An amusing incident occured at the G. A. R. pic nic on Saturday. While preparations were being made for dress parade, the order 'Fall in 455,' was heard above the din and rattle of musketry, when McClure Post ran to the place where they had stacked arms and immediately proceeded to buckle on their accoutrements, but right here there was a halt, occasioned by Ulsh, who weighs about 225 pounds and measures about four feet around the girth, getting hold of Spiglemyer's belt, who weighs about [illegible] and wears a two [illegible] and Spiglemyer in turn got [illegible] aps. Imagine Ulsh trying [illegible] mference himself with a 2 f[illegible] elt, but he tried it all the same un[illegible] great drops of sweat stood out on his forehead, while Spiglemyer had drawn his belt up to the last notch with about two feet of loose strap dangling at his side, vainly endeavoring to keep the belt above his hips, whereupon he exclaimed, "Ulsh, haven't you got my belt?" When Ulsh replied: "Yes; and what the d——l are you doing with mine."

G. A. R. PIC NIC.—The much talked of pic nic came off in Bower's grove on Saturday and is now a thing of the past, but we would be derelict in our duty to pass by an occasion of such gigantic proportions, and so grand a success with only the customary notice.

Saturday morning dawned beautifully, with old Sol casting his bright beams in all their splender, indeed all nature smiled and the little warblers of the woods seemed to have a special program prepared for the occasion. Samuel Bowen pitched his mammoth boarding house—a tent—and supplies the evening before so as to be ready in the morning to supply all who attended the gathering with anything from a bretzel up to a square meal.

At an early hour people commenced pouring into the grove and by 8 o'clock a vast crowd had assembled. About this time Express arrived from the east and deposited quite a number of pleasure seekers, among whom were the heroes of many a battle, "Co. G." of Selinsgrove. Half an hour later Mail arrived from the west bringing with it Capt. Michael Smith Post of McClure, besides a large crowd of people who had laid dull care aside and were out for a day's enjoyment.

By 3 o'clock p. m. the crowd was variously estimated at from 3000 to 4000. The forenoon was taken up in making preliminary arrangements, a drill, and speeches by Maj. C. S. Marks, Esq., of Lewistown and editor Lumbard of the Tribune. Their remarks were interesting and were well received by the vast audience.

At a little after 1 o'clock the bagrace came off with the following contestants: N. P. Hare, Frank Hare, Chas. Bibighaus, James Cosgrove and Harry Specht. The coveted prize, $5, was taken by Bibighaus.

Next on the program was the skirmish drill which was carried out with military preciseness and in which all participants acquitted themselves nobly.

At 3 o'clock came the tub race, and it was the event of the day. The following entered the race: John Bibighaus, C. F. Buffington, Howard Grimm, Lester Bachman and Otto Reichly—all were attired in gay suits. All things being ready they launched their tubs in Middlecreek which flows by the edge of the grove. They first had a short practice, but D. T. Rhoades soon put in an appearance; and here we must not forget to give credit to Mr. R. for his perseverence and time, for the success greatly depended on the training they had received at his hands. "Ready" was the command and the five tubs were placed in line, with each man at his individual tub, "Go" was the next order when all got into their tubs, or tr[illegible]d to get in. Such evolutions and back somersaults would have done credit to the "Greatest show on earth," but all finaly got started, but many were the "duckings" they received before the prize was won. John [illegible] Sept. 1, 87. 4w.

Next came the "Merry-go-around" and this was indeed a surprise to all as no one had the remotest idea as to what it would be like, but they did not have long to wait, forsoon a noise was heard, which sounded as though all the butchers in christendom had assembled and had agreed to furnish music with their own musical instruments. All this was occasioned by the Middleburgh Band dressed in masqurade costumes and each member blowing a "meat-horn," closely followed by a large number of Veterans and Sons of Veterans similarly attired and making all kinds of noises. This created a great deal of merriment.

Dress parade was now next on the program and was successfully gone through with.

The sham battle was next in order and with this closed the program of the day.

At 8:30 special trains arrived at the grove to take home the tired and dusty pleasure-seekers.

Too much credit cannot be given to Capt. Ryan Post for the able program arranged and its successful termination. Indeed a great deal of credit is due to all who participated. The best of order was preserved during the entire day.

Stetler's Cornet Band furnished the music, and we can say nothing that would add to its advancement, for it is an organization that has a State-wide reputation and their music is sufficent evidence of their proficiency.

CENTREVILLE.—The squirrel season has opened and a number of our sportmen wended their way to the woods on the 1st in quest of grey squirrels.

Peaches, like all other fruit in this section, are scarce.

Our lumberman, H. F. Mohn, has finished sawing in Musser's Valley and has moved his mill to a tract of timber land in Brush Valley Narrows.

E. S. Straub took in the sights at the Granger Picnic at Williams Grove.

The evenings and mornings have changed considerable and the days are growing shorter.

Dr. J. W. Sampsel and H. C. Sampsel were in Selinsgrove one evening last week, previous to full moon.

S. F. Sheary was in Harrisburg last week.

It seems there are a few persons in this township who think (if we would judge them by their actions), that if an organ will help to sing God's praises, why will not a threshing machine help to convert souls.

A. J. Wagner of Musser's Valley has sold his property and will move his store to Lillyville.

P. J. Row paid Lewisburg a business visit last week.

The Centreville band furnished the music for a Sunday School celebration at Erdley's church, Saturday.

Quite a number from this place took in the G. A. R. picnic near Middleburgh on Saturday, among the number could be seen C. W. Walter who is agent for the celebrated Eclectic medicines.

J. E. Bolig and wife visited Lewisburg last week.

The Democrats of this township on Saturday elected Squire Shinkel and Dr. Kenawel, delegates to go to Middleburgh and help nominate a ticket, Monday.

In town over Sunday: Mrs. Eliza Hendricks, Williamsport; H. P. Stuck and wife, Mifflinburg; Joseph Kline and wife, Middlecreek; W. N. Raker, Trevorton.

GIVE THEM A CHANCE!—That is to say, your lungs. Iso all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. nd what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. It ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.
