THURSDAY MORNING, AUG. 21.

CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD INTELLIGENCE

Apology.

We crave the indulgence of such of our agents and subscribers as did not receive their papers on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. The cause was the breaking, on two successive mornings, of portions of our machinery. We have taken due precautions to prevent a recurrence of such accidents, alike disagreeable to our patrons and ourselves.

Hon. Cassius M. Clay in Pittsburgh---A Serenade and a Speech.

Hon. Cassius M. Clay, late Minister to the Court of St. Petersburgh, arrived here by the noon train from the East yesterday, on his way home to Kentucky. He was escorted to the Monongahela House, where he was called upon during the afternoon by a number of our most prominent politicians and citizens.

It was arranged and announced in the afternoon papers that the distinguished visitor would be serenaded at his hotel half past seven in the evening, when he would probably address the assembly.

At the hour named Smithfield street was crowded with an impatient throng—and at about quarter before eight. After Young's Band had played, in fine style, the "Star Spangled Banner," Hon. P. C. Shannon called the meeting to order and nominated Hon. J. K. Moorhead for chairman. After a few remarks that gentleman presented Gen. Wm. Robinson (in the absence of Hon. A. W. Loomis, who was first designated) who, in turn, introduced Hon. Cassius M. Clay. That distinguished gentleman addressed the people for a full hour in a familiar style.

We have not space to more than advert to the main points of his address, the greater part of which was an exposition of the feelings of foreign governments towards us. On visiting England he was surprised to find that people, with the same language and literature as our own "always expressing such deep sympathy for the slave, and detestation of the institution of negro slavery—support a rebellion based upon slavery—against an administration avowing principles to the effect that no man shall be held as a slave—and all desiring the destruction of the republic. He referred to the course of Lord Brougham, a man of the people, always opposed to slavery, who, when the question came up in the House of Lords, said it was a very difficult one to be touched by England—one on which Americans were very sensitive, and which they should say nothing against; also to the fact that, before a drop of blood had been spilled here, the rebel ministers had been placed on the same footing as those of the established government. He next alluded to their course in the Trent affair, but remarked that they had not then heard of the Monitor, which had frightened them so that they were more terribly afraid of the Yankees than ever before, and even talked of fortifying London and Liverpool, which they had never thought of when threatened by the French.

Coming next to the condition of the English laboring classes he contended that they worked harder for less pay than any people on earth—were more flattered by talk about liberty and had less of it than any other class or nation. The pampered aristocracy are our national enemies, but the people are on our side; the poor operatives, suffering for bread, by reason of the short supply of cotton, say: "If the Americans are fighting for liberty, let us starve, but do not interfere with them."

He spoke of "Ould Ire'and" as the national ally of the United States—as she expected our aid in her future struggle for independence.

Louis Napoleon and the French people, were, he believed strongly in favor of the Union and always had been. On this he would stake his reputation as a man of discrimination. As an instance he stated that just before the opening of the French chambers, after it had been stated for political purposes in England that the French Emperor had time and again, made proposals to England to recognize the Southern Confederacy, the French government had given an unequivocal denial, and said that America had given no cause for interference, and if she did not, they did not wish to interfere. The people of France sympathise with liberty, and we will always find them our friends.

Side by side with France will be the Emperor of Russia, the ruler of 65,000,000 consolidated people, whose affection and confidence he secured by striking off the shackles of 20,000,000 serfs, notwithstanding the protests of the aristocracy, who owned them. To such a man we have a right to look for sympathy, and he having always expressed himself in favor of this great Republic, we will find him and the French Emperor ready to join hand in hand in our behalf.

Mr. Clay expressed his views upon the present policy of the government somewhat at length, but they are succinctly stated in one sentence. If I were President, my policy would be to ask every man in the South, slaveholder or non-slaveholder, red, black, white or blue: "are you for or against the Star Splangled Banner;" if he was for it I would say: "here is a musket; come and help us defend it;" I would hang every rebel who refuses to take the oath of allegiance and obey the laws—and every man in the North, sympathizing with rebellion, who refuses to take the oath, I would oblige to pull up stakes and go to the other side of the line.

After a peroration rising to eloquence, the speaker retired. He had been attentively listened to, and was frequently interrupted by bursts of applause from the large concourse. After another patriotic air from the band, the crowd called for Ex-Gov. Johnston, who had not made his appearance when we left the hotel.

Mr. Clay left by the midnight train for Louisville.

Naturalization of Alien Soldiers.

