Murder will out—a man who thirty years ago murdered Miss Adaline Hoover at Leesport, Berks county has been found in Colorado.

Bass fishing season came in on the 30th of May. By reason of a change in the law it came in two days earlier than last year at which time June 1st was the first day to fish for bass.

The oldest inhabitant has no remembrance of a storm in the last of May like the one that prevailed from the South last Thursday night and Friday.

An exchange says: A man lately cured a balky horse by simply hitching him in the field and letting him stay where the load was until he got hungry enough to pull it home. The horse held out 36 hours.

The tin and hardware store of J. M. Laird in Huntingdon was burglarized a few nights ago and goods—razors, knives, revolvers to the amount of $300 carried away. The goods stolen had been shelved only the day before the robbery.

William Zeiders living in Milford township sells a fine quality of sand that he takes from a hole in his lot that he sunk for water. Having struck fine sand he ceased to dig for water and ever since he has been selling sand at 75cts a ton.

Samuel S. Feinlee, who has been in Chicago the past three or four years, where he is now a student at Medicine, came to Juniata last week to pass several months with his friends in Tuscarora valley. His father J. G. Feinlee lives near Perm Mills this county.

A contemporary says: A man who never told a lie, a woman whose tongue never got the better of her judgment, and a man who could publish a newspaper to please everybody, are the three social white elephants which would be leading cards in the circus of the world.

Mrs. Isaac Depew of Milford township fell down a couple of steps leading from her porch and broke her right leg between the knee and ankle. Dr. Banks gave the limb the surgical attention it required and in bandaging it, cotton that was raised in Juniata county was used.

Traveling musicians were numerus, last week. A party with a monkey, a goat and a hand organ, one day, were succeeded the next day by a party with a harp, a horn a banjo and singing; the next day a party with a bag pipe and some other kind of a blow horn came along, and so comes the music almost every day.

From the Bloomfield Advocate. Postmaster General Wanamaker has informed Zach T. Rice, our popular stage driver to take charge of the mail route between Concord, Franklin county and Honey Grove, Juniata county 15 miles in length. The contractor who was $93 under Zach's bid has failed to make good his bid.

The soldiers monument in front of the Court House was wreathed and decorated with flowers last Thursday amidst the fierce storm of rain and wind that prevailed from the south. The storm interfered with the procession and rendered its impossible, but the mind of the veterans and people whose heart was with the cause that they fought for went out into the lone spots of the cities of dead and mentally did honor at the shrine of the departed soldiers. Mead D. Detweiler delivered an oration in the G. A. R. Hall in the evening.

Tickets for the Amendment election to be held on the 18th of June, will be sent from the Commissioners' office this week to election officers of the respective townships who will have the tickets at the polls in the morning of election day. Twenty eight thousand tickets have been sent for the voters of Juniata. There are not that many voters in the county, but a liberal allowance is made as in all elections for loss and waste of tickets. There are two amendments to be voted for or against, and seven thousand for tickets, and seven thousand against tickets are sent out.

"An Austin inventor has devised a steel corn husker, which, drawn by a team, pick s and husks the corn at the rate of eight to twelve acres per day, according to the capacity of the team. The team and machine move astride the row, one horse on esther side, and every ear of corn large or small is picked up. Corn husking can now be done just as thrashing is, lasting but a few days."

In the long past the route of travel for Indians and first settlers was by a path through Licking Creek Valley. The route of travel to the upper end of the valley may some day, before many years have gone by, be through Licking Creek Valley by rail.

The Eclectic for June contains the following varied and interesting table of contents:

Troubles over a Preacher.

The trouble among the congregation of Westminster Presbyterian Church over the resignation of the pastor Rev. L. Y. Hays was brought as near to a focal point last Saturday as it can be till Presbytery cuts the Gordian knot and brings peace and unity to the now unhappy congregation.

The meeting was called to order at 2 o'clock P. M., by Rev. John F. Gourley, of Lewistown, acting as moderator.

After devotional exercises J. F. Stoner and J. H. Neely were elected Secretaries.

The moderator read the citation of the Presbytery of Huntingdon to the Westminster Presbyterian Congregation of Mifflintown, commanding them to appear at an adjourned meeting of Presbytery to be held in the First Presbyterian Church of Altoona, on the 11th of June next at 2 o'clock P. M., to show cause, if any they have why the request of their pastor should not be granted, and read the notice which had been regularly announced from the pulpit on May 19th, 1889, calling the congregational meeting for Friday, May 31, 1889, and stated that as objection had been urged to the length of the time of the notice for the call of the meeting of May 18th, 1889. The object of this meeting was to take regular action on the citation.

W. H. Rodgers offered the petition and resolution that had been offered to the meeting of May 18, by Mr. Lyons as the answer of the congregation to the resignation of Mr. Hays, and named William Bell, George W. Wilson, W. H. Rodgers, J. F. Stoner, B. F. Burchfield, J. K. Robison, J. S. Law, John Dietrick, R. F. Elliott, J. W. Wagner as commissioners to present the answer to Presbytery.

