PITTSBURGH, PA.

TUESDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 18, 1845.

PITTSBURGH BOARD OF TRADE.

COMMITTEE FOR FEBRUARY.

J. J. Dilworth, W H Denny, Joshua Hanna.

LAUNCH OF THE "HUNTER."—Yesterday, our citizens were gratified in witnessing the launch of the yacht, "Hunter," constructed by JOSEPH TOMLINSON, Esq., of this city, for Lieut. M'LAUGHLIN, of the U. S. Navy. There was some little difficulty at the starting, but once detached from her stocks, the pretty little craft made her way to her intended element with all the ease and grace that should characterize a vessel destined to bear to distant lands evidence of the skill and science of "young America."

We are informed that the "Hunter" is entirely a private enterprise, and there can be no better proof of the cheapness and skill with which iron ships can be built in our city, than the fact that the persons who built the "Hunter," gave Pittsburgh the preference in contracting for their vessel. If an iron ship could be built cheaper any where else than here, there would be no inducement for the owners of the "Hunter" to build their craft in our city.
