THE PITTSBURGH DAILY MORNING POST.

JOHN BIGLER, Editor.

PITTSBURGH, TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1846.

CHARTIER MURDER CASE.—A number of witnesses were examined yesterday afternoon in the case of Brown, charged with the murder of Chadwick, which decidedly strengthens the suspicions of Brown's guilt. Brown was seen on Monday, throwing Chadwick a number of times on the door steps, and kicking him severely, after which Chadwick left Brown's house, bleeding profusely. On Tuesday, George Evans, one of the witnesses sworn, and for whom Chadwick had been working, visited Brown's house, and enquired where Chadwick was. Brown said he did not know. Evans turned to leave, and seeing blood on the door sill, enquired how it came there; Brown told him it was none of his business.

Mrs. Graham states that she saw the hand and arm of a man floating in Chartier Creek, on the day after the above occurrence, and thought it was Chadwick, but could not say certain.

The Pittsburgh and Connelsville Rail Road.

The Philadelphia papers assert with great apparent earnestness, that the bill extending the Pittsburgh and Connelsville Railroad, was stealthily and fraudulently passed through the Legislature; they denounce the whole as a mere trick. Now, this is not only untrue, but is a most gross insult to the intelligence of the Legislature—it is in fact pronouncing them stupid and incompetent. The provisions of the bill are plain. It refers in direct terms to two different acts of the Legislature passed in 1843, and points out the particular section in each of the acts referred to. It was the duty of every member to have carefully examined, not only the provisions of the bill before them, but also the sections revived and repealed. If they failed to give the matter proper investigation; if they failed to discover that the object of the bill was to extend the Connelsville Road, it is very unjust to say, that it was fraudulently passed. We have no idea that a majority of the members of the Legislature were ignorant of the provisions of the bill—and we further believe that if it had even been opposed by the members from Philadelphia, it would have passed both branches by a triumphant majority. A portion of the members, we know, were strongly opposed to permitting a "foreign corporation," as they were pleased to call the Baltimore Company, to enter the state for the purpose of constructing a Railroad, but were perfectly willing to vote for a bill authorising a Pennsylvania company to construct a Railroad to any point where such Road was deemed necessary; these men, we doubt not, would have cheerfully voted for the extension bill. The Baltimore Sun, of Saturday, takes a correct view of the subject. The editor says:

"As to the criminality of the citizens of Pittsburgh, in obtaining a charter for a railroad from that city to Connellsville, which was approved by the Governor, on the 3d of April, 1837, just nine years ago, and some five or six years before the 'right of way' for the Baltimore road was thought of, our ideas of justice cannot see any foundation for such a charge. As to Maryland, however, she has nothing to do with the new charter obtained by Pittsburgh, whether it was fairly passed or not. The Baltimore Road, without reference to the matter, now has its terminus on the State line, at Cumberland, and as the citizens of Pittsburgh have obtained a charter from the Legislature to build a road to Connellsville, and from thence along the waters of the Youghiogheny to the Maryland line, intersecting with our road at Cumberland, they will doubtless be pleased to exchange freight with each other, and otherwise act in conjunction for the promotion of their mutual corporate interests.—Had the citizens of Pittsburgh built the road at the time they obtained the charter, the connection would now be complete, either with, or without the consent of Philadelphia. Where then the fraud and criminality in which such fervent hopes are expressed that Maryland will not participate?"

CONNECTICUT.—The Legislature assembled at New Haven on the 6th inst. The Senate elected Hon Sam. Ingham, Dem., President pro tem., and Alfred A. Burnham, Clerk. The House elected Cyrus H. Beardsley, speaker, and Charles R. Ingersoll, Clerk—both Democrats.

The vote in the Senate stood 10 Whigs to 11 Democrats, all the members being present. In the House, on Speaker, 112 Democrats, and 103 Whigs, including one scattering. On Clerk, 112 Democrats, including one scattering, and 101 Whigs. Absent, three Whigs and one Democrat.

