SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

MIFFLINTOWN.

Wednesday, Sept'r 14, 1881.

B. F. SCHWEIER,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Republican State Ticket.

STATE TREASURER,

SILAS M. BAILEY,

OF FAYETTE COUNTY.

THERE has not been a great change in the condition of President Garfield since his arrival at Long Branch. There was no relapse on Saturday, but on Sunday his pulse beat higher, and a cough distresssed him some and gave rise to the conjecture that, perhaps, an abscess is forming in his lung. On Monday and Tuesday the alarming symptoms subsided and so marked has the improvement been that the Cabinet have deemed it safe for them to take a little trip, and they have gone to the White Mountains for a few days of recreation. Great encouragement is taken from the fact that the two latest relapses of the President have been scarcely noticeable.

THERE are few idle men now in Pennsylvania.

CANCER is eating away the tongue of United States Senator Ben Hill.

IT is not the carrying of a deadly weapon that is dangerous; it is its use.

WASHINGTON county, Pa., celebrated her one hundredth anniversary last Wednesday.

THE wheat crop in Germany, France, Switzerland, Russia and Italy is considerably short of an average crop.

A MAN in Illinois whipped the child of a neighbor so severely that the child died. A mob collected, took the man out and hanged him.

LARGE numbers of mules are now raised in Missouri and Texas. That kind of animal is coming into more general use in the Southern States.

Two thousand Mormons from Liverpool, England, came to the United States the past season. The two and three wife business seems to flourish across the sea, and they seem to be flocking to America in large numbers.

A MAN in New Orleans has discovered a process of making excellent butter from cotton seed oil. If discoveries in butter-making continue to be made, it will not be long till cows will not be needed for butter-making purposes.

ISLANDS in the sea have been getting large quantities of rain this summer. Everybody knows by this time that Great Britain had more rain than was needed for the well-being of the crops, and now the news is that Cuba has been almost deluged by rain.

THE editor of the Utica Herald draws comfort from the clouds of smoke, because the smoke contains creosote enough to act as a cure in cases of toothache, and so forth. The dentist with a pair of forceps will do better than smoke for toothache, and so forth.

THE Mississippi river, it appears, is washing a new course to the Gulf of Mexico, and if skillful engineering is not soon brought into play New Orleans and other river towns will be left off to the side as inland towns. Perhaps engineering skill cannot now save them.

THE Harrisburg Telegraph says: Those who profess such feeling on the subject of Hartmann, the Nihilist, would do well to reverse the matter for a moment, and suppose that Guiteau had escaped to Russia, after his assault on President Garfield. What would the American people have said under the circumstances, if the Russian Government had refused to give up the assassin? Let us think about it for a little while.

A GUARD at the Washington jail, seeing the murderer Guiteau look out of a window, leveled his gun and fired at the assassin. The bullet from the gun grazed the scoundrel's head. The guard was arrested: but what to do with him is a question, for he unmistakably has the sympathy of the public as against the assassin. The guard's name is Mason. The shot greatly frightened the murderer, Guiteau, and he now prays to the Lord for mercy and protection. Guiteau will probably be put in a cell from which he cannot be seen to be shot at.

THIS is what the North American says: It is truly surprising how very few Jewish emigrants come to America, when we consider the merciless persecutions inflicted upon the race in Russia, Germany, Austria, Roumania and other countries. There could not be a more perfect freedom for the Jewish race than that afforded it by this Republic. Yet the number of Jews in America is only a few hundred thousand. In their case emigration does not seem to follow the usual laws regulating popular movements. Even in England the race is less numerous than in Germany or Austria.

THE Philadelphia Inquirer of the 7th inst. says: It is not generally known, but should be, that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which rendered such signal service yesterday, did so purely as a labor of that same love that has been so overwhelmingly evidenced toward the President. No charge is to be made by the company for the car that was constructed, or for the train and engine furnished, or for the losses entailed by the partial suspension of business between Washington and New York in consequence of the President's removal to Long Branch, which was regarded by the company as a public matter of the highest national importance. Vice President Cassatt, who had entire supervision of the journey so far as the railroad was concerned, took as deep a personal interest in the affair as if the life of a member of his own family depended upon it, and this feeling was fully shared by the whole company, from President Roberts down.

Republican State Convention.

The Republican State Convention met at Harrisburg last Thursday for the purpose of nominating a candidate for State Treasurer.

