Republican Party's Birthday.

The suggestion of the Union Republican Club, of Washington, D. C., that there be a celebration this year of the fortieth anniversary of the birth of the Republican party ought to meet with general favor among Republicans. If there is to be any general observance of of the day it ought to be held on February 22. On that day of that month in 1857 took place the first national gathering of Republicans which ever met. It assembled in Pittsburg in obedience to a call of the chairman of the Republican State Committees of Maine, Vermont, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin. As is true, of course of all political parties, the Republican party had State before it had a national organization. The Pittsburg gathering, which was attended by representatives of the party from twenty-four States, framed a national organization for the party, and the National Committee then chosen called the Philadelphia Convention of July 17, 1857, which made John C. Fremont the party's standard-bearer for President.

The impulse, of course, which led to the formation of the party, was generated by the Kansas-Nebraska bill signed by President Pierce, May 30, 1854, opening the territories north of the Missouri line of 36-30 to slavery, which forced all the enemies of slavery extension—Abolitionists, Free Soilers, anti-slavery Whigs and anti-slavery Democrats into the combination which took the name of the Republican party. The Republican name was adopted in Ripon, Wis., as early as March, 1854, before the Kansas bill passed, but when its enactment was seen to be inevitable. Michigan, however, has the honor of holding the first State gathering that selected that name, which met July 6, 1854. As before mentioned, the first national gathering of the party was that which met in Pittsburg on February 22, 1856. The fortieth anniversary of the party's birth will be at hand in a little over two weeks, and Republican clubs throughout the country should take steps to bring about an appropriate observance of the occasion.

The Legislature of Kentucky has been trying to elect a United States Senator for some time. At several sessions Hunter, Rep., came within a few votes of being elected. The vote of Wednesday was Hunter, 62; Blackburn, 61, scattering 9.

The heavy rains and snow of last week, in the eastern part of the State caused many streams to overflow, and a great deal of damage was done. The storm in New York damaged a great deal of property, and many accidents were reported; two deaths occurred in Brooklyn.

A bill to establish a National Adjustment Board, for the purpose of seeking to get the United States Goverment to pay for slaves freed by the war, one-half to go to the former owner, and the other half to the ex-slave, was introduced in the Virginia Legislature last week.

Washington Notes.

In the Senate Friday, Mr. Hale introduced a bill making February 12, President Lincoln's birthday anniversary, a National holiday.

Last Thursday Congressman Phillips introduced a bill in the House granting two condemned cannons and 50 cannon balls to A. G. Reed Post G. A. R. also a bill to granting a pension of $12 per month to Elizabeth Martin of this place, a grand daughter of a Revolutionary soldier.

The Red Lake and White Earth Indian reservations, comprising about a million acres, forming part of the old Chippewa reservation in Minnesota, will be opened fer settlement on May 1, by a proclamation to be issued.

On Monday Congressman Phillips offered a bill in the House entitled "A bill for the coinage of silver dollars restricted only by the law of supply and demand, and to maintain the parity of gold and silver without loss to the government." It provides that owners of silver produced in the United States may deposit it in the mints and receive its market value on the day of deposit in standard silver dollars, a sufficient amount of the bullion to be coined for this purpose under the act of 1873. The secretary of the treasury is to fix the market price of silver bullion, and he cannot be compelled to have on hand at any time more than 25,000,000 ounces of silver. All United States and treasury notes and silver certificates under $5 are to be redeemed in notes of higher denominations and destroyed. When the silver dollars fall below par they are to be redeemed in gold until they return to par and the purchase of bullion silver shall be suspended in the interim. The seigniorage is to be used in bringing this about.

A shrewd boy in a downtown office in New York made $6,000 on an expenditure of 2 cents. The lad took advantage of the weakness in Secretary Carlisle's bond issue notice, and now he is wealthy according to the small boy's standard. When he read the bond notice he saw his opportunity, and put in a bid for $150,000 of the bonds at a price which insured an award to him. He sold his right to receive the bonds for $6,000. The only expense he incurred was 2 cents for a postage stamp to send his bid to Washington.

Last week Governor Hastings appointed W. C. Sproul of Chester and H. B. Richards of Easton, commissioners from this State to the Mexican Exposition, to be held in the City of Mexico, next summer.

In the judgment of the United States Board of Engineers which investigated the subject, it will cost $133,472,893 to construct the Nicaraguan canal. This is $64,000,000 in excess of the estimates of the company which now holds a charter from Nicaragua to build the waterway. For obtaining the necessary data for the formation of a canal project eighteen months' time and $350,000 will be required. The most serious problem affecting the construction of the canal is the rainfall. A record of nearly 25 feet of water in a year on the Carribean coast diminished to 5½ feet between the lake and the Pacific indicates the important results that must ensue with reference to local drainage and engineering construction. The report of the board, which consisted of Lieut. Col. William Ludlow, U. S. A.; Mordecai Endicott, civil engineer, U. S. N.; and Alfred Noble, civil engineer, was sent by President Cleveland to the House.

The Attorney-General has brought suit against 177 corporations for being delinquent on State tax. Other suits will be brought soon also, and a special term of court will be set for their hearing.
