GRAND JURY PRESENTMENT. To the Honorable the Judges of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Elk, January Sessions,

The Grand Inquest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, inquiring for the County of Elk, in all matters relating to the same, do respectfully report:

That they have acted upon six bills of indictment of which four were found true bills.

ELECTION CONTEST. In the matter of the contested election for Representative in Congress, of the Twentieth district of Pennsylvania, upon the petitions of Seth H. Yocum, the Court made the following order: "January 28th, 1879. On hearing the foregoing petition, it is ordered and directed that the persons in whose possession or custody the ballot boxes were placed, containing the tickets, list of voters and other papers of the least representative in Congress, of time is not the consideration health and comfort are served by stopping over. Few can enjoy a good night's rest in the sleepers, and fewer still escape them without bad colds or something worse, for the luxury of which one don't like to pay a round price. The bill proves that it shall be unlawful to charge more than one dollar for the use of the Palace Car by one person for twenty-four hours, under a penalty of $500 to $5,000.

Washington Letter

[From our regular correspondent.] Washington, B. C., February 3, 1879. One of the things that agitates Conington, is the famous McGarrahan elaim. The Judiciary Committee and Public Land Committee of both House and Senate have each in turn wrestled with it and both Houses now have it before them, with a faint prospect of getting it out of the way forever. William McGarrahan is the owner of a piece of land in California, which he purchased of a grantee of the Mexican government. His title to this land, in all that constitutes evidence of ownership, is perfect, and so, in numberless instances, has been pronounced. Between him and his patent there stands a single technical obstacle: A clerical omission by a copyist in the Land Office-whether accidental or fraudulentis unknown-a merely formal, not a substantial defect. Operating against McGarrahan, is a rich corporation known as the New Idria Quicksilver Mining Company, which has fought and baffled the poor Irishman with the money it had made out of a quicksilver mine on the premises. This company is not known to the Land Office records, and nobody knows how it acquired the shadow of a title to the property in question. If it does not belong to McGarrahan it belongs to the United States; yet the manner in which the company has mantained its fight is but another illustration of the unjust power of wealthy corporations. With the large profits which rightfully belongs to the man it is con-spiring to rob, it bribes officials, persuades members of Congress, suborns perjuries, rewards forgeries, and sub sidizes newspapers to create public sentiment, and slander and ridicule him whom it has determined to de-It is the quicksilver of the New Idria company, secretly adminis tered to persons of power and influence, that puts in jeopardy the rights of the proprietor, and prompts the efforts in innumerable ways to defame his charin an ocean of expenses, and divest him of his estate. A report has just been made in the Senate which may possibly effect a settlement of the case. It assumes that the title to the property is in the Government, and offers a bill referring the whole controversy to the courts, by authorizing the claimant to bring suit against the United States in the Court of Claims, with power to appeal to the Supreme Court This is similar to the procedure in the case of the Hot Springs property. If the final decision is in favor of the United States, the court is to order the property into the hands of a receiver give the company plenty of time to add to their ill-gotten gains, and by the use of them an unfair advantage in the litigation. And now we have a Congressman from Michigan, which his name it is Ellisworth, who thinks he can stop the flow of liquor in Washington. He might as well undertake to stop the ventilation is seriously detrimental to in the Capital. The answer was in the health of the court, the jurors and the affirmative, accompanied with the thin formation that it was only sold to the seriously sold to ventilation. The one set apart for the Grand Inquest is too small, neither of bly the truth and just what Ellisworth Jones associates.

ARGUMENT LIST.

Richard Dailey vs. Lewis Fegley & co.—Rule to perfect appeal and rule to fully present that it is unreasonable to dail has stated once or twice that he interest is going to do about it I dön't see. There is already a very stringent rule banishing all drinks of a boozy nature from the building, and Speaker Randuly present that it is unreasonable to dail has stated once or twice that he intended to see it enforced. But what's the use? If it is kept out of the restaurant it goes into the committee fooms, for Congressmen will have their tipple. For a time there was none on sale on the House side, but the Senate caterer kept it, and it was interesting to see the pairs of Congressmen lock arms and walk over to the Senate side about every fifteen minutes. Now all they have to do is to go down stairs and ask for cold tea. If a stranger goes in and orders a cup of tea the waiter looks at him sharply to see whether he tips the masonic wink; so I think it is a mistake about the sale of drinks being confined strictly to Congressmen. If the honerable member wants beer or ale he asks for a pitcher of milk and the beverage is brought in a little silver pitcher hold ing just a bottle of beer.

A bill has baen introduced in the House to regulate the charges of the Pullman Palace and Car Companies Pullman Palace and Car Companies and other sleeping cars patented by the United States. It certainly ought to pass. If there is any one monopoly more than another in this country that needs regulating it is the Pullman Palace and Sleeping Car Company. A good room with all conveniences attached, and an excellent breakfast in the morning, can be obtained at the the morning, can be obtained at the very best hotels in the United States what is exacted by this monopoly for a narrow contracted bunk in a nasty ill-ventilated car. At most hotels these accommodations cost but half the sleeping car theree, and when time is not the consideration health

The new Pension bill which has now become a law, does not extend the benefits to any one not heretofore entitled to them, but it removes the five years limitation, and enables those who have neglected their claims to come in and get what others no more deserving have already secured. It also dates back to the day of death or discharge all existing pensions. It money goes mainly to the poor people who need it and will circulate it, some benefit to business may be realized Claim Agents will not be recognized by the Pension Bureau in the disbursement of dues under this law.
