JACOB FRY, JR., MONTGOMERY CO.

TUESDAY MORNING.....JULY 22.

CALL THE ROLL OF THE STATES.

We do not wish to encourage an overweening confidence on part of the Democracy; but must let facts speak for themselves. We commence to-day a call of the roll of the States to see how things look now politically. We refer to facts generally known—facts in regard to recent elections, and the present state of parties, and our readers can judge for themselves of the correctness of our conclusions. Taking the States in their order, first comes

MAINE

At the State election in Maine last year the Democracy carried the State by a large majority. Since then we have had a little flare up by Hamlin. But as a set-off, Evans, one of the ablest and most eloquent and influential Whigs of Maine, has come out for Buchanan. He is worth a dozen Hamlins. The old line Whigs of that State will go to a great extent with Evans. With a triumphant victory in Maine at the last election, and many changes in our favor since, what are our chances in Maine? She has eight electoral votes.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Between the March elections of 1855 and 1856 for Governor in New Hampshire the Democrats gained just about 8,000 votes. The exact figures have been heretofore given. Now if in the twelve months preceding and ending in March last the Democrats gained 8,000 votes, what may their gain be estimated at from March last to November next? The Democratic candidate for Governor lacked less than a hundred votes of an election last March. There was a third party that polled, if we remember rightly, less than 2,000 votes. At least one half of them will be cast for Buchanan. That balances the other half, and leaves the state of the vote, as in March, less than a hundred against the Democracy. But if in the preceding year we gained 8,000, what will be the gain from March to November this year? We can only say that the Democracy of New Hampshire are in excellent spirits, and express themselves confident of a victory. New Hampshire has five electoral votes.

THE OLD BAY STATE.

It has already been stated in our paper that a State Convention of old-line whigs has been held in Massachusetts. It was a large and full assemblage, representing many thousand voters, the true and resolute portion of the old Clay and Webster whigs. Their numbers in that State are thousands, and include many of the first men of the State. That Convention resolved that for the present it would not commit itself or its party to any of the candidates now in the field, but await developments, and be prepared to decide before the election for which candidate they would cast their vote. So large is that vote that it would in all probability decide the question as to what candidate should receive the thirteen electoral votes of Massachusetts. But one fact quite significant was made known. The committee resolved that the Union and the Constitution must be preserved. That is the true ring of the Clay and Webster and Jackson metal. The Union must be preserved. That one fact pledges the old-line whigs of Massachusetts against Fremont and the open and avowed disunionists. Either Fillmore or Buchanan will receive that vote. If it in the end be cast for Fillmore it will so divide the opponents of the Democracy as to give the State in all probability to Buchanan. If it be cast for Buchanan it will give it to him by a great majority. Massachusetts has thirteen votes.

The old-line whigs of Massachusetts are practical men, and will not probably throw away their votes. Some of their leading men are already out for Buchanan. Buchanan will probably get the whole vote.

CONNECTICUT.

All the elements of opposition combined failed to elect a governor in Connecticut at the last election. But they had a majority in the legislature, and so made a governor. Mr. Buchanan was the choice of Connecticut in the Cincinnati Convention. Their delegates were confident, that with him for the candidate we would carry that state

This is the first time in the history of this country when the question of Union and peace or Disunion and civil war, was ever directly involved in a presidential canvass. Buchanan represents the first, Fremont the last clause of the question. With such an issue Connecticut will go for the democracy we cannot doubt.

NEW YORK.

When the two wings of the New York Democracy have been thoroughly united they have never failed to carry the Empire State by a good majority. Witness the result in 1852 and 1853. They are thoroughly united now. The Van Burens, Seymours, Bradys, Dickinsons, Bronson, Dix, Clinton, and a host of other distinguished men, representing both wings of the party, are pronouncing with one voice for a cordial union. The committees have already cordially amalgamated. Mr. Buchanan suits both wings. There is no doubt of a cordial union now as in 1852. Will the result be the same? Who doubts it? But besides the Democratic strength, there is a large body of old-line Clay and Webster whigs in that State—friends of the Union; who, headed by Washington Hunt and others, will take care that "the republic receive no detriment" at the hands of the woolly-head, woolly-horse disunionists. Large numbers of them will vote for the candidate of the national party. Then Gerrit Smith is running for the presidency, and aided by his vast wealth and acknowledged popularity he will poll a large vote.

