LINCOLN'S IMPARTIALITY.

It matters not how low and vulgar a man may be, or how basely he may have behaved, if only he is an Abolitionist he is sure of the favor of the old dealer in choice western anecdotes who now occupies the seat which statesmen and gentlemen have heretofore graced.—By a late official order, the sentence dismissing Col. Tom Ford, of Ohio, from the service, for his cowardly and traitorous abandonment of the Mar land Heights, which led to the surrender of Harper's Ferry and prevented Gen. McClellan from capturing Lee's whole army at Sharpsburg, has been rescinded. Lincoln's object in rescinding the order dismissing this drunken and cowardly traitor, is to remove from Ford the disabilities under which the order of dismissal placed him, so that he may hereafter be eligible to any office under the government to which a President who admires men of Ford's character and principles may see fit to appoint him.

Gen. Fitz John Porter, an accomplished soldier and well-behaved gentleman, but not an Abolitionist, has been dismissed the service and forever prohibited from holding any office under the United States, by President Lincoln, in pursuance of the sentence of a court martial in whose honor the few unprejudiced persons have the least confidence. An attempt was made to have the evidence in this case laid before the Senate of the United States, but the abolition majority in that body refused to allow this to be done. Had the evidence been got before the Senate, it would thence have gone to the country, and the American people would have seen upon what insufficient testimony this gallant officer (whom even the New York Tribune pronounced a "thorough soldier,") was dismissed the service. Porter was a friend of McClellan's, and therefore it was determined to get rid of him. Convenient tools were found and moulded into a court-martial, and their unrighteous sentence is rigorously carried out by Lincoln.

No such rigor is applied to Tom Ford.—Why? What is there in his character or conduct that entitles him to a mildness of treatment not is meted to General Porter? Nothing—more than nothing, for he has been a black-guard and a scamp all his life. But he had done the opponents of Democracy some service. He stumped this and other sections of Pennsylvania for Fremont in 1856, was entrusted with the disbursement of a large secret fund. Part of this fund he expended in buying neutral papers to support the cause, but no small share it was spent by him in drinking with political friends of his who did not object to indulging in a "free drink" along with their free soil. In the last Presidential campaign he served his Abolition friends in the same useful way, and Lincoln in return for his gratitude by relieving him from the just consequence of his imbecility, drunkenness, cowardice and treachery at Maryland Heights.—Lutton Democrat.

☞The Crawford Democrat notices the charge of the Abolition press that the Democratic journals say nothing against the Southern rebels, and remarks:

"The opposition would like to divert attention, in this way, from the rebellion they are carrying on against the government; for, when the truth is told, no man can be a loyal citizen and support the measures of the present administration. But what do the Abolition gentry mean by this complaint? Will they so torment their guilty consciences—if they are not seared as with a hot iron—by going back to a period previous to the present disastrous war? If they but do this, they will learn that about the South had very much to do with the rebellion, and that they were faithfully warned of the consequences of their conduct. And now, when the rebellion is in the full tide of operation, it ill becomes a certain class of men in the North to croak about their chickens coming home to roost. The Democratic party as a party, has at all times been uncompromisingly opposed to rebellion, secession, or disunion. No Democratic editor in the North has ever endorsed the doctrine of the New York Tribune—'let the South go—we can do better without her.' On the contrary, the Democrats are for the Union, 'now and forever, one and indivisible.' But they are for a Constitutional Union—a Union of free, sovereign and independent States, with the white man in the supremacy. Our Republican, or more properly Abolition, opponents, are not in favor of such a Union. They want a Union of States in vassalage to the central government—a Union in which the negro is recognized as the equal, if not the superior, of the white man—a Union founded upon an abrogation of the Constitution of Washington, Jefferson and Madison—or, they want no Constitution at all. Had the wise and patriotic counsels of the Democratic party been heeded, the country would not have been cursed with a war that has caused the blood of our fellow countrymen to flow in torrents; that has impoverished the people, destroyed the credit of the nation and created a system of taxation that will be a burthen on future generations.

