HERALD & EXPOSITOR

CARLISLE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, May 17, 1843.

☞ V. B. Palmer, Esq., No. 104, South Third Street, Philadelphia, is authorized to act as Agent, for procuring subscriptions and advertisements for the Carlisle Herald, and give receipts for the same.

First Page.

☞ A deeply interesting story of love and the "end of the world," will be found on our first page, from the pen of Mr. Chandler, Editor of the Pennsylvania U. S. Gazette.

Borough Tax Suspended!

☞ We are informed that by a late resolution of our borough Council, the collection of the Borough Tax for the present year is suspended—the amount of money in the Treasury being sufficient to meet the current expenses without the aid of Taxes.

President Durbin's Travels.

As all intelligence relative to the tour of our esteemed fellow-citizen, Rev. J. P. Dunbin, is received here with the warmest interest, we are happy to be able to publish the following notice of his travels, which has been kindly furnished us. Several letters have lately been received from him—the last from Smyrna, dated April 8th—from which we learn, that after visiting the most interesting objects in Egypt, he followed the route of the Israelites to Sinai. Thence under the protection and guidance of an Arab escort, he crossed the Desert to Palestine—visiting, in the way, Akabah, from the neighborhood of which the ships of Solomon were wont to sail for "gold, silver, ivory, apes and peacocks"—Mount Hor, where Aaron died in the presence of Moses and Eleazer, and where his tomb is still preserved with reverence—and near it the "tomb girt" city of Petra. Arrived at Palestine, he stood at Beersheba, by the wells which Abraham digged—at Hebron, looked in upon the cave of Mucphelah, the burying-place of the Patriarch and his family, now inclosed in a Turkish mosque, which "Christian dogs" are not allowed to enter. Thence he passed by Bethlehem to Jerusalem. From the holy city, he rambled over the most interesting portions of Palestine, not without danger, as the country is a very unsettled state. He visited Bethel, where God appeared to Jacob—Shiloh, where the ark long rested—Sychem, where the bones of Joseph were buried, having been bro't out of Egypt—and, where our Lord held the conversation with the woman of Samaria.

He then proceeded he Mount Tabor, Nazareth, Mount Carmel and Acre, to Tyre and Sidon, now miserable little towns, and thence to Beyrout. He next visited Damascus, by the way of the mountains of Lebanon; thence to Baibec, the ruins of which he tho't to exceed any he had before seen in extent and grandeur, some of the blocks of stone being sixty-seven feet long and twelve feet thick! Returning to Beyrout, he sailed in a Steam-boat to Smyrna, which he reached on the 8th of April, the date of his last letter, having touched in his course at the islands of Cyprus, Rhodes and Patmos. At Smyrna he expected to be detained some time in quarantine.—After that he designed to visit the seat of the seven churches mentioned in the Revelations; then Constantinople and Greece, and afterwards to return home by the way of England.

If not detained by the quarantine, which are so vexatiously frequent and protracted in Eastern countries, he may be expected home by the College Commencement on the 13th of July next; when we doubt not he will be greeted with a hearty welcome by his fellow-citizens, and especially by the members of the institution over which he has so long and ably presided, and which may expect to derive additional advantages from the stores of knowledge which he has accumulated during his interesting tour.

It is a pleasing evidence of the present facilities of intercourse between remote nations, that of the numerous letters which President Durbin has written home, not one is known to have miscarried; and that the last which were mailed at Smyrna not earlier than the 8th of April, reached this country on the 12th of May!

More Borough Notes.

☞ The people of the borough of York have decided upon an emission of small notes by their Council, and the Gettysburg Star is advising the people of that borough to do likewise. The contagion is spreading; and we need not be surprised to see every borough in the State following the example. The truth is, the unexampled contraction of the currency has made people desperate, and they are determined to have money, no matter how trashy it is. These evils are but a part of the fulfilment of Whig prophecy.

The Lumber Business.

The editor of the Harrisburg Telegraph states that on Saturday last, there was a continuous chain of rafts, in some places two and three abreast, lying along the east bank of the river, above and below that borough, a distance of eighteen miles!

Concentration of Loco Focoism!

☞ The Keystone, Reporter and Gazette of Harrisburg, are to be united upon the 1st of June, in order to concentrate all the power and energy of "democracy" in one mighty sheet, which is to be conducted à la the Richmond Enquirer.—They'll have to get Ritchie to edit it then. "None but himself can be his parallel."