The Senate and House of Representatives met in joint ballot on the 7th instant—241 members present—121 necessary to a choice. The Convention immediately proceeded to the election of a Governor, when the vote was announced as follows:

Isaac Toucey, (Democrat) received		124
Clark Bissell, (Whig)	"	116
Francis Gillett, (Abo.)	"	1

The rest of the Democratic candidates for State Officers were elected by the same vote.

WILMINGTON.—The citizens of this city held an election for charter officers on the 6th, which resulted in a Democratic triumph. Out of five Councilmen elected three are Democrats, and the vote on Treasurer, the situation most warmly contested, stood:

Dixon, (Dem.)	Garretson, (W.)	Weldy, (Na.)
496	344	89

The Gazette says:—"The Council, when the newly elected members take their seats, will be composed of ten Democrats and five Whigs."

FROM THE COPPER REGION.—All accounts from Lake Superior represent the greatest activity as prevailing among those engaged in the copper business. The Fredonia Censor, of yesterday, publishes an extract from a letter, dated at Detroit, which says:

"You would be astonished to witness the excitement that pervades all classes of the community on the subject. A few companies are forming every day, and party after party are proceeding to explore the copper country. The explorations extend on both sides of Lake Superior, the included islands and interior sections.

The Censor further adds:

"An exploring expedition under the direction of Dr. Boyanton, a distinguished mineralogist was about to start out to examine the country from Whitefish Point to Copper Harbor, with which our friend and correspondent is engaged. We learn that Bristol and Houghton's services are in great demand, for information relative to the country."

The Green Bay Republican, of April 25th, says—"Within the past week we have seen specimens of the copper and silver ore of Lake Superior, and istened to interesting details of the movements in that region. Those companies which have a large capital, will make fortunes by the mineral discoveries."

BREACH IN THE PENNSYLVANIA CANAL.—A magnetic telegraph despatch from Lancaster to the Philadelphia Ledger, announces that a breach has occurred in the Susquehanna Division, above the juction, (Duncan's Island,) which cannot be repaired, it is thought, in less than ten days. Some sixty feet of the new embankment have been washed away, fifteen feet below the bottom of the canal. The State officers have gone up to put them on to repair the breach.

SILVER ORE.—The miners at Eagle river bluffs, Wisconsin, not long since, raised in a single day, ten barrels of silver ore—worth one thousand dollars per barrel.

[COMMUNICATED.]

☞ MR. BIGHAM'S AMENDMENT.—Thus does Mr. Bigham by his friend speak in the Chronicle of yesterday of the section prepared by NEVILLE B. CRAIG, Esq., in January, which Mr. Bigham never saw until March, and which was copied by Mr. HILANDS and offered in his handwriting.—One person prepared it, another copied it, and yet a third person modestly claims the credit of it.—Verily Mr. Bigham is a modest man!

"Mr. BIGHAM'S amendment merely revives an Act, deliberately and solemnly passed by the Legislature of 1843. Will the Philadelphians charge fraud upon that body?"

We learn from the Catholic Telegraph that the Rt Rev Bishops of Mobile, Natchez, Nashville, Louis, Vincennes, and Dubuque, passed through Cincinnati this week, attended by their respective theologians, to assist at the Provincial Council in Baltimore, which will commence next Sunday.

From the Baltimore Sun.

Further Extracts from Foreign Journals

RECEIVED BY THE CAMBRIA.

We are gratified in announcing the safe arrival of this fine ship at Boston, on Tuesday morning. She was relieved from her perilous situation at half past four o'clock on Monday afternoon. After being lightened off about 80 tons in coal, 50 tons in chain cables, cargo and luggage, and 20 tons of water amidships by emptying two of her boilers, then heaving actively at hawsers which were attached to anchors from off her bows, and applying all steam from two steamboats sent to her assistance, she moved from her bed at Truro, and at quarter to 6 o'clock on Monday evening, was once more afloat, when she immediately started for Boston. About 10½ o'clock she made Boston Light, laid outside the harbor until near daybreak, and was safely anchored in her dock at East Boston on Tuesday morning.

