DAILY POST.

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 26.

CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD INTELLIGENCE.

Sunshine and Spring.

Three splendid days, warm, sunny and delicious, have established a pretty firm general confidence in the future good intentions and amiable behavior of April — On Thursday we noticed everywhere indications of the popular faith in this respect, both in the looks and actions of the people. Every countenance shone with as cheerful and bright an expression as the day itself wore. Neither a cloud, nor the shadow of an anticipated cloud darkened either sky or visage beneath it. In preparations noticeable about the street, a fair weather confidence was even more plainly exhibited. Awning frames were being looked to, examined and repaired. Awning cloths were being brought out from dusty lofts, and shook, and mended, and stretched—out-of-door show goods multiplied greatly along the walks, to the annoyance of passers-by—and everywhere there was an unwonted degree of cleaning and brightening being done, in and about the stores. If Spring has not fairly turned her best bright side toward us, and if sunshine is not henceforth the controlling element in the weather, not we alone, but everybody, is deceived.

Fair at St. John's Church.

A fair for the liquidation of the debt on the pastoral residence attached to St. John's Church, Birmingham, will be held in the basement of the Church, and will continue open next week and the week following. We wish it every success.

Ordained.

On Monday, April 14th, Bishop Domenec conferred the order of Subdeaconship on Messrs. Corbinian Gastbihl, Augustin Kolb, Virgilius Devlin and Benno He. All members of the Benedictine Order. On Tuesday, April 15th, he ordained them Deacons; and on Wednesday, the 16th, advanced them to the Priesthood. The Ordinations were held in the Cathedral.

Provincial Money.

Proving our proclivity for old rarities, we find has shown us an old note, for twenty shillings issued by the General Assembly of Pennsylvania in March, 1757, when the State was still a province of England, then under the reign of George II. The note was printed by B. Franklin and David Hall, but the design on the back nearly effaced, while the number and dates are quite illegible. The ominous legend "To Counterfeit is Death" still reads quite plainly and also the "Twenty Pounds." Such relics of the olden time are becoming rare and valuable.

For Staunton.

The Wheeling Press says: "The Federal troops on Cheat Mountain Summit and Huttonville have advanced to Monterey. There only one company to watch some rebels and a few disabled soldiers. The whole farewell to the cold blasts and storms of the Summit with little regret. We have spent a dull, inactive half year, experiencing none of the pleasures, all of the pains of a soldier's life. The ash did not destroy their deserted camp at Allegheny Summit. Our boys stopped there one night on their way to Staunton, and found quarters large enough to accommodate eight thousand troops and superior in point of comfort to our own.

Mount Taking the Field.

The Wheeling Intelligencer says: We learn that Gen. Fremont and staff will be in the field some time this week or early next, though we have no official knowledge of the fact. Preparations which indicate such a movement have been going on for some days back.

Soldier Dead.

Mr. Anderson, of Colonel Campbell's Regiment, died at Alexandria on Wednesday, April 23d, and was buried there. His body, however, was brought to this city by express for burial. The deceased formerly lived on Penn street.

Charge of Seduction.

Jacob Weaver, a glassblower of Pittsburgh, was arrested on the charge of seduction, on oath of Alderman Jones, and committed the accused.

Horse Stealers.

Messrs. Martin and Wm. Laughlin's company, of the Pittsburgh Theatre, were recently robbed of their horses on a scouting expedition, near Fort Scott, below Fort Smith.

Benefit This Night.

Concert Hall this evening will be given, the last of the series of popular entertainments. The programme, which we hear will give great success, includes the gems of the best composers. The Messrs. Hermann will also perform on the violin. We hope this will be a crowning success of the season. Our most skillful professors will not be lost by their services being not attended his soriees. We look upon the like as a public benefit.

Concert. a Month.

Concert, an attractive story by Mrs. Evans, is issued by G. W. Evans and for sale by Henry Miller, 116 Fifth street.

Glasses for Old.

Persons who will receive a satisfactory pair of glasses from this seemingly mechanical calling on the subscribers, at the old stand, first door from Fifth, Wise & Brother, Optical Manufacturers.

Opening Dancesse.

The beautiful and accomplished Cubas to leave us. Their last appearance this evening. Their departure will be regretted by admirers, who have been crowding at the Theatre. Her farewell was a great success, and there is even more brilliant, fascinating farces and three ballets, the Cubas, Signor Ximenes and the ballet corps appear. We expect a full attendance as this new bill is a bumper at parting.

Clothing, Boots and Shoes at Auction.

Masonic Hall Auction Room an immense quantity of clothing, gaiters, mens' clothing just received from the East, 2 and 7½ o'clock.

Agent for the South, have the New Pittsburgh, delivered at your residence. Pittock is the agent; his Penny's news depot, opposite Theatre.

Pioneer.

Mr. Butler of Middlesex, Butler county, the first white child born west of the Allegheny mountains, 8 years ago at an advanced age.

Notions.

Within the last three days added to the concern, shirts, shirts, Wilson, pantaloons, dirty-sixth street, where and thirty-six.

General Tom Thumb.

