IF you have a farm to sell, a house to sell, at PRIVATE SALE, the quickest way to obtain a purchaser is to advertise the property. To all who have real estate to sell at private sale, the columns of the Sentinel and Republican are open to advertisement, on these terms: 1st. That if a party is obtained by the advertisement to purchase a property advertised, the party selling shall pay us whatever sum may have been agreed on previous to the insertion of the advertisement. 2nd. That if no purchaser is obtained the advertisement shall be at our expense entirely, and shall cost the owner of the property nothing.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Stambaugh Brothers have moved their store into the Odd Fellows' Hall store room, where they will be glad to see their old customers and the public generally.

Easter, three weeks from last Sunday.

The water has been let into the canal.

Williamsport has two female practicing physicians.

Huntingdon has too many houses for her population, and Altoona not enough.

Fourteen new members were added to the Lutheran church on Sunday last.

Mr. David Diven was installed as elder in the Lutheran church in this place last Sunday.

Mr. John T. Metlin was installed as deacon in the Lutheran church in this place last Sunday.

The clothes cut by Loudon equal the clothes cut by the fashionable tailors of cities.

Shall the old Court House be repaired or a new one built? is the question now in Mifflin county.

Three hundred different pieces of wall paper, to select from, at Muthersbaugh's Hardware Store.

More snow fell last Friday night in these parts of the State than in all the days and nights before it this winter.

In January people talked about sowing oats about the middle of March; but the weather, oh, yes, the weather.

They have a new party in New York called the "Bran party." Ask no questions; don't know anything about them.

There is a Russian proverb which runs: "In another world usurers have to count red hot coins with bare hands."

John Sheibly, Esq., of Bloomfield, Perry county, represents this Senatorial district in the Republican State Convention to-day.

Put this in your pipe and smoke it: "Governor Cheney got more votes than any other man who was ever elected Governor of New Hampshire."

No risk! Buyers run no risk in getting garments at 6th and Market streets, Philadelphia. Wanamaker & Brown cheerfully assume all the risk.

Jeremiah Lyons, Esq., is the Representative delegate from this county to the Republican State Convention that assembles at Harrisburg to-day.

Amos G. Bonsall, Esq., was appointed member of the State Central Committee by by the Democratic State Convention that assembled at Lancaster last week.

The smoked glass prepared to look through at the eclipse, on Saturday, was not needed in this part of the country.—Thick clouds eclipsed the eclipse.

There are now seven legal holidays, viz: New Year's day, Washington's Birthday, Good Friday, Decoration Day and Christmas. The next holiday is Good Friday.

On Monday John Stong, of Tuscarora Valley, started for the Western country to make it his future home. He was accompanied by his wife and twelve children.

The Central Pennsylvania M. E. Conference convened at Harrisburg last week, as per announcement. Quite a number of citizens from this county were in attendance.

Dr. D. M. Crawford has been sick a number of days, too ill to attend to his patients. His friends are glad now to learn that he expects soon to attend to his practice in his usual health.

Segelbaum has opened out in a full line of Clothing for men and boys, hats, caps, and almost everything else in the line of men's furnishing goods, in the Palace Building. Call and see him.

Dr. A. J. Fisher is one of the delegates from this Congressional District to the Democratic National Convention, as per appointment by the Democratic State Convention that met at Lancaster last week.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered in the Lutheran church in this town last Sunday. Rev. Mr. Blackweider was assisted by Rev. Mr. Rice, of Newport, Perry county, in the administration of the same.

Last Thursday, while Jacob Hertzler, of Walnut, was sledding a load of wheat to this place to market, a bag of wheat fell off the sled somewhere between Johnstown and Patterson, and was not missed until Mr. Hertzler proceeded to unload.

The Lewistown Gazette says: A chair-carriage has been procured for Gen. Buns, by means of which he hopes to enjoy locomotion as soon as the weather permits.

Charlotte, N. C., has had an elopement, in which the bridegroom was sixty and the bride thirty. The father of the bride tried to be present at the ceremony with a pitchfork, but took the wrong road.—Detroit News.

