as may be brought before it.

M. S. QUAY,

Chairman State Committee. Philadelphia, June 9, 1879.

-Hot Springs has a counterpart of the Beecher-Tilton case. The Rev. Henry Butler, a negro, is the accused elergyman, and the woman, after making a written confession to her husband, denied its truth. There is to be a church trial.

-An earthen bowl, filled with rice and fish, with four lighted candles stuck into it, and the whole surmounted by a calf's head, was found on the stoop of a New Orleans house. Somebody had undertaken to put the inmates under a voudoo spell.

-James Murphy betrayed his pals in a Texas stage robbery three months ago. Apprehending revenge, he afterward voluntarily slept in jail, and went heavily armed by day; but his precautions were not sufficient, and he has been killed with poison.

-The safe in the Arlington mill at Lawrence, Mass., was opened in the night, three months ago, and $4,5000 stolen. Paymaster Wainwright was of a Young Men's Christian Association, and he was compelled to resign barrels. At pump station No. 2 there is ust 26, 1863, from D. Kingsbury and J. Hyda page 1864, from D. Hyda page 1864, just been detected.

-A lady of Augusta, Ga., died not gaining the case.

robbed of their money and valuables and the mail sacks were cut open and terminus. their contents thrown on the road, the robbers taking the registered packages. Having made a successful clean-up, the robbers allowed the coach to proceed on its northern journey.

-Allen's barn was burned at Sono ra. O., and it was believed that Minnich and Willis kindled the fire. Allen and some of his friends dug a grave, carried the suspected men to it. made them kneel at the side of the hole, held guns to their heads, and commanded them to confess. However, this treatment did not extort a fined $100 for outrage. A few Dayton boys, having heard of the Sonora affair, took even more cruel measures to make a playfellow confess some triffing offence. They held his bare feet close to a flame until the soles were badly burned.

-- There is a story that a wealthy Chicago merchant lately prevented the breaking of his will by calling his relatives about his death-bed and getting them to make affidavit before a notary that he was competent to make a will. After the funeral it was found that all the property was given to a lunatic asylum. Then the heirs tried to have the will set aside by showing that though sane at the last, in 1875 when the will was made he was raving mad. Thereupon the executor produced a will exactly like the first, except that it was signed and witnessed a few minutes before the affidavits as to the testator's sanity was taken.

-Norman Spencer stole $17,500 from the Pennsylvania Oil Company, that employed him as book-keeper, and fled to the Scuthwest. The robbery was carefully planned, and the thief's intention was to take a new name, settle down as a planter, and marry the Ti tusville girl to whom he had long been engaged. She knew all about this ingly followed the wrong woman, ton, Texas, an fallen in love with national government than that the rights of states will be encroached siring to marry her, he wrote to the
