He devises that after just debts and funeral expenses are paid the residue of his estate shall be divided among his five legal heirs, as follows: Wilson Kreger, J. R. Kreger, Caroline, wife of Wesley Younkin, and Albert Kreger. Edward Kreger is named as executor. The will was dated July 17th, 1907, and witnessed by Jacob Kreger, Willis L. Mills and M. G. Kreger.

Cornelius Cober, late of Somerset township, directs that after payment of funeral expenses and just debts the residue of his estate shall be as follows: Elizabeth Cober, an adopted child, $1,000; $400 is to be expended for a monument; $1,000 in trust to St. Paul's Reformed church, the interest thereon to be used in maintaining the cemetery lot of decedent; all of the residue of the estate, real and personal, is devised to the widow, Elizabeth Cober, who is also appointed executrix. The will was dated February 21, 1913, and witnessed by Jacob S. Koontz and Katharine H. Miller.

SUPREMELY HAPPY.

Her look was very glad,
Her heart was very light;
The troubles she had had
Were all swept out of sight;
She hummed a little song,
And gladly free from care,
Forgot that any wrong
Existed anywhere.

She gayly tripped about,
Although the sky was gray;
Her cares were put to rout,
Her troubles flung away;
You ask the cause?
'Twas that
The happy girl had worn
The finest Easter hat
In church that Easter morn.
