SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

MIFFLINTOWN,
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1887.

B. F. SCHWEIER,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

REV. DR. FRANCIS L. PATTON is to succeed Dr. McCosh as President of Princeton College.

ROBERT BONNER of the New York Ledger has retired from that paper and turned the Ledger over to his three sons.

New and very profitable gold mines have been opened near Prescott Arizona. People are going there in great numbers.

Pittsburgh church congregation has called Rev. Charles Berry an English preacher to the pulpit of Mr Beecher deceased. He is to have a salary of $20,000, and a house to live in.

The English people have gone wild over a chance to see Sullivan the American slugger. Larger crowds crowed to the railroad stations to see him than have ever crowded any other man.

HENRY WARD BEECHER was intensely American and just to think that the trustees of Plymouth Church should go to England and import a Mr. Berry as his successor. It is their business however.

It is proposed to place Secretary Lamar on the United States Supreme Bench. No ex confederate who believed in the institution of slavery and the Justice of the Lost Cause should have a seat on the Supreme Bench.

The anarchists are raising money to support his families of their comrades that were hung in Chicago which is a wonder. It was expected that they would allow them to be cared for by the overseers of the poor, if the families could not provide for themselves.

It matters not whether Gould did or did not go to England to catch a lot of British financiers. His presence has not attracted general attention, whereas Sullivan the slugger has been the cause of almost a general turnout of the whole people to see him wherever it is known he will put in an appearance.

The Philadelphia Record is jubilant over Berks county as follows. Petroleum has been found at Stony Run Albany township, Berks county, gushing to the depth of eight inches in a water well of a farmer in that neighborhood. If there be no leaky pipe line or oil barrel in that particular neighborhood this discovery should prove interesting. Berks county already overflows with milk and honey, and Democracy, if petroleum should be added to its other resources it would outstrip the Land of Canaan in the sum total of its attractions.

The war against the slave holder's rebellion was fought in vain if the President appoints men to the Supreme Court Bench, who believe in the Divinity of the institution of slavery, for such men however learned and gentlemanly they may be, would incline to warp all decisions delivered by them on the questions involved in the late war in favor of the slave labor system which they believe has the Divine sanction. If President Cleveland places the old slave element in the Supreme Bench he proposes the way for future trouble. Don't do it Mr. President.

This is a free government: men may do as they please, so long as they do not kill burn or steal. The three mentioned acts brings the vengeance of the law upon the offender. This is a free country in which a man may talk as he pleases so long as he is not influencing men to murder, theft and arson. The writing and speech making Chicago anarchists talked till they persuaded others to murder by throwing bombs. The New York anarchists are talking of murder, advocating or predicting the killing of the Chicago Judge, jury, district attorney and others who had to do with the conviction and execution of the Chicago anarchists.

The Beginning of the End.

HERMANN RASTER. THERE IS NO FUTURE FOR ANARCHY IN AMERICA.

"Editor Hermann Raster, of the Staats-Zeitung, has the following editorial upon the leaders of Anarchists in this country:"

"There is no word of which a more shameless nuisance is made than the word "people." For every random gang of bait or totally crazy fools or rascals, even if they are hardly the hundredth part of the population of a continent, call themselves the "people." When three tailor journeymen of Tooley street, in London, conspired to revolutionize England, they called themselves with proud self-esteem: "We, the people of England."

Still more shameless than these three tailors are those bummers and cut-throats expectorated by Europe (unfortunately mostly by Germany) upon America during the last ten or fifteen years, who, without the slightest comprehension of the judiciary institutions of this country, without even being able to understand one word of the language spoken by nineteenths of the people, have the hardihood to speak in the name of the "American people," to which they do not belong at all; to which even those among them do not belong who have swindled themselves into the rights of citizenship by shameless perjury. For according to law, nobody can and shall be admitted to citizenship who, in the opinion of the court is not attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same. According to this no Anarchist can have become a citizen of this country except by infamous perjury, for which alone he should be punished by severe imprisonment. But most of the regrets who incite to the revolution of all existing conditions by means of foul murder and incendiarism are no citizens at all—not even by naturalization obtained by perjury—but are aliens, two legged wild animals, who have no more right to exist here than ferocious wolves have in the peaceful domicile of men.

Still, even these wild animals, with their blood-thirsty howlings, pretend to be representatives of the people! Just these fellows have the temerity to claim that they have only the welfare and happiness of the people in view, which they will deliver from the "oligarchical reign" of the "privileged classes." What can, what shall one say to such infatuation, but that these alien wild animal are mentally incompetent? To argue the question with beings who have no reason is labor. A reasonable explanation between representatives of different opinions is altogether impossible where one party denies the antecedent proposition that whoever advances the best argument shall be in the right. With a fellow who says: "If I convince you, all right; if you will not be convinced, I'll kill you!"—with such a fellow one cannot enter into a discussion of opinions. He can only be rendered harmless by taking him prisoner to it.

