Evans' Chamomile Pills.

ABRAHAM J. CLEMER, residing at 66, Mott street, New York, was afflicted with Dyspepsia in its most aggravated form. The symptoms were violent headache, great debility, fever, costiveness, cough, heartburn, pain in the chest and stomach always after eating, impaired appetite, sensation of sinking at the stomach, furred tongue, nausea, with frequent vomitings, dizziness towards night and restlessness. These had continued upwards of a twelvemonth, when, on consulting Dr. Wm. Evans, 160 Chatham street, and submitting to his ever successful and agreeable mode of treatment, the patient was completely restored to health in the short space of one month, and gratefully for the incalculable benefit derived, gladly came forward as a volunteer with the above statement. Bitter Bargains than ever, at the Three Big Doors.

THE subscriber would respectfully inform his customers and the public generally, that notwithstanding the unprecedented sales at the Three Big Doors, during the present season, he has still on hand the largest and most varied assortment of elegant CLOTHING that can be bought west of the mountains.—The public may rest assured that all articles offered in this store are manufactured from FRESH GOODS, purchased in the Eastern markets this spring and made up in garments by Pittsburgh workmen.

In consequence of the multiplication of slop-shops in our city, filled with pawn brokers clothes and the musty, cast off garments of former seasons, from the eastern cities, the public should be cautious to ascertain the character of the establishments in which they are invited to purchase, before they part with their money. The articles offered at several of the concerns in this city, are the mere cobs of New York and Philadelphia slop shops, and sent out here to be palmed off on the Pittsburgh public. Purchasers should be on their guard against these impositions, and they may rely on the fact that no establishment that advertises eastern made Clothing, can give as good an article or as advantageous bargains as can be had at the "Three Big Doors."

The public will please remember that all the subscriber's garments are made in this city, by competent workmen, and not gathered up like the goods now offered by "Birds of passage" from the shreds and patches of eastern slop shops. It will always be his endeavor to maintain the reputation that the "Three Big Doors" have obtained for furnishing a superior style of CLOTHING in every respect, and at prices below those of any other establishment.

He would again return his thanks to his friends and the public for the unprecedented patronage bestowed upon his establishment, and believing that they have found it to their advantage to deal with him he would repeat his invitation to all those who wish to purchase Clothing of every description at the lowest price, to call at No. 151, LIBERTY ST. JOHN M'CLOSKEY.

Look at This.

THE attention of those who have been somewhat sceptical in reference to the numerous certificates published in favor of Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, on account of the persons being unknown in this Section of the State, is respectfully directed to the following certificate, the writer of which has been a citizen of this borough for several years, and is known as a gentleman of integrity and responsibility.

To the Agent, Mr. J. KIRBY.

I have used Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry for a Cough, with which I have been severely afflicted for about four months, and I have no hesitation in saying that it is the most effective medicine that I have been able to procure. It composes all uneasiness, and agrees well with my diet,—and maintains a regular and good appetite. I can sincerely recommend it to all others similarly afflicted. J. MINNICK, Borough of Chambersburgh.

ASCENSION.—The annual assessment of the proceedings of the Convention of the friends of Social Reform, in Salem, Essex co., Mass., appears in the New York Tribune. William Russell, of Lynn, President, assisted by John Bailey, of Hopedale, A. W. Benson, of Northampton, George Ripley, of Brook Farm, and James N. Buffum, of Lynn, Wm. Greenleaf, of Newburyport, and Charles A. Dana, Secretaries.

BOSTON, Dec. 30.

All persons interested in the question of Association, whether they merely are the advocates of any other plan of Social Reorganization, were invited to participate in the discussions.—The Convention was thus organized and conducted on the most liberal principles of freedom and toleration, and the effect of this course was seen in the loving and charitable spirit which, with few exceptions, characterized its proceedings. Persons of widely differentiations in respect to the best mode of Social Reorganization, but who felt a common conviction of the necessity of Association in some form, came together to impart and receive light on this great and important question. The sentiments put forth, as might be expected in a convention thus composed, were various and conflicting; but the spirit of love and Harmony was strikingly manifested from the commencement to the close. The deep and absorbing interest felt in the discussions will be apparent, when it is considered that the Convention was constantly attended by a numerous and highly intellectual audience from its commencement on Tuesday morning, till its close on Friday evening, a period of four days. That the debates were worth hearing, you will readily believe, when I give you the names of the most prominent speakers, as follows:—Adin Ballou, Prof. Walker of Oberlin, Dr. Walter Channing, Chas. A. Dana, Wm. H. Channing, George Ripley, Albert Brisbane, G. A. Brownson, John A. Collins, J. S. Dwight, John Bicknell, A. B. Alcott, G. W. Benson, James Boyle and Henry Clapp. It will not be invidious to remark that, of all this number of eloquent and effective speakers, the Rev. W. H. Channing of New York was decidedly the favorite of the convention. He spoke frequently, sometimes at considerable length, but always with such eloquence of manner and warmth of heart, that the audience never tired of listening to him.

