SENTINEL & REPUBLICAN

MIFFLINTOWN.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 23, 1894.

B. F. SCHWEIER,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

SCOTLAND enjoyed the luxery of a May snow storm on Saturday.

THE Wilson tariff bill has raised a nice bribery scandal among the democrats in Washington.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND was fishing last week at an expense to government of one hundred and sixty dollars a day.

The one hundred and forty-seventh Annual Convention of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania, met in Philadelphia last week.

A BAPTIST congregation and a Presbyterian congregation in Rochester, N. Y., have no longer one communion cup. Each individual has a cup of their own into which the wine is poured.

Col. Breckinridge seems fated to have a time with the women. He had no more than got rid of Madeline Pollard till other women in Kentucky started after him with a determination to put him out of the church, keep him from getting back to Congress, &c. The Col. certainly has a time with the women.

THE United States Senate just now is in a slough of charges from which it is proposed to extricate it by an investigation. It was charged all along during the winter that certain Senators had been bribed by the sugar trust, and that a gift of five hundred thousand dollars by the trust for the domocratic campaign fund had bound the democratic Senators to vote just as the trust desired them to vote. Now there is another charge that certain Senators were offered twenty-five thousand dollars each to vote against the present tariff bill, and that the protectionists have raised a fund of five hundred thousand dollars to be used in the prevention of the passage of the Wilson Tariff bill.

Everlasting Silence

THE democrats were disposed to criticise Senators Cameron and Quay for their silence in the Senate, attributing it to their inability to talk. They never gave the Senators credit with the fact they did not waste time and money in idle speech. During the past session however the erring brethren have changed their minds as to the linguistic ability of the Pennsylvania Senators. Cameron gave them such a dose on the ills of their tariff and silver tinkering in a speech that for terseness and clearness and force of expression that cannot be excelled and is hard to equal, and Quay has so riddled them with a protective tariff speech that it is a full text book on the subject to which it is addressed. The democracy have relapsed into a state of everlasting silence on the question of the silent Senators of Pennsylvania.

Singular Accident

The Bloomfield Democrat of May 16, records a singular accident as follows:—The foot log at Comp's crossing, in Juniata township, broke last Sunday with several folks upon it who were going home from Walnut Grove church, Luckily only one end of the log went down, falling about 15 feet. J. L. Hutchison, leading his little boy, was foremost and happened to be only about a step from where it broke and consequently got the hardest fall alighting on stones and was immersed in water. A daughter of D. S. Barrack and a little daughter of Austin Dimm also fell the whole distance, into about two or three feet of water, but they escaped uninjured. J. L. Hutchison had one hip bruised and foot sprained. The boy complained that his back was hurt. Mr. T. B. Campbell was there with horse and cart and kindly gave it to haul the crippled home. Mrs Dimm was also on the log that broke, but so far back that she was not jolted off. Several ladies and children were back yet and also Mr. Dimm who was carrying a smaller child. When he saw his daughter fall he sat the child down and ran into the creek to rescue the girl that was lying under two or three feet of water. The Barrick girl alighted on her feet and was not hurt, but scared and drenched. It caused a good deal of excitement. The log was rotten and went down with a sudden crash.

* * * The same paper of the same date records two singular fires thus:

On last Wednesday about 3 o'clock Mr. Solomon Bower of Jackson Twp., was sitting on his porch. He told his son's wife, Mrs. Annie Bower, that he smelled smoke. On going around the house she discovered that the pantry attached to the back part of the house was all ablaze. By the heroic efforts of the women and Mr. David Stambaugh who saw the smoke, the fire was extinguished. Had the main building not been a stone structure the entire building would have been consumed. The fire originated from a spark from the flue of the kitchen attached, occupied by Mr. Clark Bower. * * * On last Thursday as Mrs. Daniel Sheaffer was baking and doing some ironing, she discovered that a market-basket that was hanging on a hook near the upper corner of the window about 16 feet from the stove, and on fire and burning rapidly. She ran out to the well for water and called for help. When they got the fire extinguished it had burned one-half of the basket and about one-half of the window blind off the window. A large coal-oil can with oil was standing on the window. In a few minutes more it would have exploded, which would have caused a terrible conflagration. The mystery is how did the basket get on fire? It was empty, quite a distance from the stove and no other person or children about the house.

GENTLE RAIN—HIGH WATER.

The gentle rain that began to fall on Wednesday, and over which every one rejoiced on account of its value to suffering vegetation turned out to be a public terror on account of its continuance on through the week, till on Sunday, by which time it had become a rain of destruction to high land and low land. The former land which had been plowed for oats and corn was furrowed and torn into gullies through which tons of valuable soil was carried into the streams and washed to lower levels. A great deal of corn was washed out and considerable replanting will have to be done.