Having received a portion of our files by the steamer Cambria, we annex some additional items of foreign intelligence brought by that vessel.

Distress in Ireland.—The following items from Irish papers will give some idea of the unfortunate condition of the people of that country.

"Within our remembrance the tide of emigration has been seldom, if ever, so strong as at the present moment. From the port of Cork, Waterford, Limerick, Dublin, Sligo, Galway, &c., hundreds of the population are quitting their native shores, determined to trust their fortunes to the protection of Providence in other and more favored climes.—From the north Riddling of Tipperary, and more particularly from the baronies of Upper and Lower Ormond, the number of emigrants is extraordinary. Nearly all of them are of the more comfortable class of farmers; at least, of those who have not felt the pressure of distress. From Borrisokane and its neighborhood hundreds have gone out, or are preparing to leave. Ballygibbon parish, we learn that no less than 100 persons have already gone from Derry castle estate, we are informed that numbers of the poor cottier tenantry on that property have left by the way of Limerick. The emigration returns, we are certain of, this spring will announce a far more numerous quantity of emigrants than have been returned for some years. —Tipperary Vindicator.

"The intelligence in our columns of the increasing distress of the laboring population of Limerick, Clare and Kerry, is most fearful. * * * We have proof already that many wretched families in the interior of the country are starving upon one meal of bad and insufficient food in the 24 hours. * * * Government must come to the rescue with more speed and effect, or the catastrophe will be overwhelming.

"On the 9th of April, there was an extraordinary assemblage of 5000 laborers at Tory-hill, Croom, for the purpose of obtaining food and employment for themselves and their families. The cry was, 'We want work.' The Roman Catholic Priest who addressed them and persuaded them to take down their signal flag and retire in peace, could only say, 'We have done everything in our power to procure employment for you. The resident landed proprietors have done so, and I trust Government will, in 10 or 12 days, set the works applied for in this district, and give you employment.' There was only too much truth in the peculiarly Irish reply.—We will be starving before then."

"The Clare river, a vessel laden with flour, was on Wednesday last boarded in open day by armed men, who kept possession of her for six hours, in the sight of several other vessels, during which time they removed at their leisure 15 tons of her precious cargo."—Limerick Chronicle.

For the last fortnight our quays have been daily thronged with the fine and stalwart peasantry of this and the adjacent counties, preparing to emigrate to various parts of the transatlantic world. Perhaps upon no former occasion, even before the hope of railway employment was held out to the people, and when "Government grants" for their relief were never heard of, did the number of emigrants from this quarter exceed the proportion of the present year. Besides the various large and full freighted vessels which have left the quays of Cork direct for America, several ships were despatched to the west of the country, and had no difficulty in obtaining their full compliment of passengers.—Many of these vessels conveyed cabin passengers, comfortable farmers who do not like the prospects of the times at home. A great number of agricultural laborers are among the emigrants, from the counties of Limerick and Tipperary. At a moderate computation about 2000 emigrants have, or within the next month will have, left this port for America. It is to be hoped their anticipations will be realized. There can be little fear, however, that their condition could be worse, or their prospects more disheartening than those which the "potato-famine" in this country, little mended by the promise of Indian corn, had occasioned. To starve or emigrate are the only alternatives of the people. —Cork Reporter.

Polish Insurrection.—In Galicia the peasants still carry on their system of plunder, and their leaders are mostly retired soldiers. In the district of Tarnow, Jaslo, or iszele, is at the head of 12,000 well armed peasants. He has the fixed idea that he has been called by Providence to fulfil the imperial will. He has had the audacity to send a deputation to the Emperor; how it has been received has not yet transpired.

In the district of Rochnia the peasants are led by Koryga, in that of Sandecz by a peasant of the name of Janocha. The letter of the Emperor "to his faithful Galicians" was received with the greatest contempt. When one of the commissaries, who was sent to treat with them, alluded to the property of the murdered men, saying that it belonged to the widows and orphans they had left—"We have killed the old dogs, it is no hard task to strangle the young ones," was their only answer. Two of the commissaries sent by the government have been killed, though each was accompanied by an armed force.

