DR. GEORGE E. REED WILL PREACH IN MORNING AT CAMP CURTIN CHURCH

Uptown M. E. Congregation to Celebrate Twenty-fifth Anniversary During Day

FIREMEN TO BE AT FOURTH ST.

May Music Festival Will Be Given at Stevens Memorial Church by Combined Musical Organizations, and Dr. Smucker Will Be in Pulpit

The Rev. Dr. George Edward Reed, former president of Dickinson College, who since his resignation recently of the pastorate of Grace Methodist church, Wilmington, has made his home in this city, will preach to-morrow morning at 10.30 o'clock at the Camp Curtin Memorial Methodist church on the occasion of its twenty-fifth anniversary.

Dr. Reed, who is 69 years of age, announced at the time of his leaving the Wilmington church that he is looking forward to a busy life, as a preacher whenever his services are requested, and as a lecturer. He had bought a house in this city three years ago, when he resigned the presidency of Dickinson College, since his intention at that time had been not to accept the regular pastorate of any church. He served as pastor of the Wilmington church for three years, however, only recently taking up his residence in Harrisburg.

Curios From Siam to Be Shown

At the mid-week service on Wednesday evening at Olivet Presbyterian church the Rev. W. O. Yates will give an address on some of his experiences while a missionary to Siam, telling of the life, customs and habits of the people of that country. He will have a number of pictures and curios on exhibition. Everybody welcome.

Music at the morning service at Market Square Presbyterian church: Prelude, "In the Morning," Grieg; "The Seraphs' Strain," Wolstenholme; solo, "Hold Thou My Hand," Briggs; offertory, "Madrigale," Rogers; postlude, allegro from "Fourth Sonata," Mendelssohn.

At the evening service: Prelude, "Twilight," Faulkes; "Andante Pastorale," Richmond; solo, "Lord, to Thee Each Night and Day," Handel, Miss Middaugh; offertory, "Pastorale Lemaigre;" postlude, "Grand Chorus," Schytte.

At the Redeemer Lutheran church, Nineteenth and Kensington streets, the fifth anniversary of the pastorate of the Rev. E. Victor Roland will be observed. At the morning service the pastor will preach a special sermon. His theme will be "Three Essentials of the Church."

To Give Music Festival

To-morrow night at 7.25 o'clock the combined musical organizations of the Stevens Memorial Methodist Episcopal church will give a May music festival in the church. In connection with the service, Dr. Clayton Albert Smucker will give a brief address on "Popular Forms of Idolatry To-day." Following is a list of the members of the church choir and male chorus:

OPEN AIR MISSION MEETING

City Rescue Workers Will Hold Services in Market Square To-night

The City Rescue Mission, the headquarters of which is at 107 1-2 South Second street, will hold an open air meeting in Market square this evening at 7.30 o'clock. This really opens special summer work, the intention being to reach the masses with the Gospel in the open as the attendances at the room at headquarters naturally show some falling off compared with the winter months.

These meetings for the present will be held each Saturday evening and special attractions will be introduced from time to time. At to-night's meeting the Gospel message will be given by Superintendent Griffith Jones. Special music will be rendered by the Gospel Crew from Enola, also by the Harrisburg evangelistic chorus, which has kindly agreed to attend.

They Are 70 Years Old

"For some time past my wife and myself were troubled with kidney trouble," writes T. B. Carpenter, Harrisburg, Pa. "We suffered rheumatic pains all through the body. The first few doses of Foley Kidney Pills relieved us. After taking five bottles between us we are entirely cured. Although we are both in the seventies we are as vigorous as we were thirty years ago." Foley Kidney Pills stop sleep disturbing bladder weakness, backache, rheumatism, dizziness, swollen joints and sore muscles. Geo. A. Gorgas, 16 N. Third St. and P. R. R. Station.—Adv.

BISHOP DARLINGTON WILL ORDAIN HIS SON GILBERT

Young Man, Who Is Candidate for Diaconate, Will Be Presented to His Father by Elder Brother, Who Is Now Rector in New Jersey

The Rt. Rev. James Henry Darlington will to-morrow have the pleasure of officiating for the third time at the ordination of a son into the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church. Bishop Darlington has already twice officiated on such an occasion for his eldest son, the Rev. Henry V. B. Darlington, now rector of Zion church, Belvidere, N. J., in the Diocese of Newark. One of these ceremonies was when the younger Darlington was ordained a deacon and the second was when he was advanced to the priesthood.

The ordination to-morrow will be that of Gilbert S. B. Darlington, second son of Bishop and Mrs. Darlington, to the diaconate. The young man will be presented to his father for ordination by his elder brother.