S. C. Moyer offered an amendment to the Lyons—Rodgers petition and resolution. The amendment which he read was a petition signed by eighty two names of members and contributers to the Westminster Presbyterian Congregation, addressed by Presbytery, asking them to comply with the request of Mr. Hays and dissolve the relation and named A. J. Patterson, D. S. Kloss, Robert McMeen, Frederick Espenschade, James North, Tobias Auker, J. Howard Neely, S. C. Moyer, John Cunningham, William Banks, John Graybill to represent petitioners at Presbytery on June 11th, next. The amendment as read was moved and seconded.

A vote was taken on the amendment, which stood for amendment 39; against amendment 33.

The question then reverted to the original Lyons—Rodgers petition and resolution on which the vote stood for petition and resolution 83, against petition and resolution 39.

Robert McMeen moved the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That in order that a fair state of the Westminster Presbyterian Congregation of Mifflintown be represented before the Presbytery of Huntingdon at its meeting to be held in Altoona, Blair County, Pa., on the 11th of June next. Robert McMeen, J. Howard Neely, William Banks, Tobias Auker, S. B. London be chosen at this meeting as commissioners to represent the elements in this congregation who are in favor of the dissolution of the pastoral relation of Rev. L. Y. Hays with said congregation.

Jeremiah Lyons raised the point of order that the resolution could not be entertained. The moderator decided to entertain it.

The vote for the McMeen resolution stood 39 against, 83 for.

On motion, adjourned.

Everybody in the community who takes notice of the movement of Church affairs are on tip toe for the action of Presbytery and almost everybody in the community is reported to have said something relative to the subject of resignation excepting Mr. Hays, and as far as the public know he has been as silent as the sphinx. Everybody is asking will he stand by his declared purpose of resignation? but no one answers the question.

100 Ladies Wanted.

And 100 men to call on any druggist for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine, the great root and herb remedy, discovered by Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains. For diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys it is a positive cure. For constipation and clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Children like it. Everyone praises it. Large size package, 50 cents. At all druggists.

NOTICE.

Owing to the unusual amount of rain during the month of May, and fearing many persons were disappointed in not getting advantage of the reduction in the price of PHOTOGRAPHS I have concluded to extend the reduction through the month of June. I am now making three new styled Pictures very beautiful all at reduced rates

Respectfully,

JOSEPH HESS.

June 1st 1889.

Forced to Leave Home.

Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated and have headache and an unsightly complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist to-day for a free sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Everyone likes it. Large size package 50 cents.

JUNIATA NEWS.

Well Beauty where are you? Keep your shoulder to the wheel and the chariot will roll along.

The associate young men gave an ice cream party to their friends on Saturday evening, May 25, which was well attended by the young people. The evening was spent in pleasant pastimes after which ice cream and cake were served. Now comes going home. The rains descended and the mud came, and oh those pretty new shoes, how they were pebble dashed with mud. One of the gentlemen hired a cheap boy to clean his shoes. But they all said, don't mind that, think of the fun we're having.

We are glad to know that one of our friends keeps gum coats and umbrellas to loan out on rainy nights. You know what I mean.

T. next time you pass your mother don't hunt the ditch or the supervisor will have you arrested for tramping the ditch full of mud.

Wanted to know who got wet and who did'nt get wet going home from the party.

William Landis & Son brought home a new buggy the other day. Now Aby you can surely make a mash.

Well Levi we are glad to see you see you are overcoming bashfulness. That's right Levi you will be a man yet before your mother.

We are sorry to here that our friend C., walked off the bridge into the water on that dark Saturday night. That's right C., we honor you for the kind act. You were returning from——

Emma Shelly is home from Bucks Co., on account of declining health.

W. how do you like to haul ice cream freezers. They rattle to much for that time of night.

Yank next time you borrow a coat and umbrella take it clear home or next time maybe you can't get it. Don't impose upon good nature.

Misses Kate Hunberger, Annie Landis, Lizzie Shelly, W. F. Longacre, A. A. Landis, J. R. M. Adams and Chas Shearer were the guests of Mrs. Adam Page on Sunday.

Mr. Merideth and family were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Martin.

G O. Detra is attending Normal School in Thompsontown. Principal, Prof. Bucks.

The apple and cherry crop will be s failure in this vicinity this summer. The wheat promises a fair yield. Astonishing how it has gathered up.

S. K., and E. P. S., must have some attraction at Van Wert.

It is a bad thing to think of an overcoat when one is at his destination. Oh well, the buggy spread will do only it is a little thin and chilling on such cool nights. Don't mind that. Think of the fun you are having.

