MAINE FISHERMEN report the catch of mackerel as satisfactory, which will cause the mackerel eaters next spring to rejoice.

THE vegetation in thirty counties in Illinois has been devastated by the chinch bugs, and it is difficult to estimate the danger to the agricultural interests.

NINETEEN suits against the railroad company for damages aggregating $127,000 have been brought on account of the Chattsworth, Ill., railroad horror.

The Democratic Convention at Allentown succeeded in getting through without an open battle among the brethren on the tariff question. The Cleveland men ruled the Convention.

THE Democratic State Convention met last Wednesday at Allentown, and nominated for Supreme Judge, J. Ross Thompson, of Erie, and for State Treasurer, Barnard J. McGrann, of Lancaster.

ROBERT T. LINCOLN, son of President Lincoln in answer to some one who wrote to him relative to the nomination for the Presidency of the United States, says he does not desire the nomination.

COLONEL M'S QUAY, has resigned the office of State Treasurer. His cashier Livsey is his successor. The Colonel will enter upon the discharge of the duties of the office of U. S. Senator when Congress next convenes.

Mr. Henry George's theory of taxation, as adopted by the United Labor Party of this state, at its Syracuse convention is the taxation of land ... the exemption of improvements. The Convention did not define this word improvements and yet, taken in its natural and ordinary sense, it must mean all the houses, all the barns, all the carriage houses, all the stores, all the factories of every kind built on land, all the ditches dug, all the fences built, and, indeed, everything that has been done by human industry to change the condition of land from its original and primitive condition as it comes from the hand of God. All these "improvements," according to the doctrine of the United Labor Party adopting the nonsense of Mr. George, are to be excluded in the "taxation of land values."

Very well. What then are these "values," after all such "improvements" are excluded? Can Mr. George or anybody else tell? How are we going to ascertain just how much belongs to "improvements," and just how much belongs to land without any "improvements?" We think that boards of assessors would find themselves seriously puzzled with this question, even if they had Mr. George, with all his sagacity, to help them. We certainly should not want to undertake the job. The truth is, especially in respect to land used for farming and agricultural purposes, that the "improvements" of land are so mixed up with the land itself that it is impossible to separate them, and determine the exact value of the land independently of these "improvements." The whole idea of Mr. George is a sheer humbug of words.

The rental value of a farm, for example, is what it will rent for each year, taken with all the "improvements" thereon; and if we understand Mr. George to mean that this farm shall be annually taxed up to its full rental value without the "improvements," then this would be equivalent to a confiscation of the whole value by taxation. The farmer and owner, if renting the land to another farmer, would have to pay the whole rental value in taxation; and if occupying it himself, he would have to pay the whole rental value in taxation; and if occupying it himself, he would have to pay the same amount. How much would the farm be worth to live with such a system of taxation ... upon it? Just nothing at all. Farms would not be all worth one cent. And yet this is the economical millennium which Mr. George, Dr. McGlynn, and the United Labor Party in this state propose to introduce into this world, as the sovereign panacea for all the ills of poverty. It is quite certain that the fools are not yet all dead, and that the American people as a body will never be captivated with such foolories.—New York Independent.

Republican County Ticket.

The Republican county ticket is composed of men of sterling worth, and if the people of Juniata county will do themselves justice the ticket will be elected next November by a large majority.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

For the important office of County Commissioners it is seldom that men of such solid worth as that possessed by John H. Cunningham and Francis Hower come to the front. They both come from a race of substantial people who for generations have been bred to make all their obligations good.

JOHN H. CUNNINGHAM, is of English extraction. His ancestors settled in Licking Creek Valley in 1762, and his whole line of people from that time to this have been excellent people. He will make a first class Commissioner.

FRANCIS HOWER,

is of German and English extraction. His first American ancestor settled in Northampton county one hundred and fifty years ago. His grandfather was a citizen of Juniata county, many years. He comes of a race of thrifty, honest people. He will make a first class Commissioner.