An industrious Sinking Valley young lady, Miss Mollie Bailey, has completed a handsome quilt, containing 380 patches, each patch made of 41 pieces—a total of 15,580 pieces. The work was all done with her own hands.—Altoona Tribune.

The annual election for officers of the Selinsgrove and North Branch Railroad has been postponed until the 6th of April, when a President and nine Directors will be elected. Place of meeting—Amig's hotel, Selinsgrove.—Freeburg Courier.

A few years ago you could sit up and talk philosophy with a girl all night, but now if you stay after one or two o'clock in the morning the old people begin to pound on the floor up-stairs for you to go. We don't mind it ourselves, but we can't help feeling for the girls.—Norwich Bulletin.

H. L. Hall, formerly a teacher in McAlisterville Academy, expects soon to canvass this county for subscribers to an atlas of the county, which is to be so thorough as to comprehend the name and property of every property holder within its limits. The prospectus, as shown in the atlas of another county, is quite inviting, and when Mr. Hall comes before the people of Juniata county with his work, it will speak for itself.

H. B. Ailman, a native of this county, who within the past six years became a citizen of New Mexico, started for his adopted home last Wednesday, after a visit of a number of weeks among his friends here in Juniata. His life among mining people has changed his appearance and manner, both having become free, frank and thoroughly Western. His home is at Georgetown, Grant county, a place seven hundred miles from railway communiation.

Senator Wallace came from Washington last Wednesday to Lancaster, wrapped in his Senatorial robes, and took possession of the Democratic State Convention and drove the Randall men in consternation into retirement. But it was only the old play of "tit for tat, if you kill my dog I'll kill your cat;" as it was only last year, as every one knows, Wallace was the party shelved. Pepo, that's the way they go.

"The latest amusement is termed the 'Printer's Delight,' and is performed in the following manner: Take a sheet of note paper, fold it up carefully, and enclose a bank note sufficiently large to pay up all arrears and a year in advance. And what add immensely to the feat is to send along the name of a new subscriber, with cash to balance. Keep your eye on the printer, and if you detect a smile the trick is a success. Try it."

Dr. Lucien Banks was the Chairman of the Committee on permanent organization in the Democratic State Convention that met at Lancaster last week. It was a compliment to the Doctor to make him chairman, but it was not a higher compliment than the Committee paid itself when it placed him at its head. The Doctor is full of vigorous fight, and proposes to move on to the Republican ranks in solid "Grecian phalanx," with ten spears to the front. That will do to tell as a figure, and may be met by the sorrowful reflection that the ten spears to the front were long since overcome by the Roman Legions, armed only with the helmet, shield and double-edged sword. Charge, Victor, charge.

AN unmarried man, an exchange editor, tells his mistake in poetry, thus:

She backed against the wall, while o'er
Her face the hot blood rushes;
"'Tis knowledge of my love," thought I,
"That starts those tell-tale blushes."
Then in her ear I warmly sighed:
"In vain you have not trusted."
"Get out, you tool!" she quick replied;
"I'm 'fraid my pull-back's busted!"

MRS. HOUGH, a lady who died a few days ago, at Alexandria, Huntingdon county, aged 97 years, was one of the few women of the country who have cast a vote for a President. She grew up to womanhood in the State of New Jersey, where she was born, and when of age she cast a vote for Thomas Jefferson for President, as a property qualification in that State then entitled a woman to vote.—Huntingdon Globe.

DANIEL WEBSTER said: Small is the sum that is required to patronize a newspaper, and well rewarded is the patron, I care not how humble and unpretending the gazette which he takes. It is next to impossible to fill a sheet with printed matter without putting something into it that is worth the subscription price. Every parent, whose son is away from home at school, should supply him with a newspaper. I well remember what a marked difference there was between those of my schoolmates who had and those who had not access to newspapers. Other things being equal, the first were always decidedly superior to the last in debate, composition and intelligence.