The Juniata S. of V. Drum Corps was making fine preparation for decoration day. That's right boys, rally to do honor to those dead heroes who gave their lives which were as dear and sweet to them as ours are to us. We can never repay them for what they have done. But we can still strew a few roses over their lonely graves to let the world know that we still honor them for the good, the noble and daring deeds they done.

W. F. Longacre presented himself with a new bridle and fly net. Quite an improvement Billy.

I. C. Lantz wears a broad smile. It's a girl.

Mrs David Martin is slowly recovering from a severe attack of Pneumonia.

Mrs. Samuel Groff is on the sick list.

Thos. Rumberger is rapidly repairing his farm. That's right Tommy.

Well beauty we will stop and give all the news. Space and time you want, but do let us have lots of those enterprising and side splitting news. So roll, roll the chariot along.

PAT AND BIDDY.

The Philadelphia Record says: With many persons, next to the natural dread of death itself comes the fear of premature burial. The uncanny mystery surrounding the death of "Mind-reader." Bishop doubtless intensified this feeling; and now, following close upon that event, comes news of two suggestive cases of suspended animation which certainly ought to make apparent the necessity for the adoption of rigid precautions in the matter. The placing of a body in an air-tight casket immediately after apparent dissolution is now an almost universal practice, which, while it may be defended on sanitary grounds, in view of the cases cited may well be looked upon with suspicion.

William Wallace fell from a barn, at New Holland, and struck on a rat-tail file, which entered his forehead and came out near the ear.—Ex.

Contributed.

In the Passaic river near Paterson, N. J., are the Passaic Falls over which quite a number of people have plunged to death, some by allowing their row-boats to come to near the edge of the falls. Some time ago a man getting into the currents above this falls abandoned his boat to swim ashore. After he was out of the boat a shoreward current caught it and took it to shore, but he was taken over the falls and thereby drowned. In fact every few years someone loses life about this falls. On a morning not long since a champion jumper named Brodie stood on a ledge of rocks by the side of the falls 105 feet above the surface of the spray throwing, foaming, roaring waters which are 20 feet deep. He was there for a purpose that was to jump down the 105 feet into the water in the presence of watchers. Some of these witnesses say he had inflated tubes bound around his body that were so arranged that they would "buoy" him up in the water and perhaps in his descent to the water (not positive about the latter.) When Brodie had made himself ready for the trial he was noticed (according to newspaper resorter's accounts published in the papers) to make "the sign of the cross" of Christ (a Catholic sign when made, over the breast.) Then he sprang off the rock and went downward a visible streak of black and red, the colors of his dress, and disappeared in the foam and spray before striking the surface of the main body of water. For thirty seconds he was lost to sight. Then one of the eager watchers saw him coming to the surface and soon the eyes of others saw him. The water then threw him with considerable force against a rock which he took hold of and rested. Then as he was not yet through to safety he left the rock and swam in "the waters that ran like a mill race," caught on another rock, rested again and then swam through the rest of the rushing waters into a large basin of quieter water whence the watchers rescued him. But the real truth of the matter is according to reports Brodie had more than his swimming ability and more than his own body to help him through since he had the inflated tubes to bear him up in the swift mill race like waters and there is no doubt that the inflated tubes helped him even as faith in Christ bound about the heart saves the soul but not the body from death at the appointed time to die. But further "the sign of the cross," made by Brodie across his breast indicates that he possibly has faith in the Father, Son and Spirit, one God in three persons. And this "sign of the cross," is believed in, in the present day by four or more churches at least of Christianity, namely the Protestant Episcopals of America and England, the Roman Catholics, a Lutheran sect of the Swedish nation and the Greek church of Russia, &c. And it can just here be stated that the Catholics make "the sign of the cross, and baptize both adults and infants in the name of the Father, Son and Spirit, but go to extremes on the power of the mother of the Son of God the Virgin Mary and go to extremes on the power of the Pope. The Jacobites a sect of the Greek Church of Russia and nations of northwest Asia in baptizing make "the sign of the cross," on the face and arm and baptize adults and infants. And the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States make "the sign of the cross" at baptism when desired, but it desired also omit this sign at baptism and they baptize either by immersion or by the pouring of water both infants and adults. "The sign of the cross" is made at Baptism by the Episcopaleans in the foreheads of the subjects. The instances of the Episcopaleans, both of the United States and England using "the sign of the cross" prove this sign to be Protestant.

From the Philadelphia Bulletin of May 29: Yesterday a man from Maine who has been trying to get an interview with the President was so shocked that he could not then see him, that he fell dead presumably from heart disease. This was, perhaps, a real case of heart-break, the result of the "hope deferred that maketh the heart sick." Doubtless the poor creature had been looking forward to getting an office and had wasted in Washington much valuable time that might have been employed in honest labor of some kind. It is not common for office hunters to be so sensitive under disappointments, but the case ought to be a warning to the swarm that remain dancing attendance on the White House and the Departments, with the foolish idea that the President has no more important duties to perform than the rewarding of politicians.