COUNTY TREASURER,

D. G. Shellenberger for the office of County Treasurer is of Swiss extraction and his ancestors were among the first settlers and land holders in the eastern part of the country. They have always been a thrifty people saving their means, and investing it in real estate, thereby keeping constantly in hand property, from which amount a tax is derived to help keep the public affairs of the township and county in financial condition. He will make an efficient County Treasurer.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

For the office of District Attorney, the selection fell to the lot of F. M. M. Pennell, who is a native of Juniata county. His people are English and came to Pennsylvania as Quakers, with William Penn. He will make an efficient District Attorney.

COUNTY AUDITORS.

For the important office of County Auditors, the nomination is fortunate, for W. P. Graham and N. C. Henkles will bring to the work of auditing the accounts, scrutiny and care. W. P. Graham is the descendent of a line of Grahams that settled in Tuscarora previous to the revolution of 1776. Frugality and honesty have been the characteristics of his people, and he has not departed from the traits of his race. N. C. Henkles of Delaware twp., is a native of Juniata Co. His people were for many years residents of Dauphin county. It is a source of regret that poor health has caused Mr. Henkle to resign the trust of the nomination that has been conferred on him.

PROTHONOTARY.

Theodore H. Meminger, the nominee for the office of Prothonotary, is of German extraction, a native of Tuscarora Valley, into which his father moved from Perry county. Mr. Meminger is the present Prothonotary, and is one of the most capable men that has held that place of trust, within the period of a generation of men. Mr. Meminger has been faithful to the trust conferred on him and will be re-elected.

One Thousand Mile Tickets.

The Pennsylvania railroad again put on sale 1,000 mile tickets, which will be sold for $20, or two cents a mile. When the Inter-State Commerce bill went into effect the sale of these tickets was discontinued. As many commercial travelers and others who do a great amount of traveling asked for the restoration of the two cent a mile rate the company decided to put them on sale again. This will be a great boon to people who travel considerable. The tickets are good on all the various branches of the road.

A Balloonist's Fate.

PRINCETON, MO., September 1.—At the Mercer county Fair yesterday afternoon Randall Blakeslee, a half-breed Indian, made a balloon ascension hanging to a trapeze bar. In the ascent the balloon shot up suddenly, giving Blakeslee a wrench and he was unable to pull himself on the bar, but managed to help himself, up by a loope which he had drawn around his wrist. After traveling about a mile and a half, reaching the altitude of 2,000 feet, the balloon began to descend ,but the poor fellow's strength gave out and when within five hundred feet of the earth his grip relaxed and he fell to the earth, lighting on his feet in a corn field, his thighs being broken and driven into the trunk of his body.

Indiana "white Caps."

CINCINNATTI, Sept. 1.—A special from New Albany, Ind, says that on Tuesday night a gang of lawless men in Spencer township, Parrison county calling themselves "White Caps," took from his bed John Hildebrant, a popular citizen, who, last April, was elected Justice of the peace by a nearly unanimous vote, and tying him to a tree beat him they were not pleased with his decisions, and charged him with cruelty to his family. The same night at Dupnaw they warned a saloon keeper to stop selling liquor, and at Frenchtown the postmaster, Paul Henriott, told him what they had been doing and ordered him, under penalty of a hundred lashes, to spread the news quick. They had previously warned a widow, named Dougherty that she must not marry a young man to whom she is engaged. Her friends have organized for her protection.

Trespassing.

We are now enjoying a season of the year when our farmers are annoyed by persons tramping down their crops, hunting and otherwise trespassing upon their grounds, and as few people know what the penalty is for the offense, we publish below the act relative thereto: Be it enacted, &c., That any person or persons who shall willfully enter or break down, through or over any field, orchard, garden or fence, hotbed or greenhouse, or who shall wrongfully climb, stone cut, break, bark or damage and field, nut, fruit or ornamental tree, shrub, bush, plants or vine, trellis, hotbed, hot or green house, any grain, grass, vines, vegetables, or other growing crop, or who shall willfully take or carry away any grain, corn, rye, wheat or other vegetables, plants, fruit or ornamental trees, vines or shrubs, whether the same shall be attached to the soil or not, shall subject such person or persons to a penalty of not less than five or more than fifty dollars, for each and every offence.