We publish, for the benefit of such as are not aware of the existence of such a law, the following, which is entitled:

"An Act to define the pay and emoluments of certain officers of the army, and for other purposes," approved July 17, 1862:

Section 21. And be it further enacted, That any alien, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who has enlisted or shall enlist in the armies of the United States, either the regular or the volunteer forces, and has been or shall be hereafter honorably discharged, may be admitted to become a citizen of the United States, upon his petition, without any previous declaration of his intention to become a citizen of the United States; and that he shall not be required to prove more than one year's residence within the United States previous to his application: and that the court admitting such alien shall, in addition to such proof of residence and good moral character as is now provided by law, be satisfied, by competent proof, of such person having been honorably discharged from the service of the United States, as aforesaid. Presentation to the Howe Engineers---Address of Mr. Howe.

The "Howe Engineers," Capt. Adams, were yesterday made the recipients of a very appropriate gift, from the Hon. Thomas M. Howe, in whose honor the company was named. Being assembled on the West Common, previous to leaving for Harrisburg, each man was presented with a beautiful copy of the "Book of Common Prayer." In making the presentation, Mr. Howe addressed them as follows:

My Fellow Citizens of the Howe Engineers:

I had the pleasure of meeting you on a former occasion since your organization, and testifying my appreciation of the honor done me in adopting my name as that of your company.

I desire now, on the eve of your departure from home to take part in the most important struggle ever inaugurated since the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters, and this globe of ours became fitted for the habitation of man, to present to each of you a slight testimonial of my personal regard.

This manual, which I now present you, is entitled 'The Book of Common Prayer.' It inculcates those general principles of duty which should govern us in all our relations with our fellow men, but is more especially designed to teach us those enabling, and, therefore, more important truths, which illustrate our relations to God, and point the way to heaven.

On the new field of duty upon which you are about to enter, you will be led to feel more than you have ever heretofore felt, the need of the protecting power of Him who rules and governs all things, and without whose notice "not even a sparrow falleth to the ground."

To His care, and to His guidance and protection, I desire, in the fullness of an overflowing heart, to commend each and all of you. Make it your morning and evening habit to look up to Him as your super protector. Cultivate and practice a living and abiding faith in Him.—be instant in season and out of season in the discharge of every duty, whether as soldiers of the Union under the glorious stars and stripes, or as soldiers under that still more glorious banner—the banner of the Cross—and whatever may betide you, whether it shall be, when the battle is over, to be returned in safety to the loved ones at home, or to be marshalled amongst the redeemed in the army in Heaven, you may feel assured that your ultimate safety is secure. May the God of battles go with you and bless you.

War Meeting in Temperanceville--Arrest of Malcontents.

On Wednesday evening a spirited war meeting was held in Temperanceville, over which Jas. Trunick, Esq., presided, Burgess Cochran acting as Secretary. Rev. Calhoun, Rev. McCartney, Capt. Samuel Harper, Capt. McElwaine, Lieut. Snodgrass, and one or two others made brief patriotic addresses, which were enthusiastically received. During the meeting it is alleged that several persons circulated an absurd story that poor men would be compelled to enlist or be drafted, while the rich would get off, preventing several who designed enlisting from doing so. Some of the parties were arrested, and an unsuccessful attempt was made to rescue them. The offenders, James Moula, Wm. Codington and James Patterson, were held to bail to answer, to be turned over to the Provost Marshal, if the evidence shall warrant.

State Medical Board.

By the advertisement elsewhere those interested will observe that the State Medical Board of Pennsylvania will meet at Harrisburg on the 11th of September next to examine candidates for Assistant Surgeons. About one hundred and eighty medical officers will be required for the old and new regiments. Surgeons will be obtained by the promotion of Assistants who prove worthy. The position of Assistant Surgeon is a pleasant one, and the interest and pride taken by Pennsylvanians in their State regiments makes the association with them more agreeable than any position in another corps. There is also a great advantage in voluntary enlistments, as physicians, when drafted, must go into the ranks instead of upon the regimental staff.

Singular Disappearance.

An aged man named Wm. Adair, residing at Palmersville, Allegheny county, left his home about two o'clock on Saturday last, in search of a cow, and can only be traced some five or six miles from his residence, at which place he was going in the direction of Clinton, on the Clinton grade road. He may have wandered from that direction and it is hoped that he has met with some one to care for him. He was in his 80th year, wore black pants, vest and dark coat, with low morocco shoes. His hair was quite gray, partly bald, with a wound gall on the crown about the size of a partridge egg, by which he can easily be recognized. Any information of his whereabouts will be gratefully received by his two daughters, who are deeply distressed at his absence and at their ineffectual efforts to find him.

Blair County.

