the following programme:

National Aire.....Orchestra.

THE OLD GUARD.

Haversack,.....Harry Forbes
Irish Song,.....J. Walsh.
The Maniac,.....Gus Temme
Roderick Rue,.....Peave and Temme.

The evenings entertainment to conclude with the comic farce entitled the IRISH TUTOR.

O'Toole,.....M. C. Daley.
Charles,.....C. M. Calvin.

Price of Admission MIXED.

The performance was all that could be desired, or expected and the appearance of Daley and Forbes, created shouts of applause, reminding one vividly of the "Old Drury" of Pittsburgh. All the staff and regimental officers, were in attendance, and I now there was not one, but was forced to smile out loud. The enterprise was entirely a "Friend kiffe" affair, and all credit is due them in their endeavors to make the holidays an occasion of enjoyment.

Quite an amusing performance transpired during the day, (Christmas) which was the means of creating great merriment. The Sargeant Major, was directed to procure a couple of fat porkers, which, after passing through a process of shaving and dressing, were turned loose in a large field. The person who was fortunate enough to catch one was to be immediately declared its lawful proprietor. The day was a propitious one for such amusement. The ground being as greasy as the "pigs tails," and the endeavors to catch them, although for awhile unsuccessful and causing the greatest laughter, at last succeeded, companies E and K, being the victorious parties. Immediately following the above, was a wheelbarrow race, (blindfolded) and other amusements, too numerous to mention, in other words we had a jolly time, even better than was expected. I should mention the Foot Ball match, in which officers and men alike, participated, followed by a presentation of a sash to one of the officers, by a member of Company E, (a window sash, minus the panes) There was one noticeable feature that marked the day's proceedings, characteristic of our crack regiment, i.e. there was less drunkenness and rioting, than I ever witnessed on any similar occasion which, alone attests as to the material of which it is formed.

One of our pickets informs me that Secesh was having a big old time, and they were at a loss to know which was in rule, Alcohol or Jeff.

To say thirty of our men (rebel or rather pretending) were transferred to the 4th Fire Zouave regiment, whose ranks have been sadly thinned by desertion. This will reduce our sick report to a mere nothing for they were all old sojers. Yesterday the news regarding the late battle at Drainesville, reached us and although highly pleased at the victory there gained, it was with the greatest sorrow that we learned of our wounded companions (in the 9th Pa) We sincerely hope that none are mortally wounded; although our knowledge of the affair is so meagre, yet we learned the above, and are in anxious expectation of further details, hoping thereby to be assured of their still being in the land of the living.

The 1st of January next, is pay day, and will be welcomed by all for our pickets contain but little, vive la paymas er.

Our rebellious brethren over the water, observe more decorum in their behaviour, than heretofore, and vessels go to and fro without any material molestation.

Last night, one of the members of the 2d regiment, (Wise, under the influence of liquor,) committed suicide, by placing the barrel of his musket in his mouth and then discharging the contents; immediate death ensued. It is said that his companions looked on disinterestedly, supposing him to be jesting. We have been under orders to proceed to Liverpool Point, for several days, but I think they will be countermanded, the 5th being already there.

The rule of late, has been, that all boxes arriving by express, are thoroughly inspected before delivery, and the consequence has been the discovery of several Johns of a decided kind, and their fate was always decided by the officers, in a becoming manner. But not wishing to intrude upon your valuable columns, I now reluctantly withdraw. More anon. R. C. H.

☞ John Bull appears determined to be displeased with everything we do. Read the following hyper criticism:

The Message Compared With that of Davis.

