PITTSBURGH BOARD OF TRADE.

COMMITTEE FOR FEBRUARY.

J S Dilworth, W H Denny, Joshua Hanna.

☞ On our outside form will be found an account of the "Execution of two Soldiers," in Havana,—and "Woman in her true Character."

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—Cook has received the March number of this beautiful Magazine. Its embellishments are very fine—and its list of contributors embraces the first order of literary talent.

☞ We see it stated that the nomination of Hon. John M. Read, to the Bench of the Supreme Court, has been reported upon adversely by the Committee on the Judiciary, to whom it had been referred.

☞ In consequence of the late outrages on the Canadian Canals, an effort is now making in the Provincial Parliament to pass a law to prevent any future outbreak. Its principal feature is to seize the arms of the inhabitants.

TWENTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25, 1845.

SENATE.

This morning after the miscellaneous busines, the consideration of the Texas resolutions was again resumed.

Mr. Allan having the floor, spoke with great earnestness in favor of the resolutions. In conclusion, he expressed his fear that the measure would be lost by one vote. He trusted however that it would not be a Democratic vote.

Mr. Berrien followed against the resolutions, after which the Senate took a recess till after five o'clock. It is understood that the question will be taken up to-morrow.

The bill for the admission of Iowa and Florida, having been reported by the Senate committee without amendment, will probably be acted upon at the end of the week.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

A report was received from the Secretary of the Navy in answer to a resolution, calling for information as to whether corporal punishment cannot be abolished in the Navy. His opinion is that it cannot.

The Senate bill authorizing the South Carolina railroad company to import iron for an experiment to test the atmospheric railway was passed.

The House then went into a committee of the whole, and resumed the consideration of the Senate bill to reduce the rates of postage.

The two hours for debate having closed, the voting commenced. A great number of proposed amendments were rejected. Among those adopted was one providing that the bill shall not go into operation till the 1st of July, 1845. Another amendment was agreed to, which charges 5 cents for single letters under three hundred miles, and 10 cents over that distance. The vote was 98 to 87. This was, I believe, agreed to under a misapprehension, as but a few minutes previously a similar proposition had been rejected by considerable majority.

Mr Hopkins moved to strike out the first section of the bill, and to insert the section of the House bill, but without success.

The opponents of the bill kept up a most galling system of annoyance, by continually moving that the committee rise, and perplexing the Chair by the most foolish amendments.

Just before the cars left, a motion to rise was negatived by a vote of two to one. There appears to be a disposition to dispose of the bill to-night. I am still of opinion that the Senate bill will pass, with a single amendment, so as to cause the bill to go into operation on the 1st of July.

NEW STATES IN THE NORTHWEST.

The Albany Argus has a letter from Henry R. Schoolcraft (a gentleman familiar with the regions of the northwest) which makes it very apparent that, if Texas should be annexed, and the contemplated number of States created out of it, there will only be found in it a counterbalance for an equal number of States which must necessarily grow up in the rich territories beyond the State of Missouri, and reaching round by the head waters of the Mississippi to the great lakes. We make an extract from the letter:—Globe.

"ALBANY, February 19, 1845.

"E. CROSWELL, Esq.

"SIR: While the extension of the Union on the southwest is under discussion, it may not be inappropriate to offer one or two suggestions, arising from personal observation, on the territorial area, North and West. With a good map before us, (say Nicollet's hydro. m. pub. by U. S. Senate,) the area itself may be readily comprehended, with its relative altitudes, add the distribution of lakes and rivers.

"By dropping a line on this map due south from the head of ship and steamboat navigation at Fond du Lac or Lake Superior, or to the point to which this navigation will reach, at the moment the St Mary's canal is completed, it will be found to cross the Missouri, at the city of Jefferson, the capital of that State.—It is well known that the western prairies and forest lands, in their utmost fertility, reach the banks of the left fork of the St. Louis River of the Fond du lac of Lake Superior. If a line be projected due west from this point to the Missouri, such a line will cross the Mississippi in latitude 46 degrees 30 minutes, and strike the former near its great bend, below the Yellowstone, crossing, in this distance, a region of mixed forests and prairies, of a highly fertile and sylvan character, watered by numerous streams, flowing north and south. Four portions of America afford a more inviting region for the expansion of our future population, and it is one eminently suited to free labor. Indian corn, and all cereal gramina, can be profitably cultivated. It abounds in pure waters, affording abundant water power, and has a pure and healthful atmosphere. No part of the West is better fitted for the construction of railroads and canals. And when the upper Missouri and Mississippi valleys are filled with population, the products of their industry and the supplies of their commerce could, in no manner, find so ready a way to market as though the channel of Superior and the great lakes.

"Two States, it may be estimated, will be organized on the right bank of the Missouri, above the influx of the Kansas, and between that point and 49th parallel of latitude, and one on the Mississippi and lake Superior, north of the State of Iowa and the future State of Wisconsin. These five States will, to a great extent, find their outlet to a market through Superior, or down the Mississippi from St. Anthony's falls.—It is by views of this kind, it is conceived, that the value of that large and little known part of the public domain is to be realized, and our true duties to posterity and the republic fulfiled. At least, the propriety may be indicated of dividing it, for the purpose of future government, at an early period, and before local and sectional interests have been formed, and thus added to the already existing questions of boundary before Congress."

New Arrangements.

THE subscribers having disposed of all their stock of ready made clothing, have determined henceforth to devote their attention exclusively to the customer branch of the TRADE. According to our present arrangement we will be in receipt of goods monthly, well and carefully bought, expressly for our house, which we are determined (as our facilities will enable us) to offer lower than the same goods can be furnished in this city. The style and finish of our garments shall be second to none. The exclusive attention of one of the firm is devoted to this branch, and the best hands in the city employed by us in making our work, to whom the highest prices are paid. The variety and extent of our stock together with the constant additions thereto, will enable us to offer inducements to all. We would respectfully refer those disposed to patronize us, to any of our numerous customers.

AMERICAN PORTABLE BOAT LINE

1845.

For the Transportation of Merchandise and Produce between Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York and Boston.

THIS Line is composed of new four-section Boats, one or more of which will depart daily.

The superiority and advantages of Portable Boats over every other mode of Transportation are too well known to shippers generally to require any further comment: suffice it to say that the detention, loss, separation and damage attending so many transhipments to their distination are by the Portable Boats most effectually removed.

☞ Any Produce or Goods directed to the Agents of this Line, will be promptly forwarded at the lowest rates and in the shortest time.

Western Produce consigned to E G Whitesides & Co., for sale, is unloaded at their warehouses in Philadelphia and Baltimore under cover, thus saving the expense of drayage and exposure to the weather.