Blair county will not submit to a draft. She has raised seven companies for the war under the late calls, the last of which, under Capt. Thos. McFarlane, left for Harrisburg on last Friday morning. Six of these companies have been formed into a regiment with four companies from Huntingdon. They were thoroughly armed and equipped, and are acknowledged by all who saw them to be one of the most splendid regiments that has left the State. That they will give a good account of themselves, there can be no doubt. The regiment is officered as follows:—Colonel, Jacob Higgins; Lieutenant Colonel, Jacob Szink; Major, J. J. Lawrence; Adjutant, R. M. Johnston.

The Enrollment.

Some of Marshal Murdock's deputies in this city have gone to work, and the enrollment is being much more accurately made than by the county officers. Twenty-five of the county deputies have received their instructions and gone home to commence the work. A few of the enrolling officers in this county have not yet reported to the Commissioner, who urgently requests them to come forward at once and accept or decline.

Who Will Respond?

A citizen of Irish "extraction," over fifty years of age, makes the following proposition: That he will be one of a hundred men, none under forty-five years of age, to enroll themselves into a company for three years or the war and each man to give $500, to be paid over to the Executive Committee, to pay bounty for volunteers. Any wishing to take part in this patriotic movement can obtain further particulars on application at this office. Will our cotemporaries give this further publicity?

Opening Postponed.

Owing to the non-arrival of some of his company, who are yet fulfilling engagements East, Manager Henderson has decided to postpone his opening until he can do so with a certainty of offering good attraction. Therefore the first performance will not be until Saturday night of the present week.

Senatorial Conference.

The Democratic Senatorial Conference for the district composed of Blair, Cambria and Clearfield counties, after forty-eight unsuccessful ballots, adjourned to meet at Altoona, on Thursday, Aug. 28th.

The Melodeon.

Camp Howe.

A large force of workmen is still employed at Camp Howe. They now have barracks, suitable for winter quarters, if necessary, for 1,000 men ready and will be able to take in 1,500 by the close of the week. Five companies were in camp yesterday morning and three more were expected in the evening, two from Armstrong county and Capt. Jno. Fraser's company from Canonsburg, Washington county. Capt. A. Forsyth is Commissary, assisted by D. C. Kammerer, who has been appointed Assistant Commissary. Camp equipage for fifteen hundred men was expected yesterday and the blankets will arrive in a day or two. Affairs at the camp are yet incomplete—for instance, the wells have not been sunk, and water is still taken from the city in casks, which, after standing awhile, is not very palatable, but is suitable for washing and cooking—but Major Montgomery, U. S. Quartermaster, is trying every effort to have every necessary arrangements perfected at an early day. Surgeon General Smith has appointed Dr. Barbour Surgeon to the camp. The Hospital is not quite finished, but it is not yet needed, as no serious cases have occurred. The discipline of the camp is good, all the usual guards are kept up, and good order prevails. At present the duties of the commandant require him to be in the city almost constantly, and his place is filled by Capt. W. H. Moody, the senior in camp. From present appearances Camp Howe will soon be one of the most orderly and best regulated camps in Pennsylvania.

Departure of Colonel Clark's Regiment.

There was an immense gathering of people, chiefly women and children, on Liberty street yesterday afternoon, to witness the departure of the ten companies of nine months' men forming Col. Clark's regiment. There were many sad partings and tearful eyes, and all bid the brave defenders of our country God speed, and wished them a safe return. The three trains which carried the soldiers, moved off at a quarter past four o'clock, and a shout went up from the assembled multitude. Ere this the regiment has reached Harrisburg in safety. Whether they go immediately forward, we are not prepared to say.

Church Convention.

It has been settled that the General Triennial Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church will assemble at St. John's Chapel, in this city, on the first Wednesday of September, instead of Sunday as it is generally as if there were to be no absentees from the Southern States. The theory advanced by some of the Church papers, that, under the circumstances, it could not constitutionally meet to transact business, is seemingly abandoned. All the dioceses in the loyal States will, undoubtedly, be fully represented, and that will secure considerably more than a quorum to do business.

Vigilant Guards.

But a few men are wanted to fill this company, and the officers, desirous of having their men mustered in to-day, will pay a private bounty in addition to the liberal bounty paid by the county. An excellent opportunity is here offered to join a company officered by thorough military men. Headquarters 62 Wood street, under Lafayette Hall.

Important to Recruiting Officers.

The Executive Committee are exceedingly anxious that all recruiting officers for the three years' service who have not received authority from the Governor or Adjutant-General should report to the committee before noon of to-day, (Thursday,) that their names may be sent forward for confirmation. This is a matter of great importance to all, and should be attended to without further delay.

Death of a Minister.