But what then of Fillmore? Does any one doubt that he will poll a vote in that State to be counted by tens of thousands? Horrors Greeley has threatened to have him hanged, and is erecting the gallows; but, like Haman's, it will probably bear its builder yet. Mr. Fillmore will run, and receive such a vote in New York as becomes his character and antecedents, and his former great popularity.

Can any one see how it is possible for the Democracy to lose New York. Her electoral vote is only thirty-five.

PENNSYLVANIA.

The opposition in this State was sorely disappointed that McLean was not nominated instead of Fremont. In the next place the woolly horse party are resolved to throw Johnston off the track, let who will be provoked by it. The fight is between Johnston and Dayton; and Greeley, Seward and Fremont will probably slay Johnston. Again, in the Philadelphia Convention the Americans were snubbed in the most open and insulting manner. In no State do they feel the the indignity more than in Pennsylvania. It was there boldly and practically avowed that the Republicans would make no compromise with the Americans. Americanism must give up the ghost or go by itself. What is the consequence? There are thirty-three papers in the State bearing the names of Fillmore and Donelson at their head. There are five or six more doing equally effectual service for them, that have not raised their names yet. Thousands of Democratic Americans have come back to our ranks. Thousands of old-line Whigs have come to our aid to the rescue of the Union and the Constitution, and to help to elect one Pennsylvanian President. There is no Fremont paper in Philadelphia, that we know of yet. Now, with such a condition of the opposition, and such a general rally for Pennsylvania's son, is the result doubtful in our old Keystone State? Her electoral vote is twenty-seven.

NEW JERSEY.

Stockton, of New Jersey, has not yet withdrawn after his nomination for the Presidency. But he has declared that he will withdraw in favor of Fillmore. Commodore Stockton's influence in New Jersey is well known, and he will carry a large vote to Fillmore. New Jersey is Democratic already. Her electoral vote is seven.

In the States thus far named the prospects of the Democracy would be good even if there was but one ticket in the field against us. Every act tending toward fusion dissatisfies and drives off thousands. But with our opponents so divided and subdivided, and so irreconcilably at variance in regard to issues and candidates, what possible chance is there for the election of Fremont?

Gen. Wilson and many other Fremont leaders admit that without a fusion of all the elements of opposition to the Democrats they cannot succeed. Does any one suppose that such a fusion is possible. Will Fillmore withdraw for the benefit of a party that has threatened to hang him? If he did his friends to a great extent would vote for Buchanan. The Philadelphia Times, a Fillmore paper, says that should Fillmore withdraw, Buchanan's majority in Pennsylvania would be fifty thousand. It means by that that the Fillmore men would vote for Buchanan.

We shall continue the call of the roll of the States hereafter till we get through the list, and show "how things look now."

A DIRTY SCAMP.

The editor of the Pittsburgh Gazette, like a dirty villain and coward and puppy as he is, has been for weeks assailing and persecuting the telegraph reporter of this city with a view to break the telegraph arrangement, and get another, by which he (the editor of the Gazette) could swindle the rest of the presses of Pittsburgh. Believing every man should have some means of protecting himself against a base calumniator, we have for a few days past allowed the reporter space in our columns to speak for himself. What has been said in our columns in reference to the report about Senator Wilson's preference for Johnston has been written by him. We have allowed it as a mere act of justice to him, when assailed by a scoundrel, who within the last dozen years has in some way assailed half the respectable people in this community. It seems hard that a hired calumniator, who is now under the control of a committee, should be allowed to wrong a respectable and much esteemed citizen without his having a chance to reply. The cowardly Gazette man is just base enough to do it; and his wrath at us is because we allowed the slandered a chance to be heard in his own defence.

In regard to the report that was sent over the wires in relation to what Wilson said of his preference for Johnston we can say that the authority has already been given. The man named rode in the carriage with Wilson from the Pittsburgh to the Allegheny meeting, and on the same night declared that Wilson made known his preference for Johnston. He came to our office to reiterate the assertion, and has told several other persons the same thing. We could mention the names of several witnesses who can testify that he has said so.