[From the London Herald]

No wider contrast can be conceived than that which marks the rival Messages of the Northern and Southern Presidents. The contrast, too, is just the opposite of what might have been expected between the old and new empire. The Southern Message is calm and confident, full of spirit of independence and a conviction of victory. The Northern Message is fretful and angry, and veils its apprehension and chagrin under the most transparent disguise. You can hardly believe but that President Davis is the head of the old, established, traditionary empire and that President Lincoln is the foreign, defeated, disheartened, political adventurer. The head of the old Government carps at every act of the maritime Powers of Europe, demands their aid, rails at their neutrality, denounces their cold indifference, holds up to indignation their flagrant design to barter principle for mean commercial advantage, and, because they are not with him, insists that they are altogether against him. The head of the new Government, on the contrary, is perfectly satisfied with everything that everybody has done. As to the assistance and support of the European Powers in the struggle he is waging, against the North, the European Powers may wait till they are asked. He is no suppliant—he wants no external support—he can deal with the Northerners single-handed—his Confederation is an independent Confederation, and he would scorn to prop up an American Commonwealth with European pillars. And all this is intimated without the slightest approach to Yankee swagger but under a calm sense that a nation which asserts independence ought to sustain itself by its own energies. Indeed, his only appeal to the European Powers is on a single question of late national laws, to which they and he are committed in common, namely, whether if the blockade is effective in fact, it is not also null in law. but in point of style, statesmanlike views, and of the general aspect of the question before the two Confederacies, the Message of President Davis is yet more distinguished from that of You might expect to find in the chief of the old Government the better taste, the greater refinement of feeling, the more polished diction and general evidences of a higher education. Here you are even more mistaken than you were before. The Message of President Lincoln, if it were to be taken for a moment as an instance of the education of the United States, would imply that the whole nation ought to go to school again. The style of this latter document is not always grammatical, it is frequently confused and obscure; its sentences are often not logical, and here and there you come upon such absurd blunders of diction as that "the last ray of hope peacefully expires at the assault on Fort Sumter." Imagine a ray of hope peacefully expiring, and peacefully expiring, too, in a bombardment.

The river, for the past few days has been covered with ground ice, opposite Harrisburg, and will probably be frozen over in the course of a few days should the cold weather continue.

General Sherman, writing from Port Royal to a Senator, says that if he had issued a proclamation immediately on landing in South Carolina, offering protection to all slaves that should enter his lines, he might have had 10 000 about him by this time. But he expresses a conviction that the course he pursued was best; that the time has not yet come for a proclamation to have its full effect, and will not come perhaps for two or three months yet.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

An "Onward Movement" Demanded.

Some of the papers at the South, like their Northern ostemporaries, are clamoring for an "onward movement." Here is what the Nashville Banner says:

Every report from Bowling Green seems to indicate a resolve on the part of the Confederates to go into winter quarters. To do this without a single effort towards the redemption of Kentucky, will be nothing more or less than a downright disgrace to our arms. It will entirely destroy all confidence in General Johnston, and fatally impair his usefulness in future. It will weaken, discourage and prostrate utterly the noble schemes which inspire the brave men who are now rallying to the relief of a neighboring State, and blacken the fair hopes which we cherish for the release of a loved and honored sister from bondage. It will lose us Kentucky forever, and seriously endanger our own borders whenever the spring campaign opens. Can it be possible that General Johnston will so misapply his great trust!

We have heard some queer notions mentioned as reasons for this masterly inactivity.—Among others equally absurd, it is alleged that a passive attitude on our part throughout the winter months will operate with annihilating power on the enemy; that it will discourage and demoralize them, and that before the new season their condition will be so rotten as will offer an easy victory. God help the authors of such a theory. A more stupendous folly never originated in an old maid's pate, or arose over a grandmother's snuff box. The very reverse is the case. The enemy is the party which can afford to wait. They are now possessed of men whose services are employed at a fair valuation. They enlist for pay, and so long as they receive their regular hire, a snug inactivity in camp or quarters is all the better for them.

In the name of common sense, how are we to demoralize the enemy by refusing to fight him? Truly, a new piece of philosophy under the sun. He already holds some-fifths of Kentucky. Why should he advance? He certainly has a plausible excuse not to do so. Perhaps he is not ready yet for the conquest of Tennessee. Very probably he is not sure of his foothold in Kentucky. There may be a hundred reasons for his holding back. There is not one for us, and we are losing time and missing chances every day that we hesitate and delay.

