MONDAY MORNING, NOV. 17.

CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD INTELLIGENCE

The County Commissioners before the United States Court for Contempt.

Our readers are aware that execution attachments were issued in November, 1861, ordering the County Commissioners to levy, assess and collect a tax sufficient to satisfy judgments in fifteen cases obtained in the United States Court for interest due on railroad bonds, the coupons from which were unpaid. They also know that although the tax was levied it was never collected, while warrants have been issued as usual for the current expenses of the county, but that by some arrangement the money due the county for taxes was not paid into the Treasury, and that a system of brokerage was pursued by which all taxes were paid in warrants, thus keeping little or no money on hand subject to execution. Believing that this was an evasion of the mandamus, the bondholders' attorneys propounded to the County Commissioners, Controller and Treasurer series of interrogatories, which, with the replies, we have published. On yesterday morning the matter came up once more, before Judge Grier, in the United States Circuit Court, upon a rule to show cause why attachments should not issue against the Commissioners for contempt, in not obeying the writ directing them to cause the judgments in question to be paid.

The rule was argued at length by G. P. Hamilton, Esq., in its support and R. B. Carnahan and S. H. Geyer, Esqs, for the county.

Mr. Hamilton gave a succinct history of the proceedings on the judgments and the efforts to evade their payment, by means of the "County Warrant Association," and contended that the Commissioners were in contempt of the process of the Court, in aiding any such scheme.

Mr. Carnahan replied in a speech, the burden of which was that the Commissioners had levied and assessed the tax, issued warrants for the amount of the judgments and done every thing in their power to obey the command of the Court.

Mr. Geyer followed in a similar strain and Mr. Hamilton closed with a withering address on repudiation and the studied effort of the county officials to obstruct the payment of these judgments.

At the conclusion of the argument, Judge Grier intimated that if the Commissioners could satisfy the Court that they had an honest and sincere desire and intention to comply with the law, he would grant them all the indulgence possible, but otherwise he would be compelled to deal with them differently.

The Court held the matter under consideration for the present.

The rules against the County Controller and County Treasurer, of a similar nature, were passed over for the present, and will come up towards the close of the ensuing week.

Supreme Court.

FRIDAY, November 14th, 1862.

Present: Chief Justice Lowrie, and Justices Woodward, Strong and Reed.

The Philadelphia Sheriffalty case was taken up, on the motion to quash the writ of certiorari to the Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia. Messrs. Brewster and Gilpin, for defendants, made a motion to quash the writ, as improvidently issued, no allocatur having been obtained. The respondents made no appearance, and thereupon the following decree was made: Ewing vs. Tilley, Nov. 15th, 1862. Pursuant to an order of this Court, made Nov. 1st, 1862, the counsel for the defendant in error move the Court to quash the certiorari, as having been improvidently issued, without cause shown, unless the plaintiff in error shall now show sufficient cause; and it now being shown to the Court by affidavits that the plaintiff has had due notice of the said intended motion according to the said order, and the said plaintiff in error not appearing, by himself or his counsel, it is ordered that the certiorari be quashed, and the record remitted.

Ewing vs. Thompson. In Equity. Motion by Messrs. Brewster and Gilpin to dissolve the preliminary injuction heretofore granted. No appearance contra.—Proof filed of service of notice of this motion, on Wm. L. Hirst, attorney for plaintiff, on the 4th of November, 1862. The writ of special injuction is dissolved.

Adjourned till Monday, when the cases for Beaver, Butler, Lawrence, Venango, Clarion, Kik, Jefferson and Forest will be called.

After the Court had adjourned a dispatch was received by Judge Read, from Messrs. Hirst and Gowan, counsel for the respondents, to the effect that the train on which they were was eleven hours behind time and progressing so slowly that the time of their arrival was uncertain.—The cause of the delay of the train was the running off of an Eastward bound stock train, on Friday evening, near Galitzin, killing a number of cattle and obstructing the track. On receipt of the dispatch the following order was made upon the back.

T. J. KEENAN, Esq., Prothonotary S. C. W. D.

The telegram inside was received after the judgment of the Court, and we have to direct that the proceedings of the morning, and the record, be withheld until the meeting of the Court on Monday, the 17th.

J. M. READ, for the Court.

We presume that the case will be argued this morning just as if no proceedings whatever had been recorded on Saturday.

New Counterfeit.

Feld & Lare, of the National Bank Note Reporter, cautions the public against new two dollar imitated notes on the Union Bank of Delaware; vig. (on upper left end.) two females beside iron safe; farmer boy and dog on lower left end.—Engraving very coarse.

Pocket Book Stolen.

On Friday, a German named Yeany made information before Mayor Alexander, charging Finley Barker and Henry Hall with stealing from him a pocket book containing $38, which he laid down while buying some articles in the Allegheny market. One of the boys, Barker, was arrested and committed for trial. Hall is yet at large.