Disgraced tramps, like Georkhan; whisky soaked rascals, like Rittigmann; beasts, like Most; Russian cut-throats, like Schwarzeck, may trawl out to the world that the Chicago seven killers died as martyrs "for the welfare of the people!" that their hearts beat for the "poor and oppressed," and other rot of a similar character. But they will never succeed in deceiving by such lying artifice those nineteenths of the American people who see in the 11th of November the just atonement for the 8th of May. Far less will they succeed here in Chicago, where everybody knows that among the five executed on Nov. 10 and 11 there was not one who worked himself, suffered himself, led a so called "animal" existence. They all had a good time—at the expense of the "people," that is, their people, their faithful. In this respect they acted in no way different from the so much maligned "oligarchs," because they drew their very respectable means of livelihood from the pockets of the idiotic fools whom they made believe that they were oppressed victims of the damnable capitalists.

If these fools will make from such martyrs saints, out of whose remains the avengers is to come at some time, then they give more cause for contemptuous pity than for abhorrence or fear. The 11th of November is not the beginning of the reign, the power and the glory of the new delivery of the world, imported to America by German tailor, shoemaker, carpenter, or bricklayer journeyman, but is the end of it, or at least the beginning of the end. Anarchism, after the 11th of November, 1887, has in America no other future than "Zoon's Empire" had in Germany after the tailor journeyman, John Beckold, of Leyden, and his chancellor, Knipperdoling, had been hanged in an iron cage to the tower of St. Lamberus, in Munster."

Division of Labor.

Division of labor has been carried to such perfection in this country that it is now possible, so it is said, to make a complete sewing machine in a minute or sixty in an hour, a reaper every fifteen minutes; a locomotive in a day, and five hundred watches in the same time.

Chicago's Oldest Inhabitant.

Judge Caton, who lives in an old-fashioned mansion on Calumet avenue, Chicago, settled in that city in 1833. It was then a collection of huts and dogs. The Judge remembers the Indian massacre and the appearance of the first steamboat on the lake and the entrance of the first locomotive into the town. He is a devoted naturalist, and a few years ago went to Australia to study a species of deer and to Norway for the same purpose. He has written a good deal about the elk and moose, and his park is well stocked with many varieties of deer.

From the Huntingdon Globe. Last Saturday afternoon a party of boys were fighting a sham battle on the Petristown bridge with Flobert rifles, and John Williams, aged 13, was shot in the left thigh by Jesse Isenberg, who thought his rifle contained a blank cartridge. Dr. Blum hunt probed for the ball to the depth of several inches but was unable to find it. The wound is not considered dangerous.

During the triennial concave in Chicago nearly eight years ago, two men stood in front of the Leland hotel. A third man approached them with an armful of pamphlets and offered them for sale. One of the men first mentioned was a New Yorker, the other was at home. They took a book, and after scanning it over the New York man said; "This book is rank treason, and you ought to be kicked upto hawking on the street." The Chicago man said to the polder: "You ought to be hung for trying to sell such a book as that." The man of the pamphlets passed on, and the New Yorker and Chicago man soon separated. They never met again until last Friday, and both were witnesses to the hanging in the county jail. The new York man said to his Chicago friend: "There is a man on the scaffold whom I have seen before. Where was it?" indicating his fellow. The Chicago man replied: "That is Parsons the anarchist. He is the man that met you and I seven years ago in front of the Leland hotel. He was hawking his phamplets then. You said he ought to be locked up, and I said he ought to be hung—Chicago paper.

COMBINATION.

SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN
AND
THE WEEKLY PRESS.

One dollar and fifty cents in advance will secure you the SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN and THE WEEKLY PRESS for the period of one year.

The SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN gives nearly twice as much reading as any one of the other papers in Juniata. Its reports of all important home news and enterprises is full and within the period of a year its variety of reading matter comprehends within its scope almost every topic. Consider that in addition to this, the best local and literary paper published in Juniata county, you can have the Philadelphia WEEKLY PRESS, one of the best papers published in America, you have an offer that comes seldom to a man and his family.

After children have learned to read, the greatest educator is the newspaper. Every man should do justice to his family by subscribing for a public journal.

Subscribers who are in arrears can avail themselves of this combination offer by paying arrearages and paying one dollar and fifty cents in advance, thereby securing the two papers.

When you have subscribed for the SENTINEL AND REPUBLICAN you are certain in your securement of the county paper that gives you a larger quantity and greater variety of reading matter than is presented by other journals published in Juniata county, and when you accept this combination offer of the two papers you have secured for yourself and family a news paper prize of inestimable value for a price so low that it amounts to almost a marvel.

In this day and generation it amounts almost to a wrong to one's self and family to deny themselves the advantage of a good paper like the SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN and a state paper like the WEEKLY PRESS. There are more than a thousand and one things during the passage of a year that interest and sometimes directly benefit the individual and family, that appear in the home paper but like the rain, sunshine and air, that we are so familiar with, we do not appreciate as they merit.

Do you appreciate a first rate offer? Have the kindness to mention it to your neighbor if your neighbor has not already found it out, and if he has it will not do harm to speak him concerning it.