WEDNELDAY a son of Sheriff Strine discovered a lot of check-line, with an iron hook fastened to the end of it, secreted under a board behind the jail yard wall, on the outside. They had evidently been put there that day, and no doubt the intention of the persons putting them there was to throw the hook over the wall and get into the yard, and from there into the jail, and release the prisoners, or to throw the whole thing over (not the jail, but the check-lines and the hook) and let the prisoners use it themselves. As several men are guarding the jail at night it would be useless to try to release any of the inmates at present.

LATER.—Yesterday the Sheriff's son found a large ladder hid in the lot behind the jail yard which was evidently put there on Wednesday night by some outsiders who intended to watch their chance and attempt the rescue of one or more prisoners. As the prisoners have not access to the jail yard at night the effort at helping any to escape would necessarily have to be made in daylight, hence the placing of the ladder where it was found after nightfall.—Sunbury Democrat.

I understand, Dick, why you look so pleased. 'Tis because you understand the situation. You understand as well as the man who framed the resolutions of the Democratic State Convention that met at Lancaster last week, that it is only the cry of "Stop thief," to get the attention from our party. Give attention, Dick. The man who drew the resolutions run a Coffee Pot in the woods of Clearfield, and did naturalization papers up brown. The resolutions may talk virtue, but the pot, ah! the pot, will not go back of itself. Valorious pot. Viva-la pot and the resolution, Dick.

THE Burlington (Iowa) Hawkeye has a poet on its editorial staff, and this is what it says of Clymer:

Lord Clymer he was a noble lord,
A noble lord of high degree;
And when he was home he paid for his board,
On his manor in Berks countee-tee-tee,
On estates in Berks countee.

One morning he rose with a terrible frown
And a brow so wrathful to see,
And said he was going to Washingtown,
To uncover some Belknaparee-ee-ee,
To unearth some sculdduggerree.

He traveled all night, and he traveled full fast,
But never a-wearied was he,
But when at the city he stayed him at last,
He called him his committee-tee-tee,
The War Department Committee.

He collared Sir Belknap, the warrior so bold,
"You're the man I wanted to see;"
But he let go his "holts," straightway he was told
That his witness had jumped the citee-tee-tee,
And was in British territoree.

He asked for more time and he asked for more help;
For help sorely perplexed was he;
While a member, hight Robbins, with pitiful yelp,
Cried, "I'm smashed by your old committee-tee-tee;
I'm exposed on my own committee.

And wailing was heard in the committee-room,
When a noble from Kentuck-i-ee
Was swept high and dry by this very new broom,
This investigating committee-tee-tee,
That showed up Mr. Pendleton's fee.

But the snarl it grew more complicated by far,
And when next the august committee
Looked up to observe who they had at the bar,
Mr. Clymer he groaned, "It is me-me-me,"
Ungrammatically groaned "It is me"

A SHAMOKIN lady hurried off to Sunday School last Sunday, and in her haste forgot her Sunday School cards. Her son, a boy of limited summers, was sent back home, and in a few minutes returned with his father's euchre deck which he triumphantly pitched into his mother's lap. There was a little merriment in the school for the time being, but it was deemed advisable not to offer much of an explanation under the circumstances.—Times.

SELECT SCHOOL.—A Select School will be opened on the 17th of April next, in a room in the School House, in Mifflintown. Tuition per term of ten weeks, $2.75 to $5.00. Particular attention will be given to Primary Pupils, as well as more advanced students, to fit them for the duties of life, and blessed immortality; as the Good Shepherd has said, "Feed my lambs, and Behold I come quickly and my reward is with me to give every one according as his work shall be."

MISCELLANEOUS ADVERTISEMENTS.

A MATTER OF POPULAR INTEREST.

We condense from the Lehigh Register the substance of a conversation about Oak Hall, in Philadelphia, "Wanamaker & Brown's" Largest Clothing House in America." A visitor and attendant are the speakers:

Visitor. "What corner is the Building on?"

Attendant. "South-East corner of Sixth and Market. Please note the SIXTH, for some strangers seeking Oak Hall, have been misled by designing persons."

V. "It is perfectly colossal! Do you know its dimensions?"

A. "12,000 square feet—66 on Market, and 180 odd on Sixth, six stories high, has over three acres of floor, and extra space is occupied by more than twenty different business places."