General Harry White was elected President. Among the Vice Presidents were S. M. Shelly, a native of this county but now a citizen of Montgomery county, and H. A. Stambaugh, of Juniata county.

Silas M. Bailey, of Fayette county, and William T. Davies, of Bradford county, were put in nomination for the office of State Treasurer.

The ballot resulted, Bailey, 157; Davies, 84.

["Silas M. Bailey was born in Brownsville, Fayette county, in 1836, and is consequently in his 45th year. He was educated in the common schools of his native county, and then entered the jewelry business, in which he has since continued. At the commencement of the war he recruited a company of three months' men in Greene county, but Pennsylvania's quota having been filled they could not be mustered in. When the call for three years' men was made this company tendered their services and were mustered in as company I of the Eighth Pennsylvania Reserves. Mr. Bailey was commissioned captain. He was soon promoted for gallantry to the majorship of his regiment, and subsequently became its colonel. Shortly before the war closed he was brevited brigadier general for 'gallant and meritorious service in the battle of the Wilderness.' After being mustered out he returned to Uniontown, Fayette county, where he has since resided. He has never held public office. He has been a candidate for Congress, but by reason of the heavy Democratic majority in his district was defeated, though he ran far ahead of his ticket. He was a delegate to the National Convention at Chicago, and was one of the 306."]

The Convention passed the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That the Republican party of Pennsylvania is in the most hearty accord with the administration of President Garfield, and while uniting in the prayers of all good people for his speedy recovery, pledges continued fealty and the most active support in the prompt and courageous correction of all governmental abuses. As Republicans we are in favor of any proper and well-considered reform, either in the government of the Nation, the State, municipality or county; and we court suggestions to any or all of these ends, and only ask that in their advocacy well-established safeguards shall not be hastily supplanted by experiments. The administration of President Garfield has set the right example in this direction, and while firmly adhering to the principles and better practices of the great party which called it into existence, it yet insists upon faithfulness and honesty in every branch of the public service. The bullet of an assassin should interrupt this work. It should be pursued while its author lives, and beyond his life, if through increasing misfortune, it should be taken away.

2. Resolved, The Republican party has ever been progressive and reformatory, and while realizing that nothing in government is wholly right, we desire it to be always brave enough to seek every avenue of approach to the right, to the end that all our people may ever-increasing blessings of good government.

3. Resolved, That to President James A. Garfield, this tender and loving, this struggling and suffering, this pure and brave man, now becomes the beloved of this people and the admired of all peoples, we tender for ourselves and our constituents assurances of deep and heartfelt sympathy; and keenly appreciating the value of such a life to his country we express the prayerful hope that he may soon be restored to the discharge of the important duties for which he is remarkably qualified, and from which by a peculiarly infamous crime and in undeserved assault upon whom for a conscientious exercise of proper Executive power, he has been temporarily withdrawn.

4. Resolved, That in State, as in Nation, the Republican party is committed to the course of economical and honest administration. We demand the use of all necessary means and the enforcement of all laws intended to prevent fraud and waste, and and we require a close and watchful guardianship over all the multifarious interests committed to the care of our organization.

5. Resolved, That in any revision of our tariff legislation which may be made, care shall be taken to discriminate in favor of our industries and thereby to promote the causes which are rapidly making America a controlling power in finances as it already is an established leader in political thought.

6. Resolved, That the administration of Governor Hoyt merits our warmest approval. We regard with satisfaction the results of a purely Republican Administration under his leadership, in which all departments have been faithfully conducted, the credit of the State raised to the highest point, and its finances placed upon a proper basis without increasing the burdens of the people.

H. A. Stambaugh was appointed as member of the State Central Committee for Juniata.

THE Republican State Convention had scarcely completed its nomination of General Bailey for State Treasurer, till Charles S. Wolfe, of Lewisburg, Union county, announced himself as an independent candidate in the following card:

To the Editor of the Times: The black flag has been raised against the Independent Republicans of Pennsylvania. Please announce that on my own responsibility I am an independent Republican candidate for State Treasurer, in full sympathy with the Administration and against the rule of the bosses. I will stump the State and give my reasons for this action.

CHARLES S. WOLFE.

LEWISBURG, Pa., Sept. 9.

Mr. Bailey was nominated by a fair contest over Mr. Davies as competitor, and it cannot be urged against the nominee that he employed sharp or unfair tactics to secure his nomination. As far as can be ascertained at this writing Wolfe's objection to Bailey is because of the men that have been putting him forward. Whether the fact that Senator Cameron and his friends favored Bailey is sufficient cause for the course of Wolfe is a question that will be considered between this time and election day by Republican voters.

