If the President "can't quite catch-on" to the "Jeffersonian simplicity," Mrs. Cleveland can. "She is going to fix up an old-fashioned country parlor at Oak View with a rag carpet, spinning wheels, quaint chairs, &c. That will be the first touch of Jeffersonian simplicity that has yet made its appearance in this administration.

An interesting sight of a journey to Gin Spring pic-nic, last Thursday, was seeing John Howe and Solomon Books, riding side by side to the pic-nic. Each one is a candidate, Howe a Democrat and Books a Republican. Correct. Why should men disregard the courtesies of life toward each other even if they are opposing candidates.

Highwaymen have recently been robbing farmers in the early morning in the vicinity of Lock Haven. The farmers are talking about placing shot guns in their wagons as they journey to market in the early morning. A dead highwayman or two in the road, as a subject for a coroner's jury, would secure the greatest force immediate from duties in this part of the state.

On last Friday, a son of John Shelor, in Lobsting creek valley, aged 10 years, in company with others, engaged in adjusting a swing, and fastened the other end to the right arm. Straight enough was the board, and the unfortunate joint reduced by Dr. Copelland. The boy is doing well.

A number of boys from this place and Patterson set fire to the hole of crawling from the foot bridge down the wall of the third gate for the purpose of falling and bathing. They do not appear to realize the danger of a fall upon the rocks below, and apparently have forgotten the terrible accident that overtook a lad from Patterson there last year.

The Huntingdon Globe on the 4th, inst says: Peter Hawn, the aged Juniata township farmer whose house was recently attacked by daylight robbers, received a stroke of paralysis on Tuesday evening about eight o'clock while sitting in his room. Dr. D. P. Miller was called and reached the Hawn mansion about midnight. He found the old man's side paralyzed and he is in a dangerous condition.

Mrs. Rosy Nipple, of Milford township, brought a suit before Squire McCrum, on Saturday, against George Martin, alias "Buffalo Bill," for assault and battery. It is alleged that last June while Bill was going by her house on a wagon he called to her to come down and get a drink. She said, 'Come up to the house and I'll drink.' He went up, and there they fell out about a neighbor woman, which resulted in Bill shaking her, so she says. He says she picked up a club to strike him, and for that he shook her. The Squire held him in the sum of $1.0, and she in the sum of $50 to appear at Court, to there have the case settled by a jury. After the termination of the case before Squire McCrum, Martin sued before Squire Tood and brought an action against Mrs. Nipple's husband for allowing wild turkeys out of season.

The Harvest Home Picnic at Pannabaker's Island, last Saturday, surpassed all predecessor's. It was only the south east part of the island that was not thickly dotted with buggies and carrriages. The gratitude of the people can only be guessed at. To see such an assembly is worth a day's drive. The able young minister J. B. Work, of the United Presbyterian Congregation of Tuscarora and Concord presided over the assembly. Rev. Mr. Leitach of Concord opened the proceedings with prayer. A. J. Patterson, Esq., of Mifflintown, B. F. Schweiser of Mifflintown, and Rev. Mr. Leitach of Franklin county, each delivered a speech before dinner. After dinner Rev. Mr. Woodburn, of Academia opened the meeting with prayer, Hon. L. E. Atkinson, of Mifflintown, J. H. Neely Esq., of Mifflintown, Rev. Mr. Noss a native of Juniata county, but now of California, and Dr. Ritter of McCoystown, each delivered a speech. The benediction was pronounced by the President Rev. J. B. Work. A choir of church choir singers and the Port Royal band were present and added the music to the occasion.

Grand Union Sunday School Excursion.

The Camp Meeting authorities invite the Sunday Schools of all denominations on the main line between Altoona and Mifflin to spend a day—the last day of the Camp Meeting this year—with them on their ground.

The exercises will be of a superior order, consisting of a sermon, addresses choice music, &c.

The railroad has kindly consented to sell tickets good only for this day, THURSDAY, AUGUST, 18, 1887, between Altoona and Mifflin and intermediate points at the very low rate of ONE CENT PER MILE.

Sunday Schools will probably find this a good substitute for their annual picnic this year.

To all who desire for themselves and children a cheap railroad excursion and a pleasant day in the woods we commend this opportunity.

Come and see our grounds, and enjoy our meetings.

Bring your dinner with you if you please. Or you can get meals and supplies of all sorts at the boarding houses and restaurant.

