THE GREAT INDIAN MEDICINE.

ROOTS, BARKS, & LEAVES.

CHEROKEE CURE!

An unfailing cure for Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, and all diseases caused by self-pollution; such as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pains in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, Weak Nerves, Difficulty of Breathing, Nervous Irritability, Sleeplessness, Eruptions on the Face, Pale Countenance, Insanity, Consumption, and all the direful complaints, caused by departing from the path of nature.

This medicine is a simple vegetable extract and can be taken by all classes, at all times, with thousands treated, it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn case.

To those who have trifled with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, Despair not! the CHEROKEE Cure will restore you to health and vigor, and have all quack doctors have failed.

Price, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by Express to all parts of the world.

Pamphlets sent by mail free of postage, by Dr. W. R. Merwin & Co., No. 63 Liberty street, New York.

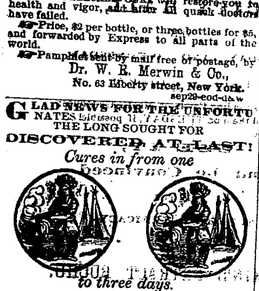
GLAD NEWS FOR THE UNFORTUNATES.

THE LONG SOUGHT FOR DISCOVERED AT LAST!

Cures in from one to three days.



CHEROKEE REMEDY, AND CHEROKEE INJECTION

Compounded from Roots, Barks and Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Bladder, Inflammation of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is PREPARED in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two teaspoonfuls three times a day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the Cherokee Remedy, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus, and Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and conducive to removing all scalding, heat, and PAIN, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cures called injections.

By the use of the Cherokee Remedy and Cherokee Injection, the two medicines at the same time, the urinary and gonorrhœal discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

Price Cherokee Remedy $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

Price Cherokee Injection, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

Sent by Express to any address on receipt of price.

The Cherokee Remedy, Cherokee Injection, and Cherokee Cure, are sold by all enterprising druggists in the civilized world. Some unprincipled dealers, however, try to sell worthless compounds in place of these, those which they can purchase at a cheap price, and make more money by selling them, than they can on these medicines. Ask for the Cherokee, and take no other. The Value of your health, aye, the health of your future offspring, do not be deceived by such unprincipled drug fakirs, ask for these medicines, and take no others. If the Druggists will not keep them, for you, enclose the money in a letter, and we will send them to you by Express, securely sealed and packed free from observation.

Ladies or gentlemen can address us in perfect confidence, stating fully and plainly their diseases and symptoms, as we treat all diseases of a chronic nature, male or female. Patients need not hesitate because of their inability to visit us, as we have treated patients successfully in all portions of the civilized globe, by correspondence.

Patients addressing us will please state plainly all the symptoms of their complaints, and write Post Office, County, State, and name of writer, plain, and inclose postage stamp for reply.

We send our 32 page Pamphlet free to any address. Address all letters for Pamphlet or advice to the proprietors,

Dr. W. R. Merwin & Co., No. 63 Liberty street, New York.

MEDICAL.

MANHOOD.

THIRD EDITION, FIFTY THOUSAND, 125 pages, cloth covers, by mail, 25 cts.

Robert E. Bell, M. D.,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, addressed to youth, the married, and those CONTEMPLATING MARRIAGE.

A careful perusal of this small book has been the means of restoring many from a life of misery and an untimely grave. It treats on the evils of Youthful Indiscretion, Self-Abuse, Seminal weakness, Emissions, Sexual Diseases, Genital Debility, Loss of Power, Nervousness, Premature Decay, Impotency, &c., which ruin the happiness of married life. THE OBLIGATIONS OF MARRIAGE, and illustrates the means of cure by the use of which for other treatment necessary in some cases, and which never fails to cure, and can be relied on. They do not nauseate the stomach, or render the breath offensive, as other pills can be.

DR. BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS,

USED WITHOUT DETECTION.

They do not interfere with business pursuits, and are speedy in action. No change of diet is necessary. They are warranted in all cases to be effectual in removing and curing the diseases. Upwards of two thousand cases are on record that have been cured by using BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS, and certificates can be shown from many that have used them.

No Cure of Failure Occurs.

