Last of the Season's Popular $10 Excursions to the Sea via the Pennsylvania Railroad.

On Thursday, August 24th, the only remaining cheap rate to Atlantic City, Ocean City, Cape May, or Sea Isle City will be run by the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

The rate of $10 from Pittsburg, and correspondingly reduced rates from other points offer a rare opportunity for a most economical trip to anyone of the above mentioned prominent watering-places. The tickets are good for return passage within 12 days, thus giving ample time for a pleasant sojourn on the shores of the Atlantic.

The large number of people availing themselves of this really extraordinary offer on the previous runs of the same series vouches for the satisfaction and popularity which these low rate sea shore excursions meet at the hands of the people.

The special train will leave Pittsburg at 8.50 A. M., arriving at Philadelphia a little after 7 in the evening. The night may be spent in the Quaker City, and any regular train taken the next day for the shore.

The rates apply on regular trains leaving Pittsburg at 4.30, 7.00, and 8.10 P. M., or on special train leaving at 8.50 A. M., on the above mentioned date.

The special train will be run on the following schedule, and the tickets will be sold at the rates quoted:—

A Pleasant Susprise.

A pleasant event that marks a gladsome period in the life of many citizens of this town was the reception at the home of Colonel John J. Patterson on the evening of the 8th of August. It was a susprise organized by W. H. Rollman and Ferd Meyers and a score and more of the Colonel's business associates in the important railway enterprise of connecting Harrisburg, Lancaster and Philadelphia by an electric passenger railway system, that will speed its cars at 40 to 60 miles an hour. The Colonel's friends met in the parlor of the Jacobs House at 7:30 p. m. and formed in procession and walked to his home but a short distance down the street. The Colonel has not in many days looked as well as he did that evening when he shook hands with the long line of friends as they passed through the front sitting room to the library, and there formed a circle in the center of which stood Robert McMeen ready to deliver the presentation speech and on his right stood Wm. Rollman and Ferd Meyers holding a solid silver cigar box containing 50 havana cigars. The Colonel stood at the sitting room door facing the presentation committee.

MR. MCMEEN said:

MR. PATTERSON, These friends have taken to themselves the pleasure to call upon you this evening and express their congratulations upon the return of your natal day, and to express also the earnest and good wishes of the occasion. They congratulate you that this birth-day finds you sound in body and mind, possessed of your old time zest in things social and fully armed for the performance of the onerous business engagements you have at heart. Your friends come thus informally, presuming rightly from long knowledge of your generous nature, that they give no offense. They know that your door has ever stood ajar to receive on equal terms every one of solid worth, and they desire to suggest that you tarry amongst them now for awhile, take to yourself a respite from business cares and give them the pleasure of your companionship.

They recall the manly business example you have always shown in your residence here, another fact that every municipal enterprise which has been established here in recent years has either been of your suggestion primarily, or has received your active and valued support. They recall that your whole life and its best energies have been mostly employed, for the benefit of others, and they are not willing that this suitable occasion shall pass without some sensative expression of their realization and appreciation of these facts.

They hear with pleasure of the financial success which has attended the many courageous business ventures you have made in hand. They observe the valued places you occupy among men of the highest technical education in this country, as an authority on the practical application of lightning to the uses of man, and they know something of the guarantee of solidity your name associated with an enterprise furnishes to financial people. Seven cities of the ancient world contended for the honors of Homer's birth. It may be said that more than seven cities in these modern days and new country owe the creation of much of their wealth and best internal improvements to your skill and energy, in organizing and developing electric passenger railways. They see you in comfortable home belongings, well organized family and hosts of friends, and they are inclined to characterize you in Ben Johnson's lines as:

"One whose even thread the Fates spin round and full,
Out of their choicest, and their whitest, wool."

They hear you in their orisons, and bespeak for you many auspicious returns of this natal day—health of body, vigor of mind, home comforts, troops of friends and years of profitable toil.

And now your friends ask you to receive this memento to mark the occasion, as giving somewhat of material emphasis to their feelings. Our hope is that there may be communicated to you and yours in receiving some share of the pleasure, also, which we experience in giving, and that the blessing may be equal to him that takes and him that gives. This use of a brief space of time is, we think, of service to all, and comes next to blessed sleep as chief nourisher in life's feast. It intoxicates the mind with forgetfulness of the bondage of business, soothes the fever of care and lightens the burden of our daily toil. In coming days the memento will suggest this occasion. We wish for you many returns of the day of your birth, under the most propitious conditions, and that every such occasion may find you with your eye not dim nor your natural force abated.

Upon the conclusion of the speech Mr. Rollman and Mr. Meyers stepped foward and presented the handsome silver box.

The Colonel received the present and made an appropriate reply in which for a time he showed considerable emotion but soon recovered himself and expressed the highest appreciation over the demonstration of his friends and said he valued them higher than popular applause. The enterprises of the day in which they are interested, may not materialize in fabulous fortunes, but surely they will realize eight per cent. as Farmer Young said he did in farming. Being asked how such a thing could be Young said: "I get about two per cent. in money from my farms and 6 per cent. in pleasure."

This was also the occasion of the Colonel's 63rd birth day, and his daughter Mary and son Silas invited a number of friends, and the two companies made an event long to be remembered.

The Port Royal Band was stationed in the yard and rendered sweet music that brought many men, women and children to that neighborhood. Appetizing refreshments were served. The company gradually dispersed to their respective homes to dream in the early morning of speeches, railroads, dancing and music, good supper and of Colonel Patterson's hospitality.

The Mrs. Gallagher house built by Dr. Thomas Elder about a dozen years ago, was sold on Saturday at Administrator's sale, to Ferd Meyers for two thousand dollars.

Harriet E. Hall of Waynetown, Ind., says: "I owe my life to the great South American Nervine. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted Stomach, Indigestion, Nervous prostration and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I cannot recommend it to highly." Sold by L. Banks & Co., Druggist, Mifflintown, Pa. Feb. 9 '93, 1y.
