Labor's Holiday.

Labor Day grows in popularity. The laboring men and their families who this year celebrate the day are more numerous than ever before. This is partly due to the growing appreciation of the day and partly to the great industrial expansion of the nation which creates an increasing demand for both skilled and unskilled labor.

The occasion is one of recreation and everyone, whether toiler or not, wishes for those who participate in the pleasure and relaxation of the hour the utmost enjoyment. People of means can take their outings when they please and for an indefinite time. But the man who works by the day, who has to support a wife on the wages earned, and for whom a day off usually means the loss of a day's pay, cannot afford many holidays in a year and therefore to a very large extent he concentrates on this one day.

ROOSEVELT'S TRIP TO THE WEST.

Incidents of Important Tour to Be Described by Special Correspondent.

Former President Roosevelt has started on a tour which promises to be more important than any he took while in the White House. From now until September 11 he will be traveling through the country making speeches of profound significance, and exercising a great influence upon national affairs.

The North American is the only paper in Philadelphia—the only paper in Pennsylvania—which has a special correspondent on the train with Colonel Roosevelt.

Angus McSween, the North American's Washington correspondent, will be with Col. Roosevelt every day until the return to New York, and will wire full reports, not only of the incidents of the trip, but of the political developments of each state.

Pennsylvania---"A Rich But Laggard State."

Albert Shaw, editor of the Review of Reviews, an exceedingly able writer, has for a number of years past been an efficient advocate of Republican principles and measures, and supporter of Republican candidates who were fairly nominated. An amazing "change has come over the spirit of his dreams" and he seems to have lost his former imprudence of speech, and endeavors to defame the enterprising character of a great state. In the August number of Review of Reviews, speaking of Secretary Knox, he says: "He would probably find it more congenial to go back to Pennsylvania and fight for all kinds of progressive and improved things in that rich but laggard commonwealth."

No Pennsylvanian will object to his state being called rich for it is one of the richest in the Union Its natural resources are very great; It was well timbered; its mountains in the western part are filled with bituminous coal, and in the Wyoming, Scranton, Schuylkill and Sullivan County regions the hills and valleys are stored with black diamonds; iron ore is abundant in many places; quarry stone and roofing slate are plentiful; new wells of petroleum are found as fast as the old ones are pumped dry. These great natural resources, bestowed upon Pennsylvania by the bountiful hand of the Creator, like Robinson Crusoe's gold, would be of no value if not developed by the enterprise and activity of the inhabitants.

The word "laggard" according to the Century dictionary means: "slow, sluggish, backward," and that a "laggart" is a "lazy, slack fellow." When Mr. Shaw called Pennsylvania a "laggard commonwealth" he either slandered the state intentionally or else betrayed his ignorance of its history. It is charitable to believe in his ignorance. He is not so great a scholar as we supposed.

The enterprise, industry and public spirit of the people of Pennsylvania are known unto all men —except Mr. Shaw. At the close of the year 1879, (31 years ago) Pennsylvania had dug and in operation 874 miles of canals, most of them constructed by funds appropriated by the state. In that same year there were in operation 15,011 of railroads, principally built by Pennsylvania corporations and some of them extending outside of the state. At the end of the year 1879, New York had 855 miles of canals in operation and 6,008 miles of railroads. Thus it appears that Pennsylvania had at that time in operation 19 miles of canals and 9000 miles more of railroads than New York, the Empire state.

School Flag Raising.

The new school flag recently secured for the use of the Borough schools will be raised, with appropriate exercises, on Monday, Sept. 5, at 3 o'clock, p. m. The public generally is most cordially invited to be present at the exercises.

The flag to be raised on this occasion is a beautiful design of the national colors, ten by twenty feet, and was secured by popular subscription through the efforts of James C. Caven, Esq., Secretary of the school board. The flag staff is seventy-five feet high and was the gift of C. W. Sones. This flag will add much to the appearance of the school property.

The school opens on September 5, with Prof. Willard W. Bender as Principal of the High School, Miss E. Jessie Wrede, primary grade and Miss Ione Mason the intermediate grade.

Ice Cream Sale.

Immediately after the flag raising at the school house next Monday afternoon, ice cream will be sold, the proceeds to be applied to the purchase of reference books for the use of the school.
