Beware of Ambuscades.

Few people realize the fact that diseases lies in ambush everywhere, ready to seize upon the weak. The strong pass through many perils in safety, the strengthless fall by the wayside.

It is amazing tnat the feeble should totter with uncertain steps over the face of the earth in danger every day of falling victims to the morbid influences by which we are all surrounded, when a tested and proven vegetable tonic capable of endowing them with the vigor they need, is procurable in every city, town and settlement. It might reasonably be thot that after the twelve year's experience which the world has had of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, all would know that its effect is to prevent disease.

The fact is notorious that a dose of poison which will scarcely affect a vigorous man in perfect health will kill a weak one. Now what is the cause of epidemic diseases? Poison in the air. At this season the atmosphere is surcharged with the seeds of intermittents, remittents, rheumatism, pulmonary disorders, billious complaints, and the like. Persons whose nervous systems are relaxed are the first to succumb to these distempers. Brace up the physical energies then, with this potential vegetable tonic. It is the most powerful recuperant which the botanic kingdom has ever yielded to patient research and experiment. Try it. The blindest disciple of the old medical dogmas will at least admit that a tonic and alterative, compounded of approved herbs, roots, and barks, can do no harm, while the testimony of thousands invites a trial of its virtues.

Allcock's Porous Plasters.—These plasters have the compactness of of kid leather and the flexibility of a silk glove. They have cured varicose veins and external aneurisms. For all affections of the chest weight upon the diaphragm or upper portion of the bowels, in colds and coughs, for injuries of the back, for all strains or bruises, for a weak back, for nervous pains of the bowels, and other nervous affection and cramps, for heart affections,—in all these cases they have to be properly appreciated.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER,

Farmville, Louisiana, March 8, 1850.

DR. T. ALLCOCK,—Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart, and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D's; but truth prompts me to say that your plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a perfect cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use.

Yours, very truly,

I. T. HENDERSON, M. D.

DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT.

DIED OF CROUP—WHAT A PRETTY and interesting child I saw last week! But now alas! it is no more! Such was the conversation of two gentlemen riding down town in the cars. Died of croup! how strange when Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liament is a certain cure, if taken in time. Now mothers, we appeal to you. It is not for the paltry gain and profit we make, but for the sake of your infant child that now lies at your feet. Croup is a dangerous disease; but use Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment in time, and it is robbed of its terrors. Always keep it in the house you may not want it to-night, or to-morrow, no telling when—but armed with this Liniment you are prepared, let it come when it will. Price only 40 cents a bottle. Office 56 Cortlandt Street New York Sold by all Druggists.

THE POTTER COUNTY JOURNAL

Coudersport, Tuesday Evening, Dec. 12, 1865.

Local and General.

☞ Court Proclamation and Trial List on the fourth page.

☞ Don't forget "Clark's Sociable," on Monday evening at the new Court House.

☞ The Message will be found in this week's issue. If it long but well worth reading. We have no room for further comments.

☞ The December Term of Court for this County will be held next week, when we hope those who promised will make good their promises, and pay the printer.

☞ There was just a little sleighing on Thanksgiving Day, which continued through the week, but now the ground is black and the snow has almost disappeared from the hills.

☞ Advantage was taken, by D. E. Olmsted, of the late reduction in the prices of some staple goods to fill up his already large stock with a new and fine assortment, which he is determined to sell at fair and reasonable prices. Give him a call.

☞ The "American Agriculturist"—indisputably the best agricultural monthly published in this country, is about entering upon a new year with the promise of (if it is possible) greater usefulness and increased interest. We do not know how a farmer can successfully and prudently manage a farm without the assistance of this practical farmer's paper. The terms are very reasonable. Single copies $1.50 per year, four copies for $5; 10 copies for $12, and 20 copies or more at $1 each. Address, ORANGE JUDD, No. 41 Park Row, New York.

ONE HUNDRED GOLD DOLLARS.—This is the title of an exceedingly interesting story about to be published in that excellent family paper the Sunday-School Times, of Philadelphia. The narative is from the pen of an author whose name is a guarantee for the sterling worth of the lessons it teaches. The object is to show the proper uses as well as the abuses of money. It abounds in incidents drawn from the lives of eminent persons to show that wealth, in order to prove a blessing, must be properly applied. The story alone is well worth in any family circle the subscription price of the paper which is only $1.50 a year, in advance. The paper is published every week, and attractive premiums are given to those who get up clubs of new subscribers. We recomend our readers to send for sample copies and a list of the premiums, which will be furnished free, on application to the publishers, J. C. Garrigues & Co., 148 South Fourth street Philadelphia.