Will Gen. Johnston advance? Humphrey Marshall is doing so, and with success. He is taking the wind clear out of his senior's sail. Breckinridge and Buckner are dying to help him. If General Johnston will not advance himself, can he not be induced to permit others to do so? The people are clamoring for it. The press all over the South are urging it. A soldier's reputation is involved in it. The public interests require it. Will Gen. Johnston bind all these exigencies, hand and foot, and throw them, and the cold, cold, and stark, like a wooden chum and mute, and cold, and stark, like a frozen pump, until the spring thaw?

Easy Times in Texas.

The New Orleans Picayune, has news from Texas to the following effect:

The Mexicans are buying the cotton from the Texans, paying 9@10c. per pound, in gold. The Texans procure the bagging and rope from the Mexicans, and everything is at moderate prices. That portion of Texas is well supplied with gold and silver currency. Provisions are plentiful at very low prices—pork being only four cents per pound, and corn thirty cents per bushel. Dry goods can be purchased in the little towns at prices which would astonish the people in the old States of the Confederacy. There is no disposition to buy up everything for sale and run up prices.

The people of Texas have not felt the effects of the war in the least. They are well supplied with provisions, clothing and money, and are progressing as happily as if there was not one President on the continent. Texas, just at this time, may be regarded as the "garden spot" of America.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Female Secessionists.

News from Washington says that Mrs. Baxley of Baltimore, arrived there this afternoon, and was placed in the prison for females, in the western part of Washington. It will be remembered that she was recently arrested as a spy. Not only in the folds of her dress, but in the rolls of her hair were discovered contrabands and letters, which are in the possession of the proper authorities.

Several days ago, Mrs. Greenhow, who was among the first females arrested, and who is still a prisoner, received a cake from some friend of her unknown to the guard. Before delivering it into her hands, Lieut. N. G. Sheldon, of the Sturgis Rifles, suspecting something wrong, examined the cake, and found imbedded therein a note, informing that lady that arrangements had been made for her escape and conveyance to Richmond, naming the day and hour of her deliverance. This information, however, was not communicated to her by the Lieutenant, nor has the writer of the note been discovered.

The National Scheme of Finance.

The suspension of specie payments by the Banks will favor the adoption of Secretary Chase's scheme of finance. It relieves the Government of the odium of substituting a paper for a hard money circulation, all circulation being paper now. Government can give the country a good National currency in place of that of limited individual or local bank credit.

Arrears of Claims against the Government.

The arrears of claims against the Government amount to-day to eighty million dollars. Payments are made as rapidly as practicable with the clerical force of the Departments.

NEWS PARAGRAPHS.

It is stated that since the correspondence between Mr. Seward and Lord Lyons, several very harmonizing dinners have taken place. There is nothing like a good dinner to adjust differences between public men.

Civil war has affected St. Louis like a stroke of palsy. Thousands of inhabitants have left that city within a year; an immense number of houses and stores are vacant, and all business, except government contracts, is at a dead stand.

A kind hearted wife once waited on a physician to request him to prescribe for her husband's eyes, which were sore. "Let him wash them every morning with brandy," said the doctor. A few weeks after, the doctor chanced to meet the wife. "Well, has your husband followed my advice?" "He has done everything in his power to do it, doctor, but he could never get the brandy higher than his mouth."

"I have millions of money," said a dashing gent to a girl set out to run away with him, "but you might as well scrape up all the jewelry and spare change you have got."

It is stated that the footing up of the books of the United States Treasury at Washington show that in the month of November thirteen millions of dollars were paid out there, which is over fifty per cent. more than the yearly average for the last six years. This does not include all the expenses of the government during that period, as it is exclusive of what has been paid out of the subtreasuries in New York, Philadelphia and other points.

General Spinner, of the Treasury Department at Washington, has received a letter from a man in New England, with an enclosure of $170 in treasury notes. The letter, which is written in a disguised hand, reads as follows:

"I O U. $170. It is enclosed. It is the fault of a former comptroller that it was not paid."