Upwards of a Hundred Physicians use them extensively in their practice, and they cannot effect cures without them.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS

Are the original and only genuine Specific Pills. There are a host of imitators—BEWARE OF THEM.

These are Warranted.

They are adapted for male or female, old or young, and are the only reliable remedy known for the cure of all diseases arising from

YOUTHFUL INDISCRETION.

In all Sexual Diseases, as Gonorrhœa, Stricture, Gleet, and in all Urinary and Kidney complaints.

They Act Like a Charm!

Relief is experienced by taking a single box, and from four to six boxes generally effect a cure.

Sold by Druggists generally, in boxes containing six pills, price $1 or six boxes, $5; also in large boxes, containing four of the small, price $3.

If you need the Book, or the Pills, cut out this advertisement for reference, and if you cannot procure them of your druggist, do not be imposed upon by any other remedy, but enclose the money in a letter, to the proprietor, who will take all risk if properly directed, and will send the Pills, secured from observation, by return mail, post paid.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS GENERALLY.

NOTICE TO ALL CONCERNED.—Among a certain class of self-important people there is a peculiar feeling of contempt attached to all physicians that advertise and treat the diseases described in this card, (PRIVATE DISEASES.) Are they not aware that all physicians do this? Are they not aware that all physicians treat cases of every description, in fact solicit just very refined parties. I suppose they would let one of their family go to a party that has decided to scare the bloom off their beauty, be advertised in secret, and their family physician, who is a nothing so he can get the case. Often times the almost deprived the party of his life. He comes at last to the physician that advertises, how also are they to know? Are they not aware that Sir Astley Cooper, Sir Benjamin Brodie, Sir Charles Ball and M. Paul Ricord devoted years to the treatment of these diseases? These men are shining as shining lights in the medical world. I dare assert that all men are worthy that publish, still there are a great number of them, that have devoted myself to the study and treatment of PRIVATE DISEASES, upwards of 20 years, without egotism can say I have saved hundreds from years of misery and untimely death. My treatment is confined to the vegetable kingdom, and I think it is the best and most certain. It is in my power to bring hundreds of certificates if I thought it necessary, to certify to my general success; but my long residence in this city is sufficient proof without adding more. Spermatorrhœa and all diseases arising from it are cured in a much shorter time than heretofore. It behooves every young man and woman to be careful in selecting a physician. The different advertisements that are seen in our papers are of no worth, and no benefit will arise from answers than only loss of health and money. Hundreds are cured annually by my new remedies. GENERAL SHERMAN'S CAMPAIGN.

Explanation of Recent Movements—How Atlanta was Made Untenable—Hood's Mistake—Bold Plans of General Sherman.

The people are everywhere exhibiting the utmost anxiety with respect to the movements of General Sherman. The papers are scanned closely to this point, and every statement, no matter how hypothetical it may be, is seized upon as a basis for comment upon this which is decidedly the greatest campaign of the war. The latest positive intelligence from General Sherman's army is up to the 11th inst., when he abandoned Atlanta, with his army, and moved southward. The first news we have from rebel sources is by the Richmond papers of Wednesday, which, state that one column of his army has gone toward Selma, Alabama. This, then, ends the statement of facts in relation to General Sherman's movements. We cannot hope to obtain information directly from the commanding general respecting his whereabouts, for he has cut entirely loose from his base, and is, therefore, enabled to communicate with the headquarters at Washington, induced the military authorities there are dependent upon the statements from Richmond or other Southern papers for information respecting General Sherman's exact locality, and these sources are not likely to be very accurate.

When General Sherman Left Atlanta.

November 11th, is fixed as the day on which General Sherman left Atlanta with the Fourteenth General Corps, Twelfth, Tenth, General Osterhaus' Seventieth, General Blair's Twentieth, General Slocum's and the cavalry corps of Kilpatrick, besides a brigade of artillery. His force consisted in all about sixty thousand men. Previous to leaving, all the public buildings and some edifices which had been fitted for public use, were destroyed. Some of the stores which had been accumulated there since the capture of the place are understood to have been sacrificed, but probably all which them remained intact were placed in readiness for transportation either with the army on its march, or returned to Chattanooga for the use of the garrison at that point.

Why Atlanta Was Abandoned.

