The Murder. FURTHER PARTICULARS - EVIDENCE BEFORE THE INQUEST, &c.

As we went to press last week a dispatch had just been received by Sheriff King that Tracy, the suspected murderer of Miss Reilly, had been captured at Portville. The Sheriff started for that place with a deputy on the 2 P. M. train, and returned with the prisoner on the 9 o'clock train, having persuaded him to come over the State line without a requisition.

The manner of his capture was purely accidental. He was seen and recognized at Portville by an agent of Barnes, Bancroft & Co., of Buffalo who had made his acquaintance in this place. Securing the aid of a constable, he had him arrested and telegraphed to the Sheriff.

Below we give the evidence before the coroner's jury, from which a verdict was rendered that Mary Reilly came to her death at the hands of Andrew Tracy.

S. D. Freeman, M. D., testified: I am a practicing physician. Reside in Smethport, have known deceased Mary Reilly, all her life. I was present at her death. I was called from the Court House to see her. I found her lying on the sidewalk in front of the house of John Mullin, breathing slowly and heavily.

J. T. Reilly, M. D., testified: I reside in New York city. I came to Smethport on Monday, the 16th inst. I am a practicing physician. I was stopping at the residence of P. Ford yesterday evening. I was informed that Mary Reilly had been shot, and came to the place. I found her in the house of John Mullin, lying on the bed in an unconscious condition.

Belle Mullin testified: I was at the residence of Mary Tracy in this place yesterday. I went there about 7 P. M. and left about half past eight. We were in the store or sitting room all the time we were there. Mary Reilly (the deceased) Secella Tracy and Mary McCabe and Andy Tracy came into the room several times. Mary Reilly was playing the piano and singing nearly all the evening.

PUGILISTIC PRISONERS.-The Erie convicts were taken to Allegheny without any trouble, but the Sheriff of Elk county didn't have any such good luck. His name is D. C. Oyster, and his deputy is named Wensel. They started from Ridgway last Friday morning with James Dalley and Patrick Goodman, two hardened criminals, sent up for a term of years for burglary. The prisoners were locked up in the Warren jail to await the departure of the train for Pittsburg, over the river division of the Pittsburgh, Titusville and Buffalo railroad.

Reckless Tramps. Monday night in the saloon of Jos. Windfelder, St. Mary's, several tramps became drunk and noisy, and were finally ousted, when they drew revolvers and emptied their contents into the midst of the bystanders.

met him at his office door about ten minutes after the bell rung for the convention. We came up town together; went into Mr. Haskill's. He took a cigar I took a drink of whisky and we started to go to the convention; went about half way and he said he would not go and turned around and went back.

John Tracy, brother of Andrew Tracy, testified: I live in Keating township in this county, at the Tracy farm, about three miles from town. I will tell just as I remember, I suppose it doubtful if I can remember it all. I woke up during the night but cannot say the hour. Heard some noise. Heard mother and Andrew talking. Heard Andrew saying I am going away and will never return. I went down; I enquired; he spoke lightly of the matter; he afterward told me he wanted to talk to me.

When he was talking to me first I thought he had a difficulty with my brother or sister. Afterwards when he was talking about his affections being trifled with I thought of Mary Reilly. He has been accustomed to come home about three times a week. He had a room in my sister's building. I could not say how long he was at our house last night after I awoke.

James McGuire testified: Age 24, I reside in Smethport. I was at Mr. Rogers' mill yesterday evening. The mill is situated at east end of town near the bridge. I was standing on the barn bridge with a lantern in front of me. I heard some person coming from the direction of where McCarty lives. Heard the footsteps. The footsteps indicated that he was running. After he passed I went to the road. When I got to the road he came in behind the store. I stayed there till he went into the bridge. I did not see him well enough to say anything about his form and size.

Simon Glenn testified: I live in Keating township, near the Smethport Depot. I was around town last evening. Was in company with Andrew Tracy. The first time I saw him was at Wendel's store. Andrew Tracy had some liquor in a pint bottle. He went to the water pail and got some water and took some whisky. He offered me some. I took some. He took some also. There was only a little in the bottle. It was a half pint bottle. The next time I saw him was in his sister's store. The girls were there, Mary Reilly, Secella Reilly and Belle Mullin. I stayed there when they went out. I might have been there ten minutes after they left. I think the girls went out first. Andy seemed natural. I don't think he was drunk. Don't know if he had a revolver. Don't know what pocket he had his bottle in.

Wallace Ostrander testified: I saw Andrew Tracy yesterday evening -

John Wendel testified: I saw Andrew Tracy yesterday evening about my store. He came in two or three times. The last time he came in he went into the back part of the store alone. I thought he was going there to drink whisky. I followed him. When I saw him there I was behind the counter and he had a bottle in his right hand. He tried to put it in the hip pocket of his pants. It seemed that he could not get it in there and he put it in his pants pocket - front pocket. There appeared to be something in his hip pocket. He then took the tumbler and took a glass of water out of the pail and drank it. He then started and walked out of the store mumbling something. I could hear him say "I'll fix that son of a b--- to-night."
