LEWISBURG CHRONICLE

OCTOBER 28, 1853.

NOTICE.—The CHRONICLE and the Telegraph offices are now at the OLD STAND, Market Square, up stairs, left hand door.

☞The following communication was accidentally omitted, last week:

A Card.

MR. EDITOR:—Will you be kind enough to say in your paper, that the citizens of Lewisburg and vicinity have our most heartfelt thanks for the kind assistance rendered, in endeavoring to save our property from fire on Saturday night last; and also, that we feel deeply grateful to the citizens of Milton, for their prompt and very efficient aid in the hour of need.

FRICK, SLIFER & CO.

In Schuylkill county, Kline, (Whig,) is elected County Commissioner. Remainder of Democratic ticket elected.

Northumberland has elected C.W Tharp, of Milton, (Whig,) District Attorney.—Remainder, Democratic ticket.

Columbia elects Robert F. Clark (Whig) Treasurer.

Allegheny county elects a Democratic Senator and Assemblyman.

Potter county gives 150 Whig majority.

Sullivan county elects Amos C. Wilkes, (Whig,) Sheriff. John Blair Linn, Esq. District Attorney.

Centre county is said to have elected Wm. Harris, (Whig,) for Treasurer.

Montour and Lycoming, elect the whole Democratic tickets.

Philadelphia county elects to the Assembly, 7 Democrats and 4 Natives who were pledged to support a Prohibitory Law and consolidation. Their election cannot properly be considered a party triumph.

Philadelphia city elects to the Assembly gentlemen who were generally supported on other than party issues. They, with the exception of one or two members, were pledged to support a Prohibitory Liquor Law, a paid Fire Department, and a Consolidation of the several districts of the city and county.

In Westmoreland county the Democrats lost their regularly nominated candidate for Sheriff.

In Berks county, the Whig candidate for County Treasurer is elected over the regular democratic nominee, by a majority of 1500.

In Schuylkill county there were 1336 votes polled for a Prohibitory Law, and 1116 for Kimber Cleaver, Native American.

In Mifflin county, Mr. Gibbony, a temperance Democrat and an advocate for the sale of the public works, has been elected to the Assembly over Taylor, the regular democratic candidate, by a majority of 12 votes.

Juniata elects the democratic ticket by upwards of 150 majority, except Mathews, Whig, District Attorney.

Fulton county elects the Whig candidate for Prothonotary by 121 votes—beaten as to the balance of the ticket.

The Pittsburg American of Saturday, announces the certain defeat of Clover, the Democratic candidate for Senator in Clarion, Armstrong and Indiana by S. S. Jameson, an independent democratic candidate.

☞The New York Courier speculates as follows on the war news:

"Russia has been fighting a handful of Circassians for twenty years and she has not conquered them. Those greatly mistake who believe she can finish Turkey in one, two or five campaigns. For the present at least, the chances are altogether in favor of Turkey, even if she has to fight her battles alone. But she will probably be assisted by France and England; certainly by multitudes of revolutionary adventurers from all parts of Europe, filled with a hatred of the autocrat intenser even than her own. The chief danger of war, in fact, consists in the stimulus it will give to the revolutionary energy which is latent in almost every country on the Continent. It is known that the revolutionary leaders are watching passing events with the utmost interest. Louis Napoleon, if he joins against Russia, has nothing to fear from this, for nationality is the strongest feeling of Frenchmen and always subdues every internal revolutionary impulse when the nation is envolved in foreign war. But in Germany there is no such sentiment, for the German race has no national unity. In Italy and Hungary, which are under a foreign yoke, there is no nationality which is not essentially revolutionary. It is hardly possible that a war should be carried on between the Eastern and Northern powers of Europe, without stirring up a vehement and fiery effervescence among the people, and creating opportunities for a most terrible retribution upon their oppressors.

Correspondence of the Lewisburg Chronicle.

TROUT RUN—and six inches of Snow, up among the owls and bears of the Lycoming Creek—Oct. 24, 1853.

Dear Chronicle:—Election over—the Union "saved" from Division, (thanks to the Beavers, and the incorruptible patriots of the "metropolis," modern Berlin!) mayhap you might have a spare corner for a way-laid traveler to ease his feelings and exercise his itching pen.

At White Deer Mills, I was informed this morning, there is a hopeful prospect of the establishment of Ironworks, a New York city capitalist having recently made some ore-land purchases in the vicinity, with that view. This town has improved considerably within two years.