Sparrows for Food.

Sparows are being properly appreciated. Hundreds of them are now caught by enterprising people for sale to certain restaurants where reed birds are in demand. A German woman on Third avenue has three traps set every day, and she catches probably seventy five a week. They are cooked and served to her boarders the same as reed birds and are declared quite as great a delicacy. This German woman bastes them, leaving the little wooden skewer in the bird when served. They are cooked with a bit of bacon. She tempts them with oats, and after the catch they are fed with boiled oat meal. She sprinkles oat meal in the back yard also, and thereby fattens the free birds. The males can be told by circle of white feathers at the neck. The females are as plain as Quakeresses. So soon as it becomes generally known that the sparrow is a table bird their number will rapidly grow less. People don't like to experiment, but when it is discovered that the sparrow has been declared by those upon whom they have been tried no boarding house meal will be deemed in good form unless a dish of fat sparrows adorns it. Sparrow pie is a delicacy fit to set before a king.—New York Times.

The Marriage Off

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1.—A special despatch from Salisbury, Md., says: "An amusing scene occurred at the Maryland Steamboat Company's wharf here to day. About fourteen months ago Mrs. Cordelia Geare, of 1220 Light street, Baltimore advertised in the Heart and Hand, published at Chicago, for a husband. Mr. George W. Fooks, a gentleman living near Salisbury, saw the advertisement and answered it, and from that time a correspondence has been kept up, resulting finally in an engagement to marry. The marriage was arranged to take place in Salisbury. A short while ago Mrs. Gears wrote to Mr. Fooks that she might be expected here to-day. She was taken ill in the meantime and informed her affianced that she could not come to day, however, she arrived here on the steamer Pratt. Mr. Fooks was not at the wharf to meet her. She was interview py several parties, and after it was learned in what difficulty she found herself a courier was despatched for Mr. Fooks, who soon arrived in his matrimonial garb. By this time over a hundred people were on the wharf, and everybody, who knew the would-be groom congratulated him and received hearty thanks in return. In the saloon the lovers met for the first time. After a short talk Mrs. Geare said that there were so many people on the whaf who acted so much like heathen that she would not live in Salisbury for any consideration, but if Mr. Fooks would go to Baltimore and live she would marry eim. Mrs. Fooks then came out and announced to his friends that the marriage was off for the present. Mrs. Geare returned to Baltimore on the boat. She is about 35 years old and a widow. Mrs. Fooks is about 45 years old and a widower."

The following is from the Middletown Register: "We have a good but true story to tell at expense of a worthy and industrious farmer residing considerably less than a thousand miles from this place. In some way he lost the run of the days last week, and on Sunday morning, supposing it to be Saturday, he hitched up his team and began hauling in his wheat. He toiled hard all day long at this work and did not find out that it was the Sabbath day until late in the evening. But for the fact that he started one of his boys to town in the evening for groceries, he might not yet know the day of the week. When the lad was passing a neighbor's house toward town in his working clothes he was halted and asked where he was going. He replied 'to town for sugar and coffee.,, The neighbor then told the boy that it was Sunday and that the stores were all closed. The lad was incredulous and said 'You can't fool me,' but after awhile the earnestness of the neighbor impressed him with the truth that it was Sunday and imparted this information to his father. It is presumed that his father began to investigate and found out that it really was Sunday, for it is said he is very much mortified over it, and has chided some of his neighbors, who observed him at work, for not telling him of his Sabbath breaking.

