SANDYSTON.

The Bridge now building across the Delaware at Dingmans is progressing. The first bent reaching to the Penna. pier will be completed this week and ere long we will have a bridge.

Geo. Owen is engaged in repainting the residence of his father, and when Geo. gets the finishing touches on it will look second to none on that road.

Hotels are in demand if would be purchasers are a criterion. A Mr Tranger, of Walpack, has made a very good offer for the hotel at Bevans, and also for the one at Layton If a hotel, to accommodate city boarders should be built anywhere in this valley there would be no trouble about securing the city folks

There is a strong talk of reviving "Brookside Park," at Layton, and hold a celebration in it on July 4 The grove is all that could be desired, and I can see no reason why it should not be a success.

I am told that bids are being asked for the carrying of a daily mail from Branchville to Dingmans from July 9 to September 30. This mail is only between those places and the carrier is not to receive or deliver any mail matter along the route. The schedule is leave Branchville at 11:15 A. M. and arrive at Dingmans at 1:30 P. M. This would seem unjust on the part of the Government to Mr. Watson, our present carrier, as this mail leaves upon the arrival of the train and passengers would take the first stage to the loss of Mr. Watson.

Mrs. Charles Bausly, of Bevan, is seriously ill but latest reports say she is some better.

George Steffen, son of Henry Steffen of this town, while working in the car shops at Dover was caught in the belting in some way and whirled round the shaft until his clothing gave way. His arm was broken and also put out of place, and the small bones of both ankles were broken and he was otherwise badly bruised. Last accounts report him as improving.

The Sandyston Board of Education met on the 13 inst for the hiring of teachers. There are 8 schools and nine applications. They were hired as follows: Miss Bertha Stoll, Shayton, Miss Myra Dake, Hainesville, Miss Sadie Drake, Fullers. Miss Eliza Snook, Brookside, Miss Emma Crispin, Bevans, Miss Blanche Youngs, Tuttles Corner, Charles Cortright, Centerville, Warren C Hursh, Fishers. The question of a change in some of the text-books was not discussed and the Board will hold another meeting soon to consider that question, repairs etc.

A Sandyston party endeavored to convince a Branchville party that his ideas were all right, and the Branchville party all wrong But when it came to knock down argument the man from Sandyston was not in the game, and came home a sadder, but wiser man.

The exhibition held in the church, at Layton, on the evening of the 14 proved a very pleasing entertainment. The exercises were carried through very nicely and reflect much credit upon the manager. The receipts were about 18 dollars.

CÆSAR.

Battles and Rain.

It is a curious fact, well known, however, to weather experts—that heavy firing will generally cause rain, even though the sky was clear before hand. At Waterloo rain came down in torrents. So it did in several of the big battles of the civil war—Gettysburg, for example. The tremendous concussion shakes the little globules which are always present invisible in the atmosphere together, and so brings them down.