Mr. Wolfe became quite famous two winters ago when the effort was made to pass the bill of $4,000,000 to pay the Pittsburg riot damages. If he had then been placed before the people of the Commonwealth for an elective office, a very large vote would have been polled for him, for the very large majority of the people of the State were opposed to the passage of the riot damage act, not because the people dislike Pittsburg, or other places, or any corporation or company that suffered by riotous act, but because they believe that it is fundamentally wrong for a State to pay money damage for the riot acts of bad men. If Wolfe still retains the favor of the people that gave him their moral support when he battled in the Legislature against the $4,000,000 Riot Damage Act, he will be a dangerous element as an independent candidate. If he has forfeited the favor thus won by his advocacy, last winter, of the fifteen hundred dollar salary clause as against the opinion of Attorney General Palmer, that a Legislature is entitled to only one thousand dollars per session, let the session be long or short, then he is done for and can poll few votes.

DROUGHT NOTES.

Information from Michigan last Wednesday, the 7th inst., says: The village of Dickerville, on the Port Huron and Northwestern Railway, is totally consumed. Anderson station is partly burned. Port Hope is nearly all burned. Verona Mills, in Huron county, are all destroyed but the church and a store. Bad Axe is all gone but the court house and the hotel. Sandusky is totally destroyed, as is Richmondville. The fire is raging in the western part of Fortsville, and the people are all moving to the lake shore. In Watertown township two entire families have been burned to death. George Ayres Hart and his wife, grandmother, two children and a grandchild have been burned to death. It is so densely dark and smoky as to render breathing troublesome and cause harm to the eyes. Lamps are kept constantly burning. It is impossible to learn the full extent of the terrible calamity, as there is no mail and the telegraph wires are burned down from Forrester to Point Crescent. Reports from northern and northeastern portions of the State show a terrible condition of affairs. The long-continued drought has burned everything as dry as tinder, and numerous "flashing" or partly clear tracks of land covered with brush, dried timber and other inflammable material afford the best possible medium for the rapid spread of flames carried by the high winds which have prevailed. Sanilac and Huron counties, lying on the shore of Lake Huron, between Port Huron and Saginaw Bay, are the scenes of the greatest destruction, which is growing positively appalling in character. Hundreds of farms have already been reduced to blackened ashes. Stock, crops, farm buildings and fences all have been swept away. Men, women and children have been overtaken by the flames, and several lives are known to have been lost. It is feared when full accounts are received that the loss of life will prove terrible. In Tuscola county, in the next tier of counties back from Lake Huron and south of Saginaw, fires also rage, but with less severity. The losses there are overshadowed by the more terrible condition of things in the adjoining counties. The same state of affairs exist in Lapeer county, next south of Tuscola, and the whole country around Saginaw and Bay City is ablaze, from the marshes taking fire. Reports of many losses of farmers are beginning to reach here.

Details from the fire-swept district is shocking reading. The skill and courage of men were powerless to stay the wave of fire and smoke. A part of the unfortunate district was visited by rain on Wednesday night, which put out the fire. In many places charred human bodies are found. One man, a citizen of White Rock, says that he saw 116 burned bodies. "At one place he saw four wagons bearing eight coffins, with one man walking behind all alone. It was his family. Another man was following three coffins. Every farmer lost some crops and fences. The loss of life is estimated at 200 to 300. The lowest estimates indicate that 215 families have been burned out in the towns of Marlette, Flynn, Argyle, Evergreen, Moore, Lamotte and Elmer, in Sanilac county."

The severe drought of the present summer has caused the squirrels, which exist in immense numbers in Arkansas to attack the cotton crop. In the absence of corn and nuts these little animals open the cotton bolls, eat the seed and scatter the cotton over the ground. This causes great quantities of the fleecy staple to be wasted.

In the northern and western counties many new wells have been sunk for water, because of the failure of old ones.

STATE ITEMS.

At Sunbury on the 7th inst., the case of George Hoover, the lad aged 13 years, who shot and killed his sister Lottie in May last, was tried. The mother and sister refused to testify, and left the city. The jury convicted the boy of manslaughter. Sentence was deferred.