The McKeesport, Pa., Times says: The "stogie" is derived from the old Conestoga wagons, which used to be so numerous on the old national pike. The drivers of these wagons were in the habit of buying cheap, strong cigars, and being heavy smokers kept asking for a cheaper cigar than was then made. Over at Washington, Pa., a cigarmaker, in answer to this demand for cheaper cigars, evolved a long, slender roll of tobacco which he offered to the drivers at the rate of four for a cent. The new cigar became popular among the mail drivers and freighters, and was called the Conestoga cigar abbreviated afterward to "stoga," and later to "stogie."

On Saturday evening Hiram Boeshore, Jimmy Wilson, a little five-year-old, and another boy or two were at the corner of seventh and Lehman streets. Young Boeshore had a single-barreled 23-calibre pistol, and pointing it at little Jimmy said, "I'll shoot you." And sadly enough he was as good as his word. The pistol went off, and the bullet ploughed its way into the poor little fellow's vitals. The ball entered the abdomen and lodged in the liver. He suffered greatly untile next morning, when kind death came to his relief. It is another warning to parents permitting their children to have pistols.—Lebanon Courier.

A new and novel method of raising money for churches is most cheerfully recommended to all congregations given to heroic exploits in the way of fairs, festivals, and allied devices for raising money. A box is placed in some convenient place, and upon the birth day of any member of the church or Sunday school that person puts in pennies corresponding to the number of years, and each six months the box is opened and a snug sum realized. If the church has a large congregation the amount will be surprisingly large. The boxes are called birth day boxes and have become very popular in many towns where the scheme has been tried.

The Bloomfield advocate says.—On last Friday four colts belonging to D. Clark Hays, of Blue Ball, ran into a barbed wire fence and one of them caught fast in the barbs and tore itself so badly that its entrails protruded, the sinews of its legs were also cut off by the barbs, and some of its ribs were almost severed in its efforts to extricate itself. It was so badly injured that it had to be killed.—The colts were all valuable animals, and Mr. Hays has sympathy of the entire community.

An O'Neill, girl fell out of a second-story window to the ground and landed uninjured on her rubber bustle with very hot flatirons untile dry. The hot penetrating steam is very fatal, not only to the insect it is especially intended for, but also to all other vermin that may be lurking under the carpet.

John Owens was in the woods near Creston the other day and his dog got into a fight with another. He went to part them and found a black snake coiled about his dog's neck and the other suffering from the snake's fangs. He blazed away with his gun and killed the snake.—Bloom field Times.

The tallest man in the country is said to be Henry A. Cooper of Lockport, N. Y., who was born at York, England, in 1860. He is eight feet two inches in height, and weighs 350 pounds. His hand is 13 inches and his foot 17 inches long. He was brought to this country for exhibition.

While milking in a barn of Abraham Leman, in East Lampeter township, this morning, a girl attempted to drive away a cat, when the animal overturned the lamp, setting fire to the structure and resulting in its destruction, with five cows, three horses and all the crops. Loss, $5,000; insured.

A story comes from Nassau, N. P., as related in the Ocean wave, that in the stomach of a shark recently caught in the harbor there were found a man's hand and wrist, a portion of the man's shirt, a goat's head with horns nine inches long, and a turtle's head.

In the City of Mexico everybody lives over a shop, if the house, be two stories, or uses the lower floor for stabling the horses, quartering the servants, etc. Even the millionaires often rent the ground floor of their swell residences for business purposes.

July was a hot month in more senses than one. Fire burnt up $14,000,000 worth of property from the 1st to the 31st—a distressing increase of about $4,000,000 over the loss in the corresponding period last year.

Fifth. For the purpose of voting, no person shall be deemed to have gained or lost a residence by reason of his presence or absence while employed in the service of the United States or the State, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State or of the high seas, nor while a student of any college or seminary of learning, nor while kept at any alumshouse or public institution, except the inmates of any home for disabled and indigent soldiers and sailors, who, for the purpose of voting, shall be deemed to reside in the election district where said home is located.