But we feel little interest in the matter and this is the first time we have said anything about it. What the telegraph reporter has said in our columns we have no doubt is strictly true, and susceptible of easy and abundant proof. The drivelling idiot of the Gazette has fallen too low, been bought too often, and lied too much, to be entitled to frequent or lengthy notices from us; and now we leave him to the reporter, who is infinitely his superior, in every quality that makes a writer or a man.

The "certificate" matter will be explained at the proper time.

Another Schuylerism.

Another fraud perpetrated by officers of one of the New York Insurance Offices has just been developed. Charles W. Ogden, Esq., Vice President of the International Insurance Company, made affidavit before Justice Connelly that Moses Starbuck acted as President of the International Insurance Company from February last to the 27th of June; that Hon. H. Starbuck (son of the first-named) acted as Secretary pro tem of the Company, and John W. Latson and James A. Regna as trustees during the same period; that on the 12th of June last these parties transferred $1,000 to the effects of the Company without the knowledge of the Board of Directors, and caused to be signed or did sign three thousand three hundred and ninety false and fraudulent certificates of shares—the shares of the Company are placed at $50 each—and further, that on the 15th of May, the same parties, acting as officers and trustees of the Company did sign four promissory notes of debt for the sum of $5,000; and that the issue and selling of said certificates of stock was effected without consent and was done in violation of the charter and laws of said Company, &c., &c. Attached to the affidavit were certificates of stock not completely filled out, to the amount of $227,500, which it is further alleged were intended to be fraudulently issued by the accused parties. According to the statement of Mr. Ogden, the complainant, the over-issue by the accused amounts to more than $20,000. Upon these charges warrants for the arrest of the accused parties were issued, and all of them (except Mr. Latson, who is confined in bed with sickness,) were taken in custody, and held to bail by the justice.

A. McKINNEY, Esq.—We hear encouraging accounts from Westmoreland county, and the district in which A. McKinney, Esq., is the Democratic candidate for Congress. Mr. McKinney's election is thought to be placed beyond a doubt. All concede his ability, and he has a large circle of personal friends who will labor for his triumph in this campaign. Old Westmoreland will do her share to send him to Washington next time, instead of Mr. Covode. A democrat should represent that district, and Mr. McKinney is the man.

FREMONT IN BOSTON.—Faneuil Hall will hold five thousand people. A Fremont ratification meeting was held in it on the evening of the 18th, when only 1,200 are reported as present in the N. Y. Herald, a Fremont paper. It turned out that many of them were Fillmore men, and they raised a great row. It don't take down East. Faneuil Hall less than one fourth filled after a month of drumming up!

THAT TICKET.—There is said to be a Fremont electoral ticket in Kentucky. It looks very much like a hoax, however. Look at some of the names that are published:—"J. Grazebrook; James Lashbrooks; John Wash; Green Shells." Such are some of the names on that published electoral ticket with Cassius M. Clay.

WE are informed that the Democratic Convention that was to be held at Greensburg has been lately fixed for Pittsburgh, on the 10th of September. Pittsburgh is a more accessible point, and larger numbers can be gathered here.

THURLOW WEED says Fremont's nomination was carried by "an ungovernable mob." He is a republican.

FROM IOWA.

FORT MADISON, Ia., July 13, 1856.

Dear Post:—Once more I take up my pen in accordance with my promise to keep you informed of the doings of this section of our country. I should have written long before this had it not been that unavoidable events occurred that kept me from that pleasant duty. But as it is "better late to thrive than never do well," I shall now make amends as far as my power lies, for past neglect.

I am happy to inform you of the triumphant election of the Democratic ticket at our late county election for the Legislature. John S. Hamilton—the amiable John of Pittsburgh—was among the lucky Democrats; and the handsome vote he received is conclusive evidence of the esteem in which he is held by the people of whatever place he may be. Success always attends him.

The opposition in this county are making every effort, and straining every nerve to defeat the Union's safe-guard, the Democratic party, in the approaching election, but they may as well strive to turn the current of the "father of waters," as to do this thing. The Democracy are alive to the dangers that surround them, and to the evil and terrible results that will surely follow the elevation to power of a sectional party—a party composed of fanatics and traitors—and have all entered upon the good and glorious cause with a right good hearty will, determined to see the flag of Democracy once more planted in victory upon the White House at Washington, by the favorite son of Pennsylvania and the gallant young Kentuckian.

