THURSDAY MORNING, AUG. 28.

CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD INTELLIGENCE

Sword Presentation to Col. F. H. Collier.

Yesterday morning, at eleven o'clock, pursuant to announcement, a meeting of the bar was held in the District Court room, the occasion of which was the presentation to Col. F. H. Collier, of the 139th regiment, by the profession of which he is so prominent a member, of an elegant sword, with sash and belt.

The meeting, a large one in point of numbers, was organized by calling to the chair Hon. Charles Shaler, who stated its object.

On motion Hon. A. W. Loomis, J. W. Riddell and M. I. Stewart were appointed a committee to wait upon Col. Collier and Hon. J. P. Sterrett, R. B. Carnahan and John N. McClowry on Hon. Wilson McCandless, who was to make the presentation address. Those gentleman having been brought in and conducted to seats on the bench, Judge Shaler, in a few appropriate remarks, introduced Hon. Wilson McCandless who addressed Col. Collier as follows:

COL. COLLIER: The Pittsburgh Bar have requested that I should present to you this sword. I do so with pleasure. It is a voluntary offering of a noble and generous profession to one of its honored and gifted members. With its bright blade is committed to your keeping the honor and renown won for them upon the battle field by Black and Kippey, two of its loftiest and most gallant spirits.

Emulating their glorious example, you relinquish a lucrative practice to enter upon martial scenes, to you, heretofore, untried. The summons comes from our country, the common mother of us all; and comes welcomed by the voice of common humanity. For in this struggle is wrapt up the fortunes of the present, and the hopes of future generations. Downtrodden nations are looking anxiously to the West, to see whether the light of Constitutional liberty shall continue to burn, or whether, with its expiring flicker, shall be extinguished the greatest glory of a free born people.

Although, already, two of our warrior orators have sealed their patriotic devotion with their blood, and yielded up their spirits to the music of the enemy's guns, this Bar sends another to support their great achievements. You are their herald, Sir, to proclaim that this odious and wicked rebellion shall be suppressed; that this great Government, the best ever devised by the wisdom of man, shall be maintained; and that there is "some chosen curse, some hidden thunder in the stores of heaven, red with uncommon wrath, to blast the man who owes his greatness to his country's ruin."

You are about to resign the conflicts of the forum for the conflicts of the field. In the former you imitated the courtesy of the heroes of the Iliad, and shook hands and exchanged weapons in the very midst of the contest; in the latter you will rival their heroism, until the last traitor shall be stricken to the earth.

When, in the face of the enemy, this trusty steel shall gleam in the sunshine, its reflected rays will be so many monitors of what is expected from you by your brethren of the profession. The bar must not be surpassed by the sacerdotal office. The one is a vocation of strife, the other of peace. When the horns of the altar are forsaken for the panoply of war, the bar must look well to its laurels.

Here, Sir, with talents of a high order, with commendable energy, with legal learning well applied, and with a gentlemanly urbanity, which should always characterize the legal profession, you have won an honest and honorable distinction.

This sword is the token of universal regard in which you are held by your fellows—a mark of affection and confidence of which you may well feel proud—and an heir loom, which, unstained by any act of dishonor, may be cherished until the third and fourth generation.

Take it, Sir, and in the great struggle which is now before you, in this grand epoch of our country's history, I commend you to the protection of the Almighty.

Col. Collier replied briefly, as is his custom, in the following language:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Pittsburgh Bar: In accepting this beautiful sword, I can only say that I trust I shall be enabled to so conduct myself that no act of mine, whether on the field or not, shall ever bring a blush to the cheek of any member of the Pittsburgh Bar.—And if I fall, as fall I may, I hope I may fall as those glorious patriots to whom you have so eloquently alluded—at the head of my column, with my face to the foe.—Gentlemen, please accept my heartfelt thanks for your generous gift.

The addresses of both gentlemen were listened to with marked attention, and received with hearty applause. Hon. A. W. Loomis, being called upon, made an eloquent and patriotic speech, and the meeting adjourned.

More Interrogatories.

The following interrogatories were served upon the City Controller and Treasurer yesterday by the attorneys of the bondholders who have obtained judgments against the city. Whether their effect will be any more satisfactory than the last, still remains to be seen:

1st. What moneys of said city have come into the hands or under the control of the City Treasurer since the 16th day of May, 1862? and what disposition has been made thereof? If paid out either in whole or part, annex to your answers a schedule of the warrants authorizing such payments, showing their dates, amounts, and names of the payers.

