The dispatch from Louisiana as published in another column, relative to the prosecution against the Returning Board, does not look much like reconciliation. The South should know that it is not to her interest to look back, and to prosecute for what is past. Her opportunity is now, for reconciliation, and restoration. If she misses it, the opportunity will have passed forever, and the whirlwind which she sowed eighteen years ago, will be hers to reap.

"MRS. A. L. PHELPS, sister of Miss Emma Willard, in a letter to Mrs. Hooker says there is more reason for women to petition the Almighty to change the condition of the sexes, and let men take their turn in bearing children and suffering the physical ailments peculiar to women, than in petitioning Congress to make voters of them."

Through mails for cities, but give the country people in the Juniata Valley a mail on way trains.

SHOULD the silver bill pass, to what degree will it inflate the business of the country? Through mails for cities, but give country people in the Juniata Valley mail on way trains.

AMONG the dispatches, as published in another column, is the intelligence of an Ohio girl, who took the life of her seducer. It may not be in accord with the corrupt code of morals of the present civilization, to favor the splitting of the head of every rascal who seduces a girl and then abandons her to shame, but it is highly proper to say that if more heads were split, fewer girls would be led into ruin.

AN AGREEABLE SURPRISE.—On Friday evening, January 18, Rev. J. Landis and wife, of East Salem, were very agreeably surprised by a party of kind friends with a donation, made up by people of McAlisterville, Brown's Mills, Cold Spring and East Salem and vicinity. The donation consisted of many valuable articles and a purse, amounting in all to about $26. The gifts were presented by Mr. B. F. Oliver, of East Salem, who delivered an appropriate speech, after which we tendered our heartfelt thanks, and all repaired to the house of God for worship. J. L.

A CORRESPONDENT says there are "no pretty squaws among the Sioux Indians." Perhaps not; and yet there comes a time when the young brave loses his appetite for bear meat and the juicy buffalo steak, and invests the dollars of his father in shoe-blacking and hair-oil, and devotes more time to tying his cravat, and writes odes to her eyes, and makes her a present of his photograph in a gold frame, and gives her peanuts and chocolate caramels, and keramics, and pale-face scalps and other confections, and finally marries her, and hammers her black and blue if she doesn't get up two hours before the sun and split wood and build the fires, and earn money to buy him plug-tobacco and fire-water.—Norristown Herald.

Letter from Van Wert.

VAN WERT, Jan. 26, 1878.

Mr. Editor: Dear Sir, As you have repeatedly announced in your paper that you would be pleased to receive any communications or items that may be of interest from different localities throughout the county, we are led to wonder why it is that there are not more communications in our county papers than there are. There are certainly many whose tastes or inclinations run in that direction. In our opinion the local department and letters from correspondents form an important part of a paper.

This village (Van Wert) is just 5½ miles from theAson bridge at Mifflin, directly east. Just right along this straight road for a ten miles lies a large portion of the grain-producing land of Juniata county, almost every rod of which is limestone flint. We are surrounded principally by good, honest, industrious farmers. Each farm has one or two tenant houses thereon, thus giving shelter and employment to many of the poorer classes.

There are located along this creek for a distance of half a mile, fourteen dwelling houses. Our places of business are, one Tannery, owned by the Moore Brothers, who do a lively business, and keep constantly on hand a full supply of all kinds of finished leather, which is tanned on the good old system of keeping the leather in the liquors from one year to eighteen months. This tannery was established about the year 1795, by Major John Moore, and has been kept up in the same name since then. We have one store, owned by Mr. W. H. Kurtz, who does a good business, notwithstanding the hard times. He keeps on hand a general assortment of all kinds of dry goods. He also keeps the Post Office. We have a tri-weekly mail—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Our mail carrier is Mr. P. Smith. We have one wagon-maker, Mr. Young, who seems to understand his business, and does his work well, one blacksmith, Mr. Richie; also Mr. O'Neal, near us, whose fame is spread far and wide as a master mechanic. We have also one saw mill, owned by Mr. L. W. Wilson, who bought the large Curran farm one year ago. We welcome him in our community. His enterprise and industry goes to show that he means business. He burned two stacks of lime last fall, the last one containing five thousand bushels. We have a large brick school house here, in which about eighty children are at present being taught by Mr. Fenton Hinkel, assisted by Miss Ida McMeen. We have an interesting Literary Society here at Free Spring school house, of which we may have something to say at some future time. WALKER.

The Louisiana Returning Board.

They Take Refuge in the New Orleans Custom House—They are Arrested There and Taken to Jail.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27.—At three o'clock yesterday Sheriff Houston learning that a Deputy Marshal had been put in charge of the Collector's office, which was locked and bolted, proceeded to the main door of the office and there informed the Marshal and Deputy Collector Tomlinson that he had a writ to execute against J. Madison Wells and others, whom he had good reason to believe were confined in the room, and he desired admittance. This was refused; whereupon the Sheriff, who was accompanied by two deputies, said that he would force an entrance.

Mr. Tomlinson then summoned the Chief Deputy Marshal, who ordered the sheriff and his assistants, as well as the crowd that had gathered, to disband. The sheriff refused to leave, saying that he was determined to execute the writ of the court at any hazard or be arrested in the attempt. Sheriff Houston then slightly advancing, Deputy Marshal Wurzburger laid hands upon him and claimed him and his deputies as prisoners. The Sheriff and party submitted to arrest, and were taken before Judge Billings, sittting in the United States Circuit Court, but the latter said he had nothing to do with the matter, as the parties had not been arrested by virtue of any process from his court. Mr. Wurzburger then took his prisoners before United States Commissioner Lard, and Mr. Tomlinson, the Collector's corresponding secretary, made an affidavit against Sheriff Houston and sent for the commander of the revenue cutter and a detachment of marines, ordering them to be stationed at the door. General Sheldon and Mr. Dolorvin, appearing before Commissioner Lane and denying the jurisdiction of his court, asked for for Sheriff Houston's release.

Mr. Gurley, Assistant District Attorney, asked for a continuance until to-morrow. Commissioner Lane refused to grant the continuance, and released Sheriff Houston on his own recognizance. Later in the day Attorney General H. N. Ogden by dispatch asked United States Attorney General Devins whether the General Government had authorized, or will sustain the conduct on the part of the United States authority. In response Mr. Devins instructed Marshal Wharton not to interfere with writs of the State Courts. And so the Returning Board has been gathered up and put in jail to await trial.