☞The Carlisle Volunteer has a scathing article on Abolition thieves, from which we extract the following:

"A Washington correspondent of a New York paper says that 'the amount stolen from the government by the men exposed by the Senate committee, amounts to at least eleven millions of dollars.' And yet Republican editors, office-holders, and collar-men are mum on the subject, and consider it unworthy their attention. Here are eleven millions of dollars, stolen by the direct aid of the War Department! Tucker, the head thief, was Assistant Secretary of War, and his only business appeared to be to conceal extensive schemes of robbery.—That his transactions were known to the administration, there can be no shadow of a doubt. A short time ago the bastiles groaned with victims, whose chief offence was supposed to be the utterance of an earnest protest against the corruption of the agents of the administration. It now turns out that Assistant Secretary of War Tucker has been making millions, with his partners, Loser and Hale, out of damaged water crafts. And what says old Abe? Nothing. He gives countenance to these frauds by refusing to bring the guilty to punishment. He screens them with his official position, and instructs his party journals to speak of every man as 'a secessionist' who dares condemn the thieves.

"Tell us, men of Pennsylvania—was this war commenced for any noble or patriotic purpose, or was it determined upon that Republican rascals might rob the people? Look at the facts. From the hour of Lincoln's inauguration to the present, we have lost more money by Republican thieves than has been expended for the war—and these thieves are the pets of the administration—the 'loyal' men who fill responsible positions in the government.—These are facts, and cannot be denied."

THE WHOLE QUESTION IN A NUTSHELL.—The New-York Tribune says of the conservative Democrats:—"They are not disunionists—they do not desire the permanent division of our country—but they do hope and expect to achieve its reconstruction." This is precisely the difference between the conservatives and the abolition radicals. The radicals are "disunionists"—they do "desire the permanent division of our country"—and they do not "hope and expect to achieve its reconstruction."—Let the people remember this distinction.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic.

THIS Medicine, a compound extract, carefully distilled from a common seed growing on the sea shore, is an infallible remedy for Dyspepsia.

Possessing all the properties of iodide of iron, iodide of potassium and iodine, and nearly every component ingredient of the gastric juice, it converts the food into chyme, which is the first process of digestion.

It brings up the tone of the stomach, and promotes appetite and a relish for food.

It permanently strengthens the stomach and purifies and restores the gastric secretions.

In cases of weakness or debility, whether constitutional or from abuse or dissipation; even when the digestive organs are in a tolerably healthy condition, it is unsurpassed as a stimulant and alterative tonic.

It is peculiarly effective as a remedy for the languor of the spring season, by which the strong and healthy as well as the feeble and delicate are affected.

It purifies the blood, revivigorates the animal functions and restores health and muscle.

It regulates the bowels so gradually that, after its use for a month or two, even in cases of chronic constipation, nature will be enabled to perform her functions without the aid of purgative medicines.

It is pleasant to the taste, harmless under all circumstances and in every condition of the system.

Being distilled from kelp in the same manner that Jamaica spirits are distilled from sugar cane, it leaves no prostration or other bad consequences after its use has been discontinued; while the bases of all other tonics are the stimulating but poisonous properties of corn whisky or alcohol.

To know the utility of this medicine read the following certificates, selected from different sections of the country, so that whoever may read of it may see evidences of its good effects near by:—

NEW YORK, Sept. 15, 1862.

DR. SCHENCK:—Dear Sir—This is to certify that your MANDRAKE PILLS and SEAWEED TONIC have completely cured my wife of a congested liver of long standing, during which time she was visited almost daily by our family physician, and the only thing he would prescribe for her were powerful emetics until her system was completely worn out by continual vomiting. Everything we would hear of we tried, but all to no purpose; and finally my wife saw your advertisement in the paper, and concluded to go and see you, although she had little if any confidence in any doctors, after the experience she went through.

