DEATH, FROM EATING MATCHES.—Under our obituary head will be found a notice of the death of a young daughter of Mr. Henry S. Myers, of Fayetteville, under peculiar and distressing circumstances. On Friday last the child was in its usual health. When Mr. Myers came home to dinner, he found about a dozen matches lying on the floor, with the heads eaten entirely off. The mother was engaged in washing, and had not noticed the child having matches. During the afternoon the child seemed slightly indisposed, and retched considerably. In the evening medical aid was summoned; the physician, after examining and prescribing for the child, told the parents that he did not anticipate any serious results. During the night the child vomited occasionally, but seemed to rest pretty well; and at an early hour on Saturday morning got up, went into an adjoining room, and took a drink of water. Immediately after drinking she became so weak that she had to be carried to bed. After resting some time she seemed to recover, and a second time went to the water bucket and took a hearty drink. She again became very weak, was carried to bed, and in five minutes was a corpse. This we consider one of the most remarkable cases of poisoning that has ever occurred in our county.—Franklin Repository.

—o—

"SINGULAR AFFAIR.—The York True Democrat says: Some time last spring a horse, belonging to Jesse Linebach, of Newberry township, in this county, while drinking at an adjoining run, swallowed a live eel. In its passage the head of the eel entered the wind pipe of the animal head downwards, while its tail stuck into its throat. The horse was taken seriously ill almost immediately afterwards, the feed and water instead of passing into the stomach, coming out again at the nose. In this plight, he was finally killed by Mr. Linebach, and the eel, putrid and dead, on post-mortem examination, was found lodged in its wind pipe and throat as above stated. This singular case has only come recently under our notice, and we do not know that it was ever printed before by any of our contemporaries. The circumstance of a horse drinking an eel is itself most remarkable, as that animal usually takes in water with its teeth closed, but the facts are nevertheless true as given.

CAUTION

Extended success in any department of business justly awakens competition, and owing to defective mental and moral structure, often begets envy. Now those are to be expected and may be met by energy and determination; but not unfrequently the bounds of legitimate rivalries are overstepped and base, unscrupulous men stoop to use the patronage of others to further their nefarious purposes. With the assistance of science, and by incessant industry and honesty, in providing a superior article, Dr. Ringe's Standard Tonic Heph Bitters, have attained unparalleled celebrity, having both before the public for the last thirty years.

Wherever they have applied the sick or complaining household, their effects have even exceeded expectation, and so far surpassed all we have ever claimed for them by circular, card, or otherwise, that the public confidence in the medicinal qualities of the Bitters is unbounded. We do not fear the competition with strong attempt to palm off any other article, which are not scientifically the equivalent of available qualities. Truth will prevail in the end, and be found out. We leave the decision with the public, who may be benefited by the use of the genuine article.

☞ Our readers have observed that we rarely praise patent medicines, and that we advertise only the very best of them. But now, the remarkable recovery of Mrs. Rice, of Canandaigua, from her distressing and almost helpless scrofulous disease, which is known throughout the community, and unquestionably the effect of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, leads us to publish without reserve the remarkable efficacy of this medicine. We do this in the interest of the afflicted. Any remedy which can so effectually cure one from "the dead," should be universally known; and we wish it may be universally as successful as it has been in the case of Mrs. Rice.—[Daily Journal, Syracuse.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver the spleen, and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salubrious.

Extract from Letter to Dr Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, esq., of N. Hampshire, N. J.

In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would be at a premature. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had taken twelve boxes I was as well, healthy man—as weight being some forty pounds up to 15 pounds. I then offered a supply and between that time and the present I have taken three thousand dollars worth of these invaluable pills and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving the lives of hundreds.

Jacob Schertz—Dear Sir: I have been afflicted for the last ten years with the rheumatism and gout. Your bitters was recommended to me. I have used it, and I am glad to say it has effected a perfect cure in very short time. Therefore I recommend it to all persons afflicted with the same diseases. I consider it the best Cure in use for any disease the human body is subjected to.
C. DE YOUNG, Philadelphia.

JAC SCHERTZ, Esq—Dear Sir: At the instance of my husband, I was induced to try your BITTER COMPOUND for that distressing complaint, Dyspepsia, from which I have suffered for years. It affords me pleasure and in justice to you, to state that after using the contents of one bottle, my health has been entirely restored. I cheerfully recommend it to those afflicted similarly.
Very respectfully yours, &c.,

THE ABYSSARIA DIGGERS OF YUCATAN. This singular tribe of people are descended from the ancient Aztecs of Southern Mexico and still retain some of the peculiarities, which Stevens and Prescott gave of their ancestors. Dr. J. C Ayer & Co., employ a small army of them in digging Sarsaparilla root. Provided with narrow spades, a coil of rope, and a bag of water, they are ready for the forest where the wild banana furnishes them with food and the tall trees their only shelter. Few of those who find themselves rejuvenated by this product, know how much they are indebted to the toil these humble laborers, who dig health for thousands of Dr. Ayer's patients, while they sometimes their own.—Boston Commercial.