Four prisoners made their escape from the county prison at Sunbury on the evening of the 7th inst., by cutting a hole in the sheet iron in an empty cell and removing a portion of the stone ceiling, thus making an entrance into the garret, from whence they made their way to the main part of the house. Rushing down the main stairway, they passed several of the female attendants who were on the front porch, and made good their escape. Their names were Pat Lawless (manslaughter), Wm. Hoagland (burglary), and David Schapp and Wm. White. The jail is a new one.

A man named Henry Clay Webster Calhoun Snodgrass, of Elk county, refused to pay a woman three dollars for laying out his dead wife, after the service was over, and when sued for the money offered to marry his creditor to settle the account, which so incensed the son of the woman (who is a widow) that he struck the debtor with the handle of an axe so violently as to break his arm, which now makes two law suits between the parties.

A Lebanon county youth married a girl and a week after the marriage her mother sent her three children, which she had been raising for her, each of whom had a different father. California has increase one in population, by emigration from Lebanon county.

Bedford Republican: Adam Garlic, a well-known character of Southampton township, while out hunting last Sunday shot off the third and fourth fingers of his left hand. Adam was carrying the gun on his shoulder, with his hand on the muzzle, when the hammer was caught by a twig and the gun was discharged. Adam won't go hunting any more on Sunday until his hand gets well.

John and William Chilcote of Huntingdon county, who are engaged in making railroad ties and have their lodging in a cabin, had an unwelcome visitor at breakfast the other morning in the shape of a hugh rattlesnake, which dropped on their table.

GENERAL ITEMS.

Fred. Whitney, of Port Jervis, N. Y., went driving one evening recently with a young lady, and one of his friends concluded he would test his bravery. Secreting himself in a lonely place, the friend waited until Whitney and the lady drove by, when he made an attempt to seize the horse. Before he succeeded in getting a hold Whitney fired a pistol ball through his arm, and was about to follow it with another, when the young man made himself known. He now carries a disabled arm as a reminder of the danger incurred in playing practical jokes.

Miss Schaffer, the Elmira girl, who took the prize of $200 a short time ago for being the handsomest woman in New York State, has become insane, and is confined in a lunatic asylum. Her physicians claim that her brain has become affected by the use of acids for the purpose of coloring her hair.

A company of English capilitalists, headed by the Duke of Sutherland, have purchased sixty square miles of land in Iowa, on the St. Paul and Omaha Railroad, sixty miles east of Sioux City, for the purpose of founding a colony. They have a capital of $12,500,000.

A dispatch from Missouri last Thursday, the 8th inst., says: Passenger train No. 48, on the Chicago and Alton Railroad, was stopped and robbed by twelve masked men, four miles east of Independence and fourteen miles from Kansas City, at nine o'clock last night. The express car was broken open, and Messenger Fox was so terribly beaten that he cannot live, because he refused to give up the key to the safe. The amount taken is not known, but is estimated from $5,000 to $20,000. After going through the express car, all the passengers were robbed of money and watches, amounting to several thousand dollars. The robbers were heavily armed, and kept up a continual firing of pistols to intimidate the passengers. Several shots were fired at Conductor Hazlebaker, but he escaped unhurt. The whole affair occupied less than fifteen minutes, and was done very systematically. After securing the booty the whole party rode off into the woods. The spot selected for the bold deed is in a dense woods, two miles from any habitation. The train was stopped by a red lantern and obstructions on the track. The train ran into Kansas City and gave the alarm, and Chief of Police Speers started out at once with fifty men on horseback. A special train with a posse under Marshal Murphy also went immediately to the scene of the robbery, and large bodies of men are being sent out from all points in every direction. The whole country is aroused, and intense excitement prevails. The leader of the party answers the description of the leader of the party that robbed the Chicago and Rockland train at Arnston, July 17. J. B. Treat, agent of the United States Express Company at Kansas City, states that he cannot tell how much money the robbers got from the company's safe, as they took all the waybills, but he thinks it was not more than a few hundred dollars. Governor Crittenden has issued a proclamation calling upon the people to rise en masse and exterminate the train robbers. He has gone to Kansas City to consult with the authorities of Jackson county regarding the apprehension of the robbers. Fully a thousand men are organized into posses from Kansas City and from Jackson, Lafayette, Clay, Ray, Clinton and Sabine counties, and are now in the field under command of sheriffs and marshals.