The feeling manifested all through this State is for Buchanan and Breckinridge, yet the Black Republicans claim that Fremont will carry it by a majority of 1,500, (they would be just as safe in saying 50,000.) Within the past month I had occasion to inquire into the political feeling in a good part of Iowa, and the almost universal response was, "Hurrah for Buchanan and Breckinridge." The utmost enthusiasm prevails all over the country; the people are thoroughly aroused to the wicked designs of the miserable offscourings, and fanatical abolitionists, &c., which compose the so-called Republican party. The people, by their votes in next November, will show their utter abhorrence of this faction of traitors. It may be set down as a fixed and reliable fact that this State will give a majority for Buchanan and Breckinridge of between 5000 and 10,000.

The Black Republicans here have sunk so far below the depth of honesty that they will not acknowledge their name; they have called several meetings lately, under the name of "people's meeting," and invited the "patriotic men of all parties, and the ladies," (very gallant,) to attend. The ruse went take. One of their small guns, a few evenings since, tortured fourteen of their seventeen voters in this township, by a speech of over three hours in length, in which he told them that "if the Republican principles do not triumph in the November election, the Union must slade," and many more things characteristic of his party.

Senator Harlan was announced to address a "people's meeting" to-night, but the faithful fourteen were among the missing, and, as a matter of course, the meeting fizzled.

To allude to the Know Nothings would only be to disturb the rotten [illegible] bury their evils with them, and [illegible] had no virtues, let us not make mention of their names.

The weather has been intensely hot for some time, and there is no sign of any abatement very soon. The farmers are taking advantage of it to gather in their grain. The crops are very good this season—altogether beyond expectations.

The lateness of the hour, and a recollection of the morrow's labors, warn me to desist. I hope the next letter I write will be more interesting than this one.

I remain, as ever,
Truly yours, FOREST.

[For the Pittsburgh Morning Post.]

THE GERMAN CITIZENS.

To the Editors of the Morning Post:

Your remarks in your valuable paper of July 16th, respecting the German naturalized citizens, and the controversy arising therefrom, with the two recreant German papers—the Courier and Freedom's Friend—induce me to give you from time to time a true unadorned statement of what I may call the German sentiments on the Presidential election, if you will allow me occasionally a small space in your columns.

You must not take for granted, what these papers say about the Germans and their vote; because they say to-day one thing, and to-morrow another. The Freedom's Friend, for instance, told its readers in the No. of June 24, 1856:

"Pennsylvania is not the soil for the Republican party. The Democracy of the one side, and the Know-Nothingism of the other side, eat up here nearly the whole contingent. Besides this the so-called Republicans of this State lack principles, to have their party name justly. Only a few intelligent and liberal men belong here to the Republican party, and justify its name. The masses consist of fanatical, stupid rabble."

One month after this, the Freedom's Friend is one of the most rabid Republican papers in the country, without having, however, the moral courage to put the names of the candidates at the top of its columns. Such sudden changes of opinion cannot be attributed to sincerity, but to something more tempting, and weighing heavier than the principles of some men.

The Germans generally, with a few exceptions only, belonged and still belong to the Democratic party, and cannot be bought. The few exceptions here, at least during the existence of the now defunct Whig party, consisted as far as I can recollect, of some Swiss (not German) families with such Germans as had the fortune to get intermarried with them, and were in such wise dependant on the good will of the purse-proud aristocracy. The same exceptions exist yet, and the accessions which the new party has made since its existence in this part of the country, it is welcome to. As I said before, the Democratic ranks are unbroken and daily increasing.