General Sherman ended his famous summer campaign, which began in May, by the capture of Atlanta in August. While he was recuperating his army the rebel military authorities sought to retrieve the disasters consequent upon the fall of Atlanta, and the presence of a Union army almost to the heart of Georgia, and, therefore, sent Beauregard to command the department, while Hood remained in charge of the army in the field. A new campaign was inaugurated which had for its main object the compulsory abandonment, by Sherman, of Atlanta and his acquisitions in Georgia, and the placing of his army upon the defensive so far as to demand of him the protection of his long lines of communication. The plan was no sooner framed than it was put in execution, and Hood immediately moved upon Sherman's flank, while Forrest, one of the ablest of the rebel cavalry commanders, operated upon General Sherman's line of communications. This maneuver of the rebel general, though successful in its general features, resulted in his being driven from his main purpose. General Sherman's lines were severed by Forrest, and two of his posts seriously endangered by Hood, but the Union army was enabled to check the northward progress of Hood, save Atlanta, and direct its courses to the westward. The movement of the rebels demonstrated to the mind of General Sherman the fact that he could not hope to hold seven hundred miles of communication between Atlanta and his grand base on the Ohio river, and defeat all the maneuvers of the rebel army. Under these circumstances, Atlanta became, in a measure, useless, and him as a military depot, as it could only be made serviceable, while he had an army sufficiently numerous to guard against any raids that might be made upon any portion of its extreme arteries of supply.

Hood's Failure and his Position.

General Hood failed measurably, in his first attempt upon General Sherman's lines and found his army driven far to the westward of his base of operations. Then it was that the rebel forces were transferred to the vicinity of Florence, in order that they might operate with Corinth as the main base. Over fields and paths made historic in the earlier periods of the war. Here, therefore, we find Hood's army concentrated at the latest advices, ready for an invasion of Tennessee, in accordance with the programme laid down by Jeff. Davis. He had signally failed in his first enterprise, and removed himself as far as possible to the westward, in order to have an uninterrupted base of operations. Here, then, in the early part of the month, we find assembled two wings of the rebel army, one under the command of Generals R. E. Lee, Cheatham, Stewart, and Dick Taylor—perhaps 30,000 strong—

General Thomas' Position.

General Sherman, after pursuing Hood to the Mississippi, a distance sufficient to secure the safety not only of Atlanta but of his lines of communication, detached General Thomas to cope with the rebel army, and hold it in check, or harass it upon the banks of the Tennessee. It does not appear to have been the purpose of General Thomas to bring on an engagement, but merely to hold his position, or fall back from it as circumstances might dictate, the success depending upon the direction of Hood's attention from the real point of his relief. In this he was to be assisted by the reinforcement of General A. J. Smith's corps, which was recalled from Missouri after the defeat of Price. We have no late intelligence of the movements of the corps beyond the fact of their arrival on transports at the mouth of the Tennessee river. We have good reason to infer, however, that they have ere this joined General Thomas, and been disposed so as to assist that officer in the accomplishment of his mission. Leaving General Thomas and Smith in front of Hood upon the Tennessee, we now turn to General Sherman's Movements.

As we have before remarked, General Sherman left Atlanta on the 11th, and moved due south. If he subjected that he divided his command, sending a portion in a southwesterly and another in a southeasterly direction with important objects in view. When he set out upon his great campaign from Chattanooga, which resulted in the capture of Atlanta, he moved his various corps together, so, if any accident happened, they were located, they were for the purpose of aiding in making demonstrations. Taking that as a precedent in evidence of his school of strategy, if such it may be termed, we assume that he divided his army into expeditionary corps with certain isolated objective points in view, all to unite at a certain place and thence proceed together to accomplish the grand object in view. This will account in a measure for the apparent disposition of the rebel forces, which, in consequence of his movements, they were compelled to make. Hood's movements, General Sherman, Before this could strike Montgomery, the main body of the army, assuming that it was marching in that direction, could return to Atlanta providing that the average speed of twelve miles per day over an ordinary country road is taken as the basis. With Montgomery and Macon in his possession, General Sherman would be enabled to effectually destroy the grand railroad chain, so as to prevent the movement of the rebel forces under Hood from preventing his march eastward, even to Augusta, before they could pursue him.
