Wheat is selling at 90 cents.

The glory of applause, what a bauble.

The County Institute will meet on the 9th of December.

The corn crop in this county will scarcely amount to a half crop.

Halloween sprees are getting to be disreputable things to indulge in.

The Lord's Supper will be administered in the Presbyterian Church in this place next Sabbath.

Now that the election is over, it is hoped that "Olivia" will come again, but we must have full name.

The Brethren, or Dunkard denomination have their Normal School building at Huntingdon nearly completed.

All the fall wheat that was sown when the ground was in a mellow and moist condition appears well enough.

President Hayes has issued a Thanksgiving proclamation, appointing the 28th day of November, 1878, as a day of thanksgiving.

The Republican turnout at Mexico and McAlisterville were large. At each of the places between one and two hundred torch-bearing horsemen were in line.

Joseph Alexander, of Lewistown, died at his son's residence, near McAlisterville, this county, on Saturday a week. His remains were taken to Lewistown for interment.

The best worried class of men during an election campaign are the editors of county papers, and no class more heartily rejoice when the end of a campaign has been reached than they.

Patrick Welch, of Camandaigua, N. Y., who was once a Roman Catholic, will lecture in the Methodist church, on Sunday evening, November 17th. Subject—"Reasons why I Renounced Romanism and Embraced Protestantism." Lecture free.

One of the coziest hotels to be found in the valleys of Pennsylvania, is the one kept by John Newcomer in East Waterford, this county. His table abounds in well cooked and well seasoned food, and the beds for his guests are comfortable. A traveler could tarry at his place a number of days and not weary of the place.

Jacob Bolinger, a citizen of Tuscarora township, aged about 65 years, was shot through the fleshy part of both thighs while hunting in the woods, the ball having entered the left leg, passed through it into the right, touching the bone and coming near to the surface of the leg, from which it was removed. Who shot him is not known.

A man has no right to shoot at an object in the woods unless he knows that it is not a human being, and the man who shoots a fellow-man in the woods and attempts to justify it by saying that he delivered the shot at what he supposed to be some kind of game should be arrested at once, and put through a legal process that will serve as a warning to bad men and careless hunters.

A large Republican open air meeting was held in Mexico, last Friday evening. John Motzer was elected President, and 'Squire Lukens, George Herr, David Sieber, John Gallagher, John Adams, Solomon Monbeck and Jerome N. Thompson were elected Vice Presidents; Samuel Rickenbaugh and Hutchinson Wilson were elected Secretaries. The meeting was addressed by Jeremiah Lyons and Louis E. Atkinson.

H. H. Wilson, a mail agent on the cars, was pitched out of a mail car on Fast Line westward bound, on Monday evening, in the yard at Patterson. He had taken the mail and was about to throw out the pouch intended for this place, when a sudden lurch of the car pitched him out of the car door. The train was running at the rate of about 25 miles an hour. He was not seriously injured, but the wonder is that he was not killed.

A grand Republican demonstration took place at McAlisterville on last Saturday evening. H. T. McAlister was elected President, and the following-named gentlemen were elected Vice Presidents: James McCauley, Jacob Smith, D. M. Jamison, Henry Brubaker and Henry Sieber. T. T. Davis and Jesse Grubb were elected Secretaries. The meeting was addressed by Horace Culbertson, of Lewistown, and L. E. Atkinson, John Muthersbaugh and Jeremiah Lyons, of this place.

On Sunday a week, in Mifflin county, two young men, neighbors, without knowing the intention of each other, went out to shoot turkeys. It seems that both turned in the direction of a clearing that turkeys frequented. Approaching by different directions, the one did not see the other. The one lay down by a fence to await the coming of the game. The other came along the fence, and mistook his neighbor for a deer, fired, and put a bullet through the right lung of his friend, from the effects of which he will probably die, if he has not done so before this time. The youth who fired the shot was nearly frantic with grief over his mistake.

Three boys from town, named Banks Muthersbaugh, Darwin Crawford and Philo Pannebaker, went hunting on the ridge north of town, last Saturday. After walking about some time, they seated themselves on a log. While they were sitting there, three wild turkeys made their appearance, coming towards them. The boys got behind the log, and when the turkeys came near enough they all took aim at the lead one, and counted one, two, three, and fired, bringing it down. Muthersbaugh and Crawford bought Pannebaker's share. It weighed eleven pounds.

A large Republican meeting was held at East Waterford last Thursday evening, to which Peru Mills sent a delegation of twenty-five of her people, headed by the Peru drum corps. The meeting was called to order by W. S. Fisher, Republican County Committeeman, and organized by electing Robert Patterson, of Peru Mills, President, and J. W. Evans, George W. Kough, Lemuel Murphy, Jeremiah Mumper, Lemuel Ramsey, of Waterford, Vice Presidents. Dr. R. M. Quig, Charles Ramsey, and James McMullen, of Waterford, were elected Secretaries. The meeting was addressed by Jeremiah Lyons, George W. Wilson, and B. F. Schweier.