V. "Do you use steam-power?"

A. "A giant young engine furnishes power for the freight and passenger elevators, and the boilers steam for heating, and the other operations of the house."

V. "What order do you take with goods?"

A. "They are first opened and arranged in the basement, on long new counters, and taken thence on the freight elevator to the inspector's room on the fourth floor."

V. "Is inspecting the first operation?"

A. "No, sir, measuring. The goods are first measured in the piece, then inspected. The cloth passes over rollers in the face of a strong light, and two men sit, one before and one behind the goods, watching with the eye of a hawk for the least pin-hole imperfection, and marking every flaw, so that the cutter may see and avoid it when he comes to cut the garments."

V. "You must employ an army of cutters!"

A. "Come, go our fifth floor and see! We employ hands all the time cutting up the cloth into garments,—besides many machines that do a dozen men's work each at a stroke."

V. "Do you manufacture all your own goods?"

A. "We do, and most carefully. Our examiners inspect every stitch and seam, and certify to every garment as extra-well made before we put our ticket on it, and become responsible for it."

V. "Your system must save you a great deal?"

A. "In every direction, sir. It is the system and economy we practice all the way through, that enables us to put our prices down to the people as we do."

V. "After inspecting the work, what becomes of it?"

A. "Before it goes into Stock it is ticketed. Every single garment has its number and other points noted on it, so that its entire history can be traced without fail, upon our books."

V. "You must have 30 or 40 salesmen?"

A. "Way sir, on busy days you may see 100 in the various rooms and suites of rooms, selling to the throngs of customers."

V. "Do you do an order business, by mail and express?"

A. "Very great. All over the country. Our perfect system and rules of self-measurement make it possible to please people 2,000 miles away just as perfectly as if they were here in person."

V. "I suppose you have at least half a dozen different departments?"

A. "My dear sir! we have more than twenty, each charged with its own business, and each thoroughly organized, a necessary wheel within the great wheel."

V. "Will you name a dozen or so of the departments?"

A. "With pleasure. The Custom Department, for those who prefer custom-made to ready-made. The Furnishing Department, with its immense stock of all undergoods. The Shirt Factory, with its busy machines, making our own first-class shirts. The Trimming Department, itself able to supply many a rival store. The Garment Stock Room. The Receiving Room. The Order Department, named before. The Special Uniforms Department. The Delivery Department, with its score of messengers. The—"

V. "Hold, hold! Enough!"

A. "I'm not half through! The Advertising Department, with its bill and sign distributers, editors, and publishers of business and popular journal, circulating over 100,000 copies monthly, full of your trade interests. The Men's Department, with its many rooms. The Boys' Department. The Youths' Department. The Children's Department, with its special entrance for ladies. The Telegraph Department. The Chief Clerk's Department, with its book-keepers and assistants. General Manager's Department; Financier's Office, and other offices of the firm, all busy as bees planning, planning, examining, buying, selling, receiving, receipting, sending out, collecting and in a thousand ways joining their forces to carry on a business with the people amounting to between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 annually."

V. "Stop-stop-stop!"

A. "Indeed it is! I forgot to name the Cashier's Department, which handles its $2,000,000 of retail sales on some single days."

V. "$2,000! Impossible! There is what enables the house to buy cheap and sell cheap!"

A. "Exactly! You have just hit it. The people throng here, knowing that we depend on low prices and immense sales."

V. "What are the 'FOUR RULES' I hear so much about?"

A. "Our system of business dealing—1. One price, no deviation; 2. Cash for everything; 3. A guarantee protecting the purchaser; 4. The money returned if the buyer can't otherwise be suited."

V. "Nothing could be fairer."

A. "Nothing. And the people see it."

V. "Well, I thank you, sir, for your polite attention."

A. "No at all. It's a pleasure to serve you. Call again; and be sure of the place—Wanamaker & Brown's Oak Hall, South-East corner Sixth and Market."

V. "Thank you! I shall be happy to do so. Good morning."

Manhood: How Lost: How Restored

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa or Seminal weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.
☞Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

☞This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on the receipt of six cents or two post stamps. Address the Publishers,