☞ E. W. Hutter, deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, has resigned his office. He gets a great deal of praise for his disinterestedness, but we think his motive lay in the fact that rats always leave a sinking ship."

☞ The Presbyterian Church in Norristown was entered by some villains on the night of the 4th inst. and robbed of a quantity of stair carpeting and an elegant Bible.

☞ The "Maryland Gazette," is the title of a new paper just established at Cumberland, Md.—It is published by Messrs. Steck & Smith, and carries the free-trade flag of John C. Calhoun for the Presidency. In the Editor's language, his paper is to be "a medium through which the bright and diversified rays of Democracy are to be shed abroad," and besides being a "useful, operable and efficient member of the inestimable principles of the party," he intends it shall be followed by a "faithful detail of passing events." Little Gratz, which is the seat of the county Seat, is right second manufacturing town in the county, Cumberland being the first. [illegible] the quarter of the "city" [illegible]

☞ [illegible] Esq., formerly of Philadelphia, [illegible] stating that he has taken a farm in Illinois, to which place he intends to remove in the spring. We hope the loss of Lodge may be supplied with a good Democrat.

Temperance Beverage!

☞ We observe that our different Druggists in town have their Mineral Water Fountains erected, in preparation for the warm weather. Our friend Mr. Elliott invited us a day or two ago to partake of a foaming glass from his fountain, which we thought of unsurpassed excellence. When such pure, refreshing and healthful beverages are to be had, what folly and infatuation it is to "put an enemy into the mouth" in the shape of champagne or mint juleps, "to steal away the brains!"

☞ Let no one be deterred by its length from reading the article headed Whig Prophecy, in today's paper. Never was there a more striking or literal fulfilment of prophecy, than the present condition of this country, as predicted eight years ago by the sagacious Statesmen then in Congress.

Government Robbery!

☞ A clerk in the Treasury Department at Washington, named R. P. Dowden, has been arrested and held to bail, for trial, charged with the abstraction of five $100 Treasury notes. Dowden had been employed in the work of cancellation of Treasury notes which had been returned, and whilst engaged in this duty abstracted five of them and sent them to a woman in Baltimore to have them passed. She failed in the attempt, and the fraud was thus detected.

☞ The Legislature of Connecticut went into session at Hartford on Wednesday last.

☞ The Harrisburg Reporter says the bill passed by the legislature, providing for the annual expenditures of the State government, has not yet been signed by the Governor. In the meantime none of the laborers on the public works can be paid, or at least are not.

Late from Europe.

The steamer Great Western arrived at New York on Friday, in 12½ days from Liverpool.

Her Majesty Queen Victoria has graced the British Nation with another Princess. This event took place on the 25th of April.

The Duke of Sussex, uncle of the Queen, and fifth son of George III., died on the 21st, aged 70 years. He was a great patron of learning and science during his life.

The Volunteer's Position!

☞ The Harrisburg Reporter, which used to place great reliance in the Volunteer's "democracy," now says that it "supports the Governor in a modified form." Our neighbour's position is no position at all—he is a good deal like that little "speckled pig" in the anecdote, which the boy when counting the pigs, told his master "run round so all the time that he could n't count him at all!"

The State Printer.

☞ Attorney General Johnson has given his opinion that the election of Isaac G. M'Kinley, as State Printer, by the legislature, was invalid and that the Governor ought not to approve his bond. Gov. Porter's Vetoes don't meet with quite as much approbation from the Locos now as they used to do!

Destruction of Relief Notes.

The State Treasurer gives notice that on the 29th inst., in compliance with the act of the 8th April, $50,000 of relief notes were cancelled and delivered to the Auditor General for the purpose of being destroyed. They were of the following banks—

| | |
|---|---|
| Berks County Bank, | $16,362 |
| Molyamensing Bank, | 8,430 |
| Manufacturers & Mechanics' Bank, | 6,560 |
| Towanda Bank, | 6,400 |
| Penn Township Bank, | 5,958 |
| West Branch Bank, | 4,474 |
| Erie Bank, | 1,816 |
| | $50,000 |

The Baltimore Sun says:—'Every dollar judiciously paid paid for advertising, will yield a clear profit of five dollars to persons in almost any kind of business.'

A fact that the merchants and people of this county generally, and many from Philadelphia, have long since found out, as the columns of the Herald have testified. We owe some acknowledgements to our friends, for their discrimination, and for the very large and regular advertising patronage with which the Herald has been favored. The Herald circulates among a class of readers before whom advertisers are interested in displaying their offers.
