Newspaper Laws.

1. A postmaster is required to give notice by letter, (returning a paper does not answer the law) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reasons for its not being taken; any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for the payment.

2. Any person who takes a paper from the postoffice, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not is responsible for the pay.

3. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publishers may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether it be taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until the payment is made.

4. If the subscriber orders his paper to stop at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send, the subscriber is bound to pay for it, if he takes it out of the post-office. The law proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take a newspaper and peri-odicals from the post-office or remov-ing and having them uncalled for, is prima facia evidence of intentional

A CURIOUS FREAK OF NATURE.-A cow owned by Mrs. Burk, who resides on Chase street, recently gave birth to a calf which is one of the wonders of the nineteenth century. It has only three legs, the left fore leg being the missing member. But the strange part of the story is that now, after five days have elasped since it was born, it is as hearty and gets around on its three legs as lively and nimbly as any four-leggedealf that evercame to dwell upon this mundane sphere. The calf is perfect in every respect, with the exception as above stated. It is now the property of Mr. J. B. Miller, the butcher, who announces his intention of raising and exhibiting it as a living curiosity. It can be seen at his barn, in the rear of his residence on Chase street.-Kane Blade.
