Communicated.

Died, near Areadtsville, on the 12th of Oct., HENRY DAVID HARTMAN, son of Henry Hartman, Esq., aged 16 years and 9 months. The deceased was afflicted for several years with disease of the heart. During the last few months, in the midst of deep suffering, his naturally interesting disposition was hallowed by an evident work of grace in his soul. He was a gifted son and dearly beloved by all who knew him well. Though he had not yet, much to his regret, joined the church, yet his end was peace, for he had learned, like the younger son in the parable, whose case he loved to study, to confess his sins, and believing on Christ, to forsake them. He had no wish to stay in this world except that he might do something for his Savior who had sought him "when a stranger to the fold of God." With his failing strength he endeavored to admonish his young companions and others, and to comfort his kind parents. O, that all who knew him may never forget the solemn lessons of his departure. His remains were interred, at Flohr's church, on the Friday following his death. A near relative has furnished the following appropriate lines to be published along with this notice:

"Rest, brother! in peace, till Jesus comes:
He gave thee: he took thee;
And he will restore thee.
And, when the Lord shall summon those Whom thou hast left behind,
May we, untainted by the world,
As sure a welcome find:
May each like thee depart in peace,
To be a glorious guest
Where the weary shall forever rest."

Latest News!

THE great excitement in Gettysburg 'tis said
Is caused by Picking's CLOTHING all neat and ready made,
His goods are all fresh, his styles are all new,
Just drop in and see and you'll find this is true.
If you want a fine coat, he has every shade,
Blue, brown and black, all well trimmed and made;
And his large stock of pants comprises all colors
The finest of Cassimers, Doeskins and others.
And now of his vests all the patterns are new,
Of fine silks and satins, and velvets not few;
His stock is too large to enumerate here,
In a word he has all that gentlemen wear.
He has also a stock made expressly for youth,
And his mode of dealing is fairness and truth;
And the best of it all is the fact (not my rhymes)
He is selling at prices to SUIT THE HARD TIMES.
You'll always find Clothing, in quality rare,
Made up of materials for service and wear;
Then give him a call and you'll find him on hand,
