Amandus McNulty Expires Following Operation On Skull

Believed Victim of Old Accident Or Tumble

Amandus McNulty, 44-year-old Carrolltown R. D. man, died last Thursday morning in the Mercy Hospital at Pittsburgh, where he had been a patient since Jan. 5.

Mr. McNulty was admitted to the Pittsburgh hospital after being a patient at the Miners' Hospital in Spangler since Dec. 28, when he was found with his head wedged between a wall and a water pump he was fixing at his home.

Following a major operation on his skull, it was the belief of doctors that Mr. McNulty had passed out on Dec. 28 as a result of a pressure on his brain which may have occurred years before as the result of a bump or accident and the pressure did not affect him until that time.

An employee of Mohler Implement & Feed Store, Carrolltown, he had been believed to have been on the road to recovery following the operation.

Mr. McNulty was born in Carrolltown Apr. 18, 1910, a son of John and Anna (Adams) McNulty. He is survived by his parents, a brother, Ira, with the U. S. Army in Germany, and five sisters: Mrs. Arthur Williams, Emeigh; Mrs. William Martin, Randolph, Mass.; Mrs. Quentin Goldberg, Blairsville; Mrs. Isadore Eckenrode, Ebensburg R. D., and Mrs. Simon Kontorchik, Carrolltown.

Funeral services were held at 9:15 a. m. Monday in St. Benedict's Catholic Church, Carrolltown, with burial in the church cemetery in charge of Stevens.

Weed Control to Be Topic Tonight

Cambria County farmers will have an opportunity to get the latest information on chemical weed control tonight, March 17, at 8:00 p. m. in Courtroom No. 3 at Ebensburg Courthouse when the Agricultural Extension Association will sponsor a meeting featuring George Berggren, extension weed control specialist of Penn State University.

There have been many new developments in the field of weed control, some of the new materials doing a more effective job than the ones we have been using. All county farmers are invited to attend this open meeting.

Grand Jury Asks Improvements On Cambria Buildings

Institution District's Operations Praised

Several recommendations for repairs and improvements to Cambria County Buildings were made last Thursday by the March term grand jury in a report submitted to Judge H. C. McWilliams, Jr.

The recommendations made by the jury included:

County Home—Repair spouting, purchase new hymnals for the chapel and install two new showers in the women's ward.

Courthouse—Installation of a water fountain on second floor and replace the carpet in the ladies' lounge.

Repair chairs in the grand jury room and soundproof the grand jury room.

Dentention Home—Repair road leading to the home and repair the driveway.

The jury had high praise for the "efficient manner in which the county institution district is operated."

Singled out for commendation were Mr. and Mrs. John B. McHugh, warden and matron of the jail; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butterbaugh, who head the children's home; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McQuillen, in charge of the detention home, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burns, at the county home.

District Attorney Fred J. Fees and his staff were cited for the efficient manner in which criminal cases were brought before the jury earlier in the week. Sheriff John A. Conway and his staff and Mrs. Helen Beattie, tipstaff, were commended for courtesies shown the jury in its tour of the county buildings.

Judge McWilliams thanked the jury for performing its duties efficiently and reminded the members they are subject to recall in case of emergency until the next grand jury is selected.