Gin Spring Picnic.

For many years an annual picnic was held near Thompsontown, and people were in the habit of coming long distances to enjoy themselves on that day. Many lovers of music and dancing in Juniata, and many from neighboring counties, particularly those from Eastern Perry, were found there on picnic days.

Three years ago the dancing platform was removed to Gin Spring, near Mexico, and the picnic has been held there ever since, under the name of Gin Spring Picnic.

Last Thursday, the day appointed for the holding of the Annual Picnic, opened very gloomy. Large banks of dark clouds floated from the South over Tuscarora mountain and dropped down into the valley with all appearance of rain. But the appearances were deceptive in this case, for it did not rain. The clouds cleared away and a more delightful day could not have been chosen for holding the picnic.

The people who are in the habit of attending the picnic are not to be frightened into staying at home by mere signs of unfavorable weather, and many were on the ground at 11 o'clock.

The Grand March took place at one o clock, and from that time until nine o'clock in the evening the dancing was kept up without intermission, excepting a short time in which to take lunch.

The music was splendid and was thought so by all. The figure caller's voice was not equal to the occasion, and a great many complaints were silently and loudly entered up against him. But his voice was neither to be raised by coaxing nor by threats of violence. The music was furnished by Taylor's orchestra from Lancaster city.

All kinds of dancers were present, and it was very interesting to any one who did not dance to watch the dancers and listen to the excellent music. Round dances seemed to be most in favor by the young ladies, but many square dances were indulged in. The round dancing appears selfish.

The majority of the people who attend the picnics belong to substantial families of Juniata and neighboring counties.

Some one has estimated that there were three women to every man present. About eight hundred persons were present.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CENTENNIAL.

Low Rates to Philadelphia via Pennsylvania Railroad.

The celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States, to be held in Philadelphia, September 15th, 16th and 17th, promises to be one of the most interesting events that ever occurred in this country, and will rank second only to the great Centennial of 1876. The Commission composed of some of the foremost men in the land, is fully organized, the President of the United States and his cabinet are in cordial co-operation, and the Governors of all the States are aiding in the execution of the general plan.

A larger number of troops of different states will doubtless participate in the military feature, than were ever gathered before on a civic occasion; the industrial display is expected to be the finest and most comprehensive ever seen in this city, and the commemorative services, presided over by the Chief Magistrate and addressed by Mr Justice Miller of the Supreme Court, will be the most imposing ceremony ever held in America.

The program as outlined by the Commission is as follows:—

The 15th of September is assigned for a processional industrial display. This display moving in long procession, mounted on cars prepared for the purpose, and accompanied by various civic organizations, promises to be a feature of brilliant and historic interest. In the evening of that day the Governor of Pennsylvania will hold a public reception in honor of the Governors of the States and Territories present at the celebration.

The 16th of September is assigned for the military parade and review of the regiments and companies of the militia of the several States and Territories, accompanied by their respective Governors and staffs, and by detachments from the army and navy of the United States detailed for that occasion. From the returns already received expects the presence of from ten to Fifteen thousand state troops. One State alone offers seven thousand troops in honor of the occasion. It is also intended if practical, to illustrate in this parade the contrast between the military arms and equipments of revolutionary times and those of the present day. The co-operation of the army and navy of the United States has been assured to the Commission. In the evening of the same day will occur a public reception in honor of the President of the United States, with the Governors, representatives of foreign governments, military, &c.

The 17th of September is devoted to the special services of commemaration, at which the President of the United States will preside. The oration will be pronounced by Mr. Justice Miller, of the Supreme Court of the United States. In addition there will be a poem, national hymns, vocal and instrumental music, &c. Various other entertainments are offered by citizens during the progress of the celebration.

In order to accommodate the vast multitude of people who will desire to witness and participate in this national fete in honor of liberty, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Philadelphia from all stations on their lines east of Pittsburg and Erie, September 8th to 17th, good to return until the 22nd, inclusive at two cents per mile.

Special excursions by special trains from various points will be arranged, the details of which will be published later through the press and other means of public announcement.

In the meantime it will be well to underline the dates, and arrange to visit the city as a spectator of the great demonstration, which appeals to the patriotism of every American, as well as every friend of freedom.

Duty of Constables.