Our companion, was a blind old man. He never was sick until, while laboring at heavy work, and exposed to the glare of hot fires, his eyes became inflamed, and burned like living coals. His physicians applied caustics and other irritants, thus adding fuel to the flame, but to no good purpose. He was taken to a regular Eye Infirmary, but was informed that he had come too late—that, if he had applied the coldest possible water to his eyes, until the fire, or fever, or inflammation was taken out, he might have been cured. Now, the poor old man is hopelessly blind.....The eye is too delicate an organ for quackery or apprentice-physicians ever to meddle with. Hence those itinerants who are peddling eye-cups, new eye-glasses, &c., should be shunned, and I see they are exposed by some of the leading Journals in the cities. If your eyes trouble you, go to men and institutions of established character and responsibility.

The heavy fall of snow added a new feature to the interesting ride through Loyalsock Gap. Not only the bright and the pale hued evergreens, but the multitude of unfallen leaves of the deciduous trees, were covered with snow—and the variety of shades and intricacies of coloring, and beauties of tints, of forest in autumn, who can tell? Each limb and colored leaf decked with an incrustation of frost, and the sun's rays illuminating all! The glories of Autumn are to-day crowned with the pure loveliness of Winter—

"Each prism of frost's
A sparkling gem;
Each leaf and it's
A diadem!"

The pencil of the painter and the pen of the poet can never impart the loveliness of a gentle snow-storm upon the frost-hued foliage of a grand old forest. It is like the sudden pale seal of Death on the brow of the ruby-lipped and rosy-cheeked infant—surpassingly beautiful, even under the stroke of the Spoiler; each lovely in itself, and made more lovely by the contrast.

We had no time to inspect the rising greatness of William-por, but it is no doubt destined to be quite a little village. At 1½, P. M., we were taken about two miles to the railway cars, which run thence about 13 miles to Trout Run. The passenger car is well wrought and furnished, and runs very easily. The freight cars were loaded with rails. It is confidently expected the road will be completed thro' to Elmira, next season—("a consummation devoutly to be wished" by all who are "called" to travel in this region.) Canton Corners, in Bradford county, is about the center, and about the summit, of the Road, and the machine shops are to be located there, which will make CANTON one of the first towns in the county; inhabited and surrounded, it already is, by intelligent, thrifty farmers and merchants and mechanics. Towanda, Athens, and Troy must keep wide awake, or their new rival will outstrip them ....All hail the day when cars shall start from Elmira, labelled "For Baltimore, direct," via Williamsport, Lewisburg, and Sunbury, as predicted by Gen. Packer, in his speech a year last March. The route is very straight, north and south, and the natural and "constitutional" objections quite inconsiderable.

Arrived at Trout Run, "ho for Blossburg!" Well, there we waited, a wagon of no great dimensions, with three unbacked seats, covered with a loose canvass, and ten persons of ordinary size and their baggage and the Mail.....all to be drawn by two horses, in the mud and melting snow, fifteen miles, of which two miles up a steep hill at once, was the most difficult portion! "Everybody" said "it could not be did;" but the "proprietor's" agents and drivers declared it could. All aboard, with their baggage—charge, 6¼ cents per mile, exactly—off we sarted. Having progressed a few rods, one horse's foot became "balled," he slipped, and fell, and broke a trace in the effort. After a short delay, he was released, a new harness was obtained, and forthwith the U. S. mail wagon, with ten passengers drawn by two horses—fare 6¼ cts. per mile—started again for Blossburg. Arrived at the foot of the first hill, another strain upon the harness, and another trace chain broke. The driver swore he could haul us over—for he had hauled just such loads all summer.... (as conclusive proof as the man who had lived one seventy years, and was sure he could live another seventy!) Four o'clock—fifteen miles of up-hill and down before us—snow still falling—only two houses the whole distance—crazy wagon—light harness—ten passengers, baggage, and Uncle Sam's mail—it was voted unanimously that the whole affair was an outrage upon the public, upon the passengers, upon the horses, and Uncle Sam aforesaid; voted, further, that we can never get through unless we walk. Whereupon, two gentlemen and one lady abdicated the old caravan; resigned all their claims to their fellow sufferers; and wished them much pleasure and a safe deliverance.

We returned to the well-kept mansion house of Charles Borrows, and by a comfortable fire and good supper-table soon forgot our disappointment. About 9 o'clock, we heard from the seven men and baggage with Uncle Sam's mail in the crazy wagon and light harness propelled by two horses, with white-"balled" feet in a driving snow-storm....they were "just at the foot of the mountain!" I shuddered at the prospect for them, and in my soul advised everybody to avoid the route from Trout Run to Blossburg.