2d. What moneys of said city are now in the City Treasury or in the hands or under the control of the City Treasurer?

3d. Since the 22d of November, 1861, what amount of warrants have been received in payment of taxes or other debts due the city, and how many of said warrants were issued since date?

4th. Since the 16th day of May, 1862, what warrants upon the City Treasurer have been drawn and countersigned? Annex to your answers a list showing the dates and amounts of such warrants, and to whom payable.

5th. What moneys of the city have been applied to the salaries of Mayor, Controller and Treasurer, since the 22d of November, 1861?

6th. Have you promoted or been a party to any contrivance, means or measures to facilitate the payment of city loans or warrants instead of cash, or to prevent the moneys of the city from coming into the hands of the Treasurer? If so, explain fully the nature of such contrivances, means or measures, and state why you have promoted or been a party thereto, and whether it was for the purpose of defeating, delaying or hindering the plaintiff and others in the collecting of their judgments.

7th. State whether since the 22d of November, 1861, any moneys other than those received by the City Treasurer in his official capacity, have been paid to or received by any other person for the use of the city. If so, name such person, and state how much has been so paid or received, and what disposition has been made of such monies. If you cannot answer this interrogatory from your own knowledge, answer the same upon information and belief.

8th. Have you any knowledge, either personal or by information from others, of any scheme, contrivance, or arrangement, to prevent moneys of said city, arising from taxes or other sources, from going into the hands of the City Treasurer? If so, state what the same is, and who are the parties thereto?

A Strict Enrollment.

The negligent, nay criminally causeless manner in which the enrolment authorized by the County Commissioners was made, particularly in the city, has engendered a universal determination among those subject to the operation of the draft, that the present enrollment, under the direction of Marshal Murdock, shall be more perfect, embracing, if possible, every able bodied man in the county. As the time approaches for the completion of the enrollment, and as the Superintendent is desirous that it should be very complete, and is using every effort to accomplish that desirable object, our citizens should cordially cooperate with him and his appointees in the consummation of the work. It is the duty of every citizen, in justice to himself and his neighbors, to notify the officer in his district whenever he learns of any one having been missed in the enrollment. To facilitate this, lists, with the names of all those whose names have been taken down, should be posted up in prominent localities, for public inspection. As every man is personally interested, the enrollment of all the availables who have been, from any cause, omitted, would thus be secured, and all made to take an equal chance with the rest. It has also been suggested that the marshal publish the names and residences of all enrolled, their township, ward, or borough, and the limits of the districts. By this arrangement, every one who is enrolled can see at a glance whether any neighbor liable to militia duty is not enrolled, and if not, he should, in justice to the community at large and himself, have the matter rectified. We understand that in several districts, subscriptions are being made for this purpose, and it is likely that, in the city at least, the lists will be printed. In this manner a large amount of skulking could be prevented and every man obliged to toe the mark.

The Latrobe Companies.

The two nine months' companies, recruited in the vicinity of Latrobe, and commanded by Captains Donnelly and McCulloch, have been assigned to the 135th Regiment, P. V., Col. Porter. Capt. McCulloch has been chosen Lieutenant Colonel of the regiment. The regiment was at Harrisburg at last accounts.

THE opening of fall goods at Carnaghan's Fashionable Merchant Tailoring and Clothing Establishment, Federal street, Allegheny city, is just now taking place, and for a variety and excellence candor induces us to say that we have never seen the stock excelled. Mr. Carnaghan has spent some weeks in the East, selecting a stock that could be commended to his friends and customers, and to be satisfied that he has succeeded admirably is but to see the selection.

In the lines of cloths, cassimeres and vestings, the taste of the plain as well as the gay can be suited, while the selection for boys wear, embraces everything desirable in the line. With a view of meeting the demand for military officers uniforms, Mr. Carnaghan has laid in a full supply of regulation standard cloths and trimmings. His taste in this line is admitted, and we certainly advise officers or their friends to pay him a visit.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Col. Wynkoop, 7th Penna. Cavalry, Killed.

Surrender of Gen. Johnson at Gallatin.

Further About the Late Indian Outbreak.

