Ridgway Fublic Schools.

Among the many institutions the people of this village have just cause to be proud of nonestands higher than our Graded School. Rumors of the efficient management of this school by Prof. Johnson and wife, having reached our ears from time to time, and having an invitation from the Principal to pay them awisit, we made good our promise on Thursday afternoon last. For four years this Bridel School has been under the present management, and although it is impossible to please all and do your daty, we will predict that no other teacher will ever teach the same length of time and give as general satisfaction. By all means should they be prevailed upon, if such a thing be possible, to stay another year, nor should the consideration of a few dollars stand in the way of the advancement of our children, for be it known that simply teaching children from text books is one thing, and teaching them order, politeness, and placing is at present done, quite another.