Intense excitement was created yesterday by the appearance on the streets of the above distinguished hero's elegant equipage, drawn by five beautiful ponies, and a coachman and footman dressed in full Grand Costume. He is commencing holding his levees at the Masonic Hall, which were attended by crowded audiences. Such enthusiasm has not been witnessed for some time; his entrance was the signal for a burst of applause, long and loud, which evidently took the General by surprise, though accustomed as he is to adulations of the most extravagant kind. His impersonations are life-like, full of wit and humor, while his bye-play exhibits great natural talent. At the close of the entertainment there was a perfect stampede by the fair sex to obtain one of his peculiar receipts, which they evidently highly prized. The costly jewels also excited much admiration. In addition to the General the entertainment is delightfully interspersed with musical morceaux by Messrs. Tomlin, De Vere and Titcomb, whose efforts to please were crowned with success. Mr. Tomlin in his "Fat Man" convulses the audience with laughter to such an extent that "Momus" in future must hide his diminished head. The sentimental songs of the same gentleman exhibit great musical ability and a voice of fine woman's quality. Mr. De Vere's ballads were rendered with pathos and feeling, while Mr. Titcomb as pianist displays great artistic taste. Altogether the performances are highly interesting and amusing.

JOHN W. PITTOCK, agent for New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, and Louisville daily papers, in Pittsburgh, at Gildenfenny's news depot, opposite Theatre.

Experience of a Fugitive Slave in [illegible]

A New York letter dated April 22, to the Philadelphia Inquirer, says:

A fugitive contraband was discovered, half-starved, in an alley, this morning, endeavoring to make a breakfast of some garbage lying in a box on the side walk. Upon being interrogated, he said he was from Loudon county, Va., and that he had been induced to leave his home by a Massachusetts soldier, who told him he would have plenty to eat and wear, and nothing to do when he got North. The soldier put him on the cars for Philadelphia, and when he reached the latter place, some kind "friend" told him to "follow the railroad track" and he would reach New York or Boston, where he would be well looked after. The "darkey" arrived here Sunday night, completely fagged out. He called upon some of his free "colored brethren" and asked for food and lodging, but they indignantly refused to have anything to do with him, and he was forced to sleep out of doors and eat whatever he could pick up in the gutters. The darkey is quite a young fellow—about 20 years of age—and gives his name as Bill Anderson. He was owned by a gentleman named Wilcox, who resided in Baltimore, and he says he was always well fed and kindly treated by his master. The "contraband" has been taken care of by a benevolent gentleman, who has engaged him as a servant. He is very indignant at the soldier who induced him to leave home. This is but one of numerous cases daily transpiring in this city.

The Latest from Fredericksburg.

RICHMOND, April 18, P. M.—At four o'clock, P. M., on Thursday, the Yankees made their appearance six miles from Falmouth. Our pickets were driven in and several of them wounded. A detachment of cavalry and infantry was sent out to meet the enemy, who were twice repulsed; but, being in large force, advanced, and our troops fell back to Fredericksburg, and set fire to the bridges across the river. They also burnt three steamboats and twenty-two vessels, loaded with one hundred thousand bushels of corn, and one hundred bales of cotton, which was at the depot. There is a tremendous panic among the citizens there. Our troops evacuated the town, and the enemy sent a shell after them, which struck a cotton factory, doing much damage.

All the rolling stock of the railroad company was saved, with the exception of eight cars.

From the Richmond Dispatch, April 19.

There was no news of any special interest received yesterday from the Peninsula. The grand armies of the two republics are facing each other there, and the most stirring news from that quarter at any moment will not create surprise, as a conflict is hourly anticipated.

Export of Cotton.

From the Richmond Dispatch, April 19.

A correspondent of the Examiner, writing from Charleston, under date of April 2, says that three thousand bales of cotton were shipped from that port during the preceding week. This cotton goes to the West Indies, where the Yankees buy it, and thus supply their own mills in spite of all we can do.

Will Congress adjourn without passing some law to put an end to this crying evil.

TO THE PUBLIC

ESPECIALLY the ignorant and falsely Modest of all denominations, treat secret and delicate disorders, self-abuse and diseases or situations common and incident to youths of both sexes, and adults, single or married. Because DR. BRANSTRUP publishes the fact of his doing so, the ignorant and falsely modest are dreadfully shocked, and think it a great sin very immoral and for contamination and corruption among their wives, promising sons and daughters. Their family physician should be cautious to keep them in ignorance that they do the same as Dr. BRANSTRUP, (except publishing) lest a lucrative practice might be lost to them among stupid falsely modest and presumptuous families, born and raised in ignorance, sprang up as mushrooms and who compare society, intelligence, sense, &c., to dollars and cents, mysteriously, meanly oftly gotten. It is to publicity, however, that numerous parents and guardians are thankful that their sons, daughters and wards, previously feeble, sickly and of delicate condition and appearance, have been restored to health and vigor by DR. BRANSTRUP, besides many before and after marriage through him have been saved much suffering, anxiety, mortification, &c. Spermatorrhea or nocturnal emmissions, are completely cured in a very short space of time by his new remedies, which are peculiarly his own. They are compounds from the Vegetable Kingdom, having seen the fallacy of the Mercurial treatment, he has abandoned it and substituted the vegitable Female diseases are treated with marked success—having had over forty years (40) experience in their treatment in hospitals of both the Old World and in the United States; leads him to say—to all with a fair trial, health and happiness will again bloom upon the now—palled cheek. Trifle no longer with quackers and quacks, but come and be cured which so many annually fill our countries, can now be relieved, providing they attend to it in time. Full particulars can be had of my treatment by procuring a copy of the Medical Adviser, which is given gratis to all that apply.