SOLD AND GONE!—The closing ecenes in the "war office," for the 18th Congressional District of Pennsylvania, took place on Tuesday last, when all the "goods and chattels" of the Provost Marshal's office were disposed of at auction. On Thursday all the document of value to the department were boxed up and sent to Harrisburg, and the office in Williamsport passed into history as among the things that were. Of the original operators of the terrible machinery of the office, present at the sale we noticed H. C. Bressler, Esq., the chief clerk, who has served "during the war," with great ability and with uniform patience and urbanity in the discharge of his arduous and perplexing duties. It was a happy selection when he was chosen, and soon became indispensible to the "infernal machine," which was a terror to cowards, a dread to sneaks, and a bait to bounty jumpers. We trust he will engage in some business hereafter, as well adapted to his peculiar abilities. Mr. Hawley, the Commissioner, has also served the "full term," and was "in at the death." He has been a just and faithful officer, and discharged his duty to the satisfaction of all loyal men. Col. Blair, who came from the field to the Provost Marshal's Office, and Dr. Logan, who occasionally assisted in medical examinations, and Mr. Higgins, who is always on hand for doing up intricate figure work, witnessed the closing ceremonies. We wish them all the best of fortunes in the future, and trust that they may never be engaged in a similar occupation again. Good bye Provost Marshal's Office! a thousand conflicting emotions cluster around your memory and the dread necessity that brought you forth has been engraven deeply into the nation's heart.—Williamspoat Bulletin

RELIANCE.

We deem it to be our duty to say to our readers, that the most implicit reliance can placed in Coe's Cough Balsam. It will cure your children of croup, and yourself of any cough, cold, sore throat, or pulmonary affection. It is the cheapest and best preparation in the market.

Dyspepsia can be surely and permanently cured by Coe's Dyspepsia Cure. Thousands of dyspeptics are sending in their testimonials to the proprietors, saying it has cured them. We say to those suffering from dyspepsia, constipation, sour stomach, or any disorder of the stomach or bowels, give it a trial.

JAMES G. CLARK

THE POET VOCALIST

will give one

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT

in the New Court House on next

Monday Evening, Dec. 18, 1865,

at 7 o'clock. He has been visiting many of the towns about us, in all of which he has been received with great satisfaction. We copy the following opinion from the "Tioga Agitator:"

"Unless more than human, Mr. Clark must feel flattered by his second reception in Wellsboro, Saturday night. The audience was undoubtedly the largest and most discriminating ever assembled in this village on a like occasion. The first reception of a public man may depend much on popular curiosity; but the second depends on appreciative interest.

"The secret of his great popularity lies in his singular faculty of becoming absorbed into the spirit of his song, his unaffected style, fine expression, and admirable enunciation, accompanied by a voice of exquisite melody under such control as to obey the voice of every emotion. The world is indeed bettered by his singing, allied with the pure and gentle spirit of his muse."

The following tribute to Ireland was contributed to the New York "Citizen," by James G. Clark, the poet and Musical Composer. It has all the melody and fire of expression of Tom Moore's best efforts:

America to Ireland.

BY JAMES G. CLARK.

We will not forget thee, Old Ireland, now
That the day-star illumines thy borders,
And the sigh of submission expires in a vow
To be free as the girdle of waters!
The leaves of the Shamrock are flourishing here,
And we honor the heroes who bore them,
Where Sheridan, Mulligan, Corcoran, and Meagher,
Like pillars of fire went before them.

The roar of the lion is heard in the night
As he drinks from the depths of thy fountains;
But the Eagles are pluming their pinions for flight
On the crags of Columbia's mountains;
They will fall on the Lion with talons of steel,
When the war-cry is raised by their brothers:
They will strike, and the power of the tyrant shall reel
'Neath the pangs he has meted to others!

Forget not the time when the spirit of Moore,
Like a tropic breeze, moved in thy bowers,
And warmed every garden and glen of thy shore
Till it blossomed with liberty's flowers!
But languish not now for the summer of song—
Lo! the autumn wind over the rages,
The fields are all ripe, the reapers are strong,
And they rush to the harvest of ages!

Oh, Erin! thy golden hair mingles with gray,
And thy blue eyes are swimming in sorrow;
And the millions who mock at thy visions to-day,
Will view thee in wonder to-morrow;
Thou shalt rise from the anguish new rending thy breast
And hurl back the scoffer with scorning,
Thy night shall be lit by the Stars of the West,
Till it breaks into Freedom's full morning!

It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—[Methodist Protestant, Baltimore.

The most popular Monthly in the world.—[New York Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People: and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—TURNER'S Guide to American Literature, London.

THIS popular rural paper, published on the 1st and 15th of each month at Rochester, N.Y., at $1.50 a year, is now greatly enlarged and improved, and equal in size and value of contents to any other similar publication in this country. Indeed, no other paper of the kind can be compared with it, in the real value and interest attached to its contents; and it is decidedly ahead of anything of the kind ever published.

The RURAL AMERICAN is not a local paper, but just as valuable in New England, the Western and other States as in the State of New York. Its circulation is larger than that of any other paper out of the city of New York. Volume X commences Jan'y 1st, 1866.

The form is very large SIXTEEN PAGE OCTAVO, containing double the reading matter, that can be found in any other similar publication on every subject of interest to farmers, fruit growers, grape growers in particular, stock raisers, gardeners, bee keepers, &c.

This elegant paper is illustrated with some of the most costly Engravings, that money and art can produce; and its Literary department embraces general Family reading, which in interest, has never been equaled in this country. In brief the RURAL AMERICAN is now admitted, universally, to be the most Practical and Reliable Agricultural and Horticultural publication extant. Every subscriber receives the full value of the paper in choice Grape Vines, Strawberry Plants or fine Engravings, worth $3 each; and all subscribers for 1866 who remit their money before Dec. 15th receive the volume for 1865
