Best Spring Remedy.

Paine's Celery Compound.

There is one true specific for diseases arising from impure blood and a debilitated nervous system, and that is Paine's celery compound, so generally prescribed by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D. LL. D., of Dartmouth college, first prescribed what is now known the world over as Paine's celery compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases and kidney troubles. For the latter Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

In - All - Shoedom

There never has been a shoe store that gave more value for your money than we do.

The old penny-wise-and-pound-foolish idea of giving as little as a man could for money has no place in our store.

With Us, it's As Much as We Can, Not as Little.

We want to draw your shoe trade here; but we don't expect to get it unless we can convince you that we are giving more good, solid, worth-your-money service than any other shoe store can.

We're proving that we DO do this to more people to-day than we ever did. We'd like YOU to be among the number.

You should be.

And then we make our customers a present of a beautiful Parlor Lamp when purchases amount to $25.00.

POWDER MILL BLOWN UP.

Fortunately the Workmen Were Away and No Lives Were Lost.

Shamokin, Pa., April 3.—All of the buildings of the Shamokin Powder company were completely wrecked by a terrific explosion which occurred in the mill of the company early in the morning. Fortunately there were no lives lost, all of the workmen having gone to their homes. The homes of David Hann, Emanuel Klinger and Daniel Osman, together with the outbuildings and barns, were badly damaged. The powder mill is located about five miles from this city, but the force of the explosion shook nearly every building.

The only person injured was Mrs. Hann, who was badly cut about the face and body and is prostrated from the shock. The Hann residence is located nearly half a mile from the scene of the explosion, but the side of the house next to the powder mill was caved in by the force of the shock.

Mr. and Mrs. Hann and Mrs. Klinger were buried in their beds beneath the debris, and boulders weighing 200 pounds were hurled through the sides of the dwellings. The houses and furniture were badly wrecked. Mr. Hann's barn took fire, and his two horses and three cows, as well as all farming implements, were destroyed.

The powder company's barn was reduced to kindling wood, and four head of stock were killed. The loss will amount to nearly $50,000.

Killed by a Falling Wall.

Chester, Pa., April 3.—Joseph Gartside, aged 55 years, and a member of the firm of Gartside & Co., coal dealers, of this city, was instantly killed yesterday by the falling of a wall at the old Gartside mill, at Fourth and Penn streets. The mill was destroyed by fire in 1895, and for some time past workmen have been busy removing the ruins. Mr. Gartside was standing near a portion of the wall 20 feet high, giving some directions when it fell, and a mass weighing about 400 pounds crushed his skull in and he was buried beneath the remainder. When taken out he was unrecognizable. He leaves a widow and three children.

Hospital Patients.

While caring for a horse in a stable at Ashland yesterday, James R. Kenny, 47 years old, was kicked by the animal in the abdomen and so severely was he injured that his removal to the State hospital at Fountain Springs was made necessary. Two new patients were treated at the dispensary, as follows: Daniel M. Rea, 52, Girardville, miner, Preston No. 3, sprain of muscles of shoulder and neck, due to lifting. Thomas Dougherty, 38, Rappahannock, laborer, Bear Ridge colliery, punctured wound of wrist. He was unloading baled hay when his arm came in contact with the wire.

Farewell Party.

A farewell party was last night tendered to Lee Straub, at the residence of his parents, on South White street. Vocal and instrumental music, games and refreshments made the evening a very enjoyable one.

Mascagni.

Apropos of Mascagni's facility in composing it is related that the composer was recently in Berlin directing the performance of one of his works. The orchestra was hurrying the time, notwithstanding his best efforts to keep it within bounds. Finally, after a long struggle, he lost his temper. "Body of Bacchus!" he cried, dropping his baton. "Do you think I expect you all to keep playing as fast as I compose?"

MARY IN THE WEST.

The sunset dyes the western skies
Beyond the low hill's crest,
Would I might run fleet as the sun
To Mary in the west!

The lovers' moon comes here too soon
For one heart, sore distressed,
Would that it shone on us, my own,
Together in the west!

The winds that from the westland come—
Their icy breath has rest.
My blood leaps fast as they shriek past
From Mary in the west.

My fool watch ticks at half past six;
Five-thirty hers repeats.
Would they might chime at one with time
As my heart for hers beats!

Some day, some day, no more I'll stay
From her I love the best,
And time or sun will find me one
With Mary in the west.
