One of the incomprehensible thoughts about the burning of barns, is, "what can induce a man to set fire to the barn of another man when the property is insured?" To burn insured property may inconvenience the owner, but aside from the inconvenience there is no great actual loss, and the wretched incendiary has hastened himself on towards perdition without being able to feel the fiendish delight that he has done the man against whom he harbors malice great financial harm.

Henry Forsha's barn near East Waterford took fire about noon on the 16th inst., while the proprietor was close by. The fire was first seen near the roof, and of course there being no means at hand to extinguish the flames, the large structure with this season's crop of wheat, oats, and hay was consumed. On Saturday previous threshing with a steamer had been engaged in. It is another mysterious fire. The amount of insurance and extent of loss has not been reported at this office.

The Republicans of the Washington territory district composed of the counties of Chehalis, Thurston, Lewis and Mason have nominated our former townsman Mason Irwin, son of Mrs. Jane Irwin, for superior Judge. It is about four years since Mr. Irwin located in Montesano and in that time he has built up a large practice in the law, and possibly it had been better had he refused the nomination. However, as a Republican we wish him success and hope he may be elected to the judgship. The district is said to be almost equally divided politically.

The large barn of Thomas Arbuckle, not far from McCoysville took fire about noon last Thursday, and with this year's grain and hay was destroyed. It is another of the incomprehensible barn fires that have taken place within this county within the past few weeks. Building and contents were burned. Two strange men on the premises after nightfall on Wednesday caused a watch to be placed on the building that night and on Thursday till noon. The watch was scarcely withdrawn till the fire broke out. Mr. Arbuckle is an aged man and it will greatly inconvenience him.

Half Rates to the National Capital via the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Apart from a Presidential inauguration no more brilliant event has ever occurred in Washington than the triennial conclave of Knights of Templar from October 8th to 11th, 1889. Every three years this event attracts the attention of the country to some city, but for many years past Western cities have enjoyed the honor. Washington is now the favored point, and it may well be said that no city in the world is better adapted to such a purpose. Wide avenues hedged by handsome buildings form a back ground for a grand spectacular display, that cannot be surpassed in America. It will be a gala week in the Capital and thousands of people will go to witness it.

In order that every inducement may be offered the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will reduce its rates to Washington on this occasion by one-half. This company will sell excursion tickets to Washington from all ticket stations on its lines, October 8th, 9th, 10th, and 11th, valid for return October 31st, 1889, at one fare for the round trip.

On the return trip a stop-off, within the limit will be allowed at Baltimore, Wilmington, Philadelphia, Trenton, Harrisburg, Williamsport, Elmira, Emporium, Corry, according to the route of the traveller.

Agents will furnish specific rates on application.

$200 REWARD.

The Juniata Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company will pay a reward of $200 for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons guilty of burning buildings insured by said Company.

PUBLIC SALE.

M. L. Keiser will sell at the residence of Jonathan Keiser, in Delaware township, at 1 o'clock P. M., on Friday, October 4th, 1889, seventy-four Cotswold, Southdown, and Oxfordown ewes, two fine Cotswold bucks, one extra fine Sherpshire buck. This is a fine lot of large strong ewes. Four or more young cattle. A credit of 12 months will be given on all sums over five dollars.

Excursion Tickets to the State and County Fair at York.

The Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society having joined forces with the York County Agricultural Society, the united bodies will hold a joint exhibition at York, beginning September 30th and continuing until October 5th. The York fair by itself is one of our best exhibitions, and reinforced by that of the State it will undoubtedly be an extensive and interesting exposition of the products of Pennsylvania.

For the benefit of visitors the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to York from principal stations within the State, September 28th to October 5th, valid for return until October 7th at reduced rates.

PORT ROYAL FAIR.

Port Royal Fair came and went its way last week, and lives only in the recollection of the attendants and on the books of the Association. The time for the fair was favorable in ordinary seasons, for the most of farmers are through seeding by the middle of September, but in a wet season like this has been the greater part of the sowing was to do when fair time came along and of course farmers would not drop the important work of seeding to go to the fair, and that reason also held good as to the withholding of entries of farm products for exhibition.

THE EXHIBITION

amounted to 12 cattle, 12 sheep, 3 hogs, 8 horses and colts, a small amount of poultry and a litter of kittens, several pieces of machinery, a few corn stalks, several specimen of potatoes, a few bushels of grain, some garden truck, and a fine display of household finery by the ladies, some musical instruments, several sets of harness, and a display of stationary.

THE GROUNDS

are attractive and trees have been planted about the buildings, which in a few years will add still more to the attractions so that it will for years to come be a choice spot for the holding of re-unions such as was witnessed last THURSDAY.

Thursday was the great day. The weather cleared on Wednesday and produced breezy, bracing weather for the middle day of the week, and people took advantage of the middle day and by the hundreds hastened to the SHOW GROUNDS.

It was a show to see the people, and that in a measure compensated for the lack of agricultural exhibits, and in addition to the multitude there was a real show on the ground that gave cow boy and Indian life exhibitions. The showmen hung an imaginary horse thief, burnt out and killed an imaginary settler, and indulged in sundry other performances, which a company of young men from the farms of Juniata Co., could do a great deal better after a course of 10 or 12 days practice, excepting perhaps the shooting of the glass balls and the throwing of the lasso. The Colonel certainly is a good shot at bringing down glass balls, but he was no more expert than his daughter. Old Pennsylvania frontier men used to "snuff the candle" at the distance of a hundred yards; and longer ago than that Robin Hood could shoot twigs off rods away; and William Tell shot an apple off the head of his son, all of which proves that Pawnee Bill's show is not a newer thing than the deeds of men of past days, and not newer than the old circus. However, all of his performances were well executed. Perhaps, next year the management will have a circus for the season.

GAMBLERS

were there in large number, and the sweat cloth that the old soldier says was brought into requisition after every pay day in the army was to be met with in a number of places, and many are they who were fleeced of hard earnings, the wheel, the pendulum, the three ball, and whip, gamblers with other devices were allowed to play their arts on those who love to gamble and on the unsuspecting and easily tempted. It was a rich harvest for the gamblers on Thursday and a hard day on the pocket-books of many who needed their money for their families the coming winter, and the initial step at a game of chance on the part of many young men that will lead them, no one knows where. When the management opened their grounds to the admission of the practice of gambling they forgot the Divine injunction, "lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil," and they presumed upon the forebearance of an indulging public, and the mildness of the present District Attorney. The admission of gamblers to play their arts is denounced from all sides.

THE RACES.

Wednesday's race was postponed till Saturday on account of the bad weather.

Judge Woods of Perry county, David Rice of Perry county, and M. J. Kirk of Juniata, each entered a horse for the running race. The race awakened a great deal of interest and was won by Judge Wood's horse. Premium, one hundred dollars.

The trotting race two-forty class, was won by T. J. Middagh's Lady Upton. Premium, two hundred dollars.

The trotting race two-thirty class, was won by T. J. Middagh's General Schuyler. Premium, two hundred dollars.

The races on Friday, were won by T. J. Middagh's horses.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle Free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.