The service will be held at 10.30 o'clock to-morrow morning in St. John's church, York, and will contain another feature of more than usual interest. There are four recent graduates of divinity schools to be ordained to the diaconate, including Mr. Darlington, and one of them is James Hart Lamb, Jr., youngest son of the Rev. James Hart Lamb, rector of old St. David's church, Devon, in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. The Rev. Mr. Lamb already has two sons in the ministry. He will preach the sermon at to-morrow's service. The younger Lamb will be presented for confirmation by the Rev. Rollin A. Sawyer, rector of St. Stephen's church, this city, and chairman of the standing committee of the Diocese of Harrisburg.

The other prospective deacons are Lewis Hamer Huber, of St. John's Parish, Marietta, and Carl Lokes Shoemaker, of St. James' church, Muncy.

The Rev. G. F. Caruthers, who entered the ministry a year ago and is in charge of St. John's church, Westfield, will be advanced from the diaconate to the priesthood.

The Whitsuntide Ember Days, which are Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of next week, are the set days for the quarterly ordinations but for local reasons it was decided to have the service on Whitsunday. It will be the first service of this character held in York in many years. It will be preceded by a quiet hour conducted by the Rev. H. B. Pulsifer, rector of St. John's church, Marietta, who is one of the leading missioners of the diocese.

The priests who will assist Bishop Darlington include the Rev. A. R. Taylor, rector of St. John's church, York; the Rev. F. N. Hinkel, his assistant; the Rev. Dr. Lamb, the Rev. Mr. Darlington, the Rev. Mr. Sawyer and the Rev. Mr. Pulsifer.

Gilbert S. B. Darlington will take up church work in the parish of the Church of the Redeemer, Brooklyn; Mr. Lamb will work under his father's direction near Philadelphia; Mr. Huber has been assigned by Bishop Darlington to Trinity Parish, Jersey Shore, and Mr. Shoemaker will go to Nashville, Tennessee.

ARRANGING TO RECEIVE PROHIBITION SPEAKERS

Executive Committee, Consisting of E. F. Weaver, the Rev. E. E. Curtis, J. G. Aldinger and R. F. Webster, Is Preparing for Visit

Christian Endeavorers, Epworth Leaguers, members of the B. Y. P. U. and other young people of the city are expected to be at the opening meetings of the Flying Squadron of America in the Grace M. E. church next Thursday when Daniel A. Poling, president of the National Temperance Council and president's associate of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, makes the first address of the local campaign in continuation of the nation-wide movement of the Squadron for a national prohibition amendment.

Dr. Charles M. Sheldon, noted minister of the Congregational church, author of "In His Steps" and earnest exponent of a practical and livable christianity, will be Mr. Poling's associate speaker in the first group's meetings, while Daniel V. Poling, regarded as one of the leading baritones of Pacific slope, will be the soloist and William Lowell Patton, of Oregon, the pianist.

The local executive committee with E. F. Weaver as chairman is being assisted by the Rev. E. E. Curtis, J. Gilbert Aldinger and Robert F. Webster in arranging for the meetings and the reception of the speakers.

A former moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, the highest honor the denomination can confer, Dr. Ira Landrith, a well-known educator, comes on Friday with the second group of the Squadron, having as associate speaker, Dr. Carolyn Geisel, of the Battle Creek, Mich., Sanitarium and noted woman physicion of the country.

The soloist of this group is Frederick Butler, of New York, who was formerly leading basso of the Alice Neilsen Opera Company and later soloist for Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, world evangelist. Mrs. Butler will be the pianist for the meetings of this group.

Former Governor J. Frank Hanly, of Indiana, regarded the peer of any temperance orator in America, comes at the head of the third group of the Squadron on Saturday. "Honest in his public service," it is declared, "pure in a life full of rewards and honors, a life which has been without the slightest stain of cowardice ,or double dealing, he brings, in his presentation of public questions, the force of a compelling personality, and what has been said to be 'the art of public speech at its best; it is oratory at its highest."

Governor Hanly's associate speaker will be Hon. Oliver Wayne Stewart, former member of the Illinois Legislature and a noted temperance orator of the Middle West.

Miss Vera K. Mullin, of Winchester, Ind., a noted Chautauqua soprano, will be the soloist of this group while Miss Iris Robinson, also of Winchester, will be the pianist.