The Cologne and Breslau journals say, "Galicia is become a desert; the bands of peasants that scour the country are so well organized that it will be a difficult matter to put them down. They have not the slightest regard for the authorities. They tear down the proclamations exhorting them to return to their work, and they demand the land whose owners they have murdered. There are men among them who persuade them that they have saved the land, and that they must not lay down their arms till their rights have been acknowledged. All persons peacefully inclined fly the country. The public offices are vacant. Government has offered a higher salary, but no one has been found willing to run the risk."

Such are the facts published to-day. Instead of being supressed, the insurrection has but taken another turn, and is becoming a regular civil war.

We can state from good authority that a certain number of the insurgents of Cracow are with the peasants.

The Asiatic Cholera.—This mysterious scourge is again at its work in Persia, whither it traveled by the route of Khorassan. At Herat, Bokhara, Teherran, Ispahan and Mechid the Deaths have been very numerous. At Mechid a third of the population were carried off. The only town of importance that has escaped is Tabrez, now one of the principal cities of Persia. The exception is the more remarkable, as Tabrez, is visited by more carravans than even Isaphan. The various theories that exist on etiology of cholera, and the unquestionable obscurity surrounds it, make it desirable that each movement of the enemy should be carefully noticed by the medical journalist.—Medical Times.

Miscellaneous Items.—We select the following miscellaneous items from different journals,—

Preparations for War.—The greatest activity prevails at and about all the army and naval depots in England; recruiting is in full operation; at all the dock yards every hand has full employment; parties who hold Government contracts for engines for steamships are held to the fulfillment of their engagements as to time, and in fact the movements of every department connected with the two services were never more fully employed. All the line of battle ships in England, and all steamers on the home station, that are not especially employed, will be assembled together in about a month as an experimental squadron.

Marriage of the American Minister at Turin.—The Hon. Robert Wickliffe, jr., Charge d'Affairres of the United States at Turin, was married on the 7th of April to Miss Josephine Van Houtum, of Rotterdam—a lady of rank and fortune. The marriage was celebrated in the chapel of the Prussian embassy, at Turin, by the Rev. Mr. Bert, pastor of the Protestant Legations. In the evening Mr. W. entertained the bride and a distinguished party at dinner. The act of marriage was attested by the chevalier Riscarra, for the bride, and by Mr. G. J. Crafts, of Charleston, S. C. for the bridegroom.

Emigrants for the United States.—A great number of emigrants from Prussia and Germany have lately arrived in London, via Antwerp, Rotterdam and Amsterdam, for the purpose of emigrating in the New York packet ships for America. Upwards of 500 have already embarked, and are now on their way to New York. The Quebec American ship, which leaves the St. Katharine's docks this day, will take out 250 Prussian emigrants; one half of them intended to sail in the Switzerland, which left on the 21 inst., but on reaching this port the day before, were informed that every berth was engaged, and that they must wait for the next vessel.

Winding up of Railroad Companies.—The shareholders in a great many companies have called meetings to consider the propriety of forthwith winding up their affairs.

The Queen has granted the dignity of a baronet of the United Kingdom under Major General Sir H. G. W. Smith, of Allwal, on the Sutlej.

The London Gazette contains a notice making the port of Preston, in Lancashire, a port for the importation of tobacco.

In Dublin potatoes are 100 per cent. higher in price than at this time last year.

O'Connell.—We understand from a friend, who has recently returned from Europe—whose opportunities in the highest society, enabled him to catch correct impressions of that species of public opinion, which may be deemed private;—that O'Connell is really vigorous in body and mind as he has been for years past. But the constant aim of the Tory Journals to sink an impression in the public mind, to the effect, that "the great Agitator is declining in health and vigor." Their wish of course, is father to the thought. But, from the respected source from which we derive our information, we are assured that the Herculean constitution of the great old patriot, is as robust as his most ardent friends could hope for.

