Last Sunday evening at Grace Church, by Rev. Wm. Jas. Miller. was preached a funeral sermon on the death of George Byron McGibney, whose death at Olean N. Y., was duly recorded in these columns. The text was from Psalm CXVI 9th verse: "I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living," the discourse was highly interesting and was listened to by an audience which filled more than | Mary Horning the seating room of the church. Company H, of which diseased was a member, turned out in full uniform, and their attendance on the services was a graceful tribute from the living to their dead comrade, than whom no member of the company was more re-

Wilcox Notes.

- Wilcox, March 25th 1878. -The Wilcox Oil Tank Co., shipped to Smethport one day last week a tank gauged ten barrels to the inch for use at the Haskell well which was considered altogether too small in view of the reports daily received of the enormous production of that well. But further developements have demonstarted the fact that one a fourth as large would have answered the purpose. Then it is better to be prepared and have plenty of tankage than to let
- the expected gusher run to waste. -The tools are still fast in Ernhout & Taylor's well No. 1. They are getting some new fishing tools and think they will be able to clear the hole this week. Their No. 2 is down about six hundred feet. The rest of the wells are working along all right.
- -Capt Ernhout came home Saturday, with his new wife, and set up the beer for the boys who had a good time and all hands are happy. The Captain has his working harness on this morning and is pushing things with his usual vim, and that he may get a fifty barrel well is the wish of all.

PETE.

Little Toby Letter. Toby, April 1st, 1878. MR. EDITOR-The congregations of 'Little Toby Charge" were treated to one of the most interesting entertainments in the Sunday School line on March 31st. The event being the review of the first quarter's lessons for 1878. The Pastor, Rev. H. M. Burns, has demonstrated beyond a doubt that he is by no means a novice at the business. He presented us an acrostical review of the quarter on a canvass, 101 feet in length, surpassing anything that has ever been offered in the S. S. line in this valley. The review throughout showed depth of thought and skill. Not only in the Sabbath School has he proved his ability but as a pteacher he is a man of strength Under his pastorial labors during the winter there has been up to this time 116 added to the church, and 160 have professed to find Christ. The Rev. Burns is popular with all and this is as it should be, for he is a strong church worker, an able speaker and a man of eminent social qualities.
