Rumor has it that Wm. Harding has been heard from in England. Cap. was an Englishman by birth and if he had evil intentions it is altogether likely that he put himself on the safe side of extradition laws. People all over the county are asking themselves the question: "Is it possible, that Cap. Harding would be guilty of embezzlement?" Others give a wise wink and say "I told you so," but the facts in the case are and they baffle denial, that few people in Snyder county stand higher in their immediate neighborhood than did Cap. Harding. Though he never had any common school education to speak of, he is a man of remarkable intellect, a fine reader of human nature, keen observer, and of extensive experience. A soldier in the Mexican war, a member of General Mead's Staff during the Rebellion, and a holder of public offices of trust since the war. A fine conversationalist full of anecdotes which bristled with wit and history He prided himself on his honesty because he said he found pleasure in being so—and no one acquainted with his prompt business principles doubted his word. In short, if Captain William Harding is an embezzler, it is best, after all, to believe and profit by the old English maxim, that "one half of the world will cheat and the other half is not to be trusted."

ADAMSBURG.—The masons have commenced work on Reuben Dreese's new barn.

Charles C. Wetzel yesterday bought a lot near the depot of Adam Specht and has already broken ground for the foundation whereon he will erect a large dwelling with a long store room for a new furniture store.

In addition the above we will have four new houses built this summer, viz: Isaac Saltzman, E. E. Shannon, Eph. Kline and H. O. Smith.

The carpenters are at work on the new barn for Wm. H. Dreese.

To day, (Tuesday) L. R. Haines and John Schambach started for Bellefonte to give evidence to a marriage they witnessed thirty-three years ago.

Wm. J. Close and Banks Dreese have gone to Snow Shoe on tanning business.

J. W. Specht, accompanied by his two daughters, Miss Nettie and Mrs. Carrie Smith, Adam Smith and Ellen B. Weidman have gone to the City to lay in their stocks of Spring and Summer goods.

On Monday evening Miss Ida Schoch of Jersey Shore, organized a W. C. T. U. with the following officers: Pres. Dessie Helfrich, Sec., Mabel Forrester, Cor. Sec., Chrissie Steininger, Treas., Edith Mumma. The lecture by Miss Schoch is very highly spoken of by those who had the pleasure of hearing her.

D. W. Close and R. R. Long have received a new chop mill and are now prepared to supply the trade with the best roller chop.

Charley Lloyd says the world is not yet standing still—since he is grandpap.

Henry Mitchell is back from Philadelphia where he had been to have an operation performed on his head.

Mrs. Isaac Rearich and J. G. Moyer are on the sick list.

The G. A. R. will give an entertainment in their hall on next Saturday evening.

Paul S. Bingaman has moved to near Wagner Station.

Look for the program of the S. S. Convention next week.

TROXELVILLE.—The Troxelville band has added two new members to its list lately. The one, Mr. Wieand, is an experienced player, and Fred. has the wind of a tornado.

Trapper Jim. and Henry Fetterolf last week killed a porcupine. Their dogs caught it (quills in their noses). Henry has sworn dire vengence on the "fretful porcupine" and will burn the next one at the stake.

Ner. M. Middleswarth desires to inform fishermen that there are plenty of angleworms on his corn ground and wishes them to come and dig to save plowing. Parties caught digging in his yard will be introduced to his Winchester. Urbum sat sapienti.

Today (Monday) John A. Fetterolf left for the "Eternal Hills" where he has a job at driving team for a Mr. Leichenwalter.

Masons are at work on the foundation of J. E. Fetterolf's new house.

Rob Middleswarth, an old and experienced hunter and fisherman, declares that if this weather don't soon take a favorable turn he will send to Florida for a car-load of sun-shine.

C. O. Greenhoe was on the sick list last week but is up and about again.

Most of our farmers are done sowing oats.

J. O. Goss, of the firm of Greenhoe & Goss, our enterprising merchants is back from the city with an immense stock of goods.

A certain school teacher from below called up here Saturday evening to see his best girl. The rough roads bothered him somewhat and when he arrived his prospective father-in-law mistook him for a burglar and made him beat a hasty retreat. Come a little earlier next time, "Dixie," and you'll be all right.

Philip Ocker, with his brand new wife moved into his brand new house last week.