&c. &c. &. &c.

WASHINGTON, August 27.—The following official dispatch has been received:—HELENA, Ark., August 23, via Cairo, Aug. 26.—To Major General Halleck, General in Chief:—Satisfactory news has been received of the Navy and Army expedition sent down the river near Milliken's Bend. The rebel transport boat Fair Play, was captured with a large cargo of arms and ammunition.

The rebel force was pursued by our troops to Monroe, Louisiana, where there is railroad and telegraph.

The depot was burned and the telegraph destroyed, thus cutting off communication and connection of Vicksburg with Little Rock and Providence, La. Thirty-five prisoners were taken, and a large number of negroes who were in the rebel forces brought away. Eleven hogsheads of sugar, three baggage wagons and six trucks were destroyed, our troops not having means of transportation. A portion of our forces with the ram sentered the Yazoo river, where a battery of forty-two pounders and two field pieces were taken, the enemy fleeing without firing a gun. The heavy pieces were destroyed and the field pieces brought away. The expedition ascended the Yazoo above Sunflower and returned up the Mississippi. Troops are scouring the shores and scattering guerrilla camps with great success. This is the substance of Col. Woods' report. Much credit is due to Acting Flag Officer Phelps who commanded the naval forces, Col. Ellett who commanded the ram fleet, and Col. Wood, of the 76th Ohio, who commanded a brigade of the 4th division of this army. The expedition was planned by Gen. Curtis and Com. Davis before leaving Helena, and it has returned to the latter place after having accomplished its work with great success.

A dispatch received at the Post-Office Department, dated Salt Lake, yesterday, says a general war with nearly all the Indian tribes east of the Missouri river is close at hand. An interruption of the overland mail is daily expected, and nothing but prompt and decisive action on the part of the government will prevent it. Lines should be protected by soldiers at intervals of a hundred miles. General Page's force is too small for this, while Col. Connor's force is four hundred miles west, traveling slowly.

Owing to the information contained in the above dispatch, the Post-Office Department instructed post-masters to send California mails to New York till further directions.

LOUISVILLE, August 27.—Gen. R. W. Johnson and Capt. Turner of his staff, and Capt. Gibbon, of the 24 Indiana Cavalry, arrived to-day. They state Gen. Johnson was compelled to surrender, near Gallatin on the 21st. After fighting bravely for some time his men became unmanageable and finally ran, except in about 75, who with Gen. Johnson, Major Wentry of the 5th Kentucky, and three other officers were taken prisoners.

The federal loss was twenty-six killed, including Col. Wynkoop, 7th Pennsylvania cavalry, and two other officers, and thirty three wounded. The rebel loss, including several officers, was thirteen killed and four wounded. The federal prisoners were well treated by Morgan, and liberated on parole. Morgan's force, 1800 strong, is finely equipped and mounted, and carry along printing material, with which they regularly issue a newspaper called the "Vidette."

HARRISBURG, Aug. 27.—The Governor has placed the details and work of preparation for the draft under charge of Col. A. K. M'Clure, a gentleman whose ability to perform the important duties as well and favorably known throughout the State.

Three more regiments were organized to day, and will go forward to-morrow. Material for the formation of three or four more is also in camp. These will be organized and sent forward as soon as their arms arrive. Companies from all quarters are constantly arriving.

The time designated as that after which the draft was to have taken place has been changed because of the impossibility of procuring in time correct assessment lists from all the counties of the State. This postponement is no evidence whatever against the certainty of its taking place.

NEW YORK, August 27.—A war meeting was held in the park to-day. Quite a number of speeches were made by prominent citizens. Resolutions were adopted calling on monied and other corporations to contribute largely to the bounty funds, and for the President to authorize Corcoran to raise a legion of twenty thousand men. Corcoran was one of the speakers.

FORTRESS MONROE, August 26.—An order has been issued that all the buildings on Old Point Comfort shall be immediately removed or torn down in the vicinity of the fort. The Hon. Mr. Segir, one of the proprietors of the Hegia Hotel, leaves for Washington to-night, having had notice of the removal of the buildings, which is to take place in four days.

ST. LOUIS, August 27.—The extensive wholesale drug and chemical establishment of Z. F. Wetzell & Co., was totally destroyed by fire to-day; loss one hundred thousand, and insured for forty-five thousand.