Rev. Mr. Talmadge, of New York city, is preaching interesting sermons on what he saw in the bad places of Gotham, which he, in company with a couple of male friends and two policemen, visited between the hours of 11 o'clock at night and the next morning. Of course personal observation by the Reverend gentleman is, perhaps, the best of knowledge, but he might have saved himself all the trouble and fatigue of night exploration in the bad places, and learned just as much by sitting quietly in his study, reading "Lights and Shadows of New York Life," written by James D. McCabe, Jr. Mr. McCabe turns New York city inside out to any one who will read his work. His book is for sale by the National Publishing Company, Philadelphia.

A youth in East Liberty valley, Perry county, went into the mountains to hunt, last Tuesday a week. When he failed to put in an appearance at home in the evening his people became alarmed, and gathered the neighbors and went into the mountains with torches, to look for the young man. The search was kept up till 10 o'clock, when the party sat down to consult as to what should be done further. While thus deliberating a dog came to them; it was the dog owned by the boy they were looking for. The dog passed around among them and then walked away. They followed him, and by and by found the youth, the object of their search, lying on the ground, as it dead. His pulse, however, indicated life. His gun was empty, and from the appearance of his head the lead had passed along his right temple, tearing away the top of the right ear, and cutting the skin off the temple to the bone. He was carried home, and lay in an unconscious state till Wednesday—the day after the shooting—at 12 o'clock, when consciousness was restored. He then told his people that he missed his footing among the rocks, and in the effort to regain it his gun fell from his grasp and was discharged, the load passing along his right temple, as stated above. He heard the report of the gun, and after that knew nothing till he was restored to consciousness. He said the accident took place about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The river bridge at this place will be free to veterans.

The Committee of Arrangements extend a cordial invitation to ladies to favor the Re union with their attendance, particularly at the afternoon and evening sessions, as those meetings have been arranged especially to interest all.

Rev. J. D. Thomas, a Baptist minister, a native of this county, was found dead on the highway, near his home in Huntingdon county, on Tuesday. A few years ago, his father fell dead on the highway, but a short distance from his dwelling place in Lost Creek Valley, this county.

THE ruling of the Court at Rochester, New York, in a case where it was undertaken to make the city editor of the Express give the source of information upon which an article was based, seems to be so just and reasonable that it ought to be an established principle in all States. The editor claimed that such a disclosure would injure him in his business; that the information had been imparted to him under the pledge of secrecy; that he very often was not able to obtain information on various matters except on condition of secrecy, and that therefore all communications to a newspaper man should be regarded as privileged, the same as communications between lawyers and clients. The Court sustained him, and as news papers are responsible, there can be no good reason for doing otherwise.—Ex.

From the Whitehall Times.

She was a Boston girl. She was visiting her Whitehall country cousins. While walking out, several butterflies passed her.

"Oh, dear me, what charming little birds. They are perfectly exquisite."

"They are not birds, my dear," replied her country cousin, "they are butterflies."

"Oh, you don't say so? Then these are the dear little creatures that fly from flower to flower and gather the sweet yellow butter that we use? They are too lovely for anything."

THE frosty nights have come again,
And at this time of year
The single men, who sleep alone,
Prance 'round upon their ear.

They turn the bedding quickly back
And then they tumble in,
Roll up into a little lump—
Their knees up to their chin.

And then unto themselves they say,
Just loud enough to hear:
"By George, this thing has got to cease
Before another year."—Elmira Gazette.

LOVE.

PRITHEE tell me, Dimple Chin,
At what age does love begin?
Your blue eyes have scarcely seen
Summers three, my fairy queen,
But a miracle of sweets,
Soft approaches, sly retreats,
Show the little archer there,
Hidden in your pretty hair;
When didst learn a heart to win?
Prithee tell me, Dimple Chin?

"Oh!" the rosy lips reply,
"I can't tell you if I try!
'Tis so long I can't remember:
Ask some younger Miss than I!"

Tell, O tell me, Grizzled Face,
Do your head and heart keep pace?
When does hoary Love expire,
When do frosts put out the fire?
Can its embers burn below
All that chill December snow?
Care you still soft hands to press,
Bonny heads to smooth and bless?
When does love give up the chase?
Tell, O tell me, Grizzled Face!

"Ah!" the wise old lips reply,
"Youth may pass and strength may die;
But of Love I can't foretoken;
Ask some older sage than I!"