I must wonder the more how the publishers of the Freedom's Friend—I do not speak of the editor, as he has only to write what his employees dictate, according to the old maxim, "whose bread you eat," etc.—could forget the motto of their paper, "Audiatur et alters pars," showing at once that it was started as an independent sheet, that it was opened to the discussion of the principles of all parties; that they could forget, I say, the fact that at least two-thirds of the readers belong to the Democratic party, and cannot be bought. Will all the intelligent Germans, who all the while supported the Courier and Freedom's Friend, consent to be transferred to the ranks of the new styled Republican party, which consists of nothing else than a remnant of the old Whig party, the great body of the Know-Nothings, the sworn enemies of the emigrants, "and a few disappointed office holders," and some "saleable fanatical stupid rabble," as the Freedom's Friend styles it. I hope not. I have heard many a staunch German Democrat express his disapprobation of such intended sale and transfer. Many spoke of discontinuing these recreant papers, and starting a new daily Democratic paper at once. To bring this matter to a speedy issue, I would suggest to my German fellow citizens the necessity of acting, and at once to call a German Democratic mass meeting, and to pass resolutions there similar to those of our German Democratic friends at Trenton. Let us show to the publishers of those papers that their deeds are not ours; that our sentiments are vastly different from theirs; that we go in for the Democratic principles of old, and that, as our friends of Trenton have said, "The press can be purchased—WE ARE unpurchaseable." More anon.

THE BOSTON CLOTHING MERCHANT.

[For the Pittsburgh Morning Post.]

Wilson vs. Johnston.

Mr. Editor:—I notice by the Gazette of yesterday that the editor is in a bad way about the few crumbs of comfort supposed to have been extended by Gen. Wilson toward Gov. Johnston and his friends. Mr. Wilson proved by his facility in changing from a Republican in Pittsburgh to a Know Nothing in Allegheny that he does not wish to forfeit his double character in politics. The Gazette refuses to the Journal and Johnston wing the poor compliment of an approving smile from the Massachusetts Senator whilst pow-wowing with Johnston, Sewell and Riddle at their meeting. The Allegheny county candidate for Vice President must not enjoy the advantage of a graceful back-down. He must be whipped out, and to that end the lash is now applied. Have the North Americans grown so tame that they will submit to the domineering of a handful of Republicans about the Gazette office.

THE following States will hold their elections previous to the great contest for the Presidency:

Kentucky	August 4	California	Sept. 4
Alabama	August 4	Maine	Sept. 3
Texas	August 4	Georgia	Oct. 6
Missouri	August 4	Florida	Oct. 6
Arkansas	August 4	Pennsylvania	Oct. 14
North Carolina	August 7	Ohio	Oct. 14
Tennessee	August 7	Indiana	Oct. 14
Vermont	Sept. 2	South Carolina	Oct. 14

[From the Baltimore Patriot.]

The Wheat Crop.

At this particular season we often see newspaper speculations predicting either fall, short, average or medium crops. So far as relates to our own country, the information upon which such opinions are founded, is generally obtained by country or village newspapers, from farmers who, being interested in securing high prices, are not apt to give very favorable accounts. We hear of ravages by the fly, weevil, drought, injury from rains, &c., when in fact, no devastations occurred, an abundant harvest practically contradicting all such reports.

Accounts are now being republished, which were written in England, France, Germany, Russia, Prussia, and elsewhere throughout Europe, speculating upon the crops, predicting short supplies of grain. These obtained circulation on the other side before it was possible to know the result, a fact demonstrated by more recent advices, showing that there will, all in probability, be a full harvest in the old world.

That the wheat crop in this country will be large whatever may be said to the contrary, we have no doubt. A greater amount of soil has been appropriated to its growth than ever was known before. Our own observations, traveling recently through nearly every State beyond the Alleghenies, and several States this side, not only confirmed us in the belief of this fact, but gave convincing proof that the yield of wheat must be unusually large. We never saw more hopeful prospects of an abundant harvest. Nothing but favorable weather was wanting to mature the growth, and this, we learn, has been had in all directions. It has proved peculiarly favorable everywhere towards harvesting, which was not the case last year. Grain has universally been secured in good condition. It is not our province to speculate upon the probabilities of future prices. This we leave with those more directly interested to govern themselves accordingly. Persons, however, who operate with a view to short crops, will, in our judgment be mistaken.

Of the corn crop, so far as it comes under our immediate notice, we cannot speak so favorably. It was backward, thin, and looked badly, as a general thing, everywhere. A cold spring kept planters behind time, and the previous severe winter actually froze or killed the grain; so that a large portion of it would not germinate. There is, however, a large quantity of the old crop yet on hand, and we may look for only a moderate crop this season.

