EFFORTS TO LIFT PRICES ABOVE YESTERDAY FAIL

Opening of the Stock Market To-day Gaev Promise of Strength and Activity but Improvement Was Not Long Maintained

By Associated Press.

New York, Feb. 6.—Efforts to lift prices above yesterday's closing prices met with indifferent success in the course of to-day's two hour session of the stock market. The opening gave promise of strength and activity, some of the weak issues, notably Southern Pacific, scoring smart gains. Improvement was not long maintained, however, the list falling back on renewed selling of Southern Pacific and other railroads. Northwestern lost 3 points, declining to its minimum of 122, and Norfolk and Western fell 2½. In the industrials Baldwin locomotive common and preferred suffered losses, likewise American linseed pfd. There were offsetting features, however, in a further rise in Bethlehem Steel to a new high price, steadiness in U. S. steel and recoveries of more than 2 points in sugar shares. The closing was irregular.
Bonds were irregular.