She has taken about four bottles of TONIC and three boxes of PILLS, and now can boast of as good health as she ever enjoyed in her life. I think this one of the most remarkable cures on record, and if publishing these lines will benefit the sick or afflicted you are at liberty to do so. CHARLES NEILL,
No. 190 7th avenue, cor. of Twenty-third st.

LYNN, Mass., June 16, 1862.

DR. SCHENCK—Dear Sir:—I meant to call on you when you were in Boston, to make an acknowledgment to you for the great good I have derived from the use of your Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. I called on you in May last. I thought I had consumption, but you said it was liver complaint and dyspepsia, and recommended the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. I suppose you have forgotten me; but I will try to explain the case, and I think you will recollect me. I had to wait some time for my turn. Your rooms were full. I got to sleep on the sofa. I felt so bad that when I would sit down in the day time I would fall asleep, but could not sleep at night. I think if I had not come to you I would have been in my grave by this time.

Now I will try and relate how I was then and how I am now, and if it can be of use to you, you may publish it. Four or five years before I came to you I had a pain in my right side and shoulder-blades, low spirited, bowels costive, skin yellow, tongue coated, breath bad, and appetite all gone. I think I could go a week without eating, and not be hungry; and if I did eat, it would fill me full of wind.—I would often get nervous spells at night, and think I could not live till morning. I had a little cough, and have spit a quart of blood at a time, and felt sure, until you examined me, that I had consumption.

I have taken in all seven bottles of the Seaweed Tonic, and three boxes of Mandrake Pills, and they have cured me. I feel like a new man; but oh, no wonder I felt sick. The pills took right hold of my liver, and the tonic my stomach. For nine days I think I felt worse, for everything appeared to give me pain, and I was sure I was full of worms; but in a few days things started, and no one would believe what quantities of black bile, slime and corruption passed my bowels, but I saw no worms. I wish the world knew of the effect of the Seaweed Tonic; it is a good one. Let the world know it will bring up the appetite if anything in the world will. I do not believe you will know me, for I am so changed; but I am bound to see you the next time you come to Boston. As I said before, I am now a well man. My skin is as clear and tongue as clean as yours. I have gained seventeen pounds in flesh, and solid at that; I was fat as much as any one man in Lynn. Am in the shoe business, and everybody knows me here, and I am well known in Boston and New York. I am always talking about you and your medicine, and suppose have been the means of selling many dollars worth already. Yours, respectfully, JAMES T. JONES.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4, 1861.

DR. SCHENCK—Dear Sir:—I take great pleasure in sending you a certificate in addition to many you have already received from suffering humanity. I can scarcely find language sufficiently strong to express my heartfelt gratification of the wonderful cures your Mandrake Pills and Seaweed Tonic have effected in the entire cure of one of the most stubborn cases of the affection of the liver. For three years I suffered beyond description. All my friends, as well as myself, came to the conclusion that my time in this life was short. Such was the terrible condition to which I was reduced that life to me had become a burden; my whole system was in a state of inflammation; I could not eat; I could not sleep; my whole body was filled with pain; swellings would arise in my wrists and ankles, rendering them totally useless. On several occasions I was attacked with a rush of blood to the head, which would fell me to the ground, and I would be carried away for dead. I applied to several eminent physicians of our city, who administered all the medicines they thought would reach the case, but of no avail. One of them said he could do no more for me, and advised me, as a last resort, to drink cod liver oil. Not relishing the horrible trash, I decline to take it. Accident put your advertisement in my hands. I called on you, you examined me and told me what was the nature of my disease. You then ordered me your Pills and Tonic, with an observance of diet, pledging your word that in one week I would find myself another man. I followed your advice, and, as you predicted, an astonishing cure was effected. I continued your Pills and Tonic for some time, and now thank God for his goodness and your valuable medicine, I am once more restored to perfect health. I most earnestly recommend to all those who are suffering from an affection of the liver to give your Pills and Tonic a fair trial, and a cure will be effected. I have sent many persons to you, and they have all been cured. Any information my fellow citizens may further require will be freely given by the subscriber at his residence, No. 812 Federal street, between Eighth street and Passyunk road.
