BY LAST NIGHT'S MAIL.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 1st, 1845.

JOHN W. DAVIS, of Indiana, was chosen Speaker of the House of Representatives on the first ballot.—He was the caucus candidate of the democratic party—and received the votes of all the democrats except the exclusive friends of Mr. Calhoun, who voted for Mr. Norris, of N. H. The reason given for their refusal to vote for Mr Davis, was the vote of that gentleman, at a former session of Congress, in favor of the reception of Abolition Petitions. The party will go into caucus to-night for the other officer. The contest for Clerk, will be between Mr. Weller, of Ohio, and Mr French, the present clerk. There are others named, among whom is Mr BUCHLER, of Penna. Their chances depend upon difficulties between the two prominent candidates named.

The Message will be delivered to morrow, and our friends will receive it by express. It is said that Mr Adams goes all lengths in favor of the American side of the Oregon question. If true, he may take this position because Mr Webster, for whom he has no great affection, has taken the British side. You, no doubt, recollect the speech of Mr Adams in reply to Mr Webster's memorable sentiment on the French Indemnity question in the Senate of the United States.

The Union will have the printing. The Journal, here, is regarded, and properly too, as without the pale of the party. The arrogance of its conductors is understood and will be properly appreciated.

There are a number of Pennsylvanians here, among whom I notice Henry Horn, collector of the Port of Philadelpia; some say his nomination will be rejected. If so, the President will select a Democrat for the place who will be willing to look beyond the Schuylkill river for the "bone and sinew" of the Pennsylvania Democracy, and acknowlade the merits and claims of the country people.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec 1st 1845.

To-day, Dr J W DAVIS of Indiana, was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives. This may be considered an excellent selection; he is a gentleman in every respect, as well qualified for a faithful discharge of the arduous duties of the post. Mr Davis was formerly a Pennsylvanian, but now hails from Indiana. So far as I could learn, no objections are made to his election—all admitting that he will perform his duties impartially. He will also present a noble and dignified appearance. My acquaintance with him, warrants me in saying, that he will before this session closes, command even the friendship and esteem of those who persistent so obstinately in their opposition to him. To say more would be useless. You know the man.

WASHINGTON, Dec 1, 1845.

The great day which comes, biennially has arrived and gone. A new Congress has assembled—forty three Senators, and two hundred and twelve Representatives present. In the Senate, little else was done but to call the roll, and receive the credentials of, and administer the required oaths to the two member from the state of Florida.

The House, being called to order by Mr French, Clerk of the last Congress, proceeded to the election of Speaker, which resulted as follows:

John W Davis, (D.)	120
Sam'l L Vinton, (W.)	72
W Norris, Jr. (A.)	8
W S Miller, (N.)	5
Scattering	7

After administering the oaths to the members, by the speaker, the appointment of committees to wait upon the Senate, and the president to inform them that the house was ready to proceed to business,

Mr. M'Dowell, of Ohio, moved that the rules of the last house be adopted This gave rise to some debate, and motions were successively made to rescind the rule prohibiting members from speaking more than one hour on one bill, and to reinstate the one prohibiting the reception of abolition petitions. The motions to amend were, however, voted down, and the original motion withdrawn, when, on motion of Mr Holmes of S. C., it was resolved that the rules of the last House be adopted for the present, and that a committee be appointed to consider the matter and report at a future day.

This is about the sum of the first days legislative proceedings of the 29th Congress.

This evening a caucus of Democratic members of the lower house, was held, at which, Mr French, clerk, and Mr Lane, sergeant-at-arms, of the lower house, were nominated for re-election. Mr C. S. Whitney, of Illinois, for Door keeper, and Ritchie & Heiss for Printers The latter by acclamation. Several unsuccessful ballotings were had for Postmaster, and at a late hour the caucus adjourned.

The Message of the President will probably be delivered at noon, to-morrow. Yours, &c.