Many low land grass fields were washed over and this summer's hay crop destroyed. The wheat that stood so nicely previous to the rain was beaten almost flat to the ground. In the river rushed a flood that has only been equaled in the knowledge of the white man, by the floods of 1847 and 1889. From away beyond Altoona down the stream a hundred miles rushed the flood. The handsome park between Altoona and Hollidaysburg was almost demolished. Nearly all the road bridges across the river from Altoona to Lewistown were swept away or partly swept away. The plank were taken off the Lewistown bridge on Sunday, and loaded cars were placed on the railroad bridge at that place. The farms along the river were all flooded to the great destruction of fences, and out-buildings. In this county the Espenschade and Herning and Stambaugh lands north of town were flooded, and part of the Island at this place was covered with water. The Island people came off in boats about 4 P. M., on Sunday Strayer, north of town had his buildings tied. So had Penny, Sweitzer and Singer, and all vacated their homes except Singer. The water did not quite reach the first floor in Singer's house, and their experience was the experience of hundreds of others along the river. Patterson people were in a State of terror all Sunday night till about three o'clock on Monday morning when the water began to fall. By daylight it had fallen and the people began to feel more cheerful. The dam of Samuel Ard's mill in Milford township, washed out on Sunday afternoon. The water was within four feet of the river bridge at this place. Great concern was expressed for the bridges. Had they gone away they could not have been replaced by the county for the limit of indebtedness on a fictitiously high valuation has already been reached. The public mind in this town was so wrought up by the flood that the attendance at church on Sabbath evening was small. There were 25 present at preaching in the Presbyterian church, 29 in the Methodist church, and services were entirely dispensed with by the Lutherans. People gathered at the river, and all kinds of rumors and reports floated about among them as that much flood gossip to whet their curiosity and anxiety.

If the county bridges had teeth, it would be said of them "they escaped by the skin of their teeth." Old Port Royal bridge had four feet in it, dead back water from the river. The Amen bridge at McCulloch's Mills across Licking Creek had 3 feet of water in it, and the Groninger bridge across Tuscarora creek withstood a regular bombardment of logs and general drift. Some of the logs shot clean through it. The most of them were driven by the current under the bridge. The Port Royal bridge is standing, but canal bridge connection with this side of the river is gone. Mexico and Thompsontown bridges are all right. A small county bridge at Stambaugh's across the pike in Fermanagh township was swept away. In the west end of the county a number of township bridges went with the flood. The rains were more frequent in that part of the country, with shorter intervals than in the middle and east end of the county.

There was a washout of the T. V. R. R at Waterford and Bealetown.

The flood down the Conemaugh swept the streets of Johnstown, and awakened painful recollections of the flood of 1889, and on the west branch of the Susquehanna at Lock Haven and Williamsport the flood almost equalled the flood of five years ago.

POSTPONED.

The Christian Endeavor Convention to have been held at McCulloch's Mills on May 22nd, was postponed because of the flood, and will be held on Tuesday, May 29, at 10 A. M., 2 P. M., and 7.30. The T. V. R. R, will have been repaired by that time, and will be ready to accommodate all who desire to go to the convention.

Comrades:—The time is again approaching when the memory of our dead comrades presses upon us with increasing force, and the reviving beauties of nature remind us that we should make bright with flowers and green with the laurel emblems of victory the graves of our beloved comrades who stood with us around the fire of battle, and lay with us in bivouac beneath the canopy of Heaven, who shared with us the elation of victory and the depression of defeat, and who, answering the last roll call here, have gone to join the Grand Army of the dead, leaving their ashes to rest beneath the mounds in quiet church yards, which we may strew with tokens of our rememberance of their fraternity to us, their charity to our faults and their loyalty to their country and flag.

The why and wherefore.

There is nothing marvelous in the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla should cure so many diseases. When you remember that a majority of the disorders "flesh is heir to" are due to impure or poisonous condition of the blood, and that Hood's Sarsaparilla is an effective and radical blood purifier, the whole thing is explained.

Besides its blood purifying qualities, Hood's Sarsaparilla also contains the best known vegetable, stomach tonics, diuretics, kidney remedies and liver invigorants, and is thus an excellent specific for all disorders of these organs, as well as for low condition of the system, or that Tired Feeling.

If nominated and elected, I pledge myself to do the best for my constituents that lies in my power. I will not be able to make a personal canvass owing to matters over which I have no control, but with which the public at large are familiar. I therefore leave my interests in the hands of my friends.