Rev. John Neil, a venerable minister, recently died at his residence in Mount Jackson, Lawrence county, Pa. Mr. Neil was for about twenty years pastor of the Associate Reformed, now United Presbyterian congregation of Mount Jackson. About three years ago he was struck with paralysis, since when he has been unable to perform ministerial duties. He died in a good old age, and in the hope of everlasting peace.

Presentations.

Yesterday afternoon, Ex-Mayor Drum, of Allegheny, Captain of Co. C., Clark Infantry, was presented with a fine sword, sash and belt. The presentation took place in front of the Mayor's office, and the presentation address was made by Jas. Marshall, President of the Select Council. Capt Drum responded in modest terms.—The city councils and officials were the donors.

Lieut. J. M. Hays, of the Watt and Butchers' Infantry, was also the recipient of a beautiful sword, presented him by John Watt, Esq.

Taking the Oath.

The oath of allegiance has been administered by Ald. Jancey, of Lawrenceville, to all the employees in the Allegheny Arsenal, some five hundred in all, not one of whom made objection to taking the obligation.

Fire.

On Tuesday night, about nine o'clock, the residence of Mr. Miller, on Mt. Washington, took fire, in the absence of the family, and was soon totally consumed.—A small portion of the furniture was saved in a damaged state. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

The New Stamp Currency.

The manufacturers of the new stamp currency have commenced to deliver their stamps, and the first lot of the new currency is expected here to-day. Captain Batchelor, it is expected, will be ready to distribute it for gold, silver or treasury notes, on Friday, but only in small amounts at first. The bills are about a quarter as large as the treasury notes, and are of four denominations: five, ten, twenty-fiive and fifty cents respectively. They are to be issued in sheets of twenty for the fives and tens, and sixteens for the twenty-fives and fifties, perforated like postage stamps so as to be easily seperated. All are formed of five and ten cent stamps, the fives and tens each consisting of a single stamp with a large circle on each side, containing the Roman numerals, V or X, in geometrical latae work.—The twenty-fives and fifties are made by overlapping five or ten cent stamps. The ground work of the fives and twenty-fives is yellow, to prevent photographing, which would be easy with the brown stamps alone. The green of the tens and fifties is not readily susceptible of photographing. They will be delivered to the public in sheets. A sheet of five cent notes will be one dollar: a sheet of ten cent notes will be two dollars: a sheet of twenty-five cent notes will be four dollars: a sheet of fifty cent notes will be eight dollars.

Provisions for an Increased Bounty.

ROOMS OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY, Pittsburgh, Aug. 18th, 1862.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE have the pleasure of announcing to all persons now volunteering for the service of the country in Pennsylvania organizations from this county that the Commissioners and a majority of the commissioners of Allegheny county have, as will be seen by their letter herewith published, pledged the county to issue bonds in the sum of fifty dollars each, so soon as such proposal to issue shall be authorized by the Legislature of Pennsylvania, at its next session, and bonds be distributed as a bounty to such volunteers as may enlist and who have not already received relief from the Committee.

The committee feel able to say so far as their action now in their hands is further concerned, from their intercourse with said Commissioners, that such a bounty of fifty dollars will be paid, and volunteers may rely on it as a fact absolutely certain. They have only now to request that the County in the first two weeks of September may be authorized, and they do not doubt that a bounty of fifty dollars will enable them to pay a like cash bounty of ten dollars to every man volunteered to make up the full quota of Allegheny county.

The new quota of Allegheny county is [illegible] and the committee have only now to request the co-operation of the people in the work of the war.

THOS. M. HOWE, President of Committee.

The following is the communication above referred to:

To the Executive Committee of Allegheny County:

The County Commissioners to execute a single conditional obligation of the county, to be countersigned by the Controller, to the Bank of Pittsburgh, in trust for a sum equal to and not exceeding, in the aggregate, an average bounty of Fifty Dollars to each volunteer enrolled for three years, who shall be designated as entitled there to on lists of the Executive Committee, and who shall not have previously received such bounty—such lists, when revised and copies of them signed by the Committee, to be also deposited with the Bank.

The condition of such obligation to contain—

1st. A recital of the circumstances under which it was issued.

2d. Provision that in the event of the Legislature, at its next session, declining to authorize the issue of bonds by the county, for such purpose, then the obligations to be null and void.

3d. Should the Legislature sanction such issue, together with a special tax for redemption, then the county authorized to issue regular bonds to such designated volunteers, or their legal representatives, in sums of not less than Fifty Dollars each—the Bank to receipt for the obligation on its face, accepting on the recited conditions, and also signing a duplicate for filing in the office of the Controller.

We hereby agree to execute an obligation of the county, conformable to the above recited description.

[Signed,] JONATHAN BRAUFF, GEO. HAMILTON, } Com'rs.