Killed by Machinery.

On Saturday afternoon, about two o'clock, a boy some fourteen years of age, named George Campbell, was killed almost instantaneously at Irwin & Co.'s rope walk, First Ward, Allegheny, where he was employed. He, was engaged in sweeping the floor, near a large drum, which was in motion, when he became entangled in the machinery, by which he was drawn up and carried three times around the drum. When taken out he was terribly crushed and mangled, and died almost immediately. He was taken to his home on Robinson street. An inquest was held and the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts.

Shoplifter Arrested.

On Saturday afternoon a woman, for whom the retail merchants of our city have long been on the alert, was arrested and held to answer for shoplifting. She was seen on Market street and followed to her home, a respectable boarding house in Birmingham, by officer Moon, who, on searching her room, found a large quantity of valuable dry goods, consisting of rich velvets, fine silks in the piece, silk hose, &c., worth in the aggregate about $700. She had on her person, when searched, fully one hundred yards of goods. She begged piteously on her knees not to be exposed, but the officer was inexorable and took her, with the goods, to the tombs. Some of the goods have already been identified with the parties from whom they were taken, Messrs. Eaton, Macrum & Co., W. & D. Hugus and H. J. Lynch. The rest remain at the office for identification. The name of the culprit is Mrs. Butler. Her parents once resided here and the family was respectable. She married, some years ago, a Mr. Butler, druggist, of Chicago, who subsequently died. His wife, after, as she asserts, being swindled out of her money by a lawyer of that city, opened a millinery establishment, but did not succeed and returning to Pittsburgh in reduced circumstances, resorted to shoplifting for a livelihood.

Allegheny County Cotton.

It would appear, from actual experiment, that there is no difficulty in raising cotton in the North, and "if the worst comes to the worst," we can cultivate it for our own use. We were shown, on Saturday, a boll of cotton from the farm of Dr. J. O'Brien, on the Brownsville road, Allegheny county, who raised about one rod square, from Georgia cotton seed. The bolls are smaller than is usual in the South, but the cotton is very fine, of long fibre and very tenacious. The seed was planted in April, and the whole crop was ready to pull two or three weeks since. If the price of this indispensable article keeps up, it could be profitably raised here next season. We may say, however, that the best seed, for this climate, is the upland Tennessee, and those desirous of experimenting should procure this variety.

That Plowing Match.

The plowing match on the farm of W. C. Denny, Esq., Deer Creek, came off on Wednesday last and the attendance was large. The contestants were ten in number, each of whom plowed about half an acre, in splendid style. The ploughs used were, with one exception, Hall & Speer's No. 10. After the match, at 3 p. m., the contestants proceeded to the house of Robert Armstrong, where a fine dinner was prepared, to which about eighty members of the Indiana township Agricultural Society sat down. Judges Wise, Wikel and McCrum distributed the prizes as follows: 1st, J. F. Garrard; 2d, John Terrell; 3d, Peter Skillan; 4th, O. Powers, 5th, J. Wise; 6th, G. Moyse, and 7th, A. McMoren. The Hon. Robert McKnight then made a short and appropriate speech, after which, he, in the name of Mrs. W. C. Denny, presented a large gold ring to Mr. Garrard, as being the best ploughman of the day. The day will be long and pleasantly remembered by both participants and spectators.

Murderer Sentenced.

The death sentence was passed for the first time in Beaver county, on Thursday last, when Eli Sheets was sentenced to be hung for the murder of John Angley. Judge Agnew was almost moved to tears on the occasion. Sheets, when asked if he had anything to say, rose and said, with slightly apparent effort, "I am innocent of this murder." As the Sheriff and others were conducting him back to prison, he sprang from them, freeing his hands from the handcuffs, and ran rapidly toward the river. He was, however, overtaken and brought back before he succeeded in getting more than a few hundred yards.

Fire.

The old foundry of Nicholson & Payne, unoccupied for some years, situated in the Eighth Ward, near Dam No. 1, on the Monongahela river, a large one story building, took fire from a fire on Friday night, about half past eleven, and was entirely destroyed, in spite of the efforts of the steamers. The foundry had just been repaired, preparatory to making fire-brick. The loss is total, there being no insurance.

Convicted of Rape.

The colored men, Reuben and David Long, recently tried in Greensburg, for having ravished a respectable married lady residing in Westmoreland county, have been convicted. The defendants are brothers, and have heretofore maintained a fair reputation. The punishment for rape is imprisonment in the Penitentiary for the period of not less than one nor more than fifteen years.

At Home.

Col. R. Biddle Roberts, of the 1st Pennsylvania Reserves, reached the city from the East on Saturday night. His numerous friends will be glad to meet him and congratulate him upon the distinction he has won in the service of his country.