On our table, we find that universal favorite, John Bunyan—that delight of youth, Robinson Crusoe that very readable volume, Mrs. Caudle's lectures; and in our animated discussion as to whether the author of that veritable record was a bachelor or a married man, we soon forgot the seven were toiling up the hill to the Block House in a snow storm.

Thine as ever, INCOG.

DEATH OF M. ARAGO.—Francois Dominique Arago, the celebrated French Savant, died at Paris on the 1st inst., in his 67th year.

ANOTHER STRIKE.—The workmen at the Cotton Factory in Harrisburg struck for the Ten Hour System, on Tuesday last.

CRYSTAL PALACE.—The managers of the Crystal Palace have fixed upon the 1st of December as the period of terminating the Exhibition.

REV. SAMUEL BRISON, of the Baltimore Conference of the M. E. Church, died suddenly of heart disease, at Boston on the 13th inst. He was widely known and highly respected in this section and his death will be deeply lamented.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—There was a very severe storm yesterday in this city, and in every direction around, so far as news has been received. The telegraph wires are prastrated almost everywhere. It is supposed that a great deal of damage has been done by the storm, both at sea and on land.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 25.—The late storm has been very disastrous all along the coast. A number of marine disasters are already reported.

GOOD ARRANGEMENTS.—In order to relieve the scarcity of change, the Secretary of the Treasury has set apart two hundred thousand dollars of new silver coin for N. York, one hundred thousand for Boston, and fifty thousand for Baltimore, to put into circulation in a few days. It will probably be obtainable, in restricted sums, at the Sub-Treasury, for gold coin.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—Gov. Bigler has issued his annual proclamation, setting apart Thursday, the 24th of November next, as a day of general Thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God for the bounties of His providence. The day will no doubt, be very generally observed in this place, as well as in the whole State.

MUNICIPAL SUBSCRIPTION.—On Monday last in the Philadelphia county Board, a communication was received from the Commissioners signed by the names of Wm. S. Allen and Joseph Smith, informing the Board that they had made a subscription to the Sunbury and Erie Railroad, of two millions of dollars, and asking the concurrence of that body. The Ledger of Tuesday, writes an article, and a severe article on the subject, and expresses the opinion that the County Board will refuse to sanction the action of the Commissioners.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Chas. Andrews, who was arrested in July last for placing obstructions on the Harlem railroad for the purpose of throwing the Albany express train from the track, has recently had his trial in West Chester county, and has been sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

Mr. Dix's resignation of the New York Sub-Treasury-ship has been in the hands of the President four weeks. It is to take effect whenever a successor can be selected. Mr. Dix proposes to join his family in Europe as early as possible.

HEAVY SNOW FOR THE SEASON.—We learn from the Portland (Me.) Advertiser, that on Wednesday before last, snow fell in the town of Rangely to the depth of one foot. Travel was interrupted for several days in consequence. The trees bordering the road were so loaded with snow that they bent down and obstructed the way.

LIBERAL.—Abbott Lawrence has donated $500 to aid in the construction of a monument to the Filgrims, on Plymouth Rock.

A WOMAN AT THE BAR.—The Cleaveland Plaindealer says that Mrs. Emma R. Coe has been pursuing a course of legal studies, for the purpose of qualifying herself for the practice of that profession.

YELLOW FEVER IN BALTIMORE.—A despatch dated Baltimore, October 18th, says:—For two or three weeks past a disease resembling Yellow Fever, has existed on Fell's Point. The number of deaths from it is stated at from twenty-five to thirty. A man named Packer and four others died in one house. Miss Rogers who came from Philadelphia to nurse her mother, died after a few hours' illness. Nearly all the places of business, in the infected districts, are closed.

A man in Cincinnati last week cut his throat because he lived next door to an amateur trombone player. The coroner held an inquest, and returned a verdict of "Justifiable homicide." Sensible jury, that.

Father Gavazzi is lecturing to crowded houses in Cincinnati.

A colored man named Malson was found dead in his bed at Columbia last week.

The Road to Health!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. W. Karlan, Chemist, 7, Prescot Street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1851.

To Professor Holloway, Sir—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest on our sale list of Proprietary Medicines for some years. A customer, to whom I can refer for any enquiries, desires me to let you know the particulars of his case. He had been troubled for years with a disordered liver, and had experienced no cure, but rather a growing worse, the symptoms of the attack were so alarming and the inflammation set in so severely, that it was more than doubtful if he would ever be able to leave his room. Fortunately she was induced to try your Pills and Ointment, the first effect he felt, and which surprised him, was the great relief. He continued to take them, and, after using about only three boxes, he is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. I could have sent you many more cases, but the above, from the severity of the attack and the speedy cure, speaks much I think in favor of your astonishing pills. (Signed) R. W. KARLAN.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATIC FEVER, OF NINE YEARS' DURATION.

