The floor of the Lutheran church in Huntingdon was covered with matting. The query in the congregation is, who did it?

It has been announced, by men who believe that they know, that Mifflintown within ten years will reach a population of twenty thousand people.

Congressman Spear was in town last Friday. He is a pleasant, clean, gentlemanly-looking man, but his record has the jingle of dollars and cents.

A child of Mr. Ernest, in Patterson, was severely scalded about the neck and shoulders, last Sunday, by pulling a wash bowl of hot water off a table.

Business along the new railroad is a flourishing condition. If conducted as at present, it will not require many months to complete it, and have it ready for the running of cars.

J. T. Allman and David Funk, after undergoing a course of preparatory studies at Airy View Academy, left last Monday to complete their studies at Amherst College, Massachusetts.

On Thursday evening, about dusk, the Railroad Company's warehouse, at the upper end of the railroad yard at Patterson, was set on fire and burned to the ground by some agency not known to the public.

Levi Dundore, of Johnstown, on Saturday last, hauled a load of bark containing 6 cords and 43 feet, with his team of six mules, from the mountain two miles above Johnstown to Patterson. Who can beat that?

Piety, depravity, diseases, everything, some say, move in waves or cycles, and that by and by we are to have the old Egyptian plagues of frogs, lice, &c., and that the western grasshoppers or locusts are but the forerunners.

Harley & Co. have all kinds of the latest styled Clothing for sale. "In time of peace prepare for war." Now, when it is warm, go and get your fall and winter clothing, for no man can tell what a day may bring forth in the way of cold.

They have a wilderness of grapes at Oberholtzer's, which when entered one is prompted to sing—

"I want to stay in the wilderness,

A few days, a few days."

Winfield S. Wilson, Esq., was admitted to practice in the several courts of this county, on Monday last. Mr. Wilson purposes locating in Pittsburgh, where he may be found and consulted at his office, 117 Diamond street, with Marshall & Patterson.

The Lewistown Gazette must be held responsible if anything serious follows the charge on Lewistown sportsmen, that a number of that fraternity stayed all night in the woods, to get the start of other sports at shooting squirrels, on the morning of the first lawful day for shooting that kind of game.

It is believed by a number of persons that if the proper effort is put forth, the State Fair may be secured for exhibition on "Riverside Park Association" grounds next year. By that time the railroad to the Susquehanna, doubtless, will be in running order, and this will have become one of the most central and accessible localities in the state.

The Board of Trade of Charleston, South Carolina has declared in strong resolutions that what Senator Patterson said of the condition of South Carolina as to Ku-klux operations is not true. The Colonel has replied in his usual style, and declares the Board of Trade to be composed chiefly of Ku-klux. The South Carolinians have given the Senator a new name. He is now called Fox Horn Patterson.

PARLOR ORGANS.— Messrs. Beatty & Plotts, who advertise in another column in this paper, will send to any one wishing to purchase, a price list and a list of testimonials, some of whom you may know, using these organs, &c., whereby our readers may select a first-class instrument. If any of our readers desire to purchase they will send one for examination by sending them good reference, and if the organ is not as represented it may be returned at their expense, they paying freight both ways. This surely is a good offer. See advertisement in another column.

A FRIEND IN NEED.— Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is a friend in deed. Who has not found it such in curing all diseases of the lungs and throat, coughs, colds and pulmonary affections, and "last, not least," consumption? The sick are assured that the high standard of excellence on which the popularity of this preparation is is based, will always be maintained by the proprietors.

Twenty Thousand Dollars Reward Offered for the Recovery of Charles Brewster Ross—Was he in our Midst?—Letter from James North, Esq., to Inquiries of Detective Force.

Twenty thousand dollars reward has been offered for the recovery of Charlie Brewster Ross, and for the arrest and conviction of his abductors. He was stolen from his parents in Germantown, Pa., on July 1st, 1874, by two unknown men.

Description of the Child.

He is about four years old; his body and limbs are straight and well formed; he has a round, full face; small chin, with noticeable dimple; very regular and pretty dimpled hands; small, well-formed neck; full, broad forehead; bright dark-brown eyes, with considerable fullness over them; clear white skin; healthy complexion; light flaxen hair, of silky texture, easily curled in ringlets when it extends to the neck; hair darker at the roots,—slight cowlick on left side where parted; very light eyebrows. He talks plainly, but is retiring, and has a habit of putting his arm up to his eyes when approached by strangers. His skin may now be stained, and hair dyed,—or he may be dressed as a girl, with hair parted in the centre.

Description of the Kidnappers.