Compliment.

A Philadelphian has presented to James Hammill, for his prowess as an oarsman, a massive gold ring, fashioned like a belt, with a rich setting, and the words: "The Champion," engraved on the outside.

Soldiers' Remains.

On Saturday the remains of Sergeant A. S. Black, of Co. E, 140th regiment, Pa. Volunteers, passed through on their way to the residence of his parents at Monongahela City. Mr. Black died near Parkton, Md., where the regiment is stationed, of typhoid fever, on Wednesday last.

Re-Engaged.

Mr. Eddy, the young American tragedian, has been re-engaged for this week at the Theatre, and appears in a new version of "Jack Sheppard," this evening. He is a fair actor, but might, we think, find a higher inspiration for his genius.

Revenue Commissioner.

Thomas J. Bigham, Esq., has been appointed by the Court of Common Pleas to represent this Judicial District in the next Board of Revenue Commissioners.

The Draft Troubles in Wisconsin Settled.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—Navy Department despatches captain an account of valuable service rendered by Acting Master's Mate, James J. Russell, of Bark Restler; he left Bull's Island on the 5th inst., in a small boat with two contrabands armed for Dewey's landing, Palmetto River, South Carolina, for the purpose of intercepting the mail between Charleston and Georgetown. He and his friends secreted themselves and waited for the carrier who approached in a sulkey. Suddenly coming from his concealment he commanded him to halt by authority of the United States Government. Two mail bags were secured.—The carrier said he was glad to be captured, as he had long been wishing for an opportunity to be taken. The party barely escaped the enemy's pickets and returned in safety to the ship.

The following General Ordor has been issued respecting the observance of the Sabbath day in the army and navy:

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
Washington, D. C., Nov. 16, 1862.

The President, Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy, desires and enjoins the orderly observance of the Sabbath by the officers and men in the military and naval service. The importance for man and beast of the prescribed weekly rest; the sacred rights of Christian soldiers and sailors, a becoming deference to the best sentiment of a Christain people and a due regard for the Divine will, demand that Sunday labor in the army and navy be reduced to this measure of strict necessity. The discipline and character of the national forces should not suffer, nor the cause defended be imperilled by the profanation of the day and the name of the Most High. At this time of public distress adopting the words of Washington in 1776, "men may find enough to do in the service of God and their country, without abandoning themselves to vice and immorality."

The first general order issued by the Father of his Country after the Declaration of Independence, indicates the spirit in which our institutions were founded and should ever be defended. The General hopes and trusts that every officer and man will endeavor and act as becomes a Christian soldier defending the dearest rights and liberties of his country.

Signed, ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The steamer Etna, from Liverpool, arrived here to-day.

The London Times commends the publication of a special correspondence from Richmond, dated Oct. 8th, in which the writer, strongly imbued with the spirit of secessionism, says they suffer terribly, but the spirit of resistance is as high as ever.

At a crowded meeting at the Metropolitan Institution of London, resolutions expressing sympathy with the North were adopted.

Mr. Brougham, in a letter, expresses the hope that the Northern government will refrain from any attempt at making a servile insurrection.

It is reported that Lord Elgin has retired from the Governorship of India, owing to the effects of the climate. The Duke of Argyle will succeed him.

It is reported that Garibaldi has been sounded as to his acceptance of the crown of Greece.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 16.—Nashville.—Yesterday's dispatch contains accounts of five murders, two of saloon keepers who refused to sell liquor to soldiers, two of soldiers, cause unknown, and one of a negro. The city marshal was also assailed and badly beaten.

Nashville, 16.—By Ass. Press.—Gen. Sill's division moved this morning on the Murfreesboro' road. Gen. Crittenden's division is at Silver Springs, twelve miles from Lebanon. A part of Morgan's force is at Lebanon. A portion of them came within two miles of Crittenden's camp.

Supplies from the country for the city are greatly increased.

Weather wet and likely to continue so The specials from Nashville for the past week are almost wholly unreliable.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Advices from New Orleans report the expedition under Gen. Wortzel met the enemy at Labadierville and defeated them after a brisk fight. Upwards of 200 of the enemy were killed, wounded or taken prisoners, and one piece of artillery was captured. The rebels were pursued towards Berwick's bay, where Gov. Moore was supposed to be. Our loss was eighteen killed and seventy-four wounded. The rebels captured were paroled.

The Althouse Iron Works, corner of Houston and Green streets, was burned on Saturday night. Loss $120,000. Insured for $97,000.