Isaac Lepley last week tore down the old English sparrow fort—better known as J. G. Moyer's summer resort. Nothing of valde was found but an old smoke pipe, stamped, "A. D. 1701."

Charles Fetterolf is the happy father of a bouncing girl baby. He is as proud as a turkey gobbler on a peacock's roost.

Tom, what became of the trout you promised to put in Swift Run last week? They didn't come. Pelease explain. [The State Fish Commissioners wired us to meet their distributor at Sunbury on the 20th. We had a man there but nobody came, and we presume the Commissioners lied—a weakness common among fishermen. —ED. POST.]

D. A. Mattern was wielding the yard-stick here for a few days last week. Davie can rip a piece of calico into quilt patches quick as the cat can wink her eye.

Aumiller Bros. intend moving their saw mill to Little Valley where they have a two years' job of sawing.

Michael Ewig has sold his oak timber to Dr. Smith.

Howard Troxel got quite a bump and a scratch week before last—thro' the run-away of J. G. Moyer's new horse. Howard you must get accustomed to such little things.

Dear Tom:—Dod't fail to send me a POST this week or I will upset your tent next time you come to fish.

CALIFORNIA JOE

BEAVERTOWN JOTTINGS.—After nearly a week's rest from work, the performance of which had nearly exhausted the strength of my delicate eyes, which for a number of years have been the source of great inconvenience to me, I think I have mustered strength enough once again to jot the happenings of this community. My inability to write sooner has rendered some otherwise interesting news too stale to be mentioned here. I had called at the printing office last week to give the editor a verbal report, but neither he nor anybody else could be seen about the sanctum.

Frank. Kern had the misfortune of finding one of his best horses dead in his stall one morning recently. The animal had not exhibited any signs of sickness. He valued the horse at $160. Frank. has been very unfortunate in this respect during the last two years, having lost two good horses before.

Jacob Fees, Jr., who has been an invalid for the last three years, has been confined to his bed for the last two weeks.

Wheat fields in this section generally have a very unpromising appearance—more so, perhaps, than they ever had before at this season of the year.

Israel Sanders has been quite sick with pneumonia, but at this writing is better.

Mrs. Rabecca Engle has sold her two lots on Walnut street to Reuben Aigler for $175.

Samuel Weik, Frank. Kline and William Weaver have moved to Selinsgrove. William Erb has moved from Mifflin county to this place.

Rev. Pfleuger has attended the session of his conference at Danville. Judge Middleswarth had accompanied him as lay deligate.

James O. Herbster's youngest child is seriously sick. One of William R. Howell's children is also sick.

Thomas Kohler is repainting and repairing his residence.

Miss Lizzie Young, who has been living with friends at Newberry and Williamsport for a year, is home on a visit. She will return in about a month.

Moses Middleswarth, of whose death and burial an account was given in last week's POST, died two weeks ago.

The Evangelical congregation at Manbeck's church have torn down their old church building and are erecting a new one just in front of where the old one stood. The new structure was raised on Tuesday of last week. The edifice is 30x50 feet, with a steeple vestibule and pulpit recess in addition.

Hon. A. S. Helfrich has given to the Beavertown Literary Society the liberal sum of five dollars as the token of consent to be elected an honorary member of the body. Such honorary members are held in high regard by the society. "Next"!

Rev. Pfleuger moved into the parsonage on Tuesday of last week. Quite a number of his members from the various appointments of the charge were present to assist.

The Beavertown Literary Society has suspended its meetings until the opening of school next fall. The membership during the term just closed was larger than at any other time since its organization; but, as regards peace and harmony among the members, it was the worst term since its orgaization. A spirit of dissension vividly manifested itself at the first meeting last fall and was more or less characteristic of nearly every meeting during the term. At some of the meetings the society was a disgrace to itself and in consequence some of the members would no longer attend. Hope it will be better next winter.

Mrs. Leaper, nee Mary Middleswarth, of Iowa, is visiting friends in Beavertown, her native home. She intends to stay several months.

The Central Hotel has been repainted.

Joseph Middleswarth has excavated the cellar for a new house on West street. Wilson Aigler has raised his new house, Daniel and Grant Middleswarth and Charles Wetzel h new ones in course of erection.

William Erb is on the sick list.

Judge Wetzel and J. P. Shirk are building summer kitchens and Moses Specht has torn down one wing of his barn and is rebuilding it on a different plan.
