DAILY MORNING POST.

JANUARY 31, 1843.

☞ A portion of this morning's edition was worked off with the wrong date—Feb. 1 instead of January 31. Our pressman got up too soon in the morning.

The person whom we noticed yesterday morning as having came to his death by falling into a canal lock, was a painter.

Considerable bustle is apparent at our wharves at present. The spring business is about commencing, and bids fair to be more brisk and healthy than for the past few years we have been blessed with.

The weather now is fine and poetic.—Star gazers can luxuriate in their peculiar amusement, and moon sonneteers can indulge in their rhapsodies, if they get up at the right time in the morning.

Wirt Lectures.

Reade Washington, Esq., lectures tonight before the Wirt Institute. Mr. W. is a gentleman of superior acquirements and is distinguished as a public speaker. There can be no doubt that his lecture will be an interesting one in every respect. We would invite all who wish to be instructed by the researches of hard study or pleased with the graces of oratory, to attend this lecture.

FOR THE POST.

Messrs Editors:—A controversy with Allegheny is not desired by us for we are impressed strongly with the truth of our assertions, and we consider any argument with him as superfluous and unnecessary. We have stirred up Allegheny's ire by our reply, for he no doubt thought we would pass him by with the contempt he deserved but in order to correct false impressions easily caught at, we gave it a passing notice bearing as leniently as possible upon him. In future we shall think it derogatory to our characters as honest men to notice any of his misstatements, we shall therefore remain silent.

SEVERAL MEMBERS.

[This we hope closes the controversy between "Allegheny" and "Several members," as the contempt expressed by each has been overwhelming, we hope they are both satisfied with the honors they have won in the fight.]

THORN'S TEA BERRY TOOTH WASH.—A New Invaluable Remedy.—The extreme beauty of the Teeth, their indispensable use, and the frequency of their decay, has led to many inventions for their preservation; yet how to preserve them in a state of health as pristine beauty, to the latest periods of existence, was entirely unknown until the discovery of the above invaluable preparation. It forms a pure tincture composed of vegetable ingredients, and is possessed of the most delicious of incipient decay, polishes and preserves the enamel, to which it gives a pearl like whiteness, and, from its delicefecting properties, possesses the virtues of giving sweetness to the breath.

As an Anti Scorbutic, the Gums also share in its transcendent powers; Scurvy is eradicated from them, a healthy action and redness is induced, which offers to the notice of the medical practitioner indubitable evidence of their healthful state. It has been examined and used by several of the best physicians of this city, who have no hesitation in recommending it as an excellent wash for the Teeth, Gums &c.

Among the recommendations to the above are the following:

Having tried Dr. Thorn's Tea Berry Tooth Wash, and become acquainted with the ingredients of its composition, I cheerfully say, I consider it one of the safest, as it is one of the most pleasant Tooth Washes now in use.

Pittsburgh Sep. 15, 1842 DAVID HUNT, Dentist

I take pleasure in stating, having made use of Thorn's Tea Berry Tooth Wash, that it is one of the best dentrifices in use. Being in a liquid form, it combines neatness with convenience. While it cleanses the enamel and removes the tartar from the teeth, its perfume yields a fragrance peculiarly desirable. J. P. TIBBETTS, M. D.

The undersigned have used "Thorn's Compound Tea Berry Tooth Wash," and have found it to be an extremely pleasant dentifrice, exercising a most salutary influence over the Teeth and Gums; preserving those indispensable members from premature decay, preventing the accumulation of Tartar, and purifying the Breath. Having thoroughly tested its virtues, we take pleasure in recommending it to the public, believing it to be the best article of the kind now in use.