RIVER INTELLIGENCE.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, of 7th, says.—The river at our landing is slightly on the rise, affected by the late rains. We shall probably have a rise of two or three feet.

At Louisville on the 7th there was 7 feet water in the channel and at a stand.

The Cumberland on the 2d, had 9 feet on the shoals and rising.

IMPORTANT TO STEAMBOAT MEN.—The Cincinnati Commercial of the 7th inst. says.—Mr. Wilder of Detroit, has invented and patented a new Steamboat Telegraph. Instead of the present method of several bells, the captain above "telegraphs" to the Engineer below by moving an indicator over a dial-plate, upon which five points are marked—"stop," "fast," "ahead," "slow," "back." A movement corresponding to that indicated at the captain's position is instantly communicated on a similar plate to the Engineer below, and an alarm stroke of a bell sounds as the indicator reaches that point.

MIAMI CANAL.—The Cincinnati Enquirer of the 7th instant says. The dam above the culvert is completed, and the water is rapidly filling in.—By this evening or to-morrow morning, the canal will be full enough for boats to leave, and then the two or three hundred tons of merchandise that has been shipped, will find its way to its destination.

GREAT WESTERN CIRCUS.

MR. S. Q. STOKES, Director and Principal Agent.

THE proprietors of the Great Western Circus respectfully announce to their patrons that this Company has been in the course of organization for the past twelve months, and from the facilities the managers have had the past winter, they have been enabled to make selections of performers from Spaulding's North American Circus, Stickney's New Orleans Circus, and Howe & Mables New York Circus, thereby forming a galaxy of performers that would be made bright particular stars in any of the companies of the present day.

Will open on Friday evening, May the 15th, on the Lot in front of Murray's American Hotel, formerly Broadhurst Mansion House, for a few nights only.

In the arrangement of the interior, the utmost attention has been carefully held in view as regards the comforts of the audience. The seats are constructed on a new and improved style, and capable of containing 800 persons. The pit is arranged entirely around the arena in front of the dress circle, thereby making the arrangement for viewing the performances infinitely better than in any of the preceding Companies that have visited Pittsburgh.

The proprietors state without any vaunting boast, that the arrangements and fit out of this, the Great Western Circus, is superior, in every sense of the word, to any like establishment in the Union.

The Brass Band, as arranged under the guidance of the leader, H. Gaull, was selected with care and precision, from the orchestras of the St. Charles, American, and French Theatres, not only forming a Brass Band, but a very superior String Band, so requisite to give effect to the Ballets and Pantomimes that are produced in the arena of this, the Circus of 1846.

The names of performers consist of the following gems of the arena;

Mr. T. McCollum, the best two horse rider in the world.

Mr. E. Stone, the acknowledged best bare backed Equestrian.

Mr. D. W. Stone, the unsurpassed melo-dramatic Horseman.

Mr. Wm. Day, so well known throughout the West as the multiform man.

Mr. John Smith, the great Negro Delineator and Picaninny Coleman, his original and celebrated Pupil.

Mrs. J. Smith, principal female Equestrian.

Master of the Menage and director of the circle, John Shay.

The three Clowns are unsurpassed, and consist of Green Johnson, principal, grotesque, and performing Clown; Joe Claven, the Momut and Mezzo Clown; Wm. Worrell, the Drollerist and Piero.

To enhance the sports of the circle, the following auxiliaries are attached to the company.

H. Long, J. Jones, S. J. Hendricks, W. Lake, J. Brown, H. Ruggles, T. Young, G. Smith, C. Wilson.

The costume and property maker of this establishment, Mons. Trundt, having had an experience of ten years in the principal Circus Companies in France, Germany, and lastly, at Ducrow's Amphitheatre, is fully competent to the task.

The Band, as arranged, compose the following artists and professors;

Mr. H. Gaul, Leader of Brass Band; Mr. A. Teltow, Leader of the String Band; Mr. E. Teltow, Arranger and Copyist; E. Johnson; J. Charlton; J. Whitford, M. Marchette; H. Kent; G. Miner; Mons. Feyn; W. Metzler; Sig Capuchini.