Lesson VIII.—Second Quarter, For May 23, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, II Sam. ii, 1-7; v, 1-5—Memory Verses, v, 2, 3—Golden Text, Ps. xxviii, 7—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

In the two portions assigned for this lesson we have the record of David's second and third anointings over Judah and over all Israel (ii, 4; v, 3), the first anointing being at the hands of Samuel (I Sam. xvi, 13). As all anointings are suggestive of the work of the Holy Spirit and of Him whom God anointed with the Holy Ghost and with power (Acts x, 38), who also anoints and seals the believer with the Holy Spirit (II Cor. i, 21, 22), we will turn for a few minutes to the other lesson for today in I Cor. xii, 1-13 to notice that no one can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Spirit, and that by the same Spirit each believer receives gifts for service as the Spirit sees fit; to every man according to his several ability, to every man his work (Matt. xxv, 15; Mark xiii, 34). As our Lord Jesus Christ, the son of David, is waiting for His kingdom, when He will occupy the throne of David, so all true believers, anointed kings and priests, associates of Him who shall be a priest upon His throne, the true Melchizedek, are waiting with Him and for Him, He at the Father's right hand and we in the conflict here (Luke i, 32, 33; Rev. i, 5, 6; Zech. vi, 13; Gen. xiv, 18; Ps. cx, 1, 4). While we wait it is our privilege to suffer with Him and to serve Him in any way or place which He may assign to us, knowing that the glory of His kingdom will abundantly recompense for all suffering or service during the little while of waiting. Returning to our lesson in Samuel, we note that, though Saul was dead, the rule over all Israel did not come to David at once, but in Hebron over Judah for seven years and then in Jerusalem over all Israel and Judah for thirty-three years (chapter v, 5).

We may find an analogy in the coming of the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ when all the kingdoms of this world shall have become His (Rev. xi, 15), and we may then see more clearly the significance of David's three anointings.

We cannot help noting David's lamentation over Saul and Jonathan, with its thrice repeated "How are the mighty fallen!" (II Sam. i, 19, 25, 27). How he could say that Saul and Jonathan were lovely and pleasant in their lives I do not know unless on the same principle that God did not see iniquity in Jacob nor perverseness in Israel (Num. xxiii, 21), grace covering up the wrong. We can more easily understand how David could say of Jonathan, "Thy love to me was wonderful, passing the love of women" (i, 26), and that leads us to the greatest love that was ever seen or known—the love of God in Christ Jesus to sinners (Rom. v, 8; John iii, 16; I John iii, 16; iv, 10). See David's habit of inquiring of the Lord concerning guidance in all matters of the kingdom (ii, 1; v, 19, 23; also I Sam. xxiii, 2, 4; xxx, 8), reminding us of some of the good advice of his son, Solomon, "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths" (Prov. iii, 6).

Although David knew that the kingdom was now his, he would not do anything without the Lord's guidance as to when and where. At the Lord's command he went to Hebron with his own and his faithful followers' households, and there the men of Judah anointed him king over the house of Judah. See the story of Hebron in connection with Abraham and Isaac and Caleb, and let us learn to live in fellowship with God. David's words to the men of Jabesh-gilead are for us also, that we may be strong and valiant for God (ii, 7). The intervening chapters in our lesson story tell of the opposition to David by the house of Saul, but that David waxed stronger and stronger and the house of Saul weaker and weaker (iii, 1). In our present conflict it cannot be said that the devil is waxing weaker and weaker, for his greatest effort will be just before his final overthrow, but in due time he will be overthrown, and Jesus Christ shall reign (Ps. lxxii, 11).

After David became king over all Israel it is written that "David went on and grew great (went going and growing—margin), and the Lord God of hosts was with him" (v, 10). That the Lord was with him is repeated again and again in his story (I Sam. xvi, 18; xviii, 12, 14, 28) and reminds us of this blessed assurance to Isaac, Jacob, Moses, Joshua, Gideon and others and of His word to all who go forth in His name as His messengers (Gen. xxvi, 3; xxviii, 15; Ex. iii, 12; Josh. i, 5; Judg. vi, 16; Isa. xii, 10; Hag. ii, 4, 5; Matt. xxviii, 20). The Lord's presence does not insure us freedom from all adversaries, but it does assure us of victory over them. David had to say concerning some with whom he had to deal, "I am this day weak, though anointed king, and these men, the sons of Zerniah, are too hard for me" (iii, 39). Compare Num. xi, 14; I Kings xix, 7; Ps. xxxv, 10; lxxiii, 16, and then thank God that nothing is too hard for Him (Gen. xviii, 14; Jer. xxxii, 17), and roll all cares and burdens upon Him, and trust Him to carry you and them. All real work for God must be by the Spirit of God, and when He is in control we will fear no mountain nor despise any small things (Zach. iv).

The Proof Conclusive.

They had disagreed.

They had disagreed about her cooking.

He had sprung the bromide about her not being able to cook even as his mother did.

Whereupon she asked him, "If that be so how is it that you haven't chronic dyspepsia, as your father had?"

Whereupon they disagreed more thoroughly than ever.—Philadelphia Ledger.