The debates took the widest possible range, and embraced almost every thing connected in any way with human welfare. The present false institutions of Society were probed with relentless hand; and their inadequacy to the wants of the race fearlessly exposed. Many erroneous notions were of course put forth, but the men who guided the deliberations of the Convention were eminently intelligent, attainments and practical good sense. The operation of Association, depend upon it, is taking a strong hold upon thinking minds in New England, and the fruits will ere long appear.

The question which created the strongest excitement in the Convention was that of the Community of Property as practiced and defended by John A. Collins. On this subject the debates were earnest, and marred occasionally by too great vehemence and impatience. Mr. Collins stood forth manfully in defence of his views, and spoke with his usual ability; but I think the Convention generally had little sympathy with his peculiar opinions.

The following resolutions, I believe, are all that the Convention adopted, its object having been mainly to afford a room of different views an opportunity to meet each other in free and earnest discussion, rather than to sanction any particular scheme of Association:

Resolved, That the movements now in progress in various parts of the country, designed to promote a Social Re-organization, are the legitimate results of the spirit of Christian Brotherhood, of Liberty, and of Peaceful Reform; and that the inefficacy of all modes of Public Charity to relieve and prevent Pauperism with its attendant degradations, the restlessness, oppressiveness, and unhealthiness of our habits of Labor the injustice of our common system of Wages; the unequal distribution of means and opportunities for Culture, Refinement, Recreation and Social Pleasure; the imperfect character and degree of Popular Education, both for children and adults; the unnatural antagonism of Women; the distinctions of caste based upon wealth and artificial circumstance; the universal war of Competition and finally, the tendency of our Industrial, Commercial and Financial transactions to the establishment of MORE NEAR FEUDALISM—call urgently upon all to aid by their counsel, energies and means, those movements and others having a similar end in view of uniting all conflicting interests, and of establishing the relations of Society on the basis of Universal Justice and Love, thus securing to each human being the highest possible Social Good.

Resolved, That grateful for the light which we believe that the Social Science discovered by Charles Fourier has cast upon the existing evils of Society and their true remedies, we desire to see a thorough test of the actual working of his principles in an Association organized upon them as a basis; and meanwhile commend to efficient encouragement and aid of all the friends of Human Progress, the various Associations, for Social Reform already partially established, which recognize Individual Rights and the Religious Sentiment; and wish success to all who are in any way seeking the removal of Social Evils, and the realization which they deem most true to the Nature of Man, and the Laws of God.

Resolved, That in order to give expression to that interest now awakened to the subject of SOCIAL REFORM, of enlightening the public mind upon the principles and means involved in the proposed movements, and of establishing between existing Associations and the public the freest communication, we recommend the formation of Societies in different Towns and Counties of the friends of the cause, united under such an organization as may seem to them best for the purpose of disseminating their principles by Lectures, Preaching, Conventions or otherwise; and lastly by the widest possible circulation of all publications which advocate these reforms. And the Convention earnestly recommend to the friends of Human Progress, "THE PHALANX" and "THE PHALANX," as worthy of their most cordial support.

STEAMER SWAN.—The Captain of this vessel which was recently wrecked, gives the following account of the disaster:

Dec. 5.—"At 2 A M put her away for the beach. At 2 30 the steam pipe bursted—wind changed to the N W, blowing hard, with heavy rains—vessel laboring very heavy—came to in 2½ fathoms—distance from land about 2½ miles, and 3½ miles east of the Galveston—commenced making a raft with the stage planks in order to save ourselves; at 3 40 A M parted the lashing of the engine, and sunk in less than two minutes, having scarcely sufficient time to save our lives—parted the crew clinging to the hurricane deck and part on the raft made of the stage planks, and the balance in a small skiff—numbering nineteen in all. Some of us must have been drowned had not the forward deck broken before the boilers, which furnished us with a raft for seven men, at 7 A M the hurricane deck reached the shore about 2 miles west of the wreck; at 9 A M the skiff landed with two men, still leaving us ignorant of the fate of the balance of our crew, amounting to eleven men. We were kept in suspense until 12 meridian, when two men were discovered from the shore, battling with the ungovernable surf, clinging to the fragments of the wreck of the cabin; and after a struggling for some time, and entirely out of our power to assist them, and appeared to be doomed to a watery grave, when we descried a man, a hunter by the name of Smith, who kindly sent us a good boat, which was immediately manned and dashed through the surf just in time to save them from drifting to sea, where they no doubt would have perished.