Copy of a Letter addressed to the Hon. and Venerable Chancellor of the Exchequer, by Mr. Thos. Dyer, of Mold, Flintshire.

Mold, Flintshire, Nov. 1, 1851.

Sir—I consider it but a duty to the public, and a duty of gratitude to the cause of humanity, to make the following statement, which I have repeatedly made in public and in private to the numerous friends who have accompanied to me a dreadful case of rheumatic fever, which I had suffered from nearly nine years, and which, notwithstanding my advanced state of age, the use of your Pills have so relieved me, that I can confidently hope that I shall be able to make a pedestrian journey to Liverpool, which I could not have ventured to undertake without the use of your invaluable pills. I am now nearly 70 years of age, and have never before had recourse to any medicine whatever, but I should be ungrateful to my feelings if I omitted to make this statement of the effect your invaluable pills have had upon my constitution. (Signed) THOMAS DYER.

CURE OF A PAIN AND TIGHTNESS IN THE CHEST AND STOMACH OF 15 YEARS' STANDING.

From Mrs. Thos. Dixon, Proprietress of the Lyons Inn, Aldermary, whose cases for the benefit of the public.

To Prof. Holloway, Sir, Bucklersbury, August 28, 1851.

Sir—I consider it but a duty to the public, and a duty of gratitude to the cause of humanity, to make the following statement, which I have repeatedly made in public and in private to the numerous friends who have accompanied to me a dreadful case of rheumatic fever, which I had suffered from nearly nine years, and which, notwithstanding my advanced state of age, the use of your Pills have so relieved me, that I can confidently hope that I shall be able to make a pedestrian journey to Liverpool, which I could not have ventured to undertake without the use of your invaluable pills. I am now nearly 70 years of age, and have never before had recourse to any medicine whatever, but I should be ungrateful to my feelings if I omitted to make this statement of the effect your invaluable pills have had upon my constitution. Protestant America's Book for the Times.

Dr. Dowling's History of Romanism.

JUST published—a NEW AND ENLARGED EDITION OF DR. DOWLING'S HISTORY OF ROMANISM.—This popular and valuable work (which is Protestant but otherwise unsectarian) has been pronounced by all Protestant denominations the Standard History of the subject of which it treats.

In consequence of the late fire in the Publisher's establishment, he has been unable for the last few months to supply the frequent orders for this work. He has now the pleasure to aim more that Dr. Dowling has prepared an extensive and valuable Supplement of about 150 pages, including all the recent events of interest in relation to Pope Pius IX., the struggle for liberty in Rome, the Madiai, Gavazzi, etc. etc.; and that the enlarged work (making a noble volume of 815 pages) is now ready, and will be supplied to agents, booksellers and the public without any advance of price upon the old editions.

Hundreds of testimonials from distinguished clergymen, scholars, presidents of colleges and others, have been received, testifying to the fidelity and value of this History. A single one of these, from the pen of that eminent Protestant scholar, the Rev. Geo. B. Cheever, D.D., is given as a specimen of the whole:

"This excellent and beautiful work," says Dr. Cheever, "possesses many and very strong claims for popular favor, and we can not doubt that it is destined to have an extraordinary sale. It is one of the most elegantly embellished and executed works we have ever seen issued from the American press; containing a large number of highly finished engravings, illustrative of the ceremonies, superstitions, persecutions, and incidents of Romanism, which alone form a most eloquent text, and are of real utility as well as beauty to the work itself. The work itself is characterized by great research and comprehensive and scriptural views of the nature and history of the Popish system. It presents a concise but sufficiently full history of the rise, progress, crimes, condition, and present condition of the Papacy, authenticated by reference to the most undoubted historical records; which is in a spirited, engaging and intelligible style, and arranged in the most lucid manner. It abounds in facts and incidents, and, with its beautiful illustrations, is better adapted to furnish a vivid and impressive portraiture of Romanism as it is, than any other book we know of. It supplies a great lack in our theological literature, and now that a conflict with Rome is forced upon us, it is to be to us the business of an all-energy and zeal, a work so richly stored with facts and arguments will be most timely and useful. We should be glad to see it in every family, and warning every citizen to read it."

☞Agents for the above work, to whom valuable inducements will be offered, wanted in every State of the Union. Apply to