The Quincy Chronicle, reporting the military preparations in Canada, says:

There are at present in both sections of the Province 459 battallons of militia, and the organization of one company from each will give a force, including officers, of 30,015 men. Adding the strength of the active militia, classes A and B, which may be estimated at 7 500 men, there will thus be organized a total militia army of 46,515 men.

THE FOLLOWING ARE VOLUNTARY statements from persons of respectability and truth, in this vicinity, who have been greatly benefitted by his remedies; some of whom would evidently have been in their graves ere now, if they had not been arrested by Dr. Schenck's medicines:

Case of Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia of Ed Byers standing.

I have been suffering for ten years past from Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia. I heard of Dr. Schenck's coming out to Martin Koch's, and I thought I would go and see him, as my disease had increased in violence within the past two years, and I had been under treatment of several doctors, from whom I received no benefit. In the early part of June of this year I went to see Dr. Schenck, and was examined by him with his "RESPIRIMETER." I have been taking the Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills since then, and I must say that I am greatly benefited by their use, indeed, I might almost say that I am well.

ANNA M. SMITH.

I have been much benefitted by the use of Dr. Schenck's medicines. RUFUS PARKER.
Oct. 31, 1861. Poland, Ohio.

Case of Mrs. McConnell.

I had been affected with Disease of the Lungs for four or five years, when I heard of Dr. Schenck coming to Martin Koch's. Previous to this time I had given up all hope of ever getting well, but Mr. Koch, room 1 knew to have been cured by Dr. Schenck, urged my husband until he prevailed upon me to go and see the Doctor, who found both my lungs affected, the bronchial tubes were both diseased; when I breathed, they would rattle so that it could be heard distinctly.—I have now taken his medicines for some time, and find myself wonderfully improved, although not entirely recovered; I now find myself able to attend to most of my household duties, and have no doubt of my ultimate recovery. From the benefit I have received from Dr. Schenck's treatment, I would advise all persons similarly affected to apply to him when he makes his next visit.

JANE McCONNELL.

Certificate of Jane Grist.

I have been troubled for about two years with a pain in my breast. Late in the Spring of this year I heard of Dr. Schenck coming out to Martin Koch's, and I determined to call and see him, and get examined with his Respirometer. I did so, and also took all three of his medicines, according to directions, and I have been greatly benefitted. I hope from the benefit already experienced, that it will not be long until I am entirely well. JANE GRIST.

Cure of Mrs. Warner.

For about five years I had been affected with pain in the right side of my breast, and in hopes of getting relief, I had taken many different kinds of medicines, but found no benefit from them whatever. I then heard of Dr. Schenck, and the great cures he was performing with his treatment, and concluded to send to his Agent in Pittsburgh, Dr Keyser for some of his medicine. Previous to taking it, I was so prostrated as to be unable to undress myself, or even to lay in bed; I was obliged to sit up in a chair in order to obtain any rest at all. After having taken Dr. Schenck's medicines, I heard that the Doctor was coming to Martin Koch's, and I determined to see him. I was already so much improved by the use of his medicine, as to be able to go over to Mr Koch's, which is a distance of a mile from my house. The doctor pronounced my disease to be Bronchial Consumption and Liver Complaint, with an adhesion of the Pleura to the ribs. I would moreover add, that I coughed almost continually, and spit up large quantities of matter daily. I took the Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, according to the Doctor's directions, and am happy to say that I am nearly well. ANNA WARNER.

A Slight Cold,

Cough, Hoarseness or Sore Throat,

which might be checked with a simple remedy, if neglected, often terminates seriously. Few are aware of the importance of stopping a Cough or Slight Cold in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if not attended to, soon attacks the lungs.

Brown's Bronchial Troches were first introduced eleven years ago. It has been proved that they are the best article before the public for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, the Hacking Cough in Consumption, and numerous affections of the Throat, giving immediate relief.

Public Speakers & Singers will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice.*