An exchange sums the duties of constables as follows: "It shall be the duty of each constable in the county to visit at least once in each month all places within their respective jurisdictions where any liquors are sold or kept, to ascertain if any act of assembly relating to sale or furnishing of such liquors have been or are being violated, and whenever any such violation it shall be his duty to forthwith make written returns of the same to the court of quarter sessions with the name of the witnesses, and to do whatsoever shall be in his power to bring the offender to justice; and upon any neglect or refusal of said officer to perform the aforesaid duty, the said court shall impose the same penalties provided in section 11 of this act. The penalty is a score and imposes a fine of not more than $100 and imprisonment for not more than two years, or both, at the discretion of the court. Constables will be obliged to make returns as follows: Index-boards; gambling houses; roads and bridges; sales of oleomargarine; deer killed out of season; tipling and disorderly houses; persons furnishing liquor on Sunday; persons furnishing liquor for sale, gift or otherwise, to miners, persons of intemperate habits, the insane or those intoxicated; persons violating the act (high license) of May 24, 1887; persons who sell without license, even if they have not violated the law.

At the same time the constables are enjoined to report violators of the sections of the law which provide against wholesale dealers or rectifiers selling less than a quart or bottlers allowing liquor to be drank on their premises or at any place provided by such sellers for that purpose.

Announcements.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

MR. EDITOR:—Please announce that I am a candidate for nomination for the office of County Commissioner, at the coming Republican Primary Election, subject to Republican rules. If so fortunate as to receive said nomination and afterwards an election by the people, I shall strive to discharge the duties of said office to my own credit and the best interests of the tax payers of Juniata. W. H. MOORE.

Van Wert, Pa., April 27, 1887.

To the Republicans of Juniata county:

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner, at the coming Republican primary election, subject to Republican rules. If nominated and elected I pledge myself to the interest of all tax payers of Juniata county.

J. H. CUNNINGHAM.
Patterson, Pa.

To the Republicans of Juniata:

Believing that the best interests of tax-payers of Juniata would be subserved by the re-election of W. North Sterrett as County Commissioner, permit me to name him as a candidate for nomination, subject to Republican usages. His past history is a sufficient guarantee for his future action.

PATTERSON.

Aug. 6, 1887.

To the Republicans of Juniata:

Francis Hower, of Fermanagh township, has repeatedly been spoken of as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner. He is a practical man and the management of county affairs will be under safe guardianship if the people confer the office on him. I therefore announce him as a candidate for nomination, subject to Republican primary rules, feeling assured that when before the whole people for their suffrage, he will be voted for with great favor.

MIFFLINTOWN.

Aug. 6, 1887.

COUNTY TREASURER.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for nomination for the office of County Treasurer, at the ensuing Republican Primary Election, subject to Republican usages. If nominated and elected I pledge my best services in the discharge of the duties of said office. D. S. COYLE.

Port Royal, Pa., April 20, 1887.

To the Republicans of Juniata County:

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for nomination for the office of County Treasurer at the ensuing Republican primary election, subject to Republican usages. If nominated and elected by the people I will discharge the duties of the office with credit to myself and the Republican party.

SOLOMON BOOKS.

Mifflintown, May 2, 1887.

To the Republicans of Juniata county:

I would announce to the Republican party of Juniata county, that I am a candidate for the nomination of County Treasurer, subject to the rules that govern the organization. If they favor me with a nomination I will serve them to the best of my ability in their interests and in the interests of the whole people.

JOHN McLAUGHLIN.

I have the pleasure of announcing to the Republicans of Juniata county that I am a candidate for nomination, at the primary election for County Treasurer, subject to Republican usages. If nominated and elected I will discharge the duties of the office with fidelity to the trust given to me by the people.

D. G. SHELLENBERGER,
Richfield, May 9, 1887.

PROTHONOTARY.

MR. EDITOR:—Anson B. Will, of Mifflintown, is a clever young man, with abundant ability to discharge the duties of the office of Prothonotary. I therefore announce him as a candidate for that office, subject to Republican rules for the government of the primary election. JUNIATA.

July 18, 1887.

MR. EDITOR:—Permit me to present the name of Theodore H. Meminger as a candidate for re-nomination for the office of Prothonotary, subject to Republican usages He has filled the office during the present term so faithfully and well, and with such acceptation to all who have done business in the office, that a re-nomination and re-election is justly his due. I believe that his renomination will be for the best interests of the taxpayers of Juniata, who will take care of the same by his triumphant re-election. He has been tried and not found wanting.