The Associated Presbyterian Church was also destroyed and a large number of dwelling houses on Green and Houston streets were damaged. The building, No. 144 Green street, was crushed by the falling walls of the iron works. James Manguin, an insurance patrolman, it is believed, has lost his life. The total loss will reach $150,000.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15—Special dispatches from Lagrange, Tenn. of the 14th, says: Five regiments of Rebel cavalry advanced last evening from Lumpkins' Mills within two miles of Holley Springs. Skirmishing commenced and continued for some time. The enemy lost six killed and seven commissioned officers captured. Rebel General Villipique died at Port Henderson a few days ago of Penumonia.

MILWAWKEE, Nov. 15.—In justice to the loyal people of Wisconsin, it is proper to state that the recent draft troubles are principally confined to a class of Germans called Luxumbergers. Over one hundred have been arrested in Ozankee county and the draft is being enforced promptly.

THE DRAFT DIFFICULTIES IN WISCONSIN.

THE RIOT IN OZAUKEE CO.

One Hundred Prisoners Taken by Federal Troops.

From the Milwaukee News, Nov. 13.

The details of the resistance to the draft at Port Washington, in Ozaukee county, which we gave yesterday, are since fully confirmed. The persons injured thus far are Hon. Wm. A. Pors, the Commissioner; Hon. A. M. Blair; Judge White; Lafayette Townsley, Esq; Judge Downe; Milton Ramsey and Wm. Porter. Probably none of these were seriously hurt. Others were threatened and still others escaped by concealment or flight. Mr. Pors believes that he saved his life by concealing himself in the cellar of the postoffice building. The amount of private property destroyed is large. The following is a list of buildings attacked:

Tomlinson's mill, worth several thousand dollars—considerably damaged.

Residence of Mr. Pors, a costly residence for that county—the inside completely sacked. The doors were torn down; the fence destroyed; the windows smashed in, and all the furniture, including pianos, mirrors and pictures, broken up.

Residence of Dr. Stillman—furniture destroyed; also valuable private papers.

Residence of Isaac C. Loomis, government Assessor—furniture destroyed. Mr. Loomi fled for his life.

Residence of H. H. Hunt, Deputy Collector—contents all injured or destroyed.

Residence of A. M. Blair—lower part torn out and furniture destroyed.

Masonic Lodge Room—books, charts, furniture, &c., all destroyed.

Probably a thousand men were in the streets during the progress of the destruction, although but about 200 are supposed to have actively participated in the proceedings. Monday night, it is reported, the streets were barricaded to prevent attack. Tuesday morning, it is also stated, a cannon was fired in Port Washington and answered at Sankville, three or four miles distant, by a similar signal. The excitement and alarm was general. An attempt was made to destroy the lake pier in order to prevent boats from landing, and the effort was partially successful. About the same time Blake's warehouse, near the pier, was sacked.

Night before last, as we mentioned in our edition of yesterday, the Provost Marshal, Lieut. Col. Whittaker and about 600 soldiers, belonging to the 18th regiment, started for the scene. The boat arrived at Port Ulao, this side of Port Washington, where about 200 of the soldiers landed and marched quickly into the rear of the town, throwing out pickets. The remainder of the soldiers proceeded by water to the front of the town, thus completely investing it. At the last account about 100 prisoners had been taken, some of the parties had fled and others had concealed themselves.

We learn from various sources that the rioters were confined to no political party or nationality. Democrats and Republicans were alike leading the assault and were alike assaulted. The person who figured most conspicuously among the assailants is a well known Republican, and the Commissioner, Mr. Pors, is a Democrat, who has just been elected Attorney for that county on the Democratic ticket. What will be done with the persons arrested, it is now impossible to conjecture. It is also impossible at the present time to say how far the disposition for resistance has extended. It is rumored that similar feeling prevails in the counties farther North, but we have heard of no open demonstration there. In the German county of Washington, the strongest Democratic county in the State except Milwaukee, and largely populated with intelligent Germans, the proceedings on the day of the draft were generally acquiesced in, and a general determination was manifested to obey the laws.

A LIVERPOOL paper tells this story as having its origin in an American eating-house. It is a good one, happen where it might:

"Now, waiter, what's to pay?"

"Let me see, sir. What have you had, sir?"

"Three fish."

"Only brought up two, I think, sir."

"No three; I had two mackerel, and one smelt."

The river remains unchanged with less than three feet water in the channel. The only boats running are those on the slack water navigation. Weather fair.

A letter from the clerk of the steamer Emma Graham, dated the 11th, informs us that she had laid up at Zanesville and would not return to this city until we have a rise of water.

Captain W. B. Anderson has sold the steamer Glide, at Cincinnati, for $16,000.

The steamer Denmark, Captain J. J. Robinson, sank in the Upper Mississippi a few days since. She will be wrecked. There was no insurance. She was owned by the Northern Line Company.

The river continues too low for boats to run. The weather yesterday was cloudy and appearance of rain.