A despatch from New Jersey under date of September 7th says; A daring and well planned train robbery was perpetrated at daylight yesterday morning on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Hackensack bridge, three miles from Jersey City. A western bound freight train, in charge of Conductor James Docherty, was boarded by five tramps at the eastern approach of the bridge. The train had stopped at the signal switch before reaching the bridge when the robbers sprang into the caboose. A desperate encounter took place. Docherty realized the situation and resisted the attack. He was alone at the time, the two brakemen being in the forward part of the train. The tramps knocked him down and demanded the keys. These he refused to give up. He shouted for help, when the men threatened to kill him. His son, who was acting as brakeman, heard his father call, and went to his assistance. As the young man neared the caboose one of the robbers told him to stand off, at the same time firing a revolver at the son. The ball took effect and the brakeman fell on top of the car. The noise of the shot brought the other brakeman and the fireman of the engine to the scene. Conductor Docherty was all this time struggling with the thieves. When assistance arrived the robbers became frightened and fled. Word was sent to Jersey City for help and a squad of policemen were detailed to capture the robbers. At eight o'clock two of them were arrested in a shanty at East Newark, by policeman Speer and Detective Christman of the railway company. Their names are Charles Hendricks and James M'Guire of 213 E. Eighteenth street. Young Docherty was dangerously wounded in the hip, the ball having lodged near the joint. He was taken on the train to St. Michaels hospital, Newark, where he is now lying in a very low condition.

A wealthy and attractive San Francisco girl at Saratoga has had a host of suitors since her arrival. One of them in urging his suit a few days ago remarked that as far as money went a match between them would not be unequal. The lady was equal to the emergency and calmly remarked that she already had more money than she wanted, and was looking for a man with brains.

General Grant received a tremendous ovation from the soldiers and sailors last Thursday afternoon after the grand review at Bloomington, Ill., and as he was seated in his carriage the horses were unharnessed by enthusiastic soldiers, who pulled the carriage to camp headquarters.

Three thousand people assembled on Thursday at Ithaca, N. Y., to a banquet provided for fifty-year residents of Tompkins county. A large grand stand containing the speakers and three hundred aged honorary guests crashed to the ground, injuring four people but none fatally.

A story is going the rounds of the press that an Erie county farmer has a yoke of three year old trotting steers. One of them can trot a single mile inside of four minutes.

Mr. Manbeck is an honest and earnest farmer, who considers that when the public welfare is well conducted every private interest is strengthened. PATTERSON.

COUNTY TREASURER.

Editor Sentinel and Republican: Sir, It is a well recognized fact everywhere that the office of County Treasurer is an important office. Juniata county cannot be an exception, for there are no exceptions. On two occasions in the past, Mr. Jacob Lemon, of Patterson, came within a few votes of being elected to office. He is not among the class denominated as "office-seekers." His friends desire that he again be placed as a candidate for the nomination of County Treasurer, at the Republican Primary election to be held Saturday, September 24th inst., believing that if he again becomes the standard bearer, he will be elected by the people at the general election in November.

COUNTY AUDITOR.

Editor Juniata Sentinel and Republican: Many citizens of Juniata county are so well satisfied with the manner in which Captain Lewis Degan has discharged the duties of the office of County Auditor that they would almost deem it a public loss to not have him in the board of Auditors. Therefore they are constrained to ask for his renomination as a candidate for the important position which he has filled so acceptably. His re-nomination and election will be for the financial good of the whole county.

A RARE CHANCE

To Buy a Large Tract of Good Land at a Moderate Price:

To a man who desires to make farming and stock-raising his business, this is the greatest bargain in Juniata county.

Three Hundred Acres and more, having thereon a large Brick Dwelling House in good condition, Barn and other outbuildings; a running stream of water near the door, also, good well water in yard; an Orchard of 8 acres, as good as any in the county; a grove of 50 maple trees, which, if attention were directed to, could be turned into a source of income, as such groves are in Somerset county, this State, and as such groves are in New England. Good timber on the farm. The farm will produce 40 to 50 tons of hay annually, and grow grain of all kinds. There is an abundance of LIMESTONE on the farm.

We repeat, this is the greatest bargain now offered in this county, to the man who has energy, and desires to farm and raise stock. To such a man, who has a moderate sum of money for first payment, there is a rare chance to secure a property, that in the nature of things must increase in value gradually, for the period of a full generation yet to come.

Time, 5 to 7 years, to suit purchaser. If you have the inclination, the means, and the pluck to develope one of the finest tracts of land in the county, call at this office for particulars.