IOWA LANDS.—Iowa has fallen a prey to land speculators, and though they may not be able to strangle her rising prosperity, yet there can be little doubt that the prospect there is but a poor one for the emigrant farmer of limited resources. For years these same speculators were a dead drag upon the prosperity of Illinois. They seized upon the very best lands everywhere, they prevented the growth of the most promising towns, and are the dread of all the settlers at the West. From the frequent appearance of letters in the newspapers puffing up roads in Iowa, we surmise that hundreds of them have got their fingers burnt by the indiscriminate rush they have all made in that direction. They have, however, engrossed all the available land, and thus are forcing emigrants to buy of them at five dollars an acre that for which they paid but one and a quarter. Thousands, who will not submit to this, go to Minnesota, Nebraska, and Kansas. The interests of the State would thus have suffered seriously, had not Congress most opportunely relieved Iowa by the bill granting lands in aid of railways, as it had previously relieved Illinois of a similar incubus by a like remedy.

A GOOD SIGN IN MASSACHUSETTS.—The New Bedford Express, which was started as an American organ, refuses to be transferred to the Fremont party, but runs up the names of Buchanan and Breckinridge, and is battling manfully and efficiently for their success. The editor says that the Democrats are cordially sustaining him, and that amongst his warmest supporters are many who have heretofore acted with the Whig and other parties; but being national men, with hearts too large to love only fifteen of the thirty-one States, like Noah's dove, could find no resting place outside the Democratic ark.

☞ Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge AND LIVER PILLS.—A singular combination, but very effectual, as the following will show:

NEW YORK, November 29, 1852.

Knowing, from experience, the valuable qualities of Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge and Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburgh, I have for some time past considered it my duty and made it my business, to make those articles known wherever I went among my friends. A short time ago I became acquainted with the case of a young girl, who seemed to be troubled with worms and liver complaint at the same time, and had been suffering for some two months. Through my persuasion she purchased one bottle of Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge, and one box of Liver Pills, which she took according to directions. The result was, she passed a large quantity of worms, and thinks that one box more of the Pills will restore her to perfect health. Her name and residence can be learned by calling on E. L. Theall, Drug-gist, corner of Rutger and Monroe streets.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, manufactured by FLEMING BROS. of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges, in comparison, are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores. None genuine without the signature of FLEMING BROS

☞ Piles, neglected, often prove fatal; lead to consumption. Anoint the parts three times a day with DALLEY'S PAIN EXTRACTOR. If secretion form the rectum, then insert the "Pile Syringe," filled with Extractor, and gradually discharge it as the syringe is withdrawn. It never fails to cure cases of any age of virulence, nor to give entire ease instantly to all, frequently curing by one application.

Piles are known by the heat, itching and pain of the anus. Bleeding piles are caused sometimes by the falling of the whole bowels, which then press the intestinal canal tight against the back bones and keeps the blood from returning up the vessels, similar to the blood being kept at top of your finger when a string is tied tight round it; such is frequent, and for scrofulous humors and ulcers to form therein, then procure a perfect abdominal supporter, and wear a compress to the rectum, and continue to use the salve as above; also rub it well over the loins and abdomen for some time, and the natural belts that support the bowels will be contracted and made strong, and your life will be saved.

Properly applied, every case will be cured. It never fails.

☞ Great Cure of Piles—HUNTSVILLE, N. C. November 1, 1853.—Dr. C. M. Jackson—Dear Sir: Allow me to express to you my sincere thanks for your discovery of a medicine which, to say the least of it, has effected a cure that all other medicines that I have taken have entirely failed to do. "Hoofland's German Bitters" have effred me of the most stubborn and aggravated case of the PILES that, perhaps, ever fell to the lot of man. My case is not a stranger to this community, as I am well known in this and the surrounding counties, and can truly say that my recovery has astounded all my friends and relations, as I had tried every thing recommended, and nothing did me any good until I was prevailed upon to try the Bitters. You are at liberty to make use of this communication for the benefit of the afflicted, as you may think proper. Yours, truly,