No. 1 is about thirty-five years old; five feet nine inches high; medium build, weighing about one hundred and fifty pounds; rather full, round face, florid across the nose and cheek bones, giving him the appearance of a hard drinker; he had sandy moustache, but was otherwise clean shaved; wore eye-glasses, and had an open-faced gold watch and gold vest-chain; also, green sleeve buttons.

No. 2 is older, probably about forty years of age, and a little shorter and stouter than his companion; he wore chin whiskers about three inches long, of a reddish sandy color; and had a pug nose, or a nose in some way deformed. He wore gold-bowed spectacles, and had two gold rings on one of his middle fingers, one plain and one set with red stone.

Both men wore brown straw hats, one high- and one low-crowned; one wore a linen duster; and, it is thought, one had a duster of gray alpaca, or mohair.

Any person who shall discover or know of any child, which there is reason to believe may be the one abducted, will at once communicate with their Chief of Police or Sheriff, who has been furnished with means for the identification of the stolen child.

The following letter from James North, Esq., of this place, to inquiries of detective force, in regard to a woman and child who rested for a time here, is quite full on the subject, and needs no explanatory remarks:

MIFFLIN STATION, P. R. R., August 19, 1874.

——————, Esq., Dear Sir, The woman you inquire about came to this Station on Tuesday morning, August 11th. She said she had come from Logansport, Indiana; that the little boy was very tired traveling, and that she, also, wanted to rest. She remained about the hotel during the day, and in the evening went to a small house in a very remote part of the town, occupied by Mr. Klinepeter, and asked Mrs. Klinepeter to keep her and the child all night, alleging that she did not want to stay at a public house. Next morning she left the house for the purpose of going east in the Harrisburg Accommodation, which leaves this place at 11:28 A. M. But she did not take this train. She went to the telegraph office, and returning told me she had telegraphed to her brother—Charles Eckhart, at Phœnixville, Pa.,—and gave her name as Mrs. Ragina Weaver. She remained all day long about town, and about 10 o'clock at night came to the depot for the purpose of taking the midnight train for Philadelphia. About half an hour before the train was due, however, she left the depot, went down street with the child, passed in by a small gate to the back part of the house and wanted to get in and to be kept till morning. This was about, or near 1 o'clock in the night, and very dark—I think raining. This house was near my house, and directly opposite to the window of my room where I slept. The inmates of the house and the woman talking arrested my attention, and I got up and went over. On the back porch sat a woman with a little boy; the child crying and saying, "I want to go home." The child I thought to be four or five years old, light hair, and pleasant nice child. At first I thought the woman deranged. She evidently was laboring under great mental and nervous excitement. I insisted upon her going to the hotel, at the same time assuring her that I would have her carefully provided for; but this she refused to do, notwithstanding the fact that she had left her baggage there. The family at whose house she was refused to take her in. I then took hold of the little boy's hand, and in company with Mr. Edmund Nangle, went with them to Mr. Klinepeter's, where she remained until next day at 10 o'clock, at which time she took the Pacific express for Philadelphia.

While here she told different stories; she told me her husband was in Europe, and that she had two children; the other was with its grandmother. To other persons she told that she had four children, and all died last fall except this little boy, whom she called Frankie. The lady was above the average height, about 30 or 35 years of age, and tolerably well dressed, and said she had money and tickets to take her to Philadelphia, but that she wanted to go to Phœnixville, where her sister is living. She evidently avoided the public and was in great trouble of mind. When I talked to the child, she would always tell it what to say, and when I asked its name, she immediately said, "Tell him Frankie."

I never saw a likeness of Charley Ross, but at the time had my suspicions, and am sorry now that I did not arrest and detain the woman and child; but the child seemed to cling so closely to her, and to call her mother so naturally, that I scarcely felt justified in doing so.

Very respectfully,
JAMES NORTH.

ACCORDING to an exchange this is what took place in a church in Schuylkill county, recently. It runs thus:

The singing in said church had run down. It had been led by one of the deacons, whose voice and musical powers had been gradually failing. One evening the clergyman gave out the hymn, which was in an odd measure, and rather harder than usual, and the deacon led off. Upon its conclusion, the minister rose and said:

"Brother B —— will please repeat the hymn, as I cannot pray after such singing."

The deacon very composedly pitched into another tune, after which the clergyman proceeded with his prayer.—Having finished, he took up the book to give out the second hymn, when he was interrupted by the deacon gravely getting up and saying, in a voice audible to the whole congregation:

"Will Mr. —— make another prayer? It would be impossible for me to sing after such a prayer as that!"

A GREAT RUSH

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa or Seminal weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on the receipt of six cents or two post stamps. Address the Publishers,
