LA Council Member to Attend SGA

The Liberal Arts Student Council decided Tuesday night to send a representative to meetings of the SGA Assembly and to liberal arts faculty meetings starting next fall.

Representatives would be chosen on a rotation system, in order to give all members a chance to attend.

Other items scheduled for next year include the possible installment of a bulletin board for the council in Sparks.

The council also discussed the possibility of helping liberal arts advisors in their advising and counseling of students. The corresponding secretary was asked to write to Smith College, which has organized such a program, for further information. This would allow a more effective program, the council decided.

The two $150 liberal arts Student Council scholarships were awarded to Mary Kay Stoker, junior in arts and letters from St. Mary's, and James Desmond, junior in arts and letters from Landsdowne.
